A Bryant senior was arrested last week and accused of being the mastermind of a large-scale gambling ring that has been operating at University of Rhode Island. Five basketball players have been linked to the operation.

Matthew Zimmerman, 21, a senior finance major, was arrested last Wednesday by undercover state police officers in the parking lot of the McDonald's at Lincoln Mall. According to police, Zimmerman was there to observe a meeting between himself and "the mastermind" and an undercover state trooper posing as a relative to discuss the gambling debts of Scott Kent, a former URI football player and brother of current URI basketball player, Jeff Kent.

Zimmerman was charged with two counts of extortion, and one charge each of bookmaking, possession of marijuana, racketeering, disorderly conduct and conspiracy. He pleaded innocent and was released on a $5,000 surety bond.

Basketball Team Implicated

According to state police, five members of the Bryant basketball team have been involved in the gambling operation and owe Zimmerman $54,000 in illegal sports bets.

State Police Detective Commander Capt. Brian Andrews, named basketball players Christopher "CJ." Simmons, a senior from Wall, NJ, and David Burrows, a sophomore from Milton, NH, as two of the five members involved.

State Police have refused to identify the other three players involved.

According to Andrews, several members of the basketball team distributed football betting cards for Zimmerman throughout the campus.

"Sports bets by members of the team included a $10,000, two-game college basketball parlay by five members of the team on February 13, and two $2,000 bets on college basketball games by two different players on another night," Andrews stated. "The investigation is moving along. We are trying to identify all those involved and determine the role each played in the operation."

Task Force Announced

In response to the exposure of the gambling ring, Bryant College announced Saturday the formation of a task force to study the problem of illegal gambling on the campus.

At a press conference held Saturday, Dr. Walter B. Roettiger, Executive Vice President/Provost, stated, "Bryant College is deeply distressed and saddened by the allegations of illegal gambling involving students. We are doing everything we can to address this situation."

Roettiger announced the formation of a six-member task force headed by Dr. William T. O'Hara, President Emeritus of the college.

O'Hara stated he was "delighted to be able to say yes to that invitation. In my 13 years here I have been able to say yes to a request, but in this case I have been unable to say yes."

O'Hara's task force will report on the "scope of gambling problems in general and, in particular, within our athletic programs," according to current President William E. Trueheart.

6% Tuition Increase Lowest in Six Years

Lisa Lucchesi
Archway Staff Writer

A 6% tax increase in tuition, and room and board rates for the 1992-1993 academic year, proposed by the Board of Trustees, was released Tuesday night.

Dr. Walter Roettiger, executive vice president/Provost, presented to the Student Presidents Advisory Council tuition figures similar to the one he presented to the Board of Trustees. He used overheads to show the reasoning of why tuition figures should be increased.

According to Roettiger, "From the college's perspective, the increases were necessary in order to move up the objectives that Bryant is trying to reach. He continues, "High quality will allow us to make the investments we're going to need, and at the same time make Bryant a good academic value."

The cost of tuition was increased from $10,092 to $11,653. The cost of living in dorms 1-13 will cost $3,246, an increase of 10% from the current price of $2,951. Freshman dorms 14 and 15 will cost $3,538, an increase of 1% from the current price of $3,503. Dorm 16 will cost $3,660 an increase of 10%.

What It Costs To Go To Bryant

Lisa Lucchesi
Archway Staff Writer

The Student Senate Executive council election results were announced at yesterday's Senate meeting.

Freshman Rob Fontane won the presidential contest over Mike Yaffe. Tara Gross won an unopposed race for Vice President. Fontane claimed to be "comforted that he was a freshman." But he said, "I don't think class nomination can affect my leadership abilities."

Jennie Lynn Race won the seat of treasurer over Doug Tucker. Janine Weisberg won the race for treasurer over freshman write-in candidate Mary Gates.

A total of 720 votes were cast. However, Senate president, Jamie Berger, would not release the results in accordance with last week's motion to prohibit the release of numbers and percentages.

The newly elected executive board officers will officially take office on March 23.

Alleged Mastermind

The newly won executive board members will work with President William E. Trueheart to form a task force to investigate the problem of illegal gambling on campus.

The task force will meet Monday night to discuss the problem and to determine the role each played in the operation.
The Student Senate and Senate Executive elections were held today and unfortunately I did not vote. I refrained from voting not because I couldn't find where to cast a ballot or because I didn't have the time. I didn't vote because I simply abstained from exercising my privilege. Usually I am the type of person who thrives on casting a vote, but this situation is different. I had a very real reason for not voting and it was realized at last week's Senate meeting. After adjoining this meeting it became very clear to me that is this democratic body that isn't participating in our democracy the way it was designed to. At this meeting I saw that the Senators are for the Senators and not for the students. I saw a body operating as individuals and not as a group striving for what is best for the students (or claim so). At this meeting, after a lengthy discussion, the Senate voted to pass a motion to prohibit the release of percentages related to election results. Although I disagree wholeheartedly with the Senate, that is the issue. The issue is that the Senators missed the boat. They completely ignored the arguments by the student's voice.

Dear Editor:

I find the results of last week's vote by the Student Senate regarding the election results to be shocking. Out of the 24 people on the student senate, 22 were present and the resulting vote to withhold election results was 15 Yea, 1 Nay, 6 Abstained. What is going on here? This is just another election. Why should this body be any different from other elections? Student Senate elections are on the 23rd and 24th, are those results going to be withheld too? We hear election results from presidential elections as well as when we vote for Governors, Senators, Congressmen, and even Mayors. If government election results are not withheld from the public why should those elections be? I find this to be a very confusing issue. My feelings on this issue are clear: Release the election results!!!! We have a right to know!

Gary Casagrande

Editor's Note: The senate resolution was to withhold the election results for both the Executive Council and Legislative elections.

Open Communication Will Demonstrate Pursuit of a Solution

Since the story about the college gambling ring broke last Thursday, there has been a lot of concern voiced over the administration's response. Around campus more than one voice has been heard saying, "Where's the administration?" To many it seems that the administration was slow to respond to the news. The media has asked, "How do you think this issue will affect the school's reputation?" Bryant students have wondered the same thing. Will the fact that a few Bryant students have been implicated in this societal no-no reflect poorly on other students and the institution? There are several points students have raised to explain their concerns. Some people feel the school's name is being dragged through the mud by the press. Will this affect the school's reputation in terms of new admissions or value of conferred degrees? Student concerns were accentuated when University of Rhode Island President Robert L. Carothers held a press conference just hours after the story broke on Thursday. However, Bryant did not appear to offer a solid response until Saturday. When announcing the formation of the task force on Saturday, it was also announced that Bryant's president was on his way back to campus from a semester in Aspen, Colorado.

To many, this explained Bryant's slow response. How could statements regarding Bryant's position be made without the presence of the college's leader? While concerns about the slow reaction are valid, it should be noted that the college has a responsibility to protect confidential information. Furthermore, college officials must take extreme care not to interfere with the criminal investigation of the crisis. However, the administration must maintain open communication with the external community to let them know the college isn't just hiding with its tail between its legs. Quicker response might better demonstrate the college's active pursuit of a solution.
Support for Task Force

As a senator, I believe it is necessary to unite as a community and address the issues that come before us. The recent investigations indicate that several members of our community have been involved with a tremendous amount of sports gambling. While, although gambling in Rhode Island is legal, we must understand that there are individuals who may have obtained this money through less than honorable means.

One senator identified several members of the Student Senate that were involved in this illegal activity. There are indications that some members of the Senate may be enmeshed in these activities.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.

