Editorially Speaking

This Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, the Bryant student body will go to the polls and elect the new Student Senate officers. Attached to the ballot will be a referendum question requesting an increase of Student Senate funds. These funds will give Bryant's Senate the ability to bring you, the student, more in the way of entertainment. After all, that is one of their reasons for existing.

Presently, the Student Senate budget is around $24,000. If you do the math on that, the new budget will be around $62,000. I do not think that I have to explain to anyone in a business school that one can do more with $62,000 than they can with $24,000.

This Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, take the time and go vote in favor of the budget increase. It's your school.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Security is Changing

Dear Editor,

George Allen Jr. submitted a letter (sic) to last week's Archway concerning the lack of Security at Bryant College. Mr. Allen cited several incidents of Security Guards and students being harassed by outsiders. He also stressed the necessity for a front gate or guard house to turn away those unwanted intruders. Well, Mr. Allen, after two years of patient waiting by the Security Dept., it looks as if we might finally get our guardhouse.

Chief Gardner is now in the process of moving those plans to be submitted to Dr. Burns and several other administrators.

As a member of the Security Dept., I can not (sic) agree with you, Mr. Allen, that there is a lack of Security at Bryant. But I can appreciate the fact that Security can be greatly improved. Usually there are only five to six people on duty from 6 p.m. until midnight, and then there are only three people on duty after midnight. During the day, there is only one guard on duty.

This is the key to most of the security problems on campus. The fact is that our budget is far too small to allow us to increase these daily rosters. Hopefully in our next budget we will get enough of an increase to schedule more men on each shift.

Also, Mr. Allen, you mentioned that the Security guards, especially the student guards, are underpaid. Well, I doubt if you could find a single Student Patrolman (sic) who would argue this fact.

The Student Patrol recently met with Dr. Burns about a raise, and he (in no small words) told us that we are doing a good job and if we could get such good performance for $1.00 an hour, pay should be paid more.

Well, Mr. Allen, I can not (sic) say that Security will improve overnight, but with the help of the student body and a little more concern by the Administration, you will definitely (sic) see some changes made.

Sincerely,

Rom Colangelo

Dear Editor,

Last Tuesday, a meeting was held between the candidates and the Executive Council of the Senate. At this meeting, we went over the election rules (including dates and times). The time for speeches was set at Thursday, February 21, at noon. It was agreed upon that Fred Leonard would be in the Rotunda at 12 noon to present their speeches. The candidates were told to report to the Rotunda at 11:30.

At 12 noon, on Thursday, February 21, the candidates began giving their speeches. (all except Fred Leonard, who was in his room). Someone had to be sent to Fred's room to get him over to the Rotunda.

It appears quite clear to this student that the Bryant maintenance workers tend to ignore the conditions of the classrooms. The acknowledged truth is that the fact that the students have been receiving higher test scores in recent years, the new budget will be around $62,000. Dear Editor,

I am a member of the Student Senate representing the Junior class. Yesterday afternoon I participated in the student forum and heard speeches of the candidates for the Student Senate Office. Dr. Lebovitz stated that he was impressed with the work and accomplishments that, in fact, were a Student Senate group officer. I hope he will refrain from such statements in the future.

Respectfully,
Doreen Rogers

The Facts

Dr. Sol Lebovitz joined the Bryant College faculty in 1962 as an Assistant Professor and was named a Professor of Political Science.

An Interview With Dr. Sol Lebovitz

by James Angelini

I further asked Dr. Lebovitz about the M.A. program at Bryant. He told me that there is a growing need for advanced education at Bryant. He said that the program today is approximately 300 active participants. This year alone, Bryant expects 70 graduates to emerge from this program. In reply to my next question, Dr. Lebovitz stated the extent of Bryant's accreditation.

The college's program has a Regional accreditation and follows similar standards of a school with national accreditation. If you are not familiar with the course offerings of Bryant's graduate program, we have M.B.A. programs in Management and Accounting. I asked Dr. Lebovitz about the future, and he said that there is a growing need for administrative and ever-increasing popular major at Bryant. He said, "At the present time the program is not yet available in most schools, but we are looking forward to expanding our program and offering it in the near future.

Under Dr. Lebovitz's direction, the Graduate School gives undergraduates something to look forward to after graduation.
I'm disappointed that I received so few letters this week. I was only able to scrounge up those few this week so here they are. I hope that next week I'll have more of a response, so keep sending in those cards and letters.

Yours truly,
Madame Levonda

Dear Madame Levonda,

I went down to the Rathskellar last week and found the place to be crowded to the point where there was no place to sit down. Obviously there are not enough chairs in the "full," and the idea is to get there early. But what am I supposed to do, make a reservation? Do you think you could do something about getting more chairs for the "full"?

Stood Up

Dear Stood Up,

There are many inconsistencies on campus and this is one of them. Unfortunately, in order to get something accomplished one must go through a lot of red tape; but don't give up hope! You might try going to Student Affairs about the matter. If they are not the people to see I'm sure they will refer you to the right department. I hope.

Yours truly,
Madame Levonda

Dear Madame Levonda,

Do you know of any reason why there isn't a television in the Unistructure for the use of students? I don't have my own TV, and neither do any of my roommates. I watch TV with friends in another suite, but I can't keep bothering them every time I want to watch a show. Do you know if the College is going to get a TV for the Unistructure?

R.W.S.

Dear R.W.S.

First of all, TV's cost money. Secondly, I doubt if the College is planning to buy one. You can bring it up to the Administration, but I think you'll have technical difficulties with them. They will argue that it would be hard to maintain and keep safe because of vandalism and thefts, but try anyway.

Yours truly,
Madame Levonda

Dear Madame Levonda,

Last night I was awakened by the pitter of little feet outside my dorm. When I went over to the window to see what was making the noise, I found a band of streakers parading around our natural. This exhibition of the flesh included a composition of dance steps of a magnitude that rivals the artistic style of the June Taylor dancers. I decided to take up my roommate so that she, too, would witness this unrolling of the human spirit; but by the time I got her over to the window they had vanished. Now my roommate thinks that I am seeing things, and recommends that I see a doctor; Madame Levonda, could you possibly arrange to have these people come back for a return engagement so I can prove to my roommate that I'm not crazy.

Hopefully,
Hustle Hana

Dear Hana,

Your request is absolutely disgusting. I am insulted that you even suggest that I know these people personally. However, we'll be there next Sunday night at 9 p.m., so get out your camera.

