Guys...They'll Never Change

Baseball Gearing For Spring Season

BY BRYAN DEERING
AND ROBERT RICHARDSON

The workers at Electric Boat were expecting, at worst, a shot across the bow as they went before their television on a wintry night three weeks ago to hear President George Bush give his State of the Union Address.

But instead they took one shot, but two, direct hits and the good ship Electric Boat is listing severely. The shot across the bow was a warning to improve production, encourage early retirement, even lay off a small percentage of workers.

But there was no warning at all for the cancellation of the Seawolf program, let alone the Pentagon's rescinding of two Seawolf's under contract.

Since Electric Boat is the largest private employer in Rhode Island and Connecticut's second largest employer, the cancellation of the program is expected to cost 21,500 employees their jobs.

The response of the area Congressional delegation was immediate and unexpected. Sen. Christopher J. Dodd (D-CT) described Mr. Bush's actions as "a kick in the teeth to Connecticut."

Senator John H. Chafee (R-RI) stated, "Quonset Point's employees will face an uncertain future." (Quonset Point, which employs 4,100 workers, is an Electric Boat shipyard located on Narragansett Bay in North Kingston, RI).

Both Senators have vowed to fight the cancellation, which according to federal budget estimates will save $3.2 billion this fiscal year and $17.5 billion by 1997--the date the program would have been complete.

William B. Sweeney, a professor of economics at Bryant, has been studying in detail how the cancellation of the Seawolf will affect Rhode Island. Sweeney says, "The economic impact on the state could be as much as $200 million, given that about 75 percent of the workers at Quonset Point are laid off by 1993."

According to Sweeney, "What is most disturbing about the prospects of shutting down submarine construction in Rhode Island by 1995 is the apparent lack of foresight on the part of Electric Boat officials."

Sweeney also questions the motive of Electric Boat itself. "Are they (EB officials) really being upfront with their workers or are they searching for an excuse to close the Quonset Point facility by 1994 or 1995?"

The plan to cancel Seawolf has the endorsement of Defense Secretary Dick Cheney. "The United States no longer needs the Seawolf to counter any foreign military threat. The only way to cut the Defense Budget is to actually cut it," Mr. Cheney explained. "The defense program is not a jobs program."

Bryant economics professor Joseph Ilacqua agrees production cannot be justi'- fied because it may create jobs, drive up the mailing costs, or pay for the war effort. "Cancer isn't great because it gives doctors a job!"

However, the local economy needs the jobs EB has provided. Ilacqua's answer is for Electric Boat "to convert their resources to address the real problems of today. For example," explains Ilacqua, "we've let the roads, sewers and bridges go to waste. Use the transportation equipment to repair what's needed now."

"Someone on the national level needs to take charge and lead them in the right direction," Ilacqua says.

Sweeney adds that Electric Boat needs a "master plan for converting from defense work to some commercial application," in order for the facility to survive.

"No rescue attempt at salvaging the Quonset Point yard can be successcful unless its future is built around the long-run and world-wide prospects for commercial marine construction," he concluded.

New IDEA for Student Loans

William Becker
Archer University Writer

If Congressman Tom Petri gets his way, students will no longer have to worry about the affordability of student loans after college.

Petri's plan—dubbed "IDEA" for Income Dependent Education Assistance Act—allows for loans of up to $70,000 for college and graduate students.

Under this plan, each student would be eligible to receive $2,500 his first year of school, $3,500 his second year and $5,000 for his third and later years. Graduate students would be able to receive $10,000 per year.

The loans that the students accumulated under this plan would be repaid based on the student's income after graduation. According to Petri, "There would be no fixed repayment schedule. Rather, repayments would automatically be stretched out as long as people need it to be."

This means that students with higher incomes after leaving school would be expected to repay relatively faster at slightly higher effective interest rates. This would allow those with lower incomes to pay less.

Another distinguishing feature of this plan is that the loan payments would be withheld from the employee pay, using a flexible schedule based on the employees loan amount and their income level.

According to Petri, "Under IDEA, every student, regardless of his or her parents income, would be able to take out loans for education with complete confidence that repayment would be affordable, no matter what continued, IDEA, page 4

Bryant COLLEGE BOX 7 SMITHFIELD, R.I. 02917

President and Carol Trueheart.

President William E. Trueheart was named to participate in the Aspen Institute Executive Seminar in Snowmass, Colorado from February 29 to March 8. The Truehearts were named to atend by an alumnus of a previous seminar.

The seminar is an educational program for leaders that provides perspective and context to assist them in addressing more effectively the issues confronting them in their professions and their communities. The participants include two types: those from corporations and fellow institutes from Bryant.

To prepare for the seminar's roundtable discussions participants have the opportunity to complete an undergraduate seminar's reading on works by Aristotle, Machiavelli, Plato, Locke, Virginia Woolf, Martin Luther King Jr., and the Bible.

According to Carol Trueheart, the seminar is a chance for participants to exchange views on a wide range of issues and ideas as well as to learn how experienced leaders deal with various issues.

"One of the reasons for attending is to stretch our critical thinking skills and present new opportunities for Bryant to be exposed to leaders both interationally and nationally," said Trueheart.

"It gives us the freedom to spend quality time reading, reflecting and thinking creatively. It is a time to focus on works while exchanging in healthy debate on freedom, justice and democracy in order to achieve a better understanding of others' views," said Trueheart.

On a personal learning level the Truehearts see the seminar as an opportunity to achieve a sense of renewal. "Sometimes you tend to lose sight when you are working on a day to day basis," said Trueheart.

John Nolan an attorney from the Washington, D.C. law firm of Stippe and Johnson will be moderating the discussions. Nolan is a ten year veteran to the Aspen Institute Executive Seminar.

Survey Sparks Interest

Julia Aracoch

Archer University Staff Writer

As part of Black History Month, a panel answered questions from the the Bryant community last night in Hall 15. The papers staff survey the questions came from a part of an effort to educate students on vari-cous African American issues.

One of the questions asked was why the African American students choose Bryant since it is a predominately white college. Most of the students said they came from black areas and wanted the opportunity to interact with the white culture. Most agreed that in the business world they will have to be in contact with the white culture.

Another topic discussed was whether Bryant can do anything to help the American culture culture program or center. Some of the students felt that perhaps an African American program could be added to Spring Weekend to make it more enjoyable for those to attend.

There were also various prejudice issues touched upon such as whether a white family should adopt a black child. In response Ernest Con-

"Love has no color."
Supporting the Rights of Everyone

Every so often it seems that the media collectively picks up on a theme that it has shied away from for years. This has been the case recently in the media's coverage of homosexuality. The origins of homosexuality are a controversial issue, and the debate has often been marred by sensationalism and misinformation. For this reason, The Archway decided to address this theme in a recent issue.

The media's duty is to inform its readership of pertinent issues and news. Homosexuality is a news story that affects many people. This month alone, stories and opinion pieces have been among them. It is important to note that the debate around homosexuality is often fueled by the media's coverage of the issue. Awareness is promoted through repetition, and this repetition can sometimes be inaccurate or incomplete.

Recently, the theme of homosexuality has been headlined in both the print and broadcast media. For example, this week we have seen a letter from a gay student at Bryant in the February 6th issue. In Bryant's own print media, students have voiced a variety of positive, open-minded opinions. Despite this, awareness of homosexuality is often limited, and the media's coverage can be influenced by the origins of homosexuality. This month alone, stories and opinion pieces have been among them.