As you may know, a Task Force on Illegal Gambling has been appointed and President Emeritus, Dr. William T. O'Hara will serve as chairman. The essential task for the Task Force is to determine the effectiveness of existing gambling educational programs and support systems, and to develop recommendations for enhancing the ability of our students to identify possible gambling problems and prevent them from the future.

In recent discussions, I have become more aware of student attitudes towards sports gambling. Our education programs are not reaching all students. Students may be suffering considerable financial loss and psychological pain.
Inquiring Photographer: “How do you feel about gambling at Bryant College?”

Archway Photos by Erika Baumgardner

“People at Bryant and URI are the only people caught up in gambling, and I don’t feel that where the ring-leader goes to school is important in the big picture. People are starting to look down at Bryant, gambling is a problem everywhere. No one can make a person bet; if they want to bet, they’ll find a way.”

Kimberly Manwaring

“You gotta know when to hold ’em, Know when to fold ’em.”

Jayna Fontaine & Joanne Morelli

“I don’t think it is that bad unless it gets out of control.”

Jim Desrocher
continued from page 1

The task force will not be "a disciplinary process" but is intended to measure the scope and effect of current gambling problems in the community. A report is expected by April 15.

Zimmerman's involvement The police said that Zimmerman's activities were reportedly started by college officials after a freshman was found with $7,500 gambling debt and informed the college of gambling activities when he withdrew the student from school.

According to the college, information about the gambling was forwarded to Smithfield police, who in turn contacted the state police.

Police have said Zimmerman was involved in gambling on both college and professional football and basketball games since at least the fall 1990 semester. Bookmakers working for Zimmerman were accepting wagers for illegal numbers games, according to police. Police added they are uncertain if Zimmerman profited or organized the numbers bets.

Zimmerman was allegedly removed from his off-campus housing during the fall semester for unknown reasons.

Zimmerman then rented an apartment at 400 North Main Street and a fake storefront at 888 Branch Avenue, both in Providence. According to police, the fake storefront, rented under a phonetic name, and Zimmerman's apartment turned up photos of John Goiti, the reputed bookmaker who allegedly spoke to members of the PC Friars about gambling earlier this week.

Detective Commander Gary M. Lofgren at the Providence police speaks to members of the PC Friars about gambling earlier this week.

Copies of the Sports Log were among the evidence seized in Zimmerman's apartment.

"Gambling... When Is It a Problem?"

By Bill Phillips
Director of Bryant College Counseling Services

"Gambling... Definitely the word of the week. TV cameras all over the place. Reporters stopping students for comments. Headlines. Some students in trouble. News to some, old news for others.

Let's change the focus for a few minutes. Back off from the media blitz, the allegations, and the big dollar behavior and look at it in smaller, more personal terms of people-friends, acquaintances, students who have been named, students who will never be named.

We have a bit of an age-old dilemma here. There are many problems in the "real world" that we recognize on an intellectual level. We can intelligently discuss the problems of alcohol abuse, suicide, date rape, or problem gambling. The more difficult task is to recognize these problems when they strike close to us, either in our own lives or the lives of these important to us.

The gambling incident brings this particular issue to our doorstep now. How do you view it? Can it be an addiction? Is it simply nothing more than a few individuals getting out of hand with what is essentially a safe, fun activity? Does the illegal nature of sports betting make a difference to you, so that you distinguish it from legal forms?

From the experience of counseling, I know that individuals with problems are often the last to recognize these problems. Defense mechanisms can be very effective in shielding a person from the truth. Usually it takes a caring friend to break through, to confront the behavior and say "Look, I think this is getting out of hand. You should get some help...I'll go with you if it helps."

The attention drawn to gambling on campus will at least have us pause a moment to think of those we know who gamble. Perhaps in a few cases individuals will reach out to other individuals who they think are in need. That would be nice.

Why Do Students Gamble?

by Patrick McGlinchey
state editor, The Independent

Why do college students gamble? Is it the culture, the fantasy, the money, or a combination of all these factors? According to Bill Phillips, director of Counseling Services here at Bryant, it is all of these combined.

Counseling services at Bryant are devoted to helping individuals with gambling problems. In a recent article in the Providence Journal-Bulletin, Phillips stated, "For a lot of kids, gambling is a fantasy. They feel they have the opportunity to make the big score."

In a personal interview, he added, "Our culture plays a large role in the current college gambling dilemma. This generation has been exposed to the lottery from a very young age; they have become gambling kids. Gambling has become fun, and why shouldn't it be? Millions of people gamble everyday, playing scratch tickets and state lotteries which are perfectly legal. Students are being sent a mixed signal; it's okay to gamble with the state, but don't gamble at your school.

After interviewing an admitted gambler here on campus, who choose to remain anonymous, we found that Phillips words seem to be right on target. We first asked the thought of gambling was wrong. He stated, "It's not that bad when you think about it. People gamble in Atlantic City and play the lottery everyday; it's almost the same thing."

Later we asked him why he got involved, he said, "It seemed like an easy way to make money. Once I got wrapped up in it, it was like a high. I felt like I could win big everyday."

This thought seems to be common among many gamblers. However, ever, the result in most cases is bigger losses. Recent news reports allege that over the past six months hundreds of thousands of dollars changed hands in illegal gambling rings. It's no coincidence that the gambling extended to colleges. Where they gambled was centered at Bryant and URI, in the Smithfield area of North Carolina, Alabama, and California. The cut-off gambling operations were handled through the use of Federal Express.

The gambling operation was exposed after state police obtained information about an alleged bookmaker being shaken down by a "terrorist organization." After being threatened by the organized crime figure, the alleged bookmaker identified as Andrews, a former student arrested on charges of organizing a gambling ring, was arrested.

The fake storefront at 888 Branch Avenue where the alleged gambling ring was headquartered.

"Gambling... When Is It a Problem?"

By Bill Phillips
Director of Bryant College Counseling Services

"Gambling... Definitely the word of the week. TV cameras all over the place. Reporters stopping students for comments. Headlines. Some students in trouble. News to some, old news for others.

Let's change the focus for a few minutes. Back off from the media blitz, the allegations, and the big dollar behavior and look at it in smaller, more personal terms of people-friends, acquaintances, students who have been named, students who will never be named.

We have a bit of an age-old dilemma here. There are many problems in the "real world" that we recognize on an intellectual level. We can intelligently discuss the problems of alcohol abuse, suicide, date rape, or problem gambling. The more difficult task is to recognize these problems when they strike close to us, either in our own lives or the lives of these important to us.

The gambling incident brings this particular issue to our doorstep now. How do you view it? Can it be an addiction? Is it simply nothing more than a few individuals getting out of hand with what is essentially a safe, fun activity? Does the illegal nature of sports betting make a difference to you, so that you distinguish it from legal forms?

From the experience of counseling, I know that individuals with problems are often the last to recognize these problems. Defense mechanisms can be very effective in shielding a person from the truth. Usually it takes a caring friend to break through, to confront the behavior and say "Look, I think this is getting out of hand. You should get some help...I'll go with you if it helps."

The attention drawn to gambling on campus will at least have us pause a moment to think of those we know who gamble. Perhaps in a few cases individuals will reach out to other individuals who they think are in need. That would be nice.

Why Do Students Gamble?

by Patrick McGlinchey
state editor, The Independent

Why do college students gamble? Is it the culture, the fantasy, the money, or a combination of all these factors? According to Bill Phillips, director of Counseling Services here at Bryant, it is all of these combined.

Counseling services at Bryant are devoted to helping individuals with gambling problems. In a recent article in the Providence Journal-Bulletin, Phillips stated, "For a lot of kids, gambling is a fantasy. They feel they have the opportunity to make the big score."