Shamefully,
Madame Levonda

Jazzin’ Up the Stage Band

by Paul J. Carroll

If you’re got an urge to blow ya’horns and sing ya’strings, then boot on over to Student Affairs and sign up for the "new" Bryant College Stage Band. What’s new about the stage band? Its director, Mr. John Swoboda. So what? So plenty! Aides from his formal education, which includes a B.S. in Music Education from the University of Rhode Island, and an M.A. from the University of Connecticut, Swoboda is bringing to the band his teaching and performance experience which he has attained throughout his many years in the artistic field of music.

Mr. Swoboda is reorganizing the band and is looking for students who have musical capability and are seeking an opportunity to become involved in Bryant College. He feels that students may shy away from joining the band because it will require many hours of their time, yet, Swoboda states that the band practices for only an hour and a half every Tuesday afternoon.

In adding an original flare to the band, not only will they use "stuck" arrangements; but Mr. Swoboda and students will also write and arrange their own arrangements of rock, jazz, and contemporary music.

Swoboda states that the band is "going to do things," and not just play the songs they have attempted towards their endeavors. Already one concert is planned for Parents’ Spring Weekend which is to be held in May.

The band still needs to fill its various positions and welcomes you to seize this opportunity to express yourself through music and bring a new spark to the social life of Bryant College.

SURPRISE IN A BOTTLE

Police in Salt Lake City say a burglar who robbed a liquor bottle from the home of Jerry Stiegall will have problems even if he isn't caught.

They say Stiegall had lost a bottle of liquor to a burglar once before and decided to set up a trap for any other one who might enter his home.

Authorities say the bottle the burglar made off with is the second robbery contained a full pint of laxative.

BRIDGE UNDER TROUBLED WATERS

California's Shasta county has decided to sell a large steel bridge—but there's a catch.

The bridge spanned the Sacramento River at Sweetwater, where flooding two weeks ago tore it loose and sent it to the bottom.

GASSY WINDMILLS

Cigar-smoking Clem Prallulz says selling gasoline 12 hours a day, six days a week isn't enough.

In these days of decreasing gas consumption and cost-price squeezes, the service station owner declared—quoting now—"You gotta build it (dam) but show and sell windmills to make a living in this business."

So the shelves of the Prallulz gas station in Sacramento, California, are stocked with bird houses and carved wooden ducks. Lined against a fence outside are six-sheet metal windmills, which range from four to ten feet tall.

ONE FOR THE ROAD

An impromptu beer party was held on Georgia Highway 33 south of Quitman Tuesday night. Police say a beer truck spilled thousands of cans of beer across the road and several hundred motorists stopped to help in the cleanup.

LINE FORMS AT THE REAR

The energy crisis now appears to be having an effect on practical jokesters, too.

In Seattle, Washington, teen-agers in two cars pulled into a closed service station this weekend, parked their auto near to the gasoline pumps and waited.

Motorists began pulling into line behind the teen-agers.

The line was three blocks long an hour later and growing. The teen-agers waited another one-and-one-half hours, then drove off, leaving fuming motorists behind in the closed service station.

MODERN DANCE

by Dr. Jack B. Kirkland

The dance, like so many other art forms, is alive and well. It is now on the campus of Bryant College with the formation of" The Modern Dance Society." This group of students, interested in the expanding forms of dance, is taking advantage of the facilities on campus to study and practice modern dance. They are training their bodies for the challenge of the modern dancer.

For the second semester of this year, the group will be offering a one-hour 100-level course to which all interested persons are welcome. The course will cover a variety of techniques and styles, including ballet, modern dance, and jazz.

The dance clinic will be held twice a week at noon, and the class will meet once a week. The group also plans to give two performances during the semester, one during the spring semester and another in the fall.

The Modern Dance Society is open to all students who are interested in dance and music. For more information, contact the dance studio in the basement of the Student Center or call the office at 231-1196.

The Modern Dance Society invites everyone to attend the performances and participate in the dance clinic. It is a great opportunity to learn about modern dance and to develop a personal style.

The Modern Dance Society looks forward to a successful semester and hopes to see you at the performances and dance clinic.

The bill mentioned in this week's column as well as last week's HR 74-033 Mass transit proposal, 573-892 The Uniform Residential Landlord Tenant Act, 73 S 381 Birm Paper Cheater's Bill and 73H 0150, the Veteran's bonus bill will in all likelihood remain in committee for quite some time unless someone's who want to see them passed let their legislators know how they feel at the Statehouse.

The issuance of bonds and notes in the amount of seven million dollars for the acquisition and development of lands for recreation and conservation purposes and governing the expenditure of money for such purposes. This bill is a sound well researched piece of legislation that if enacted will benefit all the people of the State. It would be unfortunate indeed if public apathy were mistaken for public non-support for minority bills such as these.

The bills introduced in both the House and Senate, First rate legislation requires time and research and therefore many pieces of good legislation never receive the public hearing in committee—let alone even a vote to the floor of the full House of Senate simply because the people do not let their representatives and senators know how they feel about issues. At time limitations of sixty-paid legislative days as prescribed by the state constitution require that legislative leaders establish priorities of legislation to be considered, many good needed pieces of legislation are put off for the simple reason that the people don't express themselves to their legislators. In practically every instance where I have expressed an opinion for a senator or a representative, I was treated very courteously by them and at least was given an explanation as to why they disagreed with proposed law (which are what bills are) I favored. One notable exception occurred last Friday when one legislator acted in a rude and arrogant manner in a telephone conversation. I imagine that it stands to reason that a free democratic society such as ours, an occasional occasion or two do manage to occur when the people enough of the time to get themselves elected to legislation. But on the whole, I have found most legislators very eager to meet with their constituents when they visit the State House to watch the House and Senate in session. Letters, phone calls, and personal visits to legislators by you or individual citizens expressing concern for a bill are highly effective because a legislator, who in Rhode Island must run for re-election every two years, knows that a person who is civic-minded and concerned enough to take a few minutes to write a letter, drop by the Statehouse or make a phone call is someone who usually votes in elections.

Under a recent reform implemented in Rhode Island, bills that never get reported out of committees during the first year's session of a term of the General Assembly are still considered "line bills" meaning that they don't have to be re-introduced. Only bills that are legislation that I mention this week would all die in committee, or would pass overwhelmingly and become law largely because of public apathy. A bill which if enacted would create a new voting group was not even prevented for study this week.