Every so often, it seems that the media collectively picks up on a theme that it has shied away from for years. This has been the case recently in the media's coverage of homosexuality. The origins of homosexuality are a controversial issue, and the debate has often been marred by sensationalism and misinformation. For this reason, The Archway decided to address this theme in a recent issue.

The media's duty is to inform its readership of pertinent issues and news. Homosexuality is a news story that affects many people. This month alone, stories and opinion pieces have been among them. It is important to note that the debate around homosexuality is often fueled by the media's coverage of the issue. Awareness is promoted through repetition, and this repetition can sometimes be inaccurate or incomplete.

Recently, the theme of homosexuality has been headlined in both the print and broadcast media. For example, this week we have seen a letter from a gay student at Bryant in the February 6th issue. In Bryant's own print media, students have voiced a variety of positive, open-minded opinions. Despite this, awareness of homosexuality is often limited, and the media's coverage can be influenced by the origins of homosexuality. This month alone, stories and opinion pieces have been among them.

"Dressing Down" Our Image?

Have you ever heard of Bryant's Dress Down Day program? Well, if you haven't, don't be surprised. It only takes place when the students aren't here. Dress Down Day is a program that can be adopted by businesses to raise money for local charities. Employees who choose to participate in the program dress "a step down" from their normal work attire on a specified day of the week, usually Fridays.

The participating employees usually donate $2.00 to that week's adopted charity. Dressing down is a sign that someone is supporting the fundraiser. You've probably noticed this at your local bank.

But unlike the bank that does this throughout the entire year, Bryant limits its involvement to the Winter and Summer Breaks. It is, when the campus is empty. Faculty, administrators, and staff members take part in this worthwhile charity event on Friday's when there is minimal campus activity and contact with the "outside world." For example, it has come to our attention that Dress Down Day was postponed last summer on weekends when both classes and employees were out on campus.

Why is it that Bryant thinks Dress Down Day should be reserved for times when no one can realize the collective philanthropic efforts?

Isn't this the same school that encourages involvement with the surrounding communities? The same school that boasts about it's students' charity involvement?

The students are recognized for their efforts, but the Dress Downers aren't. Oh, sure members of the secretarial/clerical council were pictured in this week's Bryant's Business, but how far outside of the Dress Downer's own circle does that publication reach?

It is unfortunate that the entire Bryant community isn't aware of the generous efforts put forth by participants in this program. Why is it good enough sometimes, but not all the time?

We realize Bryant is a place of business as well as residential community, and therefore has a certain image to uphold. But do clothes really alter that business image? Shouldn't Bryant show its professionalism through its actions, not just its fashions?

Perhaps instead of hiding the goodness at Bryant, more people should be involved in the program. Students might have an interest in participating somehow, too.

What has always made Bryant more than just a business is its involvement and concern for people. This should be shown throughout the year, not just one unrecognized month.

If everyone were welcome to participate, students could dress up a step from their usual classroom attire or wear designated class colors. The issue of appearance to outsiders could easily be explained by notices posted on campus doors and stickers worn by participants.

Bryant teaches its students to be business leaders. Shouldn't future leaders learn the lesson of showing charitable support?
ThURSDAY, FEbruARY 20, 1992

THE ARCHWAY

OPINION/NEWS

Senate Doesn't Support Tuition Hike

To the Bryant College Board of Trustees,

As President of the Bryant College Student Senate, I am submitting a motion that was made on February 19, 1992, concerning the upcoming vote on whether or not to increase tuition for the 1992-1993 academic year. As representatives of the Student Body, the Student Senators expressed grave concern that Bryant College is "out-pricing" themselves and soon may not be able to boast we are a "best buy" across the nation.

Furthermore, each semester a staggering amount of students are contemplating the possibility that they may not be able to return to Bryant College as a result of the financial strain that this institution's price is levying on them. In fact, as a senior I am aware that 22 of my peers (were it not for emergency financial aid funds) almost could not return for the final semester of their college career.

Therefore, instituting a 6% increase in tuition creates two problems. First, this price change will create problems for the admissions staff if Bryant College loses its "rights" as one of the nation's best buys. (In this economy the Admissions office is having a difficult time as it is fulfilling enrollment). Second, this tuition increase, plainly, will cause continued increases of current student withdrawals from this institution.

This motion was voted on and unanimously passed; endorsing that the student body of Bryant College does not support an increase in tuition for the 1992-1993 academic year.

Sincerely,

James P. Bergeron

Editor's Note: The above letter was sent to the Bryant College Board of Trustees and members of the Bryant College Administration. It was also sent to The Archway as a means of communicating with the entire Bryant community. At the February 19 Senate meeting the following resolution proposed by Sophomore senator Jessie Lyn Rice, was unanimously passed: "...The Bryant College Student Senate Does Not Support an increase in tuition for the 1992-1993 Academic School year."

A Cry For Help

Bryant College offers some of the best campus facilities in New England. The education that we receive here is impeccable for today's business world. The student body here at Bryant is friendly, outgoing and personable. As a student here, I enjoy all of these luxuries, but they are not free. For example, tuition here at Bryant has been steadily increasing for some time now. The class of 1992 paid quite a sum of money as freshmen (for tuition) than they pay now. Has the quality of the education increased so that much, have there been that many new facilities? Yes! However, as a freshman I do not see a need for such an increase within the college for next year, since there no longer exists multimillion dollar construction projects planned for the ensuing years.

Bryant College has used its rank in Barrons "300 best buys in college education" to attract prospective students to the school, and so they should. I believe that this rate along with being one of the three top specialty business colleges in the nation are important parts of Bryant's outstanding reputation. This reputation is both strong in high schools as well as in the job market. But with an increase in tuition these dubious titles may be a thing of the past, and difficult to regain. Many households specifically look for just such ratings because of the already high cost of a good education. A steady rising tuition may quickly deter the middle class family that wants the best college education (bryan) for their children but it is just too expensive.

Another factor that should be considered, is the many students that pay for their own college education out of their own pocket or through loans. A continued rise in tuition will be a flashing danger sign to these students and their families. This brings me to another point - declining enrollment. I foresee that an increase in tuition will only add to the dilemma of poor enrollment. This will cause a domino effect that may be uncontrollable. If tuition goes up and enrollments goes down then there will obviously be significantly less funds to simply run the school. There will then be another increase in tuition to compensate for this and in turn there will be another drop in enrollment, and so on and so forth. This is a very simplistic way of looking at a complicated problem, but in theory I believe it holds true.

The problems goes far beyond high school seniors, and in my opinion is much more serious than that. This is the problem of a student at Bryant that cannot afford to stay here. If a student enters his or her freshmen year paying a number of dollars, and each year that amount significantly increases, eventually that student may have to leave Bryant half way through their education. This is a huge travesty to the educational system. Last year alone there was a tremendous increase in tuition at Bryant. As a result, I have heard of various students, if were not for emergency funds, that may not have been able to continue at Bryant. If there were to be another increase in tuition this year I am afraid that the problem of paying for a good education for the future will soon become too overwhelming for some students; and again more students will unfortunately have to leave prematurely or will never have the opportunity to arrive on our campus.

Currently as a freshman I am paying in the range of $11,000 per year for tuition. Does this mean that I will be paying 25 to 55% more as an sophomore? I hope not. I enjoy it very much here at Bryant and believe that I am receiving an excellent education. I am aware that many other students feel the same way. The Board of Trustees should not increase tuition for the 1993-1994 academic year. I have intentions to stay here at least through my senior year, because I believe that I can achieve whatever price if the value of this elastic commodit continues to rise.