In a personal interview, he added, "Our culture plays a large role in the current college gambling dilemma. This generation has been exposed to the lottery from a very young age; they have become gambling kids. Gambling has become fun, and why shouldn't it be? Millions of people gamble everyday, playing scratch tickets and state lotteries which are perfectly legal. Students are being sent a mixed signal; it's okay to gamble with the state, but don't gamble at your school.

After interviewing an admitted gambler here on campus, who choose to remain anonymous, we found that Phillips words seem to be right on target. We first asked the thought of gambling was wrong. He stated, "It's not that bad when you think about it. People gamble in Atlantic City and play the lottery everyday; it's almost the same thing."

Later we asked him why he got involved, he said, "It seemed like an easy way to make money. Once I got wrapped up in it, it was like a high. I felt like I could win big everyday."

This thought seems to be common among many gamblers. However, ever, the result in most cases is bigger losses. Recent news reports allege that over the past six months hundreds of thousands of dollars changed hands in illegal gambling rings. It's no coincidence that the gambling extended to colleges. Where they gambled was centered at Bryant and URI, in the Smithfield area of North Carolina, Alabama, and California. The cut-off gambling operations were handled through the use of Federal Express.

The gambling operation was exposed after state police obtained information about an alleged bookmaker being shaken down by a "terrorist organization." After being threatened by the organized crime figure, the alleged bookmaker identified as Andrews, a former student arrested on charges of organizing a gambling ring, was arrested.

The fake storefront at 888 Branch Avenue where the alleged gambling ring was headquartered.

"Gambling... When Is It a Problem?"

By Bill Phillips
Director of Bryant College Counseling Services

"Gambling... Definitely the word of the week. TV cameras all over the place. Reporters stopping students for comments. Headlines. Some students in trouble. News to some, old news for others.

Let's change the focus for a few minutes. Back off from the media blitz, the allegations, and the big dollar behavior and look at it in smaller, more personal terms of people-friends, acquaintances, students who have been named, students who will never be named.

We have a bit of an age-old dilemma here. There are many problems in the "real world" that we recognize on an intellectual level. We can intelligently discuss the problems of alcohol abuse, suicide, date rape, or problem gambling. The more difficult task is to recognize these problems when they strike close to us, either in our own lives or the lives of these important to us.

The gambling incident brings this particular issue to our doorstep now. How do you view it? Can it be an addiction? Is it simply nothing more than a few individuals getting out of hand with what is essentially a safe, fun activity? Does the illegal nature of sports betting make a difference to you, so that you distinguish it from legal forms?

From the experience of counseling, I know that individuals with problems are often the last to recognize these problems. Defense mechanisms can be very effective in shielding a person from the truth. Usually it takes a caring friend to break through, to confront the behavior and say "Look, I think this is getting out of hand. You should get some help...I'll go with you if it helps."

The attention drawn to gambling on campus will at least have us pause a moment to think of those we know who gamble. Perhaps in a few cases individuals will reach out to other individuals who they think are in need. That would be nice.
last time inflation increased more than charge costs was during the 1980-81 academic year. Inflation was approximately 13.6 percent that year, while college costs only increased by 10 percent.

The annual report by the College Board of Manhattan attributed many increases to so-called "designer-demand," such as personal telephones in dormitories and luxuries.

"What was approved Continuation of the liberal arts program, have cost the needed result for cost increases. Athletics is also a substantial revenue, having seen the addition of the Nautilus Center, the addition of Men's and Women's Rugby teams, and an increase in intramural participation in recent years. "

"The annual report by the New England Board of Higher Education, many of Bryant's competitors initially amounted to tuition increases in the current year ranging from 9.9 percent to 10.5 percent. However, after considering enhancements and other tuition figures, many of the institutions revised their costs, dropping them significantly. For example, Colgate lowered the way by revising their initial 9.9 percent increase to a more modest 5.4 percent increase.

In contrast, Bryant's public competition have seen significant cost increases due to budget problems at the state level. All of these institutions have had double-digit increases in room costs for both in-state and out-of-state students.

"A combination of careful financial planning, such as the merger of one percent increases in room costs for incoming freshmen, and added attention in marketing and publicity for the college will be necessary to increase admissions opportunities and, hopefully, increase enrollment sufficiently. A secondary role ought to be improving the athletics teams that represent Bryant in competition in the NCAA."

Editor's Note: This article presents the facts of public Community. Being business students, business faculty, and business administration, needs to have some insight into the reasoning behind certain decisions. To our hope we hope these analyses and interpret these facts and come to their own conclusions.

---

Tuition Increases: Bryant Catches Up With Competition continued from page 1

What Bryant Has Done

In the past six years, we have had tuition increases, but the percent of the increases has gone down. After posting with an 8.8 percent increase in 1987, tuition increases have slowly declined a few percentage points each year, and last year's 11.1 percent increase the last tuition increase under 10 percent was in 1986, with a 9.8 percent increase.

Room and board charges have maintained a constant increase over the years. Since 1987, the average room and board increases have ranged between last year's 7.3 percent and a 9.4 percent increase in 1989.

However, these increases have outpaced the increase in inflation, by as much as 5.2 percent in some years.

Reasons for Cost Increases

The cost increases at Bryant have been attributed directly to so-called "designer-demands" and quality enhancements of the college.

The administration has long cited many enhancements of the college over the last six years to justify rate increases.

The administration cited the technological transformation of the Knott Center into a computer center with over 150 personal computers and 40 computer terminals.

The addition of 60 personal computers and 60 terminals to classrooms was also mentioned as a technological enhancement.

The addition of dorm 15 (1985), Dorm 16 (1989), and the new townhouses (1990) are also benefits recently added to the college.

"What was approved Continuation of the liberal arts program, have cost the needed result for cost increases. Athletics is also a substantial revenue, having seen the addition of the Nautilus Center, the addition of Men's and Women's Rugby teams, and an increase in intramural participation in recent years. "

"The annual report by the New England Board of Higher Education, many of Bryant's competitors initially amounted to tuition increases in the current year ranging from 9.9 percent to 10.5 percent. However, after considering enhancements and other tuition figures, many of the institutions revised their costs, dropping them significantly. For example, Colgate lowered the way by revising their initial 9.9 percent increase to a more modest 5.4 percent increase.

In contrast, Bryant's public competition have seen significant cost increases due to budget problems at the state level. All of these institutions have had double-digit increases in room costs for both in-state and out-of-state students.

"A combination of careful financial planning, such as the merger of one percent increases in room costs for incoming freshmen, and added attention in marketing and publicity for the college will be necessary to increase admissions opportunities and, hopefully, increase enrollment sufficiently. A secondary role ought to be improving the athletics teams that represent Bryant in competition in the NCAA."

Editor's Note: This article presents the facts of public Community. Being business students, business faculty, and business administration, needs to have some insight into the reasoning behind certain decisions. To our hope we hope these analyses and interpret these facts and come to their own conclusions.

---

Tuition Increases: Preliminary vs. Actual

```
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Percentage Change in Tuition and Fees</th>
<th>0</th>
<th>5</th>
<th>10</th>
<th>15</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Preliminary Increases Considered in Spring 1991</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Actual Costs of Tuition and Fees, Fall 1991</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
```

Source: The New England Board of Higher Education

---

Tuition Increases: Preliminary vs. Actual

For the 1991-92 Academic Year

```
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Percentage Change in Tuition and Fees</th>
<th>0</th>
<th>5</th>
<th>10</th>
<th>15</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Preliminary Increases Considered in Spring 1991</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Actual Costs of Tuition and Fees, Fall 1991</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
```

Source: The New England Board of Higher Education
O'Brien Guilty in Hatch Death
Pleads No Contest to All Charges

Michael J. Boyd
Archway Staff Writer

Former Smithfield resident Edward O'Brien pleaded no contest Monday in connection with the April 1990 death of Bryant student Kristen Hatch.

