New Mascot Elections This Week

Julia Arouchon
Archway Staff Writer

The Bryant Community will make a historic decision for the College next week when it chooses a new mascot for its athletic teams.

The mascot choices were narrowed down to eight: Badgers, Bengals, Breakers, Hurricanes, Bobcats, Bulldogs, Panthers, and Bobcats. Out of the 55 initial nominations from the community, the athletic staff, the captains council, the athletic advisory committee, cheerleaders, and interested faculty members submitted a list of top five mascots. The eight mascots which will be voted on came from those mascots receiving the most votes.

"The mascot will run the gamut of images, but most of them can be embodied into a physical image," said Assistant Athletic Director Connie Fichera.

Even if the new name given to Bryant’s athletic teams is chosen to be Breakers or Hurricanes, there are still plans to have a physical mascot to represent the teams.

"The mascot will interact with the community and the crowds at various events," said Fichera.

"The votes will be tabulated like any other election, with the mascot receiving the highest number of votes as the winner.

"We need everyone's input from all areas of the campus. It is a decision which the community will be living with for a long time.

It is important to pick a mascot which best exemplifies the spirit of Bryant College," added Fichera.

In March, the Athletic Advisory Committee decided to drop the current name of "Indians" for the athletic teams. There were many reasons why the committee wanted to change the mascot.

For instance, using the name "Indians" is considered degrading to Native Americans, several other teams in the area are changing their respected nicknames and the athletes for the most part don’t identify themselves as "Indians".

Given all these changes the committee concluded the time was right to change the mascot.

"I think it’s a great idea to change the mascot. It gives the athletes something to identify with and be proud of. It should also increase school spirit," said Kim Porezowski, volleyball team member.

According to Student Senate President Rob Fontanella, the mascot should help to unify the campus and give more meaning to students.

"All students should take this opportunity to vote and help make a lasting decision for Bryant," added Fontanella.

The voting will take place outside Soldiers on May 7 and 8 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The new mascot will be announced at the Athletic Banquet on May 3. A ballot is located on page 15 of this week’s Archway.

It’s Apple Season!

Have you been hearing strains of Glorious G and Mr. Jones in the suite village, in the middle of the afternoon? Someone playing Pearl Jam perhaps, or maybe The Counting Crows? Guess Again. What you are hearing is live music by Bryant’s very own Red Apple!

Red Apple has been to only six months and has already made a name for themselves on campus.

They have been playing at the Comfort almost once a week for the past couple of months and are gearing up for a performance during Spring Weekend.

Band members behind the name are juniors Jason Puccio and Randy Leete, sophomores Jeff Geida, and freshman Brian Apple.

Jason Puccio, better known as Pooch, is the drummer for Red Apple. Randy is the lead singer and rhythm guitarist. Jeff plays the electric guitar, while Brian is the band’s lone bass player.

Their majors range from Marketing to Communications to Accounting to Finance.

Red Apple began when Jeff and Randy, who met through friends last year, began to play together for fun. They played nearly every day after classes.

"We didn't know each other at the time, we heard them practicing and approached them about organizing a band," Jeff revealed that once they learned that Randy could sing, they kept rehearsing and eventually formed a band.

"Randy and then Brian, who did not know each other at the time, heard them practicing and approached them about organizing a band."

"I thought the name needed more and I decided on Red Apple. Brian would never tell his last name, and when he finally did, we laughed. Then we decided to call ourselves Apple anyway," Randy recalled. He added, "I thought the name needed more and I decided on Red Apple."

Caution: Wild Weekend Ahead

The controversy has died down and now Spring Weekend is upon us. Contrary to what some people may believe, SPB has worked hard to provide us with a “Wet N Wild” Weekend.

It’s time for us to kick back, relax and enjoy a last opportunity at some fun before we hit the books to study for finals.

But wait, there are all these rules we must follow? Why so many rules?

Not only are rules established to ensure everyone’s safety, but they are derived from Rhode Island State law. Remember rules are there to protect everyone, they are not meant to dampen anyone’s fun.

You have all seen the flyer sent out by SPB and should have already read the student handbook, so we don’t need to list all the policies referring to alcohol use. However, what the handbook does not say is how to avoid doing something stupid.

Stupid acts can be as simple as having one too many and having to use the toilet bowl all night or they can be as serious as driving drunk and killing someone.

When drinking is done to an excess, the outcome can be an undesirable act such as a fight, assault or vandalism. We have already seen our share of these incidents this semester.

We were not in any way told to write this by the administration. This is simply a friendly reminder from students to students.

So please have a “wild,” yet “tame” spring weekend.

Graduate’s Honor Must Be Bought

To the Editor:

I recently received a letter from the Office of Undergraduate Programs congratulating me on my accomplishments for graduating with honors and informing me that I can purchase an honor cord at the bookstore.

I was appalled at reading that. I have never heard of an academic institution requiring graduates to purchase honor cords for commencement. I was also appalled Bryant College would reward us for our hard work by giving us yet another item to buy before we graduate.

I feel that Bryant is trying to squeeze every penny it can out of us before we leave.

Although the cost of an honor cord is nominal, this has really irritated me. It may seem senseless to make a big deal out of the few dollars it will cost to purchase one, but really I feel that this is a slap in the face to every person who has worked hard for the past four years in order to graduate with honors.

Bryant is giving us the message that our achievements are incidental and don’t deserve proper recognition. Public high schools don’t charge students for honor cords. I have also talked to people graduating from several different colleges and universities and not one college I have attended had another instance of Bryant College not thinking about the students when it makes decisions.

To those of you not graduating this year who don’t think this effects you, I would like to remind you that in a few years you will be in the same position and you will understand how frustrating it is to be nickel and dimed to death by Bryant College, just so you can enjoy your last memories of your life here.

I don’t have a negative attitude towards Bryant. I have learned a lot in my four years here and I had a lot of fun.

I just feel that it is unfortunate my last memories are going to be clouded by the anger I feel because I have to pay for my honor cord for graduation.

One last thing, I would like to remind the administration that I am in a position to make donations to Bryant College, The way I feel right now, it will be a cold day in hell before Bryant gets any more of my money.

A Final Note To Spring Weekend

To the Editor:

Well folks it’s Spring Weekend again. This is the time of the year that we Bryant students can unwind and have a good time. By the time that you read this some of the festivities will already be underway. However, with many people having tests, papers and presentations due, the weekend starts on Friday. Even with some unfortunate circumstances, SPB has a full plate planned for Friday night and Saturday. Check it out! It’s going to be a good time. The whole point of the weekend is to have a good time, to hang out with your friends and relax. Having a good time includes being smart and responsible. When we do things outside of the norms of “having a good time” we lose the whole idea of Spring Weekend. Fights, vandalism, excessive drinking, DWI, theft, arson, eating out of the garbage, conflict and all the other things your mother would not like, has no place during Spring weekend. It takes away from the good time and relaxation that we have all been looking forward to. Be responsible, be smart, and most of all have a good time.