JEAN LAWSON: SNO'QUEEN '74

by Paul Carroll and Anne Vigneau

Tau Epsilon Phi and Alpha Theta Chi Fraternities co-sponsored the 25th annual Sno' Queen Pageant last Wednesday night in the Bryant auditorium. As usual, the place was packed with students in a raucous rowdy atmosphere that is the hallmark of the event. This year there were seven sultry Bryant coeds competing for the title of Sno' Queen, each representing a Fraternity. They were as follows: Kimberly Bill, representing Kappa Tau; Susanne Maddocks, Phi Epsilon Pi; Jean Lawson, Phi Sigma Nu; Kathleen O'Reilly, Tau Epsilon; Rhonda Schnee, Delta Sigma Phi; Tricia Ann Walsh, Delta Sigma Chi; and Debbie De Bartolo, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

The evening began with the introduction of the honored guests who served as judges. They were: Harry Evans, President of the College; Irene Rodriguez, WPRO-TV; Patricia Garnathy, Miss Rhode Island; Salty Brine, WPRI-AM; Charlie Jefferts, WJAR-Radio; and Gertrude Meth Hochberg, Bryant College. Each was given a warm, rousing welcome from the students, except for Dr. Evans, whose introduction brought forth boos and mixed applause.

Each girl, dressed in an evening gown, then entered the auditorium with her escort and was spotlighted down the aisle until she had been presented to the judges and reached the stage. After all the girls had been introduced, the most difficult part of the program; that of the question and answer period, began. Each girl was asked to randomly choose from a group of sealed envelopes, and one of the judges asked her the question inside. The topics ranged from animals to social life on campus, and were handled with ease by all. The girls were also asked to explain the statement, "There is little you can do with faith—there is nothing you can do without it."

Following the highlight of the evening, which was the sounding of the fire alarm during intermission, came the second part of the pageant, consisting of the bathing suit competition. Each girl, dressed in a one piece swimsuit, walked on stage, posed for pictures, and paraded for the judges. Not only were the candidates rated on their answers and appearance, but on their poise and personality.

The eagerly awaited results of the pageant were announced last night at "Follies Night," and Miss Jean Lawson of Warwick representing Phi Sigma Nu, was crowned "Sno' Queen." First runner-up was Miss Kathy O'Reilly and Miss Rhonda Schnee was second runner-up.

Licensing of Commercial Pesticide Applicators

The State Department of Natural Resources will hold several two-day workshops during February and March to prepare those who must be licensed as commercial pesticide applicators, according to Department Director Dennis J. Murphy, Jr.

Under the 1970 Rhode Island Pesticide Control Act, the Department of Natural Resources is responsible for licensing anyone who is hired to apply pesticide to someone else's property or who applies pesticides to a commodity produced for profit.

Mr. Murphy noted that he had met April 30 as the deadline for obtaining the license. Those requiring a license must have one by that date if they wish to use pesticides in their business this year.

The workshops, a cooperative effort between the Department of Natural Resources and the University of Rhode Island Cooperative Extension Service, will be held on two different days in each area. Attendees of both sessions will be given a copy of the law and, with the first, the examination.

Workshops will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and the review-examination will start at 9 a.m. on the second day.

The Greenville Grange will be the site of sessions on February 25 or 26, and on February 28 the examination day. Extension Agent Richard King has details at 844-0870.

The final sessions will be at the Cooperative Extension Service Center on Pierce Street, East Greenwich. Training will be available on either March 12 or 14 with the Review and test day set for March 15.

John Hannah, Southern Rhode Island Extension Agent, can be contacted at 792-2797.

Further information is available from the Cooperative Extension Service Agents, U.R.I. Pesticides Coordinator, Lincoln Pearson at 792-2797, and Local Coordinators of Natural Resources, 277-2782.
Kevin McGarry
President

My name is Kevin McGarry, a candidate for President of the Student Senate. Perhaps with the experience in planning and organizing events, strategies and experience already held in this position, it would be in order to clarify a few points.

First of all, a campaign is defined as a series of organized planned actions to further a particular purpose, for example, to elect a candidate. It is needless to say that my strategy has been geared towards the student body, not wanting any兼容性 and fairness with the intent of familiarizing myself with the student body—not resorting to the discreditting my opponent.

Despite criticism of my campaign being one of "pretend politics" and having been done "professionally," I must credit my campaign committee for all their effort and hard work in making my campaign a success. Although most of us are involved in the school's activities, we found and made time to work together to express an interest in my concern for the student senate and the future of Bryant.

Being President of the Student Senate would not be by no means an easy task. It takes time, leadership, effort, and experience. I have experienced it "where the issue involved here.

My opponent boasts "politics not promises," "experience," and "goals." First of all, I have the experience and can back up the inference that my campaign is based on promises. It is concerned with the interests of the students and the future of Bryant College.

I feel "experience" should not be attributed to committees that are other people's responsibilities (Faculty Senate, Buildings and Grounds Committee). Furthermore, the inability to cooperate with our committee chairpersons and the President of the Student Senate resulted in an increase of my opponent's power over the committee chairpersons of the Student Senate. My point then could be explained.

Rick Corrente
Vice President

My name is Rick Corrente and I am a candidate for the office of Vice President. I have been active in Student Senate for three years, and I have enough experience and knowledge to be an effective Vice President.

At the freshman Vice President of Rhode Island Island Jr. College, I instituted a 9-point parking plan which almost tripled the amount of parking facilities on the Providence campus.

Being the senator at Bryant, I have worked hard to help the students in many ways. I founded the B.O.O.R. to improve commuter and dorm student relations. I also helped the B.O.O.R. AUCIOH this semester saving hundreds of dollars on student dollars, and by the way I'll have another one early September, so be sure to look for me. I am now in the process of sponsoring a FOSTER CHILDREN'S FUND at the Bryant College Student Senate. Finally, I am working on a proposition to increase the GREEK LETTER COUNCIL BUDGET by 50%. I feel that the

President

The main duty of the Student Senate President as defined by the Student Senate Constitution is to "represent the Student Senate and the students personally to the Administration.

It is necessary for a senate president, even more than any other officer, to (1) know his college and the needs of the student body, (2) have experience working within the structure of our Student Senate, and (3) to have actively worked with our College administration. During the ongoing campaign I have not been able to display the vast quantity of papers as my competitor has. Because of my present involvement with the student senate and school politics, I quite simply do not have the time. I feel my time is better used representing the students and their views to the faculty and administration than spending unnecessary time and money with posters and other deceptions.

However, I do feel it is extremely important for the students to get to know the candidates, therefore, I publically asked my competitor for a debate in the ASCF. This would be a constructive method for the students to get to know the candidates, not in name only. However, he decided not to accept.

My experience with the Student Senate and politics started in 1977 as Freshman Senator and Chairman of Buildings and Grounds Committee. During my three years at Bryant, I have worked with practically all of the administrators and many of the faculty members. Since 1971, I have worked as senator, member of the College Committee for Computer Applications, member of the Faculty Evaluation Committee, Chairman of the Student Appeal Center, and presently President of Student Council Speaker of the Council.