O'Brien changed his plea in Superior Court Monday in connection with a death sentence for driving while intoxicated, driving while under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of an accident, and death resulting. The charges can bring a sentence of up to 25 years.

"No matter what happens to Mr. O'Brien," stated Joan Hatch, Kristen's sister, of the potential sentence, "it's not going to bring my daughter back."

Kristen Sparranza, David and Joanne, were also present in the gallery plea.

Her father, David, reportedly held Kristen's Delaware Valley prosperity, taken just 15 to 25 years ago, to her death, throughout the proceedings.

On April 16, 1990, Kristen Hatch, a 20-year-old junior, marketing major from Mansfield, Massachusetts, was jogging south along George Washington Highway, commonly known as Route 116, at approximately 9:15 p.m. She was struck and killed by a car allegedly driven by O'Brien.

O'Brien had reportedly been drinking at Parente's Family Restaurante earlier that evening. In October 1991, a $13,000 verdict was awarded to the Hatch family by a civil suit against the restaurant for its contribution to the accident. O'Brien was also found guilty in the civil suit and ordered to pay $100,000 in damages.

The suit maintained O'Brien, former owner of Parente's and well known by its employees, was "visibly intoxicated" when he entered Parente's after allegedly drinking at another nearby restaurant.

The suit asserted the employees served alcohol to O'Brien despite his intoxicated condition and with "conscious disregard" for others, including Kristen Hatch.

O'Brien drove home from the accident and called the 911 emergency number. The officer who had been hit. Police traced O'Brien through his phone call to 911.

After inspecting damage to his car, including a broken windshield and front-end damage, police took O'Brien into custody around 10 a.m.

In custody, two measurements by the Smithfield Police Department indicated a blood-alcohol level of 0.22 and 0.23, twice the Rhode Island legal limit of 0.10 for driving-while-intoxicated.

Police formal Hatch's body at 10:15 p.m. off of Route 116. The only form of identification on the body was a set of keys. The numbers on the keys were used to initially identify Hatch as a Bryant student.

On June 22, 1990, O'Brien was indicted for felony charges of driving-while-intoxicated, driving to endanger, death resulting; and leaving the scene of an accident, death resulting. He pleaded innocent and was released on a personal recognizance.

On August 10, 1990 O'Brien was stopped by Smithfield Police for suspicion of DWI later he was spotted weaving across the center line on Cedar Swamp Road.

He refused to take a chemical test to determine whether he had been driving while under the influence of alcohol.

O'Brien was cited at the time for refusing a chemical test, a lane violation, and for not carrying his driver's license. He was released on a personal recognizance and ordered to surrender his driver's license, undergo a psychos Anonymous meetings, and seek treatment at a local mental health center.

His trial related to the charges in Kristen Hatch's death was delayed seven times, from October 1990 through November 1991.

O'Brien has one prior conviction for drunk driving. He was arrested in May 1982 by North Smithfield Police, fined $200, and ordered to attend drunk-driving school.

Sentencing for O'Brien is scheduled for April 27.

Gamboling, continued from page 5

After his release Wednesday, Zimmerman arrived on campus Friday. After his expiration on Friday, he was observed in the Bryant Center on Saturday afternoon. At that time, he was given a letter of stepup was reportedly issued against him and he was es- corted from campus.

Zimmerman, originally of Manhattan, MA, had been in- volved in the Student Reserve Officer's Training Corp at Providence College. According to Captain Craig Bonden, enrollment and public information official, Zimmerman was a "very upset with the way URI campus police handled the situ- tion. I spent the night in their jail and was not given a blanket," added Queen.

As of July 1991, a new law made it a felony to reproduce a driver's license or to use, sell or cause to be sold a commercial driver's license or falsification.

Punishment under the new law includes imprisonment of one year or a $500 fine. A person may also he fired $500 and up to $1,000 and his or her license may be sus- pended for one year and up to five years.

Queen, arranged on Wednesday, has his conference scheduled for March 18.

Queen said he had no idea of the severity of the situation and he would seek a new law for the URI campus police to handle the situation.

In your Opinion:

In an unscientific poll conducted during dinner hours Tuesday evening, The Archway posed the question to the student body, "Should the Senate release the election results?"

A total of 1,442 students participated in the poll, with 3,736 votes cast.

On campus, 63 percent voted yes.

Individual vote totals are also re- leased.

When asked if the UConn Daily Campus has access to student govern- ment election tabulations, Ed- dith Goldberg responded, "Absolutely! We're on our student govern- ment like you wouldn't believe." And at the University of Rhode Island, The Good 5¢ Cigar prints everything regarding the election results. The student government even provides them with an amended list for write-in votes.

According to Honsher Tierney, the paper's editor, "We've never had trouble getting the re- sults."

Gambling, continued from page 5

After his release Wednesday, Zimmerman arrived on campus Friday. After his expiration on Friday, he was observed in the Bryant Center on Saturday afternoon. At that time, he was given a letter of stepup was reportedly issued against him and he was es- corted from campus.

Zimmerman, originally of Manhattan, MA, had been in- volved in the Student Reserve Officer's Training Corp at Providence College. According to Captain Craig Bonden, enrollment and public information official, Zimmerman was a "very upset with the way URI campus police handled the situ- tion. I spent the night in their jail and was not given a blanket," added Queen.

As of July 1991, a new law made it a felony to reproduce a driver's license or to use, sell or cause to be sold a commercial driver's license or falsification.

Punishment under the new law includes imprisonment of one year or a $500 fine. A person may also he fired $500 and up to $1,000 and his or her license may be sus- pended for one year and up to five years.

Queen, arranged on Wednesday, has his conference scheduled for March 18.

Queen said he had no idea of the severity of the situation and he would seek a new law for the URI campus police to handle the situation.
Controversial Scholar

“Remembers James Baldwin”

Henry Louis Gates Jr.

Ted Cassell
and Lisa Lucchesi
Archway Staff Writers

“It was Baldwin’s cosmopolitanism that moved me to awe,” remarked Henry Louis Gates Jr. at his “Remembering Baldwin” address last Thursday in Jankies Auditorium.

Gates recalls his inspiration of reading James Baldwin’s works since he was a teenager and further adds, “It was his prose that shaped my identity as a black American.”

Baldwin was an American novelist, essayist, and playwright who became an important interpreter of black-white relations in the U.S. Throughout his career, he directed much of his attention and his writings to civil rights issues, and the black experience.

Baldwin became hurt and disillusioned by the prejudices he experienced in the United States, and moved to France to continue his writing.

Some of Baldwin’s most famous works include: Notes of a Native Son, Nobody Knows My Name, The Fire Next Time, and Another Country.

Aside from his personal studies of Baldwin, Gates has been recognized as the most notable scholar of African-American studies in the country. He was recruited by Harvard to rebuild its African-American studies program and to direct the W.E.B. DuBois Institute.

He has also written pop-culture essays for the New York Times and has even contributed to the production of black Broadway plays.

Gates, a controversial scholar, tours the country lecturing on African-American literature, multiculturalism, and black identity.

He has won a variety of prizes and awards for his writings, including the American Book Award in 1989 for “The Signifying Monkey,” a critical work about African-American oral tradition.

He also has edited a host of black literary works and has been awarded five honorary degrees. The MacArthur Foundation awarded Gates a five-year grant in 1981.

After receiving his BA in history from Yale in 1973, Gates went on to earn his MA and PhD degrees in English language and literature from the University of Cambridge in England. Gates has taught at such renowned universities as Duke, Cornell, and Yale.

Black History Month Program

Julia Arouchon
Archway Staff Writer

This year’s celebration of Black History Month was successful due to the excellent participation from various organizations within the Bryant community.