College Surveys

To the Bryant Community:

Periodically, College departments issue surveys to students or the College Community as a whole to determine their views on certain issues or matters. It is important to receive such surveys take the time to complete them so the Administration feels the results are valid indicators of the views of the group to whom the survey is sent.

Preparing, processing and analyzing the results require considerable effort. We value your thoughts and we continue to complete the surveys that are distributed.

There Has To Be a Better Way

Sometimes it seems as if teachers are involved in a conspiracy to make all tests and papers due at the same time. Is this a conspiracy or is it bad luck? You would think it was a law that every class must have a major assignment due the last two weeks of class. What teachers don’t realize is each student has four other classes to concentrate on.

When students have papers and tests all due at the same time they have to pick the most boring one which means more to them. For example students weigh whether it is more important to put a graphic in a paper or simply look for another reference. They question whether they should skip their 8 a.m. class and head for Koffler for the one hour computer may be free. They try to decide whether they should wait in line to use ProQuest or should use a reference book instead?

There are also negative effects on facility. They have to grade students paper at once and bind them back to students within a reasonable time. They are also overwhelmed with questions by the students at the end of class because office hours just don't seem to be enough anymore. It seems as if teachers are maxed out too.

Many might say that the added stress is the students' fault. They may procrastinate the argument goes. They do not plan well. This is not the case. Even the students who always keep up find themselves in a bind this time of year. Not to mention they have to compete for resources.

To resolve the problem of added stress during the last few weeks of school, Bryant could look to the Business world for an academic equivalent of flex time. Teachers could stagger research assignments throughout the year. They could assign several short research projects instead of one long one to be due during the last week of class.

The major benefactor of flextime would be the students grade.
By having enough time to prepare their paper students would have a better chance at a higher grade. More importantly they will learn more from their research because they would not be under as much stress.

There will always be arguments against added pressure towards the end of the year, but apart from cannot be disputed is that there must be a better way.

Vandalism
April 20, 1994 - A complainant came into the office to report that damage had been done to the Graduate Lounge area of Dorm
6. The complainant claims that a hole was made in the linoleum floor by a porcelain toilet tank-cover that had been thrown down and was also broken. The cost of repairs to the floor and the toilet is estimated at $1,250. Anyone with any information is asked to call the DPS.

Larceny
April 24, 1994 - DPS officers took a report from a student whose car had been damaged near the Courtyard Confort. The student noticed as he went to his vehicle on April 24, 1994 that the passenger side window had been damaged.
Upon further investigation he noticed that his stereo and other components were missing. The total cost of the items and the window is $1,580. Anyone with any information is asked to call the DPS.

Fire Alarm/Tampering with Fire Safety Equipment
April 22, 1994 - DPS officers noticed a fire extinguisher had been discharged in the laundry room in Dorm 10. The extinguisher was found upside down in the public bathroom toilet. Vandalism has also been done to one of the suites in the area. Anyone with information is asked to contact the DPS.

Disorderly Conduct
April 22, 1994 - DPS officers were requested to respond to a disorderly conduct in Dorm 15.
Upon arrival officers observed three people and two groups of individuals in the hallway. The suspect appeared to be intoxicated and was verbally abusive toward Bryant officials. DPS oficers requested the Smithfield Police Department due to the abusive behavior of the suspect.
The victims chose not to press charges due to the minor nature of the altercation. The suspect was escorted back to his room and advised to stay in for the evening.

Summer Is a Semester Of Choice

To the Editor:

When deciding on your plans this summer, consider taking a course in Bryant College’s 1994 Summer Session. We offer a variety of courses which are taught by the same excellent faculty that teach during the regular semesters.
You can use the relaxed atmosphere of summer to make up a missed course, to fill a course requirement, or to focus attention on one course.

During the summer session you have the opportunity to complete up to nine credits and still have a good portion of July and all of August left for your summer vacation.

Our Summer Session offers two convenient alternatives, a morning session and an evening session. Our morning session runs from May 25 to June 29 and consists of two separate morning periods. This is a great opportunity for you to advance academically while leaving your afternoon free to work or enjoy the summer sun. If you work during the day or you are one of these late risers, you can take avantage of our evening session.

Our evening session runs from May 25 to July 14 for the Tuesday,

Thursday classes and May 25 to July 20 for the Monday/Wednesday classes.

Besides the educational advantages of enrolling in a summer course, Rhode Island is a great place to spread your summer. Our state offers magnificent beaches, plus many of the cultural and recreational centers such as Boston, Cape Cod, and Newport which are only an hour’s drive away. Make the right choice this summer; include Bryant 1994 Summer Session in your plans.

Registration will continue until May 20, so there is still plenty of time to register. However, don’t wait for that special class to fill. Register early.

Science Meets Business

by Mark Ormstead
Journalism Student

What does a mid-ocean mountain range and your telephone have in common? If you asked a Dr. Doug Levin, Chair of the Science Department, his reply would be money and resources, material that funds directly back to the classroom.

During spring break when many Bryant students heeded a call to play-grounds from Florida to Cancun, Dr. Levin was taking his spring break on a 100-foot vessel traveling somewhere between Rhode Island and the top of Long Island.

Dr. Levin spoke of his recent experience as a perfect example of how science and business relate.

The voyage, he explained, consisted of examining and mapping the sea floor for a proposed AT&T telecommunications cable link. The objective was to find a path of small sediments, for the proposed cable to be buried under without disrupting the ecology of the area.

Dr. Levin said the proposed link will ultimately tie into the transatlantic cable having a lifetime expectancy of 25 years and costing approximately $1 billion. Economic consequences are very high.

Dr. Levin added, when the transatlantic cable, the trans-Atlantic ridge, AT&T had to look at Plate Tectonics and the fact that the speed of the cable signal is 2.4 cm per year. Which, if not taken into account, it would have caused the cable to have a life span in half the time. AT&T must consider the geological aspects, as well as the business aspect, when undertaking a project, like an underwater cable, Dr. Levin explained.

Adding another example of how business and science co-exist, Dr. Levin pointed to bio-technology. Dr. Levin said, "bio-tech will see tremendous growth and opportunity in the future, as new products are brought to market. The different phases of a bio-tech company, Levin explained, is to spend roughly five to six years in Research and Development, then move to the business phase, which includes marketing, accounting, and management.

Levin said that it is imperative that students be able to understand the relationships of science and business, especially with the growing environmental responsibilities businesses must meet.