This year I have been working on many student activities, including the new course registration procedure, dorm damage appeal, Appeal Center, and Faculty Evaluation. I feel it is important for the students to know some of my goals to improve Bryant College.

-A phone line recorder that would have cancelled classes recorded on it so students could call in on snowy days to find out if their classes have been cancelled before they leave the house. After 3 p.m. this line could be used for evening division classes.

-An increase in possible elective courses and academic programs.

-Developing a more comprehensive academic and non-academic counseling service for Bryant students. This could include free legal advice.

-Development of a lecture series and other cultural events for Bryant campus. Presently, Bryant has none to speak of.

-Continue development of the Student Senate and the student appeal center, and presently President of Student Speaker of the Council.

As a senator, I have worked hard to help the students in many ways. I have sponsored a FOSTER CHILDREN'S FUND at the Bryant College Student Senate. Finally, I am working on a proposition to increase the GREEK LETTER COUNCIL BUDGET by 50%. I feel that the G.L.C. is responsible for the student body and I believe they will agree to use these additional funds for the benefit all students, then we will do all that we can to see that they get them.

At Vice President, I will work hard for the student body, but I need your vote to get there. Please remember my name, Corrente, at election time.

Terry Curlew
Secretary

I, Terry Curlew, am running for the position of Student Senate Secretary. An efficient secretary can do much to keep an organization running smoothly. I hope to work with the officers and senators of our Student Senate to insure a well-organized, cooperative, and effective Student Senate. Having already served as a secretary in a volunteer capacity for the last six weeks, I feel that I have gained valuable insight and experience regarding some of the

Timothy J. Gilligan
Vice President

I am a Sophomore and I am running for the office of Vice President of Student Senate. The reason I am running is that I simply want to help the students here at Bryant College. I have, through involvement in many activities, become familiar with the problems such as food and dining hall conditions, parking and increased traffic, safety, and the lack of entertainment for the Bryant students. The problem which seems most evident is the disunity among the students. We students have a lot in common and need to gather our support. I will try to unite the commuter students and the dorm students so we all can benefit from and enjoy our years here at Bryant. I will try to give the students stronger voice in all duties involved in the position of Secretary. Add to this my experience as executive and clerical secretary in various summer positions for the past three years, and I feel I have all the necessary qualifications which will enable me to perform the duties of Secretary of our Student Senate.

I am willing to work to the best of my ability in order to fulfill the responsibilities of Secretary. I would greatly appreciate your support.

Terry Curlew
Michael Hammer Treauser

I wish to direct the following to the students at Bryant:

To: Michael Hammer, and I am a candidate for Student Senate Treasurer. The responsibilities of treasurer are quite complex. In order for the treasurer to do a good job:

1. He must know the inner workings of the Senate.
2. He must be experienced in the disbursement of money.
3. He must be an Accounting Major or a dedicated Accounting Major in ALX.
4. He must be familiar with the Senate Building and his duties within it.
5. He must be familiar with the budget of the Senate.
6. He must be knowledgeable about the Senate's activities and meetings.

I am running on a qualified basis, and not on campaign promises.

Tim Banning Treauser

My name is Tim Banning. I am a member of the sophomore class and am a candidate for the office of Treasurer of the Student Senate. Having been a member of the senate for four semesters and a coordinator of the Sophomore Orientation last year, I have become acquainted with the procedures of the office. Here at Bryant I have learned all of the accounting principles that are necessary for the proper functioning of this office.

As Treasurer of the student body funds, I will be in the position to make sure that our money will be used to benefit all students. I will try to keep the accounts for next year's budget a balance of top line movies, a concert, and other student activities and services.

Russell Powers Treauser

My platform is a very simple one. I am an accounting major and have had experience in the field and use of accounting methods. As a second semester sophomore (sic), I have worked with people for the past two years selling tickets to area concerts in the Rodunda and selling trips to Bermuda for the spring vacation.

In running my own business I have learned the importance of keeping books or records where funds have gone, and keeping up with good records. Experience is the key in the use of accounting principles and methods. This is the element which cannot be ignored. I have this experience to make the Treasurer's job a success; not only in the eyes of the senate members, but to all students as well.

It is very important to the success of a government to have the most qualified people in office. I ask you to vote with care in this election, it could make the difference.

Student Appeal Brings Cases To College Grievance Committee

Last Wednesday, Fred Leonard, Student Appeal Center Director, and Janice Salvatore, Chairperson of Dorm Damage Appeal, sent a letter to President Evarts requesting the College Non-Academic Grievance Committee to hear two cases concerning alleged dormitory damage because Student Affairs, in their words, "refused to hear any further appeal and we sincerely feel the students were unreasonable and/or illegally charged.

The College Grievance Committee is chaired by a student with members who are students, faculty, and administrators. They make recommendations directly to President Evarts. The cases in question occurred in 1972-'73 when Miss Elizabeth States was an Assistant to Dr. Fullerston, Vice President of Student Affairs.

Janice Salvatore, Chairperson of the Senate Committee to investigate the Dorm Damage Deposit, feels these are the first "of many" cases which will surface in the next few weeks.

Fred Leonard recently discussed these cases with lawyers in the Providence area. When questioned about this, Leonard said, "We cannot speak directly about those cases at this time;" -but "We have been advised that the College is standing on a very weak ground." He further stated that "the burden of proof is up to the College and the proof we have shown so far is not very convincing."

Leonard and Salvatore feel that damage in the dormitory is "inexcusable, and people who damage College property must pay for their actions." However, they feel that "the College went overboard in some instances."

An example was cited where six people were charged a total of $30 for damage to one drop in the ceiling tile (actual value around $2, no labor necessary) when the damage was actually present at the beginning of the college year.

Leonard and Salvatore are prepared to appeal these cases in Rhode Island Small Claims Court if the students do not receive full retribution after the college committee hears their case. (Please note that bringing an action to a Small Claims Court costs only $1.50 and you need not be represented by a lawyer.)

Leonard and Salvatore have been working on a vigorous investigation since October, 1973. The first problem that was encountered was to obtain a list of students who were charged during this time period. They requested from the office of Student Affairs a list "without dollars, just names" to start the investigation. Student Affairs which was to be sent to all students billed for damages. Student Affairs told Ms. Salvatore that the list contained "all students who were charged money for damages during the school year 1972-'73." All students on this list were sent a letter during last semester requesting them to reply if they felt they were charged unjustly.