The opening ceremony, Mikata, and the semi-formal dance, were attended by approximately 200 people. The Gospel Jubilee drew 350 people.

The semi-formal was definitely the highlight of the month. The dance was successful and promoted the theme, “For The Sake of Unity.”

Good turnouts were apparent at every event.
History

Proves Successful

sponsored during the month. Program coordinator, Ernest Cox, said he was very pleased with the month's events and hopes next year will be equally successful.

“I would like to thank the Greek Community, especially Kappa Delta Rho and Alpha Phi who ushered at some of the events, and the sponsor's for their participation and help,” Cox stated. “Hopefully,” Cox continued, “some of the events helped aid in the understanding of the African American culture.”

The help of Bryant organizations made Black History Month a success.

Black History Month Celebration...A Big Success

by Earnest Cox

Bryant College's Black History Month Celebration 1992 was a big success. Throughout the month, the total number in attendance topped 1500.

Thanks to those who attended the activities. A special thanks to the social clubs, fraternities and sororities who sent representatives to activities; especially Delta Chi and Kappa Delta Rho had the greatest number in attendance at the Bryant Forum.

As a result of the Black History Month Celebration, many in the Bryant community indicated their interest in the various activities and a desire to see more multi-cultural programming on campus.

As chair of the Black History Month Celebration, I would like to thank the members of the committee who worked hard to make this celebration possible.

The members of the committee are: Charito Abando, Patricia Kelley, Linda Laurent, Neil Livingston, Angela Singleton, Edward Tudino, Warren Washington, and Cauira Xavier.

A special thanks to the many participants in our celebration; and I would also like to thank Suzan Douglas, Alpha Phi, Pi Kappa Phi, and The Multi-Cultural Student Union for serving as ushers at various functions throughout the month.

Most importantly, I would like to thank the many sponsors who provided funds that made this celebration a reality.

It is my hope that Bryant College's Black History Month Celebration 1992 will serve as a catalyst that will open the dialogue for communications on issues of multi-culturalism.

Black History Seminar Enlightens Bryant Community

by Peter Mancuso

Dr. Henry Lewis Gates Jr., a well known writer, African-American scholar, and Yale University graduate, visited Bryant last Thursday.

As Black History Month came to a close for 1992, the students of Bryant had the opportunity to become a bit more enlightened about relevant African-American history through the speech of Gates.

Dr. Gates took the time to inform us of an important writer, James Baldwin, a man which might easily be passed over within the Bryant curriculum.

After a brief introduction from B.J. Clanton, Ernest Cox, and President Lewis Gates Jr. began his praise of James Baldwin.

Dr. Gates started off by recollecting the first time he had the privilege to meet James Baldwin.

The year was 1973. Dr. Gates was sporting a "two foot afro" when he met James in France.

Dr. Gates claimed to have been a huge admirer of the American author and considered it an honor to become acquainted with such man.

As a foreign correspondent for Time, Dr. Gates was able to inquire about James' life and career.

James Baldwin's literary career took off in the 1950's. He was responsible for numerous pieces which gave him well deserved recognition and by 1963, Nobel Prize contender. Baldwin is a fine example of a young African-American and an inspiration to many, including Dr. Henry Lewis Gates Jr.

It seems as if James Baldwin was comparable to another great American author, Jack Kerouac.

Both authors seem to have a true love of life and every aspect which it entails.

Neither ever saw such an obstacle as a racial barriers in their lives.

This was an attribute which made James Baldwin so admirable.

Dr. Gates' fondness was clearly evident during his interesting anecdotes about James Baldwin.

His lecture was not only witty and entertaining, but...
The training is very challenging. The students who attend Camp Challenge pack more into a week than most students would in an entire summer. The training is geared to be educational and is not anything like "too camp." When training the student learns how to use M-16 and M-60, how to rappel, and how to accomplish basic military missions. The most important thing you can learn at camp is how to work well with others.

Towards the end of camp you're given the chance to put all your skills to work through a major military operation known as Bold Challenge. You conduct squad size missions using all you've learned at camp. The training is tough but well worth it.

All transportation to and from Fort Knox is provided. While at camp, there is a daily pay equivalent to an Army Sergeant. Any Sophomores interested in Camp Challenge should contact CPT Parker at 202-426-2266.

We gamble with many things. But the stakes are altogether incomparable with the imagined rewards when we gamble with our future. The problem is that people seem to be willing to do almost anything for a price, if the price is high enough.

The radio talk-shows were full of political rhetoric on Friday morning. A nationally syndicated host reminisced that nearly half (48%) of this year's military sample said that they would be willing to commit murder for a million dollars.

The commentator added many people would not cheat on little things, such as a car, in order to get a million dollars. He then paraphrased what he took to be the dilemma: "If you're going to do it, why not for a million?"

A local talk-host asked how government officials would be perceived in their time, so much so that we find it even approaching upon our college campuses, with so many of the attributes of heavy-duty organized crime. She and her callers were deeply troubled by the recent turn of events.

The fact is, that first, people are struck by the appearance of hypocrisy in connection with gambling in our society.

On the other hand, the state itself is involved in legal gambling (as a way of procuring funds from which have become absolutely necessary for the administration of state and local governments and many agencies.)

Second, through the media (especially television), we're allowed ourselves to be exposed to characters, schemes, and scenarios that, under ordinary circumstances, we wouldn't ever have imagined.

The idea of sitting in on a million dollars is so absurd that it is as nearly as impossible to get us to believe that it's real as to believe in the idea of our getting a million dollars.

The idea of winning is so remote that if we were to play the lottery for a million dollars we'd be as likely to win as we are to get one.

Even many people who don't play the lottery believe that it is possible to win. Yet, if we agree to play for a million dollars, we are implicitly saying that we believe in the possibility of getting a million dollars.
MENU OF THE WEEK

FRIDAY
- Breakfast: Hot Cereal, Hard Cooked Eggs, Eggs To Order, Toast, Cheese Omelet, Hash Browns, Pineapple Fritters, Donuts, Bagels
- Lunch: Chili, Beef Noodle Soup, BBQ Beef Sandwich, Chicken Teriyaki, Vegetable Quiche, Scandinavian Vegetables, Bratwurst, Pastrami, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Banana Cream Squares, Tossed Salad
- Dinner: Beef Stroganoff, Veal Parmesan, Fish Sticks, Deli/Grill, Sliced Carrots, Buttered Noodles, Corn, Sliced Carrots, NY Fudge Cake

SATURDAY
- Brunch: Hot Cereal, Ham & Cheese Omelet, Eggs To Order, French Toast, Sausage Links, Patty Melt, Submarine, Chicken Patty, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Potato Puffs, Italian Vegetables, Hash Browns, Beef Barley Soup, Granola Pudding, Chili, Fresh Fruit, Donuts & Bagels
- Dinner: Vegetable Egg Roll, Pork Chop, Chicken Hawaiian, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Rice Fried, Grilled Carrots, Mixed Vegetables, Grilled Chicken, Sliced Peaches, Fresh Fruit, Donuts & Bagels

SUNDAY
- Breakfast: Hot Cereal, Ham & Cheese Omelet, Eggs To Order, Pancakes, Home Fries, Donuts & Bagels, Fresh Fruit, Blueberry Pancakes, Patty Melt, Mushroom Omelet, Ham & Cheese Sub, Deli/Grill, Sliced Bar, Peanut Butter Cake, Vegetable Medley, Sliced Peaches, Vanilla Cream Squares
- Lunch: Chili, Chicken Noodle Soup, Shepherds Pie, Vegetable Fried Rice, Grilled Ham & Cheese, Cauliflower, Gingered Vegetables, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Bisquick, Donuts & Bagels, Fresh Fruit
- Dinner: Beef Burgundy, Chicken O'Brien, Turkey, Str Fry, Squash Medley, Green Bean Casserole, Steamed Rice, Cheese Cake, Fresh Fruit, Dinner Rolls