Sincerely,

Rob Fontanella
Freshmen Class Senator

Don't let your Bryant career pass you by without gaining the organizational and communications skills you need to succeed in the real world.

The Archway... Your Gateway to Gaining Experience

After all, it's never too late or too early...to start on your résumé.
Touring Australia is like visiting nature’s most prized playgrounds. For our group, the highlights were the outer reef beaches, off the eastern coast of the island-continent lies the Great Barrier Reef, the largest in the world, and its corals. Inhabiting the reef are enormous amounts of diverse marine life, protected by the Marine Park Authority.

Diving the reef has to be one of the most exciting experiences of my life. Our group took a high-speed catamaran and pounded our way to the outer reef through rough swells. The boat docked at a position permanently anchored on the edge of one of the massive coral reef structures. Everyone marvelled at the sight of fish swimming up to us looking for food. In the security of a wet suit, I felt comfortable, but still, I was a bit in awe of the diversity and color of the tropical fish in the warm water.

Our dive master gave us a tour guide to the group members to meet on a ranching about 20 feet underwater. We descended slowly to a depth where there was to be stabled at a fish twice the size of me. A huge group just gathered round my feet. I did nothing more than stare back in complete disbelief. I was thinking that I'd be the only one that could fit into this fishy’s mouth, so I shouldn't just keep my distance. My breath came back to me.

The reef is covered with fluorescent corals and all kinds of tropical fish, each in varieties of size and color. The coral structures support this extensive marine life by providing homes for millions of fish and other animals such as crabs, eels, turtles etc. The coral is food for many fish, while only shelter for others. On dives, barracuda waiting in small holes for food, and most of all, the unique beauty of the reef.

The dangers in Australia are intensified on the reef. Mainland Australia has seen some of the most monstrous snakes, spiders, plants and insects in the world. But they do not compare with the dangers on the reef. Sharks can be found everywhere. Of course, you might not see them, but the gear keeps their distance. Blue ring octopuses, coral-eel, and many eels are all dangers when provoked. Some other dangerous creatures are the conchel crab, which look like an upside down ice cream cone. Don't get too close because it shoots a harpoon at passing shadows. There is no known cure for the poison.

The beaches along the northeastern coastline are inhabited by jellyfish. The Australians call them “Stingers.” More people die in Australia from “Stingers” than anything else in the water. Swimming is not allowed north of the Sunshine coast on Australia’s coastline because of the danger “Stingers” present from October to May. Swimming is possible only in protected areas that keep the jellyfish away from bathers. Any of the island off shore are safe from “Stingers” because they are not on the main land coast.

The adventures in Australia do not end with diving the reef. I also tried something not indigenous to Australia, but certain to be rare in the world. I went bungee jumping in the tropical rainforest of Cairns, Australia. The jump is off a specially constructed bridge, 140-feet over a small pond on the side of a mountain overlooking the ocean.

Why would I do such a thing? I didn't know! Before you climb up to the top you have to sign a consent form that reads: “This is to certify that Michael Cain has been told all with reality and will jump off a 140-foot bridge attached only to a rubber band around his ankles.”

After signing away my life, I climbed the towering structure leading to the bridge at the top. They call out each jumper individually, weigh them, tie their ankles together, attach them to the rope and “stooc out to the edge of the platform.” It was the longest “stooc” I ever made. The bungey crew kept telling me to move closer and closer to the edge. I was scared out of my mind. They said, “Are you ready?”

Trying not to look down, I stomped out... “How do I do this?” They said, “Oh, it’s easy. Just dive out.”

I responded, “How? My feet are tied together.”

Bend your knees and push off, I was told.

The countdown began, during which I debated jumping. The opinions were certain death or embarrassment. I looked around and said, “Which one?”

After a few more times and smiling for pictures, I was lowered into the air and I recited almost back to the bridge. All my blood rushed to my head giving me an enormous head rush.

Upon graduation, students would be expected to repay the loan. I don’t think it’s worth it.

Whether it is the diving reef, avoiding dangerous animals or bungey jumping, Australia has it all.

Who Pays For Bad Behavior?

By Reedward Gull Hejloczn

Protestant Chaplain

Is it just me or was anyone else bothered by the statements from Alberto Tomba, the Italian Olympic Gold Medal skier, that I heard the other day? He said something like, “I need a woman around that I can grab at all times.” (And if one isn’t there, he goes and finds one.) Maybe I’ve just become over-sensitive lately with the Mike Tyson trial and “Magic” Johnson’s retirement due to the AIDS virus, or maybe it was the AIDS Taskforce meeting I had just left, but Tomba’s statement just hit the wrong note for me. Maybe it’s just that I can still remember a time when athletes were the models of clean, healthy living. When they didn’t smoke or drink, and they cared what put them into their bodies. When they were symbols of what a disciplined lifestyle could accomplish. That time seems to have passed.

Australia boasts the drum for safer sex, (there is no such thing as safe sex), another basketball player bragging about the 20,000 square feet he has slept with. As World Champion boxer’s inappropriate treat, of women leads to a rape con-

"...This is to certify that Michael Cain has been told all with reality and will jump off a 140-foot bridge attached only to a rubber band around his ankles."

Death is forever.

Heart disease doesn’t have to be.

IDEA, continued from page 1

income the student ends up earning after leaving school. In addition, if you place your college education to the cost of capital to the IRS

Who Pays For Bad Behavior?

Chaplain’s Corner

by Reversend Gull Hejloczn

Protestant Chaplain

Is it just me or was anyone else bothered by the statements from Alberto Tomba, the Italian Olympic Gold Medal skier, that I heard the other day? He said something like, “I need a woman around that I can grab at all times.” (And if one isn’t there, he goes and finds one.) Maybe I’ve just become over-sensitive lately with the Mike Tyson trial and “Magic” Johnson’s retirement due to the AIDS virus, or maybe it was the AIDS Taskforce meeting I had just left, but Tomba’s statement just hit the wrong note for me. Maybe it’s just that I can still remember a time when athletes were the models of clean, healthy living. When they didn’t smoke or drink, and they cared what put them into their bodies. When they were symbols of what a disciplined lifestyle could accomplish. That time seems to have passed.

Australia boasts the drum for safer sex, (there is no such thing as safe sex), another basketball player bragging about the 20,000 square feet he has slept with. As World Champion boxer’s inappropriate treat, of women leads to a rape con-

"...This is to certify that Michael Cain has been told all with reality and will jump off a 140-foot bridge attached only to a rubber band around his ankles."

Death is forever.

Heart disease doesn’t have to be.

Who Pays For Bad Behavior?

Chaplain’s Corner

by Reversend Gull Hejloczn

Protestant Chaplain

Is it just me or was anyone else bothered by the statements from Alberto Tomba, the Italian Olympic Gold Medal skier, that I heard the other day? He said something like, “I need a woman around that I can grab at all times.” (And if one isn’t there, he goes and finds one.) Maybe I’ve just become over-sensitive lately with the Mike Tyson trial and “Magic” Johnson’s retirement due to the AIDS virus, or maybe it was the AIDS Taskforce meeting I had just left, but Tomba’s statement just hit the wrong note for me. Maybe it’s just that I can still remember a time when athletes were the models of clean, healthy living. When they didn’t smoke or drink, and they cared what put them into their bodies. When they were symbols of what a disciplined lifestyle could accomplish. That time seems to have passed.