Fred Leonard mentioned that last week it was brought to his attention to students that were charged money but were not on their supposedly accurate list supplied by Student Affairs. Both of these students felt they were unjustly charged.

Leonard does not feel this omission was deliberate; however, he would like to make sure "we have actually contacted all students concerned." Any student who has grievances about the dorm damages should stop by the Senate Office.

Some have been set for the College Grievance Committee to meet; however, a date early next week is expected.

Day of the Dolphin

by Bob Smith

Vaguely reminiscent of a combination between any Rin Tin Tin or Lassie film ever made is Mike Nichols' new film, DAY OF THE DOLPHIN. The team of Nichols and Buck Henry, who wrote a lacking screenplay as adapted from the better novel of the same name by Robert Merit, appear to have strung the satirical quality of their combined efforts in such past films as Catch 22.

The story revolves around two types of people, Alpha and Beta, who are being trained to speak English by a marine biologist, George C. Scott. Two forces are at work in this film—the childlike innocence of these aquatic mammals who appear to symbolize all the pristine qualities of trust and loyalty which are purported to be absent from the sinister world of the humans, and the malarky and tricks of a group of men who kidnap the two dolphins and program them to detone the pleasure yacht of a U.S. President.

In this time of Watergate and virtually unresolved assassinations of key public figures, the plausibility of such a venture is all too depressing to the extent of being in the proximity of reality.

The theme of the film is quite simple: dolphins are good, man is evil...man should not taint the environment of these innocent creatures. In the dialogue of the film Scott remarks, "We should have become like what they are—all instinct and energy. Yet it is Scott who introduces them to his world by teaching them to speak his language.

Perhaps the most intriguing of the film lies in the fact that Nichols extracts a plastic compassionate feeling from his audience. He employs an age-old recipe—man taking advantage of a more innocent, less confused intellect—to extract a manufactured pity for the plight of the dolphins. As Alpha croons "Pha loves Pa," one gets the feeling that Nichols shares very little of this tear-jerking sentiment. An absence of direction coupled to sentimentality seems to permeate the most heart-rendering sequences of the instant exploitation seems imminent.

Now playing at the Cinerama Theatre, Hope Street, Providence.

Crosby, Martin, Shearing & Whiting

Stars of "Big Band Cavalcade"

Bob Crosby, Freddy Martin, George Shearing and Margaret Whiting are the stars of "Big Band Cavalcade," the Columbia Artists Festivals Corp. production that will re-create in person his greatest hits during an evening of musical memories at the Veteran's Auditorium on March 6.

Such memorable sounds as Martin's "Tonight We Love," Crosby's "Big Noise from Winnetka," George Shearing's "Lullaby of Birdland" as well as "September in the Rain," and Whiting's "Moonlight in Vermont" will characterize the mood of the show. The stars will be supported by 15 musicians recruited from the ranks of their original bands for this 12-week national tour. Each lead will take his turn conducting this aggregation through a generous sampling of his own modern classics. Martin will conduct the production's finale, a montage of memorable hits of such other great bands as Benny Goodman, Glen Gray, Tommy Dorsey, Harry James and Woody Herman. Miss Whiting, Miss Shearing's contribution to this revival of big band sounds will be selected from among the dozen hits which earned her Gold Records because they each sold over a million copies.

The "Big Band Cavalcade" production was inspired by Martin. He suggested that the current resurgence of national interest in recordings of the '30s and '40s dictated in-person performances of the big band sounds, as well. Columbia agreed and plans for a national tour followed. The subsequent choices of Crosby, Shearing and Miss Whiting to join Martin resulted when Columbia determined that this line-up would offer a comprehensive view of the styles of the period.

Martin, who became the leader of his first band in 1931, is the veteran of the line-up. Through all the trends in popular music since then, Martin's very special brand of music has never been out of demand. Often called the "Godfather of the sweet band," Martin's crew produced such lasting hits as "War whoop," "Why Don't You Do This More Often?" and "Hot Spot Song," all featuring the leader's "histrionic" saxophone.

Crosby, after serving his apprenticeship as vocalist with such luminaries as Alton Weeks and the Dorsey Brothers, took over leadership of the old Ben Pollack Band in 1925. The Crosby crew made its lasting imprint on the big band era with its unique Dixieland Swing style which brought fame, as well, to the band within the band, the Bob Cats.

Shearing was a highly successful pianist, arranger and composer in his native London's supper clubs, on the concert stage in both jazz and classical prediction at an early age. While still in his twenties he landed a contract with Decca Records and became one of the top-selling recording stars in Britain.

Congenially blind, his only formal education consisted of four years of study at the London Lodge School for the Blind.

In 1947, Shearing, his wife and daughter came to the United States. He spent two long years re-establishing his fame on this side of the Atlantic. But his Shearing Quintet, recording of "September in the Rain" for MGM established him as an overnight success. Many of his compositions, which number over one hundred, have long become "standards" in the pop field.

Miss Whiting can claim the title of the youngest of the great recording stars. She made her professional debut at the age of 12 with Gordon Jenkins. Her extraordinary career has continued uninterrupted, ranging from the record charts, to nights clubs, television and the legitimate stage. Once recent season, for example, she starred in the off-Broadway production "Do It Again" in which she sang a panorama of George Gershwin melodies.

All of the stars in "Big Band Cavalcade" have in fact held their own in the entertainment spotlight through the years since their initial successes. Martin is still in demand for tours and special performances. Crosby continues to display his talents in television and on film.

TICKETS for "Big Band Cavalcade" concert at the Vet's Auditorium and available from Miss Luciana-Lena Rosapepe, Bryant students can get tickets for $2.25. Low-priced tickets are being made available by the Ticket Endowment Program of the Rhode Island State Council on the Arts. The order deadline is February 28. Sign up with Miss Rosapepe or phone the Ticket Endowment Office at 884-3051.

(E) Hollywood: -"The Exorcist" is breaking all box office records in the United States, and its producers predict it will surpass the $105-million earned by the most successful picture of all time. "The Godfather.

The movie dealing demonic possession has spurred a national craze over the ancient rites of exorcism and a preoccupation with the devil.

Lines in front of theaters are the longest in memory. Scores of fans have vomited and fainted while watching the film - aavenous version of William Peter Blatty's novel about a 12-year-old girl who undergoes a Catholic exorcism ritual in chilling scenes of violence, flight, and the worst ugliness heard on the screen.

From across the country, doctors and the Roman Catholic Church - along with other denominations - report virtually hundreds of cases of demonism, poltergeists, possession and hysteria.

Director William Friedkin denies it is in mass hysteria.