MONDAY
- Breakfast: Cinnamon Rolls, Donuts & Bagels, Pancakes, Country Style Eggs, Ham & Cheese, Eggs To Order, Hash Browns, Fresh Fruit, Blueberry Muffins
- Lunch: Chili, Cream of Broccoli, Chicken Vegetable, Baked Chicken Wings, Hot Italian Sausage, Italian Primavera, Seafood, Green Beans, Chinese Vegetable, Chinese Noodles, Grilled Chicken, Fresh Fruit, Blueberry Muffins
- Dinner: Potato Puffs, Lasagna, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Baked Potato, Carrot Cake, Fresh Fruit

TUESDAY
- Breakfast: Ham & Cheese Omelet, Eggs To Order, Bacon, Italian Primavera, Roast Potato, Italian Vegetable, Grilled Chicken, Roast Turkey, Beef & Peppers, Fresh Fruit, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Baked Potato, Fresh Fruit
- Lunch: Chili, Chicken Vegetable, Baked Chicken Wings, Fresh Fruit, Fresh Fruit, Italian Primavera, French Fries, Bagel, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Broccoli, Fresh Fruit, Fresh Fruit
- Dinner: Seafood Platter, Pasta Bar, Roast Turkey, Bread Dressing, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Baked Potato, Broccoli, Fresh Fruit, Fresh Fruit

WEDNESDAY
- Breakfast: Ham & Cheese Omelet, Eggs To Order, Bacon, Italian Primavera, Roast Potato, Italian Vegetable, Grilled Chicken, Roast Turkey, Beef & Peppers, Fresh Fruit, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Baked Potato, Fresh Fruit
- Lunch: Chili, Chicken Vegetable, Baked Chicken Wings, Fresh Fruit, Fresh Fruit, Italian Primavera, French Fries, Bagel, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Broccoli, Fresh Fruit, Fresh Fruit
- Dinner: Baked Fish Italian, Roast Beef, Grilled Rabian, Deli/Grill, Baked Potato, Fresh Fruit, Fresh Fruit

THURSDAY
- Breakfast: Ham & Cheese Omelet, Eggs To Order, Bacon, Italian Primavera, Roast Potato, Italian Vegetable, Grilled Chicken, Roast Turkey, Beef & Peppers, Fresh Fruit, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Baked Potato, Fresh Fruit
- Lunch: Chili, Chicken Vegetable, Baked Chicken Wings, Fresh Fruit, Fresh Fruit, Italian Primavera, French Fries, Bagel, Deli/Grill, Salad Bar, Broccoli, Fresh Fruit, Fresh Fruit
- Dinner: Baked Fish Italian, Roast Beef, Grilled Rabian, Deli/Grill, Baked Potato, Fresh Fruit, Fresh Fruit
Notice to all continuing students:
Degree audits and pre-registration packets will be available for pick-up as follows:

New Seniors:
March 16 Monday - Thursday 2:00 pm - 3:30 pm and 5:00 pm - 6:30 pm
March 23 same
March 30 same

Students are asked to bring their student ID to the Registrar's Office.
Duplicate audits and packets will not be available.

Attention All Freshmen
Group sessions for pre-registration for the fall 1992 semester will be held on the following days, in the designated room, at the specified times:

Week of March 23 - March 27 Main Lobby - Dorm 16
Monday 11:00 am and 2:00 pm
Tuesday 11:00 am and 2:00 pm
Wednesday 11:00 am and 2:00 pm
Thursday 11:00 am and 2:00 pm
Friday 11:00 am

Main Lobby - Dorm 14
Tuesday 4:00 pm
Thursday 4:00 pm

The Hodgson Memorial Library will be opened the following hours from March 6 through March 15:
Friday, March 6 8:00 am - 4:30 pm
Saturday, March 7 10:00 am - 6:00 pm
Sunday, March 8 Closed
Monday, March 9 through Thursday, March 12 8:30 am - 9:00 pm
Friday, March 13 8:30 am - 4:30 pm
Saturday, March 14 Closed
Sunday, March 15 12:00 noon - 12:00 midnight

Join Community Service

Early Saturday morning, the sisters and pledges of Phi Sigma Sigma offered our services by painting rooms in The Advent House at 191 Linwood Avenue in Providence, where we were greeted by Sue and Lenny, members of the staff, who offered us coffee and refreshments.
The Advent House is the first emergency shelter in Rhode Island and its purpose is to provide shelter and meals to the homeless.
Non-profit, voluntary organizations such as these don't receive the money they need to do things such as keeping the house looking its best. Therefore our help was greatly appreciated (even though many of us were complete amateurs).
Needless to say, we got the job done around 1:00 and most of us left with more pain on us than the nine rooms done.
The Advent house opened in December of 1980. When it first started, its purpose was short term emergency shelter and meals for up to ten persons a night.
A few years of experience they realized that many of the guests found solutions to their homelessness, but they proved to be temporary and therefore a more extensive program was needed.
In may of 1984, Advent House, Inc. opened its second shelter, Emmanuel House, as a long term facility.
Emmanuel House is also in Providence, located at 169-171 Ontario Street.
If anyone is interested in offering services, donating, or just finding out information about the Advent House, just write to the following address:

Advent House, Inc.
P.O. Box 3099
Providence, R.I. 02907

Now Hear This!!!
Recycle this paper!!!

CLASSIFIEDS

STUDY ABROAD IN AUSTRALIA. Information on semester, year, graduate, summer and internship programs in Perth, Townsville, Sydney, and Melbourne. Programs start at 55250. Call 1-800-878-3996.

EARN EXTRA MONEY in spare time and also help in the continuing effort to promote campus safety. We'll show you how to

Residence Life

The housing sign-up process for the 1992-93 year will begin March 16.
Basic information is outlined below: complete information packets with schedules of dates and times will be distributed the week of March 23.
- March 16 through April 10: occupancy and Board Contracts available at Bursar's office and Office of Residence Life (hall 6; first floor).
- Monday, March 16 thru, March 19: $100 deposit due for students requesting a townhouse.
- Monday, March 23 thru Thursday, March 25: $100 deposit due for students to be housed in village halls and hall 16.
- Bills for the deposit will be sent to students.
- A lottery will be used for groups whose total SCN's are equal.
- Townhouse sign-up lottery will be for students whose SCN (student classification number) is 5 or 6. If you are unsure about your classification number, see the registrar's office now.
- Students with an SCN of 7 will be counted as a 6.
- Squatters Rights will be granted to students who currently live in a village hall or hall 16 and return to their suite in September if they fill all vacancies.
- Some students may not be able to return to their suite (squat); they will be contacted directly. There are no "squirrels' rights" for current townhouse residents.
- Failure to pay the deposit on time or return checks may result in student being assigned after the entire process is complete.
- A bulletin board has been set aside in the office of Residence Life (Hall 5; first floor) for residents to post notices regarding sign-up.
- Groups of students looking for others to sign up with may check the board or post notices between 8:30 am and 4:00 pm Monday thru Friday.
- If you know now that you won't be returning to campus housing in the Fall, please stop by the Office of Residence Life to complete a withdrawal form. The form will facilitate release of your damage account.