These issues should be of major interest to Bryant students. Levin added: "It is an environmentally conscious company, and are given the choice of having a business major with a science background or one with artistic, which one would you hire?"

Levin remarked that if a student with a business degree were able to secure a science background, his/her marketability would be greatly increased.

There are many opportunities for Bryant students to combine business and science. Students can look over the summer, including articles from the Wall Street Journal.

Dr. Levin added, Bryant students should consider science classes with a basic understanding of scientific methodology, and the ability to use it in their business careers, as well as everyday environment. And for those students who wish to pursue science more formally, they can now do so with the addition of a new Science Minor program, which has recently been added to the Bryant curriculum.

Graduation will be here in a few weeks and many of you will be relocating to new jobs in cities across the United States. Frequently asked reference questions at this time of year include inquiries into the cost of living and quality of life for different cities. Thorough research on a city involves reading the city newspaper, contacting the local Chamber of Commerce, reading recent articles about the city, and reviewing any information found in circulating or reference books held in our library collection.

The Chamber of Commerce in a city exists to promote local businesses and to encourage economic development in a particular area. This valuable organization will supply you basic information on its city as well as the names and addresses of the particular city's leading businesses and business people.

The World Chamber of Commerce Directory (REF Z6951.A97 1994) will supply you with the names, addresses, and phone numbers for the Chambers of Commerce of different U.S. cities. This directory also includes information on State Boards of Tourism, Convention and Visitors Bureaus, and Economic Development Commissions.

A city newspaper is one of the most convenient sources to consult to get an idea of a particular city's employment situation, real estate prices, and local news items of interest. Try reviewing articles and Broadcasts and Media Directory (REF E9011.A97 1994 3 vols.) provides information on more than 37,000 newspapers, magazines, journals, and radio and television stations located in cities of all sizes across the United States. As an example, to look for information on Boston publications, look under Massachusetts-Boston. Among the many publications listed are the Boston Globe and Boston Herald newspapers, Boston Magazine, Boston Business Journal, Boston, etc. The address, phone number, frequency of publication, circulation, and a brief description of the type of publication will be given.

Articles on a particular city can be found on the Proquest network in Business Datelines, an index of regional journals. By pressing F6, you can access a set of indexes that include geographic, company, and subject categories. Using Boston as our example again, we can find recent articles on the current real estate situation in Boston by accessing the geographic indexes and choosing Boston, the subject indexes and choosing real estate, and then limiting your search to 1994. The final search, stored as (GEORGE: BOSTON, MA, US) and (REAL:ESTATE) and (DA:1994), yielded 11 articles, including a very helpful article entitled: "93 Sales of Homes in Area up 11.4%". A number of reference publications provide a great deal of information on the cost of living and quality of life in particular cities. The Economic Indicators Handbook (REF HC103.E26) charts monthly changes in the Consumer Price Index for major cities of the United States dating back to the mid-1970's. Life in America's Small Cities (PED HAI41.746) describes 219 "micropolitan areas" according to their performances in 50 statistical measures. It also provides a written overview of each of the top ten-rated cities. Facts About the Cities (REF HFT123.C385) contains detailed information on 331 cities with populations of approximately 75,000 or more. Data for each city is organized into 17 major categories such as cost of living, housing, crime, cultural resources, etc. Lastly, America's Top-Rated Cities: A Statistical Handbook (REF HFT123.A669) is a five-volume work organized by region and then alphabetically by city. Each entry includes an overview of the business environment as well as the living environment.

The more information you have available before making a decision to relocate to a new city, the more confident you will feel in your decision and in your ability to control the stress associated with a move. The reference librarians or reference assistants are available to help you find information on your city of interest. We would like to extend our help to your move to a new city and a new career a pleasant and exciting experience.

Three Seniors Claim Job Security

by Patrick Kennelly

The wait is finally over for Army Junior ROTC seniors awaiting their appointment letters as Second Lieutenants in the United States Army. Bryant will produce more commissioned officers in 1994, and all of them have received orders for Active Duty. This is the culmination of countless hours of hard work and training. These seniors have sacrificed their summers and many other activities during the school year to receive leadership training so they can be leaders of tomorrow's Army.

The three senior Second Lieutenants from Bryant are Jim Ginn, Cameron Loignon, and Mark Ledetzynski. Army is branching in the Sigma Corps and will attend Officer's Basic Course at Fort Gordon, Georgia upon graduation from Bryant. Mark is branching in the Adjutant General's Corps. Before attending his Basic Course at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, he will assume the duties of a Gold Bar Recruiter at Bryant throughout the continued, Security, page 6

Preparing for LSAT's

Katriona Fysonburch
Arachwy Staff Writer

For many students currently attending Bryant, these four years are just one step in furthering their education. The prospect of continuing on to law school or graduate school is a possibility, if not a definite option.

The Pro-law society welcomed Brenda Loignon, Academic Coordinator from Kaplan Education Center this past Tuesday night. Loignon provided information about the LSAT and other standard tests such as the GMAT, MCAT, GRE and Professional Board Exams including the Medical and CPA entrance exams.

"In comparison to the other exams, the LSAT is slightly harder and needs the most preparation," commented the Organization.

The LSAT is basically a test of a Bryant Faculty Federation

The Bryant Faculty Federation has a long tradition of promoting the quality of the academic program at the College. Nevertheless, at a time of turmoil within academic institutions, it seems appropriate to publicly reaffirm the commitment of the Bryant College Faculty Federation to pursuing and preserving the highest standards of academic performance in all our classrooms.

There is widespread recognition of many problems on this and other college campuses: grade inflation, sporadic class attendance, limited class participation, under-utilization of the library, alcohol abuse, aggressive behavior, and vandalism. In these circumstances it is appropriate to make clear where we stand and what we expect of the faculty, students, and administration of this institution. The following statement reflects that intention:

We, the members of the Bryant College Faculty Federation, reaffirm our commitment to rigorous academic standards at this institution. It is our belief that such a program of instruction serves the best interests of our students and of their future business careers. We also believe the purpose of a college education is to impart values and to instill a sense of responsibility for one's community. Therefore, we strongly hold that exemplary citizenship ought to be a condition of remaining a Bryant student.

As faculty members at this institution, we are responsible for developing an environment that cherishes learning and intellectual pursuits. We must therefore resist any pressures to give easy or infrequent assignments and papers or to give undeserved grades. When we, the faculty, set and uphold high standards, our students respond by striving to meet these goals, and their efforts as well as their achievements will benefit them. Failure to demand such effort contributes to an attitude of disrespect for education that is too common on this campus.

Further, we submit that the demands of any first-class academic program require that students spend substantial time each day outside of class - reading, writing, and in other activities germane to their studies. Three to four hours for each hour in class was typically the case at colleges across America in the past, and we encourage a similar standard for Bryant College today.