He says, "People are just over-reacting. People are trying to draw attention to themselves. I heard a report some people in Chicago and Detroit were put under restraint in hospitals because of the picture. I don't believe it."

But there have been sufficient incidents to encourage NATIONAl NEWS MAGAZINES to devote columns of space to the phenomenon. So far "The Exorcist" has earned $10-million in only 20 cities.

The most publicized case of possession and exorcism came from the South Bronx where the Reverend Karl Pazzl performed exorcism rites to expel a devil from a little and their two-year-old child.

Says Father Pazzl, "There are more cases than we think, and many of those in mental institutions do not belong there-they belong in the hands of a priest."

Author Blatty, himself educated in Catholic schools, says his book is based on a well-documented case of exorcism in the eastern United States in 1949. His research into Church archives was approved by Catholic officials, and some priests worked on the film.

The case involved a 14-year-old boy from Maryland who suffered unaccountable pains and mysterious curbs in ancient languages he could not have known.

The ceremony of exorcism eventually fixed him of possession.

Most Protestant leaders call the interest absurd. The Reverend Billy Graham has denouced the picture without having seen it.

In Los Angeles, Bishop John Ward says the furor over exorcism borders on mass hysteria and is being blown out of proportion. Says the Bishop: ... "I'm not approving or disapproving of exorcism. It's a fact that the devil does exist and there is a Roman Catholic ritual dealing with prayer to evil spirits."

The priest who acted as technical adviser for the film, Father John Nicolas - now on assignment in Rome—says, "I don't think I would release the film to the general public if it were up to me because of the dangers of hysteria. I think it could rival what we had in Europe in the Middle Ages with the St. Vitus Dance."

The second cut, an Al Green tune called "It Ain't Nothing To Me," gets off to a good start; but by the end, a lot of the good vibes and momentum have been lost somewhere.

The only other really outstanding batch of the album are back-to-back on side two-"Can you Handle It" and "People," either of which would make a fine single.

But Meyer says he has a hunch that the shortcomings of the album are only temporary. The band is just one year old, and had been together only months when they went into the studio. And so there's a possibility they may be able to put themselves across on record, just as they probably will when they start to leave the Family Stone for good. Graham says nearly everything the band has done is a crying shame.

It's music that is hard-driving, exciting, soothing, and sublimely all at the same time. And--as is the case in this particular band--the band is better at it than anybody right now, including its former mentor.

The Family Stone would rather not be compared with others, but Graham doesn't mind the comparison very much:

"I don't mind comparing our music to anybody, really--as long as it's in the running, that's cool," Graham says. "I think they can do a lot of things in the same group that was in that one (The Family Stone), 'cause I haven't changed that much by playing."

Graham writes nearly everything the band's material, sings with a purity, and brings four things into a band that is in that one (The Family Stone), 'cause I haven't changed that much by playing.

He shreds loud vocal dubs with Patrice "Chocolate" Bank. Bank also helps take care of guitar, Hermin Kennedy on clarinet and trumpet, Robert Sam on organ and synthesizer, and others.

One out of five people who take part in the album examination for a California driver's license fails the test--sometimes in spectacular fashion. It's the monumental failures who make the state's 400 driving examiners a butt uneasy the 20 or so times a day each gets into a car with a test taker and watches him or her struggle.

Examiners say some of their experiences with license applicants are mildly amusing but occasionally they are downright terrifying.

One examiner, now retired and who asked that his name not be used, says he always figured he would end up in a cemetery because of the nature of the job but wasn't too happy about getting there.

He almost made it when he asked a female license applicant to demonstrate her parking ability. She backed up over the curb, across the sidewalk, through a chain-link fence, down a goofy slope and across a beautifully landscaped garden area before her car came to a headstone in the community cemetery.

Department of Motor Vehicles examiners are not always sure who the applicant is going to take them.

Examiner David Hamero tells this story: "I had barely gotten my prepared speech finished: 'Good afternoon. Please relax. This won't take long.' Then he backs up across the hood of the car and I discovered that my examiner had driven straight through the wall into the men's room of the examination building."

How About The Braves

By Rich Magee

Bob McAdoo, Jim McMillian, Garfield Heard, Randy Smith, and Ernie DiGregorio have the potential to dominate the brash face-off of the Buffalo Braves. Bob McAdoo is proving beneficial to the Braves. He had a much needed boost for the team. The absence of Garfield Heard was not felt in the second and third periods. Randy Smith had a strong game, making Buffalo look weak. Ernie DiGregorio had a great game, scoring a goal for the team.

The Braves rebuilding program began after head coach and general manager Jack Ramsey. The Bulls-Philadelphia coaches have shuffled players in and out of the team in an attempt to build a cohesive unit. Ramsey drafted 6'10" giant Elmore Smith in 1971. He believed Smith would develop into a rugged center. Yet, Ramsey had to build the team around him.

A N.B.A. hard draft proposal was approved. The proposal was beneficial to the Braves. Ramsey immediately sought the right s to North Carolina's sensational junior, Bob McAdoo. McAdoo came to the team and proceeded to win the Rookie of the Year award. Buffalo had one of the biggest front courts in basketball. McAdoo, McMillian, and McAdoo, and mean Bob McAdoo.

The guard position was the team's biggest weakness. Buffalo State's Randy Smith signed with the Braves. His inability to control the Braves attack hurt him. The team was found to be weak in the second and third periods. McAdoo came to the team and proceeded to win the Rookie of the Year award. Buffalo had one of the biggest front courts in basketball. McAdoo, McMillian, and McAdoo, and mean Bob McAdoo.

Then came Ernie DiGregorio. Ramsey drafted Ernie D. of Providence College. The all-American signed for a report of $2.5 million dollars. He was given the job of floor general for the Braves offense.

As the '73-74 year opened, it seemed the Braves were ready to challenge the league with Elmore Smith at center, Ernie DiGregorio, and Randy Smith in the backcourt, and Bob Kaufman along with Bob McAdoo at the forward position. But Ramsey knew his bench was weak. In a bizarre move he acquired Garfield Heard from the Chicago Bulls. Heard is an excellent rebounder and a good offensive player. Ramsey proceeded to shock Buffalo for a trade. Elmore Smith to the Los Angeles Lakers, (who were in desperate need of a center because of Wilt Chamberlain's decision to jump to the A.B.A.), for forward Jim McMillian. McMillian is one of the best shooting forwards in the league. This was Ramsey's biggest gamble. He believed Bob McAdoo would be able to take over the center position a la Dave Cowens. The '73-74 season began with the lineup of DiGregorio, Smith, Heard, McMillian, and McAdoo.