Australia boasts the drum for safer sex, (there is no such thing as safe sex), another basketball player bragging about the 20,000 square feet he has slept with. As World Champion boxer’s inappropriate treat, of women leads to a rape con-

"...This is to certify that Michael Cain has been told all with reality and will jump off a 140-foot bridge attached only to a rubber band around his ankles."

Death is forever.

Heart disease doesn’t have to be.
The Key to Responsible Drinking

Moderate use of alcohol. Alcohol is one of the most widely used mood-altering drug in our world. In moderation, alcohol can be used safely by responsible adults. Used irresponsibly in excess, alcohol can be a nightmare. In America alone, alcohol use is associated with over 18,000 traffic fatalities each year, and is a leading cause of accidental injury and premature death.

Of the two-thirds of American adults who drink, approximately 10% develop a serious drinking problem. For problem drinkers, the only vice is to pace yourself—sip your drink slowly, and do not have more than one drink in a one-hour period. For one to one and a half hours to process a drink, you must drink the alcohol slowly, and do not have more than one drink in one hour period.

Lessen the effects. You can also dilute the alcohol concentration by adding ice or water to your drink. (Do not use carbonated water or mixers since these actually hasten alcohol absorption.)

Health Services

To the rest of us, the key to responsible drinking is the one to one and a half hours to process a drink, by making sure that you eat and drink slowly, and do not have more than one drink in one hour period.

Face yourself. It takes your body one to one and a half hours to process a drink—so, if you take a drink, you must allow your body to act like a sponge and slow alcohol absorption. You can also dilute the alcohol concentration by adding ice or water to your drink. (Do not use carbonated water or mixers since these actually hasten alcohol absorption.)

Safety sense. Whenever you drink, exercise caution. Designate a driver who will not drink alcohol and who will be responsible for driving you to and from your destination. If a guest at your home has had too much to drink and insist on driving, take away her or his keys and call a cab or invite your guest to spend the night—-but do not let the person drive.

Alcoholism and the enabler. How to recognize "co-dependency". Alcoholism may be a disease of isolation, but it is rarely an individual problem. Helping the "enabler"—the person who allows the alcoholic to be an alcoholic—-is as critical to treating the diseases helping the alcoholic him or herself. In fact, some experts believe that "co-dependency" (the behavior of enablers), may actually be a type of "disease" in itself. Understanding how "enabling" works is an important strategy for the alcoholic and the co-dependent seeking help.

Who is an enabler? Most often, enablers are persons who genuinely care about the alcoholic—family, friends, co-workers, clergy. Their love and concern, unfortunately, often leads them to do things that actually help the alcoholic stay that way. They "cover" for the alcoholic, inventing excuses for absenteeism, tardiness, or inappropriate behavior. They "save" the alcoholic by taking on the alcoholic's responsibilities so that the alcoholic does not have to face the consequences of his or her drinking.

Where to get help. If you, or someone you know, needs help with co-dependency problem, there are numerous organizations that can provide additional information and referrals. Check the "Yellow Pages" of your phone directory under "Alcoholism" for local organizations, or call one of the following toll-free hotlines: 800-ALCOHOL or 800-HELP.

©1989 Parlay International

R.I. Rape Crisis Center 421-4100

This space is provided as a public service.

Recognition '92

Do you think you know who deserves credit?

Academic Club of the Year
Advisor of the Year Award
Campus Program of the Year Award
Community Service of the Year Award
Fraternity of the Year Award
Organization of the Year Award
Outstanding Membership and Recruitment of the Year Award
Sorority of the Year Award
Sports Club of the Year Award

Help Bryant College recognize 1992's outstanding leaders in the Second Annual Recognition '92 Ceremony

Nomination forms are available in the Student Senate office, at the Info Desk and in the library. Your input is greatly appreciated.

PLEASE SUBMIT FORMS TO THE OFFICE OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES BY 12 pm
TUESDAY, MARCH 3, 1992

THE ARCHWAY
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1992

5

FEATURES

The Key to Responsible Drinking

R.O.T.C. On A Rainy Day at Bryant

by Sean Cataldo

Many students are unaware of what is happening on campus, let alone at 6 o'clock in the morning. If any student happens to be wandering around the MAC at such an early hour, they may be able to catch the R.O.T.C. cadets in action at a game of Bryant Ball.

This is not a normal occurrence, because Bryant Ball is only played on days when the weather does not permit the R.O.T.C. cadets to run outside. Through Bryant Ball, the R.O.T.C. cadets still receive aerobic physical training, which they would normally receive from the runs that day.

Bryant Ball, invented by Bryant's own Cpt. Parleer, incorporates many attributes of a variety of different sports. First, there are two floor hockey goals placed on opposite ends of the floor. On the side of these two goals, each team awaits the sound of the whistle to begin play. Next, a wobbly ball sized ball is placed in the center of the floor in between the two opposing teams. The ball may be advanced in two different ways; it may be kicked like a soccer ball or picked up and run with like a football.

When the whistle sounds, both teams charge after the ball. When one team has possession, they may move in any direction desired until a team member who has the ball has been tagged by an opposing player. At this time, the player who has been tagged can either pass the ball to a teammate or shoot at the goal. The player who has been tagged can no longer advance the ball or touch it again until there has been a change of possession or a shot on the goal.

There are no goalies allowed in the game. The only way you can score is by kicking the ball in. Any other type of goal would be disallowed. If a legal goal is scored, the team is awarded one point. Most games are played up to five goals or until time permits.

There are also a few other minor rules to Bryant Ball. With the competitive spirit of both teams, some players try a little too hard and are awarded time in the penalty box. Unlike in a hockey penalty box, the Bryant Ball penalty box occurs on some type of physical exercise, like inclined push-ups, while they serve their penalty time.

Also, if the referee believes a team is attempting to have a goalie or a player was just standing in front of the goal without guarding a man, the other team is awarded a penalty shot. This is very similar to a penalty kick in soccer. If you have watched Bryant Ball, there is no goalie.

This game may sound complicated to some people and boring to others, but after you play it once you will definitely want to play it again. Check it out for yourself by stopping by the MAC around 7 o'clock on a rainy or snowy morning. Remember to bring your running shoes, a competitive spirit, and good sportsmanship.
See Your Career On Tape

Gusy. They'll Never Change

Careers Under Fire
by Barbara Gregory

Careers Savvy

The Careers in Series features careers in marketing, management, economics, communication, accounting, (CIS) are available to any student or alumna by going to the Career Services Office and asking to view the tapes. VCR's are located in a room connected to the AV Office for viewing the tapes.

Check the Career Services Office for a complete list of tapes available for viewing.

Gusy are a very strange breed. They come in all shapes and sizes, and they are all from the same mold. The Real Scoop way.

How important have CIS graduates pursued? What by going to Room 277

"polish" your teeth? These are few years ago my biggest concern the less chance there will be of

Of course retirement and benefits about dental insurance was that really rug

you, and 2)

will talk to you.

that the system

and Donald Trump's Financial Advisor.

I had a dollar for ever time I've heard girls complain about hearing those eight little words, guys say thinking them some time they are just that, mere words. But we girls who know when they are spoken, trouble lies ahead.