Indeed, we must communicate to the members of the Bryant student body their need for a "world-class" education. They have to be prepared to contend with graduates around the globe for jobs, for careers and for opportunities. They must understand that a commitment to excellence is their commitment to a serious program of study. Likelihood of later success depends in large measure on the adequacy of their preparation for a highly competitive marketplace.

The issues of citizenship go beyond the purview of the faculty, therefore we call upon the administration to continually improve its efforts to provide a climate conducive to study and to promote a decent regard among students for one another.

The Bryant Faculty Federation takes the position that the education of Bryant students is the responsibility of the faculty. Therefore, it is incumbent upon all of us to promote and maintain high academic standards. We urge every member of the Bryant Faculty to join us in the pursuit of excellence in education on the Bryant College campus.

Belly Unveils Future Tracks

by Wayne Stepalovitch

This past weekend I was able to go to beautiful Boston and take part in my first Spring Weekend of the year; at M.I.T. The reason for going was simple; Belly was playing. The concert was sponsored by their Student Center Committee, as well as Theta Xi and Phi Sigma Kappa, and even though all students were charged admission, the hockey rink was still quite full, not only with people from M.I.T. but from other area schools (including PC).

The opening act was Cold Water Flat, a local band from Boston, and hopefully for the rest of us that is as far as they are going to get. It seems that they are the type of band that saw Nirvana about three years ago, decided that they wanted to be rock stars, and then they became Smashin' Pumpkins a year later and decided that they wanted to sound like them.

The band had absolutely no stage presence at all; no one moved during the entire forty minute set, both the crowd and the band. It's not that they were really bad, it was just that they sounded like a hundred other bands trying to make that type of music, ever since alternative turned mainstream. "Well, at least they cleaned the pallets for the remainder of the show, leaving the sloe drain for Belly."

As almost everyone knows, Belly is the one Rhode Island band that has made it big (not that Beaver Brown wasn't huge for at least two weeks) and has the potential to stay around for many years to come. Tanya Donnelly has to be considered one of the best singer/songwriters in the "alternative" world, and the performance that night just continued to solidify that position.

What was special about this performance was that they were trying out new songs for the first time anywhere, and if the live performances were any indication of what is to come, their sophomore effort will equal, if not eclipse, their debut "Star".

The songs were so rough that some did not even have titles yet, but the one new song that stood out was "Broken," a hard-edged song that takes advantage of Tanya's vocal range as well as the rest of the band's (Gail Greenwood, and Tom and Clara Gordon) ability. Although the reception to the new songs was very good, when certain songs were played, the floor leaps to life, "Feed the Tree," "Slow Dog," "Geppetto" and the Hendrix cover, "Are You Experienced?" almost led to injury for some inexperienced pit dwellers. It also seemed that it was customary for some males in the crowd to yell to Tanya during every set break that she was beautiful and other meaningless comments. The security in front of the stage could even be seen staring at her for prolonged amounts of time. However, the most impressive part of the set, for myself, as well as others in attendance, was the performance of "Full Moon, Empty Heart," where even the most devoted Mariah Carey fan would have been impressed with the noise that Tanya was able to hold.

This is the third time that I have had the chance to see Belly; while it is no secret that I am a huge fan, this was by far their best show. The group is starting to gel together, and the shows keep getting better and tighter.

Whether it is Gall spitting-out water on the pit or people swaying to Tanya's rendition of "Sad Dress," the show is always enjoyable.

summer. Jim is brachiated at the Infantry, and will attend his Basic Course at Fort Benning, Georgia, in September.

The ROTC Community should be extremely proud of the accomplishments of these seniors. The role of a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army is very prestigious. The seniors have met the challenges and the standards set forth and will now take on the role of leaders and mentors into the next century. If their success at Bryant College is any indication, the United States Army is going to be in very good hands.

It is not too late for freshmen and sophomores to join the ROTC program and reap the benefits of Second Lieutenant upon graduation. Anyone interested in Army ROTC at Bryant should contact CPT Peterson of MSC Garcia in the ROTC office.

This Summer, put those weights down & exercise your mind instead!

Registration starts April 25 in the Office of Undergraduate Programs

LSAT, cont. from page 4

person's logic skills, and composed of questions provided by law schools themselves. The tests are highly regarded by law schools and serve as a good indicator of first year performance of law students. There are five, 35 multiple choice sections in the following areas:

- Logical Reasoning
- (2) Reading Comprehension
- Writing
- (2) Logic Games to test ability to apply rules
- An experimental section

A writing sample is also part of the exam to be sent with scores wherever you apply, but it is not graded.

As far as scoring, final scores range between 120 and 180 points, 180 being perfect. An average score on the exam is in the 150 range, but a change of two or three points in either direction can put an individual in an entirely different percentile. Students can take the exam more than once; but the scores are average each time it is taken. The results take an average of eight weeks.

HOW TO PREPARE

- Don't cram-The best time to take the LSAT or any entrance exam is in October.
- Start preparing this summer-in the time to be thinking of this

- Think of preparation as training; practice as much as possible in an atmosphere that simulates the surrounding of a real testing experience, as far as conditions and time are concerned.

- Check the dates on the material practice books they may be outdated.

Kaplan offers ten, 4 1/2 hour sessions for the LSAT, complete with three full length tests, homework books, labs, and extra practice material. Classes run all sumer, right up to the test date.

There are Kaplan centers all around the U.S., including East Providence. Individuals may transfer credits from one to the other if they wish to start at home this summer and continue back at school.

The cost of the whole course is $745, with financial aid for those that qualify. A payment plan is available in any of the standardized tests that Kaplan offers, contact Career Services. If you wish to attend the class offered on campus, contact Despina Tartsinis at 232-4329 to make arrangements.

Attention Students and Faculty:

BRYCOL and the Purchasing Office of Bryant College have been working jointly to assess improvements at Tupper's. Please take time to complete the survey which will be distributed on Friday, April 25.
Your remarks will help us continue to improve. In this survey, your input really does count! Tupper's exists to serve you - the Bryant Community.

By default, it is a perfect day in the world. - Unknown
Attention Graduates:

Records fell, and champions were crowned as the men's and women's track teams hosted the Tri-State Championships, last Saturday.

Prior to the meet, women's coach Charlie Mandeville was a bit skeptical.

"Our times were not what they should have been, and I wasn't really sure if we could win," Mandeville added. "They put their heads together, and I was really pleased with the results."

Mandeville's skepticism was put to rest when his team was able to pull away from the crowd and capture their second Tri-State title in three years, by scoring 190 points (108 points better than second place Bridgewater State).

"It was a total team effort, you can't score 190 points without that," women's coach Mandeville said. "You can start anywhere, everyone had a great day and contributed to the team."