The question was how many goals would Bryant score? Dave Sutherland started the second period scoring parade by notching his first goal of the evening. Soud took passes from Daley and Pirioli, and Bryant had a four goal margin. Dan Webster and Bob Wareham added tallied midway through the period, as the Roger Williams defense took a vacation. Daley and Pirioli closed out the second period scoring goal by converting a Sutherland feed at 15:27.

The third period featured the domination of the Indians and the hattricks Mike Pirioli and Tim Daley. Pirioli connected for the "hat" at 5:58. Stationed in front of the Hawk cage, Mike easily swept into the net a loose Bryant rebound. After Rick Moniz scored at 7:34, Daley picked up his third tally of the contest.

The game opened in the second and third periods for the Indians, and N.B.A.'s Eastern division wild card playoff team. Their biggest challenge for a play in the Atlanta Hawks, but it appears the Braves will outlast them. Boston will be the last leg of the trip. This creates a problem because Buffalo has failed to defeat the Celtics in the history of the team. Buffalo's offensive machine is capable of beating anybody when warmed up. Look for the Celtics to outlast the Braves because of playoff experience. In any event, Jack Ramsey deserves the Coach of the Year Award. His Buffalo Braves are the National Basketball Association's team of the future.

The puck deflected off the back mesh, hit the crossbar on the way down, and bounced behind a startled Luigan for the goal. Since Rick Moniz was closest to the puck at the time of the goal, he was credited with the score. The other Hawk goals in the game were recorded by Rupert Ramsey and Paul Proulx. Captain Phil Correese played his final home game in a Bryant uniform by allowing a pair of insignificant goals in the first and third periods. Tom Yandow was responsible for the Ramsey goal in the second period. Tom had his first start of the season against Stonehill on Saturday, and recorded an 11-6 victory. The Daley line had an incredible 21 points on the night; undoubtedly a new Indian record. Finally, the Pirioli and Daley hattricks marked the final time Bryant markmen have connected for two hats in the same game.

Indian Duo Takes Eastern Doubles

The Bryant tandem of sophomore, Joe Kubiskey, and freshman, Ken McKenzie captured first place in the Eastern Intercollegiate Bowling Conference Double Championships at Bowmore, New York City, this past Sunday. The "super duo" combined for an eight game total of 3095 pins. The Bryant total was 60 pins better than the second place finisher Drexel. Drexel amassed a total pin fall of 3035, and the Redmen of St. John were right behind them with a 3015 total.

Kubiskey, a native of Pawtucket and McKenzie, a Warwick resident, were on top from the first game of the tournament. Joe averaged a phenomenal 199.1 per game, while McKenzie contributed an even more impressive considering he was on crutches until Thursday. Joe had sustained a knee injury, and there was considerable doubt whether he would be ready in time for the tournament.

Without a doubt, Eastern Doubles Title is perhaps the greatest jewel that any Indian Bowling Team has ever won. The sixteen team field was composed of such notable as Villanova, Iona, West Point, the University of Massachusetts, Rutgers, and Worcester Poly. A second Bryant duo in the competition finished an outstanding seventh overall. Bob Foster and Bill McKee just missed the first day cut by falling just 30 pins behind the sixth place team.

All of the semifinalists had all qualified for the tournament by regional rolloffs held throughout the East Coast. Kubiskey - McKenzie and Foster - McKee scored 3056 and 3024 respectively in the eight game qualifying sets. The tandems were joined by a duo from the University of Massachusetts as the New England representatives in the classic. By winning the championship, Joe Kubiskey and Ken McKenzie automatically qualify for next year's event. Also Joe and Ken finished one-two in best individual performance.

to the ECAC Division III Team of the Week for the fourth consecutive time. Also paying tribute to the "A 10th" forward was Frank Lanning of the Providence Journal. "Bryant's Brilliant Pacemaker" will be counted upon to lead the attack in scoring, but the long playoff schedule ahead is not a task for one player alone. Charlie Armstrong, Rob Hammel, Walt Washington, and Ned Bohan are just as much a part of the team's success.

Tonight the team travels to Maine, and will be hosted by St. Francis. While North, the cagers also take on Hapsen, Saturday, in another Nainsmith Conference game. The regular season slab concludes Thursday night, as Bryant hosts nationally ranked Bentley. Bryant has fallen victim to the Falcons the past two times overtime games. Possible television coverage may be broadcast on Channel 36, WSBE on a videotape delay.

Captain Rick Shanley wished to thank the students, faculty, administration, staff, and Board of Trustees for their loyal support during the winning season. The team only hopes that the support will be displayed for the remainder of the season and during the playoffs.
Coach Tom Folliard is congratulated on his 100th victory at Bryant by Dr. Harry Evarts Tuesday night.

Spirits are high, enthusiasm is spreading, and people are buzzing over the past victories and apparent playoff berths ahead. Four more victories in the last week stretches the win total to twelve consecutive. The last triumph, was a record breaker of sorts for Bryant. Coach Tom Folliard guided the team to his 100th career victory. Winning seems to be a tradition for the Coach, as Bryant seeks its fourth Naismith Conference title in Follard's six years as the Indian's mentor. This weekend, Bryant travels to Naismith final game Monday at the Smithfield campus.

Traveling to Wenham, Massachusetts, last Thursday, Bryant clashed forces with Gordon College in a conference game. Dave Soraﬁne scored 34 points and grabbed 26 rebounds in the 93-71 victory. The Scots trailed from the tip-off as playmaker Ned Bohan effectively ran the Indian attack. Replacements (as opposed to substitutes) Tom Dupont and Paul Melvin hit for double ﬁgures, as all ten suited team members played.

The only close game Bryant had all week was against rival Rhode Island College. Tom Dupont's superb play and extra efforts bolstered the Indian attack, as the 6'2" Waterbury, Connecticut resident scored 14 points and grabbed 12 rebounds. Five Indian scores tallied double ﬁgures, as freshman Walt Washington led the team with 15. Washington's howitzers from the three-point line brought the game out of reach for Bryant. Bob Hambell also hit from downtown, mostly on passes from Ned Bohan.

Bryant held a 12-4 lead over Waterbury, but the Indians (16-68) have been working on better defense for the second consecutive time in an overtime game. The dejected players lost their next two games but have since won twelve straight.

Bryant's mainstays are Brian Hammel, Marty Bricketto, Tom Cockill, Mark Shua, and Al Greenleaf. Coach A. Shidle's has respect for Bryant's performances in the past, and has to be worried about the game.