Think back to your very first wash. Was he your local paper boy, one of your brothers or friends that could never speak to you, and 2)

one else about how

What you have been able to determine about retirement benefits is that the system is set up such that 1)

Everybody has better benefits than you, and 2) The benefits you actually do get will amount to about $15.11 after taxes. So the challenge for seniors is to scrape and scratch for every last benefit they can get possible, get the idea being that the more benefits you have, the more you won't get back after taxes, and the less chance there will be of getting audited.

Of course employment and benefits aren't the only concerns of Bryan seniors. There is also Job Security. This is a fictional entity that try government officials created during the Nixon administration, whose purpose is to fail employees into thinking that they're job will actually exist for more than the next 15 minutes. This is a big concern amongst college seniors. It is almost like a challenge - the senior who is the most absolutely secure about his or her job gets lousy.

You change from charging leashing guys to loving them, you experienced your first "real love" or so you thought. I know I did. I had her every emotion possible flying around inside of me. From love to hate, to jealousy and insecurity, I felt them all. And some of them I let show, the ones I didn't know were supposed to be kept hidden.

You always end up falling for the guy who's a good friend - I did anyway. I tried to let him know how I felt, subtly. At first talked to everyone else about how I felt, except for him. When we did talk, things just went out of control. Our friendship was put through a tough test it almost didn't survive.

When I first told him how I felt, he said those eight words, "I don't want to get your hopes up, but you're a really valued friend to me and I don't want to lose that." Broken hearts-2, me-0. I guess you can change that to Broken hearts-2, me-1 because we're no longer friends. Thank heaven for small favors.

I think it's a jinx that puts on girls when they're either confused, scared or just plain not interested. Instead of talking to us about their feelings, they mess with our minds and drop us. They may not realize what they're doing to us, but modern science could do us a favor and come up with a cure to rid girls of this "I don't want to get your hopes up" gene.

Hey, maybe they could replace it with a shopping gene and we could be even! Or at least have something in common.

I guess my whole point is this. Most of the guys you meet are going to fall into one of three categories, 1) HOT!! Too gorgeous and cocky for a real relationship. 2) Possibility. Cute and down to earth. 3) HOT!! The guy who wants you. No matter where they fall on your list, you will never know.

They will never stop and ask for directions when they are lost, oh, excuse me, exploring. They will always think shopping should be outlawed. And they will always say you spend too much time in the bathroom. So they wouldn't want them to be any other way, how would we?

I said, would we?
ANNOUNCEMENTS

Career Services

Workshops
Resume Writing
Tuesday, Feb. 25 2:00pm Room 278

Job Search
Monday, Feb. 24 3:30pm Room 278

Presentations

Feb. 24 4:00 pm Taco Bell Corporation
Room 242 All

Feb. 24 4:00 pm National Investigative Service
Room 244 All

Feb. 25 4:00 pm AIPSO
Room 278 ACG

Feb. 25 4:00 pm Campbell Sales
Room 243 All

Feb. 26 6:00 pm Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance
Room 347 All

Feb. 26 4:00 pm Early Cloud & Company
Room 242 CIS

Feb. 27 7:00 pm Melaleuca, Inc.
Room 244 BCM, MGT, MKT

Feb. 27 7:00 pm Northeast Financial
Room 278 All

CLASSIFIEDS

YOU'VE ONLY GOT ONE WEEK TO LIVE! DO IT RIGHT!
TIGHT SPRING BREAK IN LAMADECA, BAHAMAS, CANCEH, MARGARITAVILLE FROM $369!! HOTEL, AIR, TRANSFERS, PARCHMENT ORGANIZE GROUP TRAVEL FREE SUN SPLASHHOURS 1-800-426-7710.

YOU'RE THE BEST LISA

Easy Work! Excellent Pay!
Taking snapshots. Send self-addressed stamped envelope to: L. Bureau, P.O. Box 40725, Providence, RI 02940

STUDY ABROAD IN AUSTRALIA:
Information on semester, year, graduate, and undergraduate programs in Perth, Townsville, Sydney, and Melbourne. Programs start at $3,520. Call 1-800-878-3696

THE ARCHWAY EXPRESS YOURSELF

MENü OF THE WEEK

Treat Yourself Right

FRIDAY

Breakfast
Hot Cereal*
Hard Cooked Eggs
Eggs To Order
Pancakes
Sausage Or Meat
Home Fries
Donuts
Bagels
Blueberry Coffee Cake
Lunch
Clam Chowder
Clam Cake
Dilled Salmon
Dilled Haddock
Dilled Yellowtail
Dilled Tuna
Dilled Salmon
Salmon
Shrimp
Salmon
Tuna
Salmon

SUNDAY

Brunch
Hot Cereal*
Hard Cooked Eggs
Eggs To Order
French Toast
Bacon
Patty Melt
Stuffed Peppers
Chicken Party
Dilled Fish
Salad Bar*
Turkey Puffs
Italian Vegetables
Chili
French Bread
Sausage Or Meat
Home Fries
Donuts
Bagels
Blueberry Coffee Cake
Lunch
Hot Cereal*
Hard Cooked Eggs
Eggs To Order
Blueberry Pancakes
Grilled Ham Steak
Patty Melt
Mushrooms Or Meat
Ham & Cheese Sub
Dilled Fish
Salad Bar*
Chicken Vegetable Soup
Salad Bar*
Vegetable Medley
Seafood Chowder
Hamburger
Fish n' Chips
Fish Cake
Salad Bar*

MONDAY

Breakfast
Hot Cereal*
Hard Cooked Eggs
Eggs To Order
Country Style Eggs
Pancakes
Hash Browns
Billed Bagels
Donuts
Cinnamon Rolls
Lunch
Chicken
Chicken Noodle Soup
Shepherd's Pie
Vegetable Fried Rice
Grilled Ham & Cheese
Chili
Potato Butter Cake
Fresh Fruit
Bagels
Donuts
Salad Bar*

TUESDAY

Breakfast
Hot Cereal*
Hard Cooked Eggs
Eggs To Order
Cheese Or Meat
Home Fries
Apple Fritters
Donuts
Bagels
Sweet Rolls
Lunch
Chicken
Cream Of Broccoli
Buffalo Chicken Wings
Italian Hot Green Peppers
Linguini Primavera
Roast Potato*
Sliced Peaches
Barbecue
Grilled Fish
Apple Cake
Boston Cream Cake

WEDNESDAY

Breakfast
Hot Cereal*
Hard Cooked Eggs
Eggs To Order
Cheese Or Meat
Tom & Cheese
Pasta
Hash Browns
Pineapple Fritters
Donuts
Bagels
Fresh Fruit
Coffee Cake
Lunch
Chicken
Chicken Vegetables
French Bread Pizza
Beef & Peppers
Italian Vegetables
Rice Pilaf
Salsa
Grilled Fish
Barbecue
Apple Cake
Saltine Bar

THURSDAY

Breakfast
Hot Cereal*
Hard Cooked Eggs
Eggs To Order
Tom & Cheese
Hash Browns
Pineapple Fritters
Donuts
Bagels
Fresh Fruit
Coffee Cake
Lunch
Chicken
Pasta
Ravioli
Ravioli
Chinese Chicken Wings
Rice
Pasta
Sliced Peaches
Barbecue
Broccoli
Coleslaw

*Take Yourself Right
Alpha Phi
by Deana Polinzo
and Ann Pinone

Hi! How was everyone's long weekend? I hope it was as good as ours!