Career Workshops
March 17 How to conduct a long distance job search 2:00 pm Room 278

Presentations
March 16 4:00 pm Melaleuca Room 242 MGT, MKT, BCM
March 17 6:00 pm Toys 'R Us Room 278 ALL
March 19 5:00 pm Caesars Atlantic City Hotel/Casino Room 360 ALL
March 19 4:00 pm Collette Tours Room 278 ALL

Join The Archway...Now!!
Alpha Phi
by Ann Picone
Another great weekend has come and gone! It all began Friday with an excellent gathering on the floor! A great night was had by all the sisters...what more can I say?
Saturday with TKE was a great time... thanks guys for the memorable gathering! Thanks to H-1 for the festivities.
Congratulations to all those Freshmen that ended this past weekend!
To our pledges-you are all doing great, hang in there sisterhood is coming! To everyone there was a great Spring Break! To all of our sisters going away have fun and bring us back some sand and sun!
In awards Last week S.O.T.W. 2-much, Space-Gem and Six-Stylus and Wisali!!! Sisters are the Keepers of the Heart!
Bryant Players
by Lorri Nowak
Buster!?...Anyone?...Anyone? Well, we have a piano person now (Thank You), but we still need a drummer. Contact Susan Scarinci or Allen Tougou or just show up at a rehearsal (Aud., 6 or 7 pm. Thurs.) That also applies for anyone!...anyone interested in doing background work.
Directors and the little birds I've been talking to have said that rehearsals are going great!!! Keep up the good work!!!
It's a Byrd. It's a 747, it's Bye-Bye Birdie coming soon in an Auditorium near you!!! Everyone in the play be prepared for a heavy rehearsal schedule after the break.
With that on your minds, a terrific spring break everyone!!!
Kappa Delta Rho
by Dean Faithene
Hello everyone, Footloose is on vacation and I am filling in. Well, pledging has finally come to an end and KDR has some great offsprings. Congratulations to the Theta pledge class: Muthumb, Nac, Worm, Benny, Joe Hogwarts, and Balsky. Good job guys.
We would like to thank Delta Zeta and all those that came up Sunday to Wednesday. We had a great time.
We hope everyone has a good time during Spring Break! I hope everyone has a good time. Maximum!!!!
Delta Chi
by Jim Darrough
Pledging came to a most triumphant end last Saturday as we initiated 12 new brothers. Congratulations to George, Greg, Mic, John, Marcel, Derek, Miah, Kevin, Josh, Mike, Rob, and Keith. You guys did a great job and we're all proud of you. Congrats also to the new brothers of Phi Kappa Sig, DKE, KDR and Phi Kappa Tau. Hang in there Phi Kap and sorority pledge!!
In sports, the D team was thankfully killed this week, which will give Barry time to heal his hand. The Martlets routed KDR last Thursday maintaining their undefeated record. In the meantime, we look forward to strong seasons in soccer and softball.
Tomorrow the brothers will be getting an early start to meet their flight arrangements. Safe journey to everyone and enjoy the break!
Phi Sigma Sigma
by Tracey Keller
First we would like to congratulate our 12 proud pledges on getting their pledge pins on Monday night.
Thanks to the brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon for helping us get the weekend off to a good start on Friday.
Saturday started way too early for us with community service at The Advent House, where the friendly director informed us that you cannot sell a recovering alcoholic not to smoke cigarettes.
Saturday night was extremely exciting to be able to congratulate our new brothers in KFT. You guys definitely deserve to be wearing those colors. Don't worry, your pledge sisters only have a little month to go. And congratulations to all the other new brothers out there!
Since most of us finished this weekend, we were able to wander all around. We started at KT, then off to Sigma's 5th floor, and then to Phi Kap and DKE to see their new brothers.
Anyway, everything this weekend was just too much for words. Have a great spring break! And Happy 22nd birthday to Dulcie on the 7th and Kenny who's 21 on the 10th.
Top of the week: It's meant to be, it's meant to be. Advice of the week: Get Formal Dues!!! Yet another Question: Why is fog better than heat and is it always this way?
Pi Kappa Phi
by Steve Sofusik
How about First off all like to congratulate our new brothers on colors well earned. Congrats Mosh-ball, Square, Spock, Murbies, Rambo, Hans, and Joke.
Last weekend our alumni were up in full force and they haven't changed a bit.
Oh yeah thanks to everyone that helped out the quarte-race, it was a big success.
Third place was Alpha Phi, second was Thesia, and first went to Kappa Phi. Congratulations to the Quarte-race of the week: "It's not locked but you do have to turn it stereo." Say yo and I wouldn't wanna ya!'
SHRM
by Shaire Peaden
Attention SHRM Members!! We did not have a meeting last week, but we hope everyone is planning to come to our next scheduled meeting on March 25. We will be at 7:00 in Room 12A of the Bryant Center. Any new members as well as old members are always welcome!! Hope to see you there!
Sigma Phi Epsilon
by Derek Fairley
The Brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon had an excellent week. Saturday a bunch of them (we'll raise havoc soon) attended the Quotes of the week: "It's not locked but you do have to turn it stereo." Say yo and I wouldn't wanna ya!"
Shrimp Spring break is only a few days away! Brothers are going all over, from Jamaica to England to wherever, have a blast.
All this news about gambling is everywhere. Bryant is a clean place, school and you can bet on that.
SPB
by Laura Kaplaus
Hi everyone, I'm really psyched up because it's almost Spring Break time!! For those of you going to Cancun with SPB, have a great time, and if you have any questions, call Sue Hayley at the SPB office, 232-6158.
Just a little reminder for when you come back, we will be showing a movie in the Auditorium on Sunday, March 15th at 7:30 and 9:15 pm. The show is only $1.00 so bring your friends and watch the movie.
After Spring Break the Spring Weekend planning committee will start its meetings to plan for the final event of the year. So, if you want to get involved with that plan for the final event of the year. So, if you want to get involved with that...
April 4th
- in -c -ommu -c -and
- Ta -u - E -pi -lo -n
- TEP, qu estio -n .. w h o o w ns that toothbrush
- The tooth is great for a start to the end
- Exce llent ti me was had by all. Hey
- Other outside and limbo got the best of them.
- As the weekend started off great during the frater ties that finished this week. As for the pledges of Phi Sig, Tri Sig and Alpha Phi, Spring Break is just around the corner. Too bad you have to come back...
- Well our formal is coming up real soon and there are a few of these I'm sure you will need dates.
- The weekend was filled with crazy stories that will long go down in the record books. This on Friday night when we were overseas. All things considered, Sunday was a well needed rest.
- The quote for the week comes from Scooby: "I got a community chest out of jail free card."

Tau Epsilon Phi
by David DeLarber
To start off the news, the brothers would like to thank the sisters of Theta for a great start to the weekend on Friday afternoon. Congratulations to all of the fraternities that finished this week. As for the pledges of Phi Sig, Tri
Sig and Alpha Phi, Spring Break is just around the corner. Too bad you have to come back...
- Whole our formal is coming up real soon and there are a few of these I'm sure you will need dates.
- The weekend was filled with crazy stories that will long go down in the record books. This one Friday night when we were overseas. All things considered, Sunday was a well needed rest.

Theta Phi Alpha
by Jennifer Reddy
Greetings and salutations! Well the weekend started off great at TEP, thanks guys! Just one question... who owns that toothbrush holder? But as the night continued, most sisters seemed to mellow out and limbo got the best of them.
- Others were on a mission to find the rest of the table and to give Piggy a warm welcome.
- A select few had a great Saturday at the bowling alley - Tina did so well she even took home a prize! Saturday night picked up a bit as new brothers started to appear. Most of us found our way to Sig Ep and an excellent time was had by all. Hey guys, who's your decorator?
- Well the weekend came to an end (sort of), who says the weekend ends on Sunday? We like to thank Delta Zeta and KDR for a great time Monday night. Excellent idea guys, lets do it again sometime. Those who did not attend had a great time at Phi Kappa Tau, as usual.
- Congratulations to all fraternities who finished pledging: Phi Kapp, Delta Chi, KDR, Phi Kappa Tau, and DKE. Good luck to all sorority pledges and Delta. Hang in there! Happy Birthday Tina! We here you enjoyed your last days in the exciting life of a 21 year old.
- On a more serious note, our hearts are with you Carrie. We are sorry for your loss.
- Finally, we hope everyone has an excellent break in Cancun, Montreal, Florida. Following the Dead, or wherever you may be going. Safe travelling! That's all for now folks, Lulu Theall!!!
- P.S. Jenna, don't think we forgot about the forest fire!