Bentley is currently ranked 2nd in the weekly UPI Coaches poll. Maybe with a victory on Thursday, the team will enter the tournament playoffs as one of the top five teams in New England. Any win against a televised Bryant College game is a step in the right direction.

Wednesday Night vs. Bentley

by Steve Sadetsky

Monday night, Bryant defeated Stonehill at the North Easton, Massachusetts campus. Again it was Dave Soraﬁne who led in points (32) and rebounds (15). Soraﬁne, however, was not the one man show often reﬂected in box scores. Charlie Armstrong hustled from backcourt to forecourt grabbing eight rebounds. Rob Hammel worked for his 18 points and contributed a half-dozen rebounds. The victory over Stonehill may prove invaluable in the selection of teams in post-season play.

Tuesday night, Bryant was led by Southeastern Massachusetts University 110-71. It was a far cry from the overtime victory earlier this year. Dave Soraﬁne dominated the offensive end of the court once more, scoring a career high 45 points. Soraﬁne, the fifth

Dave Soraﬁne scored 45 of Bryant's 110 points in Tuesday night's victory over Southeastern Massachusetts. He is currently the 5th leading scorer in the Nation (NCAA Division II).
SWIMMING TEAM REVIEW

The seldom recognized Bryant College Swim Team terminated their six meet schedule against a strong S.M.U. crew, on Friday, February 15, bowing 70 to 39. The final roster at seasons end had just nine varsity athletes including one female swimmer, comprising the entire 1973-74 squad. I think it appropriate at this time to recognize all of the people who organized and worked hard for the underprivileged Indian Swim Team. Coach Gerald Sussman swam the following athletes in the five intercollegiate dual meets and during the one tri-meet (equivalent to a double-meet, two recorded separate decisions). The varsity swimmers are Senior Jeff Millman, Junior Joe Haydu, Sophomore and the two Co-captains, Craig Bogar, and Art Burrows; Mark Rafferty, Paul Brown; Lynne Kemp, the lone female mermaid, and Freshmen Henry Lightbourne and Tom Delaney.

The three acting managers and statisticians who also functioned as timekeepers at the numerous practices are Tim Seback, Sue Sharpe, and Dorothy Aspinal. Coach Sussman feels the latter threesome accomplished many of the vital and intricate tasks needed for a well balanced team.

On Saturday, February 2, Bryant traveled to Boston, Massachusetts, to compete with the rival Boston College Eagles, in the Indoor Sports Complex. Outstanding performances were turned in by Bryant's Burrows with a second in the 200-yard breaststroke and similarly placed in the 440-yard medley, Lightbourne, who resides locally in the Bahamas, finished second in his specialty event, the 50-yard freestyle, and third in the 100 free. Bogar placed in the 50 and 1000-yard freestyle swims. Highlighting the clash was Diver Haydu, the sole "glamour jumper" on the roster with victories of both the one and three-meter diving boards.

On Saturday, the 9th, Bryant collided against two foes, Lowell Tech and Assumption. The result was a split decision as the Indians waved right over Assumption, of Worcester, Massachusetts, and fell drastically short of Tech. The winning score was 69-33 and the loss an 84-23 defeat. The 400-yard medley relay team of Brown, Haydu, Bogar, and Delaney dominated in a time of 4:59. Bogar and Rafferty placed one, two in the 1,000-yard freestyle, and separately Mark took the 200 butterfly event and anchored the triumphant 400-yard freestyle relay foursome in 4:03.5. The other three included Lightbourne, Delaney, and Bogar. The individual winners were Lightbourne in the 50 and 100 free, Burrows in the 200 medley and breaststroke and Bogar proved his mastery in the 500 freestyle. Jeff Millman swam third in the 100 free and 200 backstroke while Brown placed second in the same event as well as the 50. Joe Haydu clinched the one meter dive event with a remarkable 96 points.

There were few significant and positive results for Bryant swimmers when they opposed Lowell Tech as the final tally indicates. Henry Lightbourne produced the visitors exclusive freestyle success capturing the 100 yards in 57.5 seconds and Art Burrows earned a win at his best distance and stroke, the 200 breast stroke in 2:48. The remaining points were scattered between four-second place positions and five third-finishes, among six "watermen."

The last encounter of the season was an experience for the youthful Bryant team which took place on February 15 at S.M.U. in a dual meet at the Cougars home in North Dartmouth, Massachusetts. Sparkling achievements in a losing cause belonged to Art Burrows for his fine 2:49.5 in the 200 breast, and expert diver, Haydu trailed in the same race and directly succeeded his teammate to the last side. Joe placed third in the one-meter dive.

A great many obstacles for the promotion of advancing this year's Bryant Swim Team was responsible because of the lack of funds. Members of the team are just now receiving personal shirts, with the subsidizing coming from their own pockets. The necessary supplies and equipment, crucial for supporting a prominent team with any acknowledgement of an admirable reputation is absent. Deficiencies at the pool itself, were large in number: an unmounted pace clock, the poor structure of the pool, possessing just two adequate lanes, curved sides, ladders mounded in interrupting positions, and the 17-yard distance for the length of the entire swim, is far short of the 25-yard standard measurement. Transportation is provided by the team members themselves, with gas and meal money of a fixed amount acquired for all meets. Obviously, there exists no home meets. Increased burdens although they may appear minute, nature are the facts that the diving board is literally a plank, which is too small for actual practice, and swimsuits are purchased by each person.

A failure by the Athletic Department to grant kickboards and leg-bands, simple but yet useful items, are one of the multitude of disappointments experienced by the defeated team. A select few representing the team, served as truthful and honest spokesmen while I harped out the brief history of the past one win, five loss season. They expressed an interest in having more access in utilizing a video-tape machine for the purpose of analyzing their recent actions in the pool. The facilities of Bryant's opposition are far superior and the quality of other teams are nearly the toughest in our region of colleges and universities. A common complaint stated concerning the excess amount of chlorine mixed into the water a widely known fact around the college.

The diligent team members wish to relate their desire to have a chance to practice in a standardized pool, geographically located nearby with facilities equal or relatively comparable to other collegiate teams.

Optimism grew in the early stages of the young season but failed to materialize according to a team consensus, because of a clear lack of motivation. No doubt the depressed team was forced into a condition like this due to several of the previously noted reasons. A conclusion, next year's team expects a great deal more cooperation from the Bryant College Athletic Department.

Coach Sussman

Swimmers of the Week for the final three meets are Joe Haydu, Art Burrows, and Craig Bogar.

Next week watch for a short article on the swim meet in which the official listing of all-time Bryant College Swim Team records. By the way, all but two past records were wiped out by this year's courageous swimmers.