The few sisters that stayed around here had a memorable time, thanks to SIG TOP CAT! Big thanks to... the Sig-Ep's for the visit!

We ought by right to hand down to our current freshmen of the years! Everyone has a safe and enjoyable long weekend.

Delta Chi
by Jim Darroch

The brothers dispersed throughout New England Friday in celebration of the long weekend. Many attended Regionals at UConn, where they were introduced to tochousing. Holmes and Lalben volunteered for the March of Dimes... due to a conflict, Jarec could not attend.

In other sports, a hockey loss to Stephon in the first 7 seconds. A great effort was made by the team, but unfortunately, we were not able to eat solid food for some time, thereby proving that orange juice is "Not just for breakfast anymore".

Delta Kappa Epsilon
by Todd Roycroft

The brothers would like to congratulate Tim and Wayne for the way they effectively handled our judicial review hearing. We would further like to thank the Inter-fraternity Council for their support during the judicial review process.

As a result, pledging started up again on Sunday. A couple of brothers created a new tradition, BAR JERK A FRIEND, however the rest of us request that it not become apart of the program.

Last week on Big Monday, the I.B. nano lost a heartbreaker to Sig-Ep B-B. Missing our leading rebounder and shot blocker, Todd, it was difficult to hold the lead we held up to the last minute. However, an out of the blue goal by it as he sparked the NorDEKES to victory over TKE, this past Monday.

Offense was created by V's and was the first goal of the season, and by a patent Straussen in the closing minutes. We still remain alive in the metnal round.

Kappa Delta Rho
by Tom Foolery

To start off I would like to welcome our national representatives to our chapter. Ten brothers and Piskin were left on the floor this weekend. Thanks for coming up Piskin!

Saturday night we moved to dorm 5, where we had a whole suite to ourselves. On Sunday the pledges returned, nice job, NOT! But anyway congratulations to the pledges on being pinned, now it's time to get serious. How about those Pledge Follies? That's the new ladies and gentlemen and I am out of here...GO TEAM USA!!!

Karate Club
by Julie Faul

Howdy Ya'll! I hope your week was going well. Got some news for you: Mr. Santoro is in the process of finally taking his Black Belt test. Good luck and may the force be with you.

Next week I used to mention how lovely it was to have Bryan (AKA Mr. Beliveau) for those of you who are not familiar with him) around last week and hopefully he will bring the dojo with him a little more often.

And now for this month's MILKYWAY AWARD winners!

We have a tie for Grand Prize. It goes to Mr. Doug Tucker and Mr. Vincent Richard. Congratulations and keep on eatin' those Milky Ways! You have also qualified for the prestigious award of Crumple pie of the year! Everyone has a safe and enjoyable long weekend.

Phi Kappa Tau
by Rob Ferdinck

A writer was hard to find but Gary helped find a volunteer. First off, thanks to Phi Sig for the festivities on Thursday night. Ray and Gary headed to New Jersey for a seminar and met with other chapter representatives. A good time was had by all.

We'd like to thank Phi Sig for their help in the Follies which earned us both a third place finish. Congratulations.

On Saturday, the Associate Members traveled to Providence to help out at the McAuley House. We'd like to thank Theta for Theta for Saturday Night. We all had a great time and can't wait for it to happen again.

We're all looking forward to Alumni Weekend this week. KT TOP GOD!!

Phi Sigma Sigma
by Tracey Keller

Due to our errors did not appear last week, so I just wanted to say again thank you to Tara Casper for making Division Conference Weekend such a success and to Phi Kappa Sigma for helping us keep that excitement entertained Saturday evening.

OK, now for this week's news. First of all congratulations to our pledges and the pledges of Phi Kappa Tau for placing third in the Follies on Wednesday night.

The long weekend was off to a responsible start with our weird brothers of KT. We look forward to spending more quality time with KT, especially tonight.

Well all we have left to know is that it was Saturday and some sisters

SHRM
by Shari Poulin
Attention SHRM Members!!

Be sure to attend our next meeting in Room 2A of the Bryant Center. Anyone who attended really enjoyed her talk and learned a lot!

Our next meeting will be on Wednesday, February 26th at 7PM in Room 2A of the Bryant Center. Any new members as well as old members are always welcome!

Hope to see you there!!!

Sigma Sigma Sigma
by Linda Reiner
and Adrienne Hovivian

Hey Everybody! Hope your long

GET YOURSELF INTO GEAR!

REGISTER FOR TAP CLASSES

Courses offered:
Ballroom Dancing
Comedy Writing/Standup
Golf
Juggling
Photo Album
Bead It
A Day In Boston

Ballroom Dancing
Comedy Writing/Standup
Golf
Juggling
Photo Album
Bead It
A Day In Boston

Don't Delay - Do It Today!
Information in the form of words is just one way to stay in the reader's mind. Yet transformed into graphic art, it becomes meaningful and memorable.

The Archway staff is looking for graphic artists to make the most out of information.

No experience is necessary, but artistic vision is a must. All graphic artists will be trained in the latest versions of all popular graphics programs, including Aldus Freehand, Adobe Illustrator, Microsoft Excel, and Lotus 1-2-3.

The Archway...Your Gateway to Artistic Creativity

For more information, contact Mike Boyd or Mark Plhick at The Archway at 232-6028 or stop by our office, top floor of the MAC, during production night, every Wednesday.

If a picture is worth a thousand words...

Then what is a graphic worth?

SPB

by Laura Kaplan

Hi everyone, and here I am yet again with another column filled with programming.

Coming up on Sunday is the movie My Girl with Macaulay Culkin. The shows are at 7pm and 9:15pm in Janikies Auditorium for only $1.00. Remember that it includes free popcorn and soda.

Next Wednesday, February 26, we will be having the first TKE pledge night, featuring Dave Binder, in South Dining Room at 8pm. Again, the price is only $1.00. Please join us. Dave Binder has been here before and he is an incredible act.

The Oxford Debate is also in the works so if you are interested watch for the announcement of the SPB office at ext 6118. Please help us program for you!!!

Tau Epsilon Phi

by David Delesander

Week Four: The challenge intensifies. Only the strong will survive.

Weekend was better than everyone's who was stuck here!

Thanks to DJKE for the white room on Saturday. It made up for the dumbest day...Valentine's Day?!! Although sisters with valentines had a blast. The word for Friday night was "Grease". Right Beta? To our pledges: A great job at Greek Follies, you did not look penguins, no matter what Lucci said! Hang in there sisterhood is definitely worth it! To all the other pledges-Stay strong!

Are you ready to face that challenge? The pledges must study up on their Economics and learn the consumption function.

This weekend on the floor was nuts. Most of the brothers went home to wish their girlfriends a Happy Valentine's Day.

That's the story for the week. The quote for the week comes from Vito who said: "I wish my brother Phil were here."

Tau Kappa Epsilon

by John Nardakos

Well, we'd like to welcome back everyone who went home this weekend!

What a suitcase college. Twenty percent of this campus goes home says administration and by looking at the parking lot this weekend, eighty percent don't have cars I guess.

Thank you to the few courageous people who stayed and had an excellent time.

The Trolls are coming along slowly but surely and in a few days, TKE should have eight quality brothers.

Numbers are not everything. We'd also like to sympathize with anyone who attended the pledge follies and quietly accepted the abuse from such a "gracious" host/me!

TKE-A hockey lost their first playoff game in a very controversial decision on Monday.