The men, on the other hand, could not hold off the strong teams of Bridgewater State and Eastern Connecticut State, as a result they finished third overall.

The field events were first on the agenda, and gave the women their first scoring opportunities. This set the tone for the day, as two meet record fell, early in the day.

First, Heather Brown hurdles, skipped, and jumped 34 feet 3/4 inch for a first place finish, as well as, a new Tri-State record in the triple jump. Right behind Brown, was Ellen Bolland who placed second covering a distance of 31 feet 11 3/4 inches. Jen Hagen covered a distance of 31 feet 10 3/4 inches for a fifth place finish.

Marsha Orr, also added her name to the record book by jumping 16 feet 11 1/2 inches in the long jump. The feat tied a Tri-State Meet record, and was a new Bryant College record.

Also adding some points to the board in the long jump, was Bolland who finished fourth with a jump of 15 feet 10 3/4 inches; and Brown who finished fifth with a jump of 15 feet 6 3/4 inches.

Other field events also played a major role in the day for Bryant. Dottie Beattie was second in the javelin with a toss of 105 feet 2 inches.

In the high jump, Bejj Kruzel cleared 5 feet for a second place finish; and Mandeville soars the meter (to top).

Elliot Ypez to victory the hurdles Elle long championships. Jannday.

"You can start State record in the triple jump, Mark Davis would go down with an injury during the 100 meter hurdles."

"They did a good job of challenging on every field event, we had finished third last year," Mandeville said.

"Everyone did a good job of keeping up with challenges on the teams we had finished third before," Megan Davis said. "I had a good day, always looking forward to the next meet."

The men's team started out on the right foot with Mike Moncalvo winning the javelin by throwing a toss of 167 feet 7 inch behind Montecalvo in second, followed by Bolland and McDonald by a margin of 2 feet 2 inches. Tim Norris out the scoring, finishing a toss of 136 feet 9 inches.

Phil Moran was the high jump champ, Tim Kruzel also placed third. Right behind Brown, was Ellen Bolland who placed second covering a distance of 31 feet 11 3/4 inches. Jen Hagen covered a distance of 31 feet 10 3/4 inches for a fifth place finish.

Marsha Orr, also added her name to the record book by jumping 16 feet 11 1/2 inches in the long jump. The feat tied a Tri-State Meet record, and was a new Bryant College record.

In the longer distance, Davis was first in the 5000 meter with a time of 12:20.30. Friedrich was next in the 800 meter with a time of 2:02.22.192. Day of the scorers, Davis flushed a time of 20:22.01.

Mandy LaPierre was third for Bryant in the 500 meter with a time of 1:19.96.

Friedrich also added to his board for Bryant by placing fifth with a time of 1:19.50.

Finally, in the 800 meter, Davis came in third with a time of 2:02.77. Deual, third team Groebel, LaPierre, and Davis place third for Bryant in the 800 meter relay with a time of 4:23.12.

"The men went really well, I think we pulled our own weight," Heath Cronce said.

"We had a good day, it was a good day for everyone on the team."

The women took first, with a time of 1:08:30. Davis also set the meet record in the women's 800 meter relay.

"We had some really good performances, we are all looking forward to the next meet," Davis said.

"We needed some of these performances to overcome this year," Elliot added.

What do you think Bryant's new mascot should be?
Badgers, Bengals, Breakers, Hurricanes, Bearcats, Bobcats, Bulldogs or Panthers

The Breakers because it's original.
-Brian Cotter '95

The Bulldogs. It sounds aggressive, but everyone likes dogs.
-Diane Belcher '95

The Panthers because other teams will be afraid of us. It sounds scary, strong and surprising.
-Mike Gurevich '95

The Panthers because it doesn't begin with a "B.",
-Bob Leonard '97

The Bulldogs because it sounds good.
-Patrick Casey and Mike Pasqual '95

The Badgers because it sounds like a mascot!

Superbug Steals the Show

by Chris Haeclay

Though Superbug was the opening act, their cool, funk driven style of rock 'n' roll helped steal the show from Boston favorites Cliffs of Dover and handliner Tribe last Friday night at the Strand in Providence. Except for a few minor technical difficulties, Superbug played a great set where they featured songs from their debut cassette, The Dog and the Saloon, as well as some new songs they are working on for their upcoming CD release.

Superbug, fronted by Bernard Thomas, opened up with "Send A Letter," which showcases Thomas' soaring vocals at their best. Next side a tulip garden. There are two levels to the dining area, both with light oak tables and flower settings. Green plants flourished in the curtained windows of the top level. I couldn't help but notice a strange mural painted on the wall. It reminded me of a bizarre dream. There was no beginning and no end, just odd pictures of people and a fire hydrant.

The luncheon specials for the day were posted: Vegetarian Shepherd's Pie, Youngstown Wilted Chicken Sandwich, and Falafel, which is a patty made with chick peas, French bread, garlic, onions, herbs and spices, and baked and/or fried on a sesame pita bread.

I ordered a Houmous (another chick pea delight but sneezed) from the regular menu with the half order of wild greens and a sesame pita bread.

I ordered a Houmous (another chick pea delight but sneezed) from the regular menu with the half order of wild greens and a sesame pita bread.

The band went into "One Shiny" and another from the tape "True to the Day." Then followed three new songs, "Pigfiddlers," "You'll Be Proud," and "Fug," Superbug rounded out their set with their current single "Big Indian."

"Superbug's live sets show the best of their best. The power-packed guitars of Marc Archambault and Chris Mancherter, along with Rob Verdi's funky bass and Bill Lawing's solid drumming, combined with the vocals"...ingether in a live Superbug show. The style of music Superbug plays helps them create an exceptionally... live show. Though the band is young and has only been around a short time, they almost seem like veterans up on the stage. They do everything they can to get the audience into the music. Back in February they opened up for the Gin Blossoms to a sold out crowd of 1,500 at Jay's and amazed everyone.

Look for more to come from Superbug in the future, including a self-released CD and a (possibly) national release. The band plans to tour to promote the new record. Please check out Superbug's website for more information.

Hey sisters—Spring Weekend is finally upon us. Hope everyone has a good time and is responsible. Greek Week is a thing of the past. It went by pretty quickly.

Some news events of the past week. The new sisters made friends with some Bentley A-Phi's. Wyz took a journey to Sacred Heart, WKA and Sway-went to WKA's house in New Jersey (with a Delta Chi stow-a-way in the back seat). Murphy came up to visit WSC. Krehe came to see Wessel, and Spars and Kazoo put on a new twist to The Sound of Music.

A note to our seniors—graduation is fast approaching, and pretty soon you'll be out of here after four long years. Don't forget to visit and write because we love you all and we are going to miss all of you.