Super Sports '92
The Ultimate Challenge April 4th

- Sign up by March 20th in the Intramural Office
1. Team Basketball, (Foul Shooting)
2. Ultimate Frisbee
3. Tug-of-War
4. Track & Field Events
5. Volleyball
6. Closest to the hole, (Golf)

Teams of 6 (3 men, 3 women). No more than 2 Varsity Athletes on each team (1 man, 1 woman)

PRIZES:
1st Place: Champion Championship Sweatshirts
2nd Place: Jarsvis Fitness Center Free Memberships (1 semester)
3rd Place: Jarsvis Fitness Center T-Shirts
SPORTS

Wildcats Take Tourney Crown

The winning team in the Schick SuperHoops tournament. By Michele Rendeino

Senior Dennis McCollum for the fourth year will bring the Wildcats to Northeastern University for the Schick SuperHoops regional game. This year's team consists of senior Mike Konorowski and sophomore Dan Murphy, making their second appearance, and senior Dan Czinnans making his first appearance at Northeastern.

The first round of the Schick SuperHoops tournament was held February 27 in the Bryan gym. The tournament drew 13 teams, although no women's teams participated this year.

Seedings were determined through a lottery for single elimination play. Each game consisted of two eight-minute halves, running time.

The Cats faced their toughest rival, the Running Rebels, in their first round of play.

In an intensely physical, and highly competitive match, the Rebels were defeated 34-32. The games remaining were settled more decisively.

In round two, the Cats faced Young Guns, and claimed victory by 16 points. In the semi-final round of game, the Cats faced the fresh men team who played determined, even after one of their players suffered an injury. The Cats prevailed by 15, advancing to the final.

The final pitted the Wildcats against Rape. The home score was 20-12 and Rape threatened a comeback. The game concluded with a victory by 20 points.

All participants at Bryan received complimentary Schick razors, the Wildcats received Schick travel bags, and SuperHoops T-shirts.

The regional tournament is set for Saturday, March 14, at Northeastern. Even through this date falls during Bryant's spring break, the Wildcats will still go and represent Bryant.

Anyone interested in attending the games can get directions in the Intramural Office. There is no admission fee.

The finals between the top two teams at the regional level will be held at Bryant against God's, with a chance for the title, the Celtics-Nets game on this week.

Racquetball Team Raids PC's Friars

By Michael LaPlante

Bryan racquetball team members placed in seven divisions in Providence College's Friar Open tournament this past weekend at the new American Health & Fitness Club in West Warwick.

The men's captain, Jesse Altman, took fourth in the 7.5 A division with a loss to Kevin O'Callahan of New York.

Number two Jason Hunt was defeated in the Men's 1 B quarterfinal by former PC player Rob Messier and teamed with Chris Guncheon to make it to the semi's of the B C doubles.

Freshman number four player Derek Gondo faded second in Men's C, beating teammate Paul Martin in the quarters, and number seven Dan Anter took a tough loss in the Novice semi's to Neal McCurdy, a member of the R.I. Junior Team.

Men's number eight Brett Denson, coming off an injury win at Albany last weekend, lost two close matches that would have advanced him in the Men's D and Novice divisions.

The women's captain and number one player Robbi-Lee Bell, ranked sixth nationally last year in Girls 18+ under, took first place in Women's C defeating PC's Jodi Girard in the final and lost in the semifinals of Women's B.

Coach Denise Saviose, playing in her first singles tournament in over two years, made it to the final with Women's Open where women's pro player Janet Grimaldi stopped her in a close match.

Denise and her doubles partner, Lynn Forrester, also made it to the semi's and the Women's Open doubles draw.

There also is the sad story of number four player Paul Anton, again made it to the Men's D final, and again finished second. Paul has now finished second in D's four of the last five local tournaments.

The Racquetball team will play next at the Northeast Collegiate Regional Championships in Albany, NY in two weeks.

Women's Season Over

Angelo Corradino

With Bryant now eliminated from the Women's basketball season, the Seniors are left to reflect on the events that transpired in the season. The women's basketball season came to an end this week with the team splitting their last two games.

The team played Bentley in the opening round of the NEC-10 play-off, followed by Rhode Island. Bentley controlled the first half of this 42-22 loss into the locker room, which proved to be much for Bryant to overcome.

High scorers in the game were Jennifer Spencer with 17, Bridget Casey 16, and Holly Grimaldi 14. Spencer also had 16 rebounds during the game. Junior Kim Ross sprained her ankle and Casey split her chin, opening up the long list of injuries the Lady Indians have suffered during the season.

Last Thursday, Bryant traveled to Springfield for their final regular season game. The game was won when Bridges Casey threw up a 30 foot jump shot with four seconds left to win 71-70.

"There was four seconds left and I set up one last play," coach Mary Burke said. "Bridget gets one step over half court and lets one fly. I didn't think it was going to make it but it did. As soon as it hit the backboard, it was all net."

High scorers in the game were Grimaldi with 23, Casey 17, Heather Houle 15, and Spencer 10. Grimaldi also had five blocked shots and went 9-12 from the field.

"The season went extremely well considering all the injuries. It seemed every time we turned around someone else got hurt," Burke said. "We went into a season that we got great leadership from the seniors. When the going got tough they got going. They played really well."

Coach Burke is already looking toward next season. "We are losing four starters it will be a major rebuilding year."

"It was a little unfortunate that Kristin (Bern) and Anne (Derenger) got hurt. They will be coming in as freshmen again, but if they work hard over the summer they will be a big help.

The team is also doing some heavy fundraising. "Recreating is going well. I am looking to big numbers or five players next year," Burke concluded.

Athlete of the Week

Jennifer Spencer

This week's athlete of the week is Jennifer Spencer of the women's basketball team. In a play-off game against Bentley, Spencer was the high scorer and high rebounder of the game with 17 and 16 respectively. Coach Mary Burke, when asked about Spencer, said, "She was one of my team leaders and she did a great job filling in for Kelly (Jacob) when she got injured."
Women's Basketball Player Breaks 1,000 Point Barrier

By Patrick Dobrey

On February 4, 1992, Paul Santoro, a Bryant College Alumni, achieved the rank of Shodan, first degree black.

Paul Santoro entered Bryant College and the Karate Club in 1984. As a freshman, Mr. Santoro pledged to himself that one day, he would reach the rank of Shodan. Eight years later, he has achieved his goal.

Throughout his undergraduate career at Bryant, Paul attended karate on a daily basis.

However, after four years of undergraduate studies, he graduated from Bryant and left the Karate Club as a brown belt. Little did anyone know that he would return to the club for four more years of training.

According to Sifu Ron Renaud, the club's chief instructor, "We credit him with having juggled a job and personal life, and come back for four more years to complete his requirements for black belt." The Karate Club was started in 1977 by Sifu Renaud. He has seen thousands of students walk through the doors hoping to earn their black belt.

On closing note, the club would like to thank Sensi Mark Shoenberg, class of '89, for driving up from New York to be a part of the review board for Mr. Santoro's test.

Sensi Earns Black Belt

Greg Tucker, Paul Santoro, Ronald Renaud after Paul received his blackbelt.