The A basketball team is currently 1-1 and hoping to keep that loss column small with the help of Bryan, AJ, Colin, McCoy, and China. Until next week: Rock 'em!!!
It keeps more than memories alive.

THE AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION MEMORIAL PROGRAM

WERE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association

This space provided as a public service.

---

FREE 1992 Student Travel Catalog!

COME BY AND PICK UP YOUR COPY!!!
We can help you with:
• Student/Teacher Airfares
• Eurail Passes issued on the spot
• Car Rental/Leasing
• Work Abroad/Study Abroad
• Int'l Student & Teacher ID
• Youth Hostel Passes
• MUCH MORE!

171 Angell Street, corner of Thayer
401-331-5810

The most reusable piece of plastic on campus.

The AT&T Calling Card will never go to waste. You can use it to make a call from almost anywhere to anywhere. Once you have one, you'll never need to apply for another. It's the least expensive way to call state-to-state on AT&T when you can't dial direct. And now you could also get 10% back on all the long distance calls you make with your card. Of course when you use your Calling Card, you'll always be connected to the reliable service you've come to expect from AT&T. So, as you see, there's only one way to describe the AT&T Calling Card in today's college environment. Indispensable.

Get an AT&T Calling Card today. Call 1-800-654-0471 Ext. 9728.

*Must make at least $50 worth of AT&T Long Distance calls with your AT&T Card per quarter. Calls covered by special AT&T Calling Card plans are not included.

AT&T
NE-10 Opponents Defeat Bryant

Brenda Milley
Archway Sports Writer

Bryant Men’s Basketball dropped their record to 3-20 last week. They were defeated by Assumption and St. Michael’s who are both in the NE-10 Division.

Last Saturday, Bryant faced the 15-8 Assumption College Greyhounds. The Greyhounds emerged victorious, 103-76.

Bryant shot 85% from the free throw line (23-26), and out-rebounded Assumption offensively 17-9. C.J. Simmons was the top scorer for Bryant with 11 points, and Scott Meyer pulled down eight rebounds.

However, this was not enough to shut down John Carroll, who led Assumption in scoring. He finished the game with 31 points.

Earlier in the week, St. Michael’s College of Vermont beat the Bryant Indians, 103-70.

The victory for St. Mike’s was a team effort; the team had six players in double figures. Three of these players were of the starting five.

Simmons was the only Bryant player in double figures with 17 points.

The team played St. Anselm’s last night but results were too late for this edition. The Indians will travel to AIC on Saturday, then return home Tuesday to face Meredith.

The Greyhounds final regular season home game.

Women’s Track Begins

Katie elig
Archway Sports Writer

The women’s outdoor track team begins preparation for what looks to be a very promising season. The team started practicing in late January to prepare for their first meet against UConn on March 21. The team will be attending six meets this season, and hope to take the titles.

This year roster includes Meredith Andrew, Christine Booth, Heather Brown, Karen Caldwell, Christina Castor, Jackie Chichester, Heather Cronin, Megan Davis, Michele D’Arenza, Jilliane Decker, Mary Gates, Karen Grobel, Sue Harris, Kellie McDermott, Megan McFadden, Tracy Newcomer, Jennifer Oaks, Karen Paclynick, Lorraine Palletta, Lita Quinlan, Melissa Roberts, Maureen Salomon, Angela Truboshby, Laura Zegry, Elizabeth Murphy, Kristen O’Dea, Annice Beauder, and Megan Daleo.

According to Coach Mandeville, the team is really coming together.

“We are going to be very strong in the long distance events, and although we may not have the depth in the other areas, we have the talent.”

The talent is definitely there. Team members Heather Brown has already beaten Bryant’s record for the high jump and is now the best in Bryant history. Michele D’Arenza was runner-up in the tri evento last year in the half mile and two mile; she will be re-joining the team again this year.

Also returning to the team is Jilliane Deckar, who has been out for the past two years due to an injury.

Decker, however, is in shape and good things can be expected from her. Mandeville said, “We’re going to be unbelievable.”

Although the team still has things to work on, Mandeville feels they will be ready for their meet against RIC in a month. He senses good things about this years season and stated: “The team is made up of quality people who can realistically win the tri-states.”

Baseball Looking Toward Successful Spring Season

Steve Salazar
Archway Sports Writer

When you lace up the cleats and throw on your glove for the first time every year, you dream of one goal.

Since mid-January, the Bryant Baseball Team has been striving to accomplish their goal—an excellence they have aimed for since 1986: an NE-10 Championship.

Six years ago, none of the current players were around. But, head coach Ken Sjogren was a member of this team. He knows what it is like to play on a championship team, and is making every effort for his players to play another game on the field.

The team placed fifth in the league. Worthington, TJ. Johnston, and Scott Axel, are coming out productive fall seasons.

This group of players’ best start was their sophomore season, when they placed fifth in the league.

The team has talent which can take them a long way. Last spring, a mediocre 13-15 record posted by the Tribe was more disappointing than it seems.

The team did lose one player from graduation. So almost every member has a season under his belt. They have returned determined and experienced.

The team is very confident as the season begins. Werner, a shortstop, who has anchored the infield the last three seasons stated, “If we perform to our ability, we’ll be a tough team to beat.”

First baseman and power hitter Scott Axel believes that “with the work habits of everyone on this team, we deserve to win.” These two players, who are the team leaders, will put the squad until that goal is achieved.

The pitching staff, consisting of seniors Andy Bean, Jay Worthington, T.J. Johnston, and John Pickionche, and sophomore Bryan Causazolf are ready to hurl Bryant to a league banner. Andy Bean posted a 6-2 record last year and is looking forward to another great season. With every pitcher back and new freshman added, the year looks bright.

Diamond Dust: The Tribe has a new look this spring; changing their team colors from intimidating Black and Gray. This move may be a psychological advantage which will drive the team to victory.

The Tribe has started packing their bags and are anxious to begin the season. The countdown to March 6th has begun.

Intramural Indoor Soccer

Men’s & Women’s Rosters due by March 5th.
12 Players/Roster Indicate Major or Minor.
Season will begin Wednesday March 16th.

Attention Club Sports:

The Archway Sports Department welcomes any submissions on the progress of your club.

Deadlines for submission are Tuesdays at 4pm.

Refer to the Archway Edict on page two or call the office at 232-6028 for further information.
Alumni Shine in Reunion

Angelo Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The Women’s Alumni Basketball team at halftime during their game on Saturday.

The winning team was one of 12 people who played a friendly game of basketball, Joan Waters, Donna (Cole) refereeing the games.

Johnson’s stellar performance thanked Magic for their years to the world, for several different reasons. Co-captain of the Lakers James number was retired. The no-look pass, "respected the man.

Bonnie Blair captured our hearts by winning two golds in speed skating. As Magic’s friends came out to honor this man, as you back in college, the battle between got the best of him. Tears came with flying colors. Since the deal. With flying colors. Since the ceremony started with The most touching guest had to be Kareem Abdul Jabbar. Jabbar spoke about how great Magic was, how he changed the game, you could see how much he loved and respected the man.

Magic presented him with a gold wrist watch and hugging his jersey retired and hung on the wall of the Forum for all to see. A bust for Magic to keep, and, like a big brother to me. You did more than teach me how to be a basketball player; you taught me how to be a professional basketball player.

The winning team was one of 12 people who played a friendly game of basketball, Joan Waters, Donna (Cole) refereeing the games.