Quotes of the week "Drink a Pepsi," and "That is not my car phone." See ya.

Our softball season has finally come to a close with a 6-4 loss. The loss marks the end of our sports season, which went reasonably well. Thanks to Treat for being the greatest AD ever. Hopefully he will consider one more year.

Alumni weekend went very well even though Spillt didn't show up. We would like to thank everyone who came up to visit. It was truly an experience for everyone who was there.

This week: Rex told us the limo story; Radar is a new brother again. BARGUS has a strange way of making new friends; somehow we won an academic award along with Greek Week; and we'd like to pretend that Public Safety for doing such a good job. Quote of the week, "I never go online without my green hat." MIA

Bryant Karate

by Brett Sandman

Congratulations to Chris for placing in Nick Cerio's tournament on Sunday. Thanks to everyone who showed their support. On Friday, April 29, at 2 p.m., we will be doing a demonstration in front of the Bryant Center (weather permitting). Be there. On Sunday, May 1, we will be going to a tournament in Tuscaloosa. For more information, come to class.

Very Important! There will be a Memorial Mass for Sensei Stephen Master on Sunday, May 1, at 3 p.m. in Rooms 2A and 2B in the Bryant Center. If you can't make it to anything else, be at this service. Sensei Master helped Sifu establish Bryant Karate and it is very important that we attend. Wear a clean all-white uniform and don't forget your belt.

On Saturday, May 7, we will be doing another demonstration in one for the Special Olympics athletes. Make every effort to take part in this demonstration. The Special Olympics athletes really appreciate it. Come to the workout to get the feel of this demonstration. Thanks very much to everyone who helped in soliciting ads for our tournament on May 22.

Thanks for your vote. Congratulations to the new officers. Thanks to everyone who came to our self-defense techniques demo. It was a lot of fun for everyone who showed up. If anyone needs help with accounting next year, talk to Phil and Chris. This will be the last meeting of the year. Then we can kick off Spring Weekend on a good note.

We won our second game of the season last week versus Eastern Nazarene College by a score of 9-4. Leading scorer was Schirlee with 4 goals. Congratulations go to Cliff and Hart for getting their first points in the lacrosse game. We had a tough game versus Stonehill College on Friday, suffering a loss of 9-5. We have nothing to be ashamed about, seeing how we only had one middle line, our regular goalie was out, and very few substitutes. Leading scorers in that game were Dave "the champ" Crosby with 4 goals, Tyler Leader with 2 assists, and the best defense man for the game was Chris "the troil" Libbott. Leading the scoring game so far this season are: Crosby with 21 points (11 goals, 10 assists); Schirlee 18 points (17 goals), LeeS (44:5), Newman (8:4:5), Reilly (7:2), Bagel (5,23), and Ted (5:3). Libbott has a .597 save percentage—nothing for a beginner. Libbott has the most minutes, followed closely by Bagel.

We hope everyone has a great Spring Weekend! See ya later.

Well, this is the last week of our soccer season. We have our final home game today (Thursday) versus Northeastern at 4:30 on the Lacrosse field, near the track. We hope that we can get a large crowd out there to root us on.

Then we can kick off Spring Weekend on a good note.

We won our second game of the season last week versus Eastern Nazarene College by a score of 9-4. Leading scorer was Schirlee with 4 goals. Bryant Players

by Donald Wijder

Hello Nurse! First off, thanks go out to the HS gang n'dl. yada Nagle for hosting weekend number two of the post-musical festivities. Shall we go for three? Spring Weekend should take care of that.

The Players are busy making preparations for next year. The E-Board has decided on our production for next semester's Parents' Weekend, a one-act play titled "Rooftoppers." It involves a large cast and involves many funny and flexible characters. We encourage anyone who shows interest in this or any of our other upcoming events to stop by and see what we're all about.

Our next meeting is Tuesday, May 3, at 5:00 p.m. in meeting room 2A.

That about does it for this edition of the Bryant Players weekly newsletter. Everybody have a "weat and wild" Spring Weekend!

BRYCOL

by Jennifer Barrie

First, I would like to thank everyone for their contributions to the March of Dimes. It was a great walk. Together with $200 we raised over $700 to bring to the March of Dimes Foundation. We thank the entire Bryant Community for their support; without you this event wouldn't have been so successful.

BRYCOL is currently working on the vending machines. We apologize for any inconvenience the disruption of service has caused. However, we do ask for your help in identifying those individuals who are responsible for the vandalism. You can either report them to us or to Public Safety. By keeping vandalism down we can all keep the price of soda to a minimum. If you would like to see the soda machines here next year, we all need to work together to keep them in good, operating condition.

Seniors place your orders now, with Celebrations, for graduation. We have corsages, boutonnieres, etc. for yourself or balloon arrangements and other novelty gifts for your fellow graduates. All orders will be delivered the day before the important event. So if you haven't made arrangements for your graduation banquet, do so now.

That is all for now. As always we are here to serve you. Any questions or comments for BRYCOL can be directed to our office 2112-1220 or Box 99.

To start off, we’d like to say we appreciate all the help people have given us in our attempt to raise money for United Cerebral Palsy. Thanks to all the people that attended the game, bought raffle tickets, or made special thanks to WMPF (88.7) for their donation of the CD’s and the concert tickets. Also thanks to the brothers of all the other fraternities who played.

Sparky did a great job with last weekend’s cook-out. If the softball teams were divided a little more evenly we might even have had a chance. Duke took over the cooking responsibilities in a manly way. Thanks to Skidder, Adam, Canolli, Roadkill, and Chilly for stopping by. Did these guys ever leave? Ripper almost had a heart attack when Skidder decided to test his pitching arm. The road trip to Boston went extremely well. We came back unharmed.

We hope everyone has a great Spring Weekend. C’ya when I c’ya.

We would like to congratulate the winners of our pitch tournament: Dave Hong, Matt Gibbons, the winners of our basketball tournament, Wally Mahoney, Jeff Burt, Theo Hall, and Michael Larson. Thank you to everyone that participated.

Da Weezer and DKE: A softball teams both won again this week, putting both teams at 2 -1. DKE-A soccer is heading into the playoffs with a 3-0-1 record.

We visited Waterville Valley for our formal this weekend and had a great time. It’s too bad about what happened to Bridgegate and Allison on Friday night. Oh well, you too, Greg, Hey, Dancho about that view.
The DJ was really bad, No Nirvana, “Crash Test Dosh”, Patience of the Formal. Bob, I mean Coffee, licked the straws. Naah, I thought you were just primes, thing out of the car. “Can I talk to the manager?” Keith, my door was locked for a muse, that’ll be two bucks, Chief, Gracco, try driving on the road. The Man on the Mountain is not that exciting.