Do You Believe in Magic?

The last week and a half have had the public focusing on the sports world, for several different reasons. We started with Earvin Magic Johnson’s stellar performance in the NBA All-Star game, then Bonnie Blair captured our hearts by winning two golds in speed skating. As Magic’s friends came out to honor this man, as you back in college, the battle between got the best of him. Tears came with flying colors. Since the deal. With flying colors. Since the ceremony started with The most touching guest had to be Kareem Abdul Jabbar. Jabbar spoke about how great Magic was, how he changed the game, you could see how much he loved and respected the man.

Magic presented him with a gold wrist watch and hugging his jersey retired and hung on the wall of the Forum for all to see. A bust for Magic to keep, and, like a big brother to me. You did more than teach me how to be a basketball player; you taught me how to be a professional basketball player.

The winning team was one of 12 people who played a friendly game of basketball, Joan Waters, Donna (Cole) refereeing the games.

The Men’s Alumni Basketball team held their annual alumni games Saturday in the gym. Prior to the regularly scheduled Bryant games, the alumni, separated into teams of black and gold, played a friendly game of basketball.

The teams played twenty minute halves and were tied 26-26. Gold eventually pulled away with the win in overtime, 37-35. At 11:00 a.m. the book the court. Returning to play were the black team, Charlie Armstrong, Bob Moll, Guy Dupont, Mike Travassos, Steve Ruggieri, Bill Zilliox, Manny Barrows and Gregg Copper (1,000 Point Club). Gold team members included Sonny Garrett, Joe Sawickas, Mike Reed, Chris O’Connell, and 1,000 Point Club Members Dave Serafina, Derek Higgins, Tom Dupont, and Dan Mazza.

The bigger team played a complete forty minute game. Black controlled the game most of the first half leading 41-38 at the half. The Home Court started with a 2-8 run by the gold to take the lead. The gold lead by as many as seven before losing 65-50. Athletic Director Leon Drury said it was just like old times and it was good to see everyone again. He also thanked the men’s soccer captain, senior Mike Epstein, for refereeing the games.

The Women’s Basketball team split two NE-10 games this week, raising their record to 9-14. The team hosted Assumption on Saturday, winning 70-61. Bryant took an early lead by scoring the first eight points of the game and never looked back. They lead at the half 33-26, and went up by as much as 14 in the second half before finally winning by nine.

"We played well," Coach Mary Burke said. "We were in control and played smart. We’re down to seven players so we can’t get into foul trouble, and they didn’t." High scorers in the game were Heather Houle with 19, Holly Grinnell (15), Bridget Casey (12), and Kim Ross (11). Grinnell’s 39 points break the schools’ scoring record, which she already held, by tallying 37. Junior Kelly Jacob left the game early with torn cartilage and possibly torn tendons in her knee. Jacob had surgery on Tuesday to correct the problem and will miss the rest of the season.

The Lady Indians, however, do have something to look forward to. The team clinched a playoff spot and are looking forward to postseason play.

"We clinched a spot, but we want to move up. We are currently in eighth and would have to play Bentley or Stonehill first. We want to avoid that. Our win against Assumption should help," Coach Burke noted.

The team will travel to Arc on Saturday and then return home to play Merrimack on Tuesday at 7:30 for their final home game of the season.

SuperHoops Challenge

by Michele Rendeiro

The ninth annual Schick SuperHoops 3 on 3 basketball tournament has returned to Bryant College.

All non-varsity men and women are eligible to compete in the 3 on 3 half court basketball tournament. Last year for the first time in six years, Bryant sent a men’s and a women’s team to the regional level. Ladies, let’s see if we can go another six years.

Sign up in the Intramural Office before Monday, February 24. The competition at Bryant will be Thursday, February 27, at 3:30 p.m. in the gym.

The winning team will represent Bryant on the regional level at Northeastern University.

The last week and a half have had the public focusing on the sports world, for several different reasons. We started with Earvin Magic Johnson’s stellar performance in the NBA All-Star game, then Bonnie Blair captured our hearts by winning two golds in speed skating. As Magic’s friends came out to honor this man, as you back in college, the battle between got the best of him. Tears came with flying colors. Since the deal. With flying colors. Since the ceremony started with The most touching guest had to be Kareem Abdul Jabbar. Jabbar spoke about how great Magic was, how he changed the game, you could see how much he loved and respected the man.

Magic presented him with a gold wrist watch and hugging his jersey retired and hung on the wall of the Forum for all to see. A bust for Magic to keep, and, like a big brother to me. You did more than teach me how to be a basketball player; you taught me how to be a professional basketball player.

The winning team was one of 12 people who played a friendly game of basketball, Joan Waters, Donna (Cole) refereeing the games.

Do You Believe in Magic?

The last week and a half have had the public focusing on the sports world, for several different reasons. We started with Earvin Magic Johnson’s stellar performance in the NBA All-Star game, then Bonnie Blair captured our hearts by winning two golds in speed skating. As Magic’s friends came out to honor this man, as you back in college, the battle between got the best of him. Tears came with flying colors. Since the deal. With flying colors. Since the ceremony started with The most touching guest had to be Kareem Abdul Jabbar. Jabbar spoke about how great Magic was, how he changed the game, you could see how much he loved and respected the man.

Magic presented him with a gold wrist watch and hugging his jersey retired and hung on the wall of the Forum for all to see. A bust for Magic to keep, and, like a big brother to me. You did more than teach me how to be a basketball player; you taught me how to be a professional basketball player.

The winning team was one of 12 people who played a friendly game of basketball, Joan Waters, Donna (Cole) refereeing the games.

Do You Believe in Magic?

The last week and a half have had the public focusing on the sports world, for several different reasons. We started with Earvin Magic Johnson’s stellar performance in the NBA All-Star game, then Bonnie Blair captured our hearts by winning two golds in speed skating. As Magic’s friends came out to honor this man, as you back in college, the battle between got the best of him. Tears came with flying colors. Since the deal. With flying colors. Since the ceremony started with The most touching guest had to be Kareem Abdul Jabbar. Jabbar spoke about how great Magic was, how he changed the game, you could see how much he loved and respected the man.

Magic presented him with a gold wrist watch and hugging his jersey retired and hung on the wall of the Forum for all to see. A bust for Magic to keep, and, like a big brother to me. You did more than teach me how to be a basketball player; you taught me how to be a professional basketball player.

The winning team was one of 12 people who played a friendly game of basketball, Joan Waters, Donna (Cole) refereeing the games.

Do You Believe in Magic?

The last week and a half have had the public focusing on the sports world, for several different reasons. We started with Earvin Magic Johnson’s stellar performance in the NBA All-Star game, then Bonnie Blair captured our hearts by winning two golds in speed skating. As Magic’s friends came out to honor this man, as you back in college, the battle between got the best of him. Tears came with flying colors. Since the deal. With flying colors. Since the ceremony started with The most touching guest had to be Kareem Abdul Jabbar. Jabbar spoke about how great Magic was, how he changed the game, you could see how much he loved and respected the man.

Magic presented him with a gold wrist watch and hugging his jersey retired and hung on the wall of the Forum for all to see. A bust for Magic to keep, and, like a big brother to me. You did more than teach me how to be a basketball player; you taught me how to be a professional basketball player.

The winning team was one of 12 people who played a friendly game of basketball, Joan Waters, Donna (Cole) refereeing the games.