An eventful week was had by all. We all had a fabulous time the other night, especially Navy whose pulse is still beating. A special thank you goes out to Bill for being such a Friday night. Steph was having fun all by herself, anyone needing no hair braiding can check with either Solita and Leon could be baseball coaches with all their secret signs. Everyone wants to thank TKL, especially Piovanetti! Starting Tuesday we will hold a practice for the pyramid in next year’s Greek, Solita and Davey promise to behave next year. Deb no more duty bat races for you. Left, you can enjoy you team anytime. Chaves, you came up to borrow hair spray when we all know you really wanted to rape. Phoenix and Tyler were greatly missed this weekend. Don’t worry Jaggari, Solita, Nick, and Penny—they’ll let you out soon!

Birthday wishes go out to Bowler and Davis—both legally! Congrats to solita, you know why. Congrats to Jerson and Lorenzo you will do a great job next year. Have a great Spring Weekend!

Finance Association
by Sandy Conners
The Finance Association held the elections for next year’s E-board at their last meeting. The results were as follows: President—Fred Bodony, Vice-President—Jennifer Quinn, Secretary—Sandy Conners; Treasurer—Jennifer Crum, and Investment Chairperson—Francesca Piovannetti. Congratulations to the new E-board. Also, we would like to welcome our new advisor—Dr. David Ketcham.

For next year, the E-board is already working hard on providing more speakers and events. We are planning a trip to the New York Stock Exchange. There will be a meeting Thursday, May 5 at a time TBD, with pizza and soda. This is an opportunity to meet the new E-board. Look for reminders next week, but mark the meeting down now. If you have any questions, comments, or suggestions, please write to Fred at Box 1247. Thank you and see you soon.

Men’s Rugby
by Brad Gaynor and Jonathan hello, rugby fans! This past weekend was piled the men’s rugby team against Johnnie from Roger Williams. The A side played well but fell short of a victory. The B’s also played well, including Pez who smelled the glory running down the sideline but fell just short. A special thank you to Muffin who sparked the B’s by his return, but wasn’t quite enough as the B side dropped a heartbreaker.

Up next... Up next... of the original 32 pounds lost, 2 have been gained back...more updates as they come in.

We had our elections this past week and Ronie was elected president for next year. tanker waded eva—in to vice-president. Ronie won trea­ surer and Fugger won secretary. Congratulations Ronie!

Just want to remind all you ruggers that the formal is coming up on Friday, May 6. So hurry up and get your dates lined up (Goody got one, so no excuse). The team will also need $30 for the formal. Get that in to JD, Tomcat, or Spoons by this weekend. On Saturday, May 7, the Alumni game, I know we are all looking forward to that one. Congratulations to all the Rockies who worked hard this semester.

Sports Night: Spunk, I speak for the entire B side when I say thank you for leaving the meaning of offside. Einstein, try and stay away from the punch— it can really get to you. Rear, it looks like you’ll be Grecian, the sequel. Finally, Goody bearing me in Tap and Glee on Saturday was a fluke, and I’ll be happy to go with you one on one Goody, anytime, anywhere. One final note, Bob you had a great game this weekend. You were flying all over the... oh wait, I forgot... you were studying!

Well, I hope everyone had a great week. It took me three weeks, but I finally managed to tune only write an article, but turn it in to the office as well. From what I hear, the formal the other weekend was rather eventful. We had a lot of fun at Martha’s Vineyard.

We would like to thank all those that decided to use the rugs as their ashrays. The damage has been talked up, and I think Grogan should be considering the expert legal ad­ vice of Brian Cusano. Who is the star witness?

But enough of this foolishness. Onward to the wonderful world of Phi Kapp Land. Onuly is still stuck somewhere on a New Hampshire highway. Heat is still looking for Dingo and his Phish ticket. Kenny and New old ties with Marqis this weekend. Paskinski learned that if you drop a fire extinguisher, it just may go off. I learned that Theta is the penguin sorority. Julie learned just how stupid inorganization such as ours can be.

The basketball team won the championship (big surprise there). The soccer team actually won a game, but then lost another two. The softball season is getting under way and finally Kono would like DZ to know that she is still not pleased about the 65 complaints logged against our suite.

I would like to congratulate Schmelz on his 22nd birthday, and I would also like to congratulate Shaggy and Amy from DJ on their 21st birthdays. I would also like to congratulate myself on my 21st birthday.

Well that is enough from me. I would like everyone to know that this is my last article for The Archway. I am still not going to run for this office next year. So finally, as my departing speech, I thank no one but myself, and I apologize for nothing, and would gladly do it all over again.

So here’s a final cheers, and a final Merry Christmas and a thoroughly Happy New Year.

Another week of news, and I’m going to give it to you plain and simple. This past week was Greek Week, and it was a smashing success. It was great to see all of the alumni who made it up this weekend; there was a lot of Wolf, Dog, Ice taking a shower will never be the same. Mike 12 news helped you win this time, but remember it’s only a game... and Money that chair was asking for it. It was a small bass, right? Conti. Senate banquet guests aren’t the same as formals. Marino, do how you feel?

In KT-12 sports, all teams had the week off to recuperate from their recent European tour.

Hi Everyone! Hope everyone is having a great week! First I would like to thank Byrd and Sena for making this week's article possible.

Some of our alumni hung out with us this past weekend while others decided to visit the Student Center and some chose to knock on certain Phi Tau windows at 3:30 a.m. Dick graduated two years ago, but some fraternity alumni haven't figured it out yet, right Byrd? At the Greek Olympics Saturday, Whami tried to swan dive off the pyramid while Ranger decided she didn't need to participate in the dizzy but races because she's already got that down pat.

To add to this past week's fun, Sen received a special gift: Sen introduced Brittain to an old friend; Bundy showed off her nail; and we found out about a 5th grade class, keeper, what a shock Belle! Lastly, we would like to thank all of the fraternities that invited our sisters to their formal. Hope everyone has a great Spring Weekend! See Ya! Phi Sig Top Cat!

Only two more weeks until the Big Day! We are all very excited about it and hope that the Bryant Community is as well. If anyone would still like to volunteer, just show up the day of the games, May 7, and talk to someone at the volunteer table. We are also desperately looking for two volunteers to MC the games. We need someone energetic, enthusiastic, and who can write an introduction, you can write The Ginny or the Outstanding Obstacle Course. You can also get a Fun photo or a tattoo. You can watch The Ginny or the Dunk Tank. Later, Saturday night, come to Bryant's Best Food Challenge at 9:00 p.m. or go see a Comedian at both events are in South Dining Hall.

Hi, everyone! Hope you are all having a great week! Know you are all looking forward to Spring Weekend. Well, last weekend SAA held its annual Cooball games. We had about fifteen teams sign up. They competed against each other all afternoon. By the end of the day everyone was anxious to get home and shower.

All in all, everyone had a lot of fun! SAA was happy to see many people out there cheering on the teams. Also, we would like thank everyone who helped in making this event such a success. You all did a great job!

Survival Kit orders are coming to an end as the deadline quickly approaches. Just a few more day left! The kits will be put together on Thursday, May 5, 1994 at our regular meeting. They will be distributed to students May 9-11. Also, congratulations to our new executive board. President - David Sanvito, Vice President - Anthony Silvestri, Treasurer - Josh Dickenson, and Secretary - Dawn Druxman. Good Luck to all of you!

Well, it's time for me to go. Have a great Spring Weekend! See you Thursday! BYE!

P.S - Crippe, hope you feel better!

Hey Theta- Hi Everyone, Molly spoke to Jack (The Indicator) again on Saturday night. In order to be my VP, answer the following: What do you do in your spare time? What are you good at? And it looks bonus on your resume! Thanks to Mage and Wendy for picking up the pieces- the balance beam can get pretty sentimental. Love FYF.

Jef Kaplan- Slammer- Well...

So be it?

Mallory should like a nice large mint chocolate chip sundae and a small plastic barrel.

Angelo- May you come to realize that you must buckle up half of that in order to engage in the sequin ensemble.

Meet the man of my dreams- K.B.

- To my twin FYF, smile on the inside and, don't worry. Love Kentucky.

Tom Sawyer was fun to hang out with.

Carolyn it's tradition this week, Love Kebbler.

So Thursday's game against Bridgewater wasn't exactly our best game. But we were so happy we got to work out for our season.

We thank the guys for their unselfish entertainment on Picky. Why did you wait all season to show us your talent?

Spring Weekend should be a blast. The team has many things planned. Have fun and don't forget about our cook out next Thursday. Have a great weekend and see you next season.

SPORTS

The Changing of the Guard

A New Era Begins

As the National Basketball Association (NBA) gets ready for its playoffs we are beginning to see the new NBA.

Different teams and different players are now taking the spotlight, and the game is far removed from the days of the past.

Throughout this decade (the 80's), four teams dominated the league. Year in and year out, these teams were at the top of the league contending for the National Championship. The Boston Celtics won three, the Detroit Pistons won two, the Los Angeles Lakers won five, and the Chicago Bulls won twice.

Each of these teams were feared by their opponents. When these teams had their backs against the wall, they fought back and found a way to win. But, as you know, things never remain the same. It is four years later, and the teams which dominated in the 1980's are not even in the playoffs this year. "What happened to these teams?"

The Detroit Pistons were the first to fall and they fell with the fastest. In 1991, Michael Jordan and the Chicago Bulls knocked the Pistons out of the playoffs in route to their first NBA Championship. With the departure of key members like Dennis Rodman and Bill Laimbeer, the Pistons hit the skids and kept on going. This year is more than likely Isaiah Thomas' last year as a player, leaving only Joe Dumars remaining from those championship teams.

They have a long road to travel if they want to return to the top of the NBA, and unless they have a miracle draft pick, they will not be there anytime soon.

Next, we have, the Philadelphia 76ers. They were from one of the best players in the game (Dr. J- Julius Erving) to one of the most exciting (Shawn Bradley). Let's face it, after they traded Charles Barkley to Phoenix, they pretty much sealed their fate.

However, if Bradley can become a force and the star he is expected to be, the 76ers are the closest to returning to their championship form. If they add one of two more legitimate NBA stars they will be a team to contend with.

The Los Angeles Lakers have also fallen from grace, the days of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Earvin Magic Johnson are long gone. They are in a rebuilding stage, and will rely on the draft and free agency to return them to championship form.

Of course, no one can forget the Boston Celtics, especially in this area of the country. The great front court which brought the Celtics dynasty has all but died. Larry Bird and Kevin McHale had memorable retirement ceremonies, and Robert Parish has retired.

There was also the tragic passing of Len Bias and Reggie Lewis. Bias never played in the NBA, but he was expected to be the next star for the Celtics. Lewis, on the other hand, not only played for the Celtics, but he was majorly hurt. In 1990, Boston hard, and it will be quite a while before they can recover. The Celtics are in the midst of a rebuild and a search of that one superstar to raise their level of play. They might be the first successful franchise in NBA history, but they are not one of the best right now.

Athletic Schedule For The Week

THE ARCHWAY
CAMPUS SCENE
THURSDAY, APRIL 28, 1994
The Bryant College bowling team finished in 1st place at the Intercollegiate Bowling Championship in Carson City, Nevada earlier this month. It was the college's first appearance at Nationals and the first appearance of a New England College in the tournament's 35-year history.

The top sixteen men's and women's teams from across the country met in Carson City, April 13-16 to fight for top rank in collegiate bowling. Each of the sixteen teams were seeded through a sectional bid or by virtue of winning an automatic bid through one of the six invitational tournaments.

The national championship, determined by the total pinfall after 88 team games, is collegiate bowling's finest jewel. The Bryant men's team qualified for the "Sweet 16" of the I.B.C. by winning an automatic bid back in December at the Brunswick Northeast Showdown. Wichita State University's men's and women's teams each won a prestigious national crown, defeating both men's and women's teams that had accomplished the University of Nebraska Lincoln. David Carber, member of Wichita State University and Team USA, said, "I am so thrilled to be a part of this great tournament, winning the championship is even sweeter."

For Wichita State's men's team, the win marked their fourth national crown. For Bryant College, this tournament was their first appearance at the championships. Bryant team members made the national championships their goal at the beginning of the season. They achieved that goal and are proud of their accomplishments.

David Nagelhout, a senior, said, "National is what every team strives for each year. I am glad that I had the opportunity. Bryant College has finally made it."

Senior Matt Sadowsky said, "After four years of hard work and dedication, it is an honor to make it to a level (Nationals) where many schools can only dream of." Once at Carson City, the team struggled, especially at picking up spares. By the end of the first day, Bryant was in 12th place. However, Bryant rose to 15th place where they finished.

Individual highlights from the weekend include Nagelhout's average of 206, with a 226 high game and 108.

Coach John Holmes stated, "The tournament was tough for everyone. Bryant made it (Nationals) this far, and should be proud of themselves."

"We are a young team filled with Sophomores and Freshmen. It was a good building-block for next year's squad," Coach Holmes concluded.

Nationals ended the 1993-1994 season for the Bryant bowling team. The team graduates three great seniors in Rob Perretta, Nagelhout, and Sadowsky. However, the team will look towards the sophomores and upperclassmen to lead Bryant pupils and coach John Holmes into the 1994 National Championship bid.

The 1995 national championship was held in Knoxville, Tennessee.
