Peace Will Come 'Within a Matter of Weeks or Less'
by United Press International

(Washington)—One more meeting...and it could all be over...America's longest war.
A rather tense Henry Kissinger today briefed reporters in the White House on the terms of a negotiated settlement to the Vietnam War...an agreement lacking only clarification of specific details, and signature, for it to take immediate effect.
A radio Hanoi broadcast Wednesday night revealed the meat of the nine-point cease-fire agreement...and accused the US of delaying next Tuesday's signing ceremony.
White House negotiator Kissinger called the briefing to explain that the US considered one more negotiating session...the date and place to be set by Hanoi...as necessary before of agreement
Vietnam as recognized by the negotiations came on October 8th in Paris
when the Communists agreed to work for a separate military settlement before a political agreement. Dr. Kissinger also denied the point to be decided is whether South Vietnam will participate in the ceremony.
Kissinger says the breakdown in the negotiations came on October 8th in Paris
when the Communists agreed to work for a separate military settlement before a political agreement. Dr. Kissinger also denied the timing of the settlement...just days before the Presidential election...was tied to partisan political strategy.

Main points of agreement in Vietnam, according to the
1. The United States respects the independence, sovereignty, unity, and territorial integrity of Vietnam as recognized by the 1954 Geneva Agreements.
2. Twenty-four hours after the signing of the agreement, a cease-fire shall be observed throughout South Vietnam. The United States will stop all its military activities, and end the bombing and mining in North Vietnam. Within 60 days, there will be a total withdrawal from South Vietnam of troops and military personnel of the United States and those of the foreign countries allied with the United States and the Republic of (South) Vietnam.
3. The return of all captured and detained personnel of the parties shall be carried out simultaneously with the US troop withdrawal.
4. The South Vietnamese shall exercise the right of self-determination through genuinely free and democratic elections.

The terms of the peace agreement announced by Hanoi include...an immediate cessation of hostilities in Vietnam and an end to the US bombing and blockade of the North within 24 hours of the signing...complete withdrawal of all US forces from the South—but not from offshore or the rest of Indochina—within 60 days, and the return of all prisoners of war in that period...and the establishment of a National Reconciliation Commission— not a coalition government—to direct national elections in the South.
The US has halted most of its bombing of the north as an indication of its good faith in the negotiations.
The main obstacle to peace now appears to lie in Saigon. President Thieu doesn't want the US to press for a peace agreement...or a coalition government. The South Vietnamese delegation in Paris has demanded formal guarantees against a Communist takeover or cease-fire violations.

But Kissinger says he is confident Saigon will join in signing the agreement...and that at long last...Peace Will Come—in his words—"Within a matter of weeks or less."

Mr. & Miss Personality
Voting Today

Last night marked the beginning of the 13th Annual
Mr. and Miss Personality Week sponsored by the brothers of Beta Sigma Chi and the sisters of Sigma Lambda Thea. Sigma Lambda theretofore cordially invite everyone to attend.
Personality Weekend has been considered by many of the students to be the best weekend at Bryant. The sponsors hope and expect that this weekend will surpass all previous Personality Weekends. They are convinced that it will provide a delightful time for all who attend.
The crowning of Mr. and Miss Personality will be held tonight at theetta Club Route 104 in Smithfield, beginning at 8:30 and
featuring Blind Minute
Tickets are $3.50 per couple.
The candidates for Mr.
and Miss Personality are judged on their appearance, poise, ability to answer questions, ability to handle themselves in a given situation, and, of course their overall personality. The judges' voting will count 60% and student voting, which will take place in the Rotunda between 10:00 and 3:00 p.m., will count 40%.

McGovern Teach-In Held
Faculty Members
Denounce Nixon
And His Policies
by Bob Rhault
Members of the faculty conducted a teach-in, this past Wednesday in the Rotunda. The purpose of the teach-in was to enlighten us to the occurring ways of Richard Milhous Nixon.
The topics of the teach-in ranged from the erosion of civil liberties to the complete destruction of the Supreme Court by the Nixon Administration. An interesting point was brought to attention by Professor Joseph Hagon, one of Sargent Shriver's former aides. Mr.
Hagon charged that the U.S. will enter into one of its most frightening periods in its history if Nixon is re-elected. Nixon has already estranged himself from the American people through his use of secret plans, treaties, documents, investigations, etc. Nixon has done all this with anticipation of getting re-elected. Can you imagine the political manipulation which will occur if this action is re-elected and does not have to worry about popular opinion, because he cannot be elected to a third term
But the Watergate incident is any preview of what is to come, really don't care to witness or live through what will follow.
It is Mr. Hagon's opinion that,
"in the next four years we will see the real Richard Nixon."
Mr. William Sweeney, professor of economics,
professed an anti-Nixon viewpoint based on several interesting facts. Sweeney, who attended the Paris Peace

Oklahoma Senator Fred Harris held a news conference at Bryan, on Tuesday, while on a campaign swing through New England for Senator George McGovern. Harris attacked President Nixon on the issues of Vietnam, defense spending and proposed tax cuts. Prior to the news conference, the Senator met with the Editors of The ARCHWAY and representatives of area college student governments.
Editorialy Speaking

No Second Chance

Traditionally, THE ARCHWAY has maintained a neutral political position and refused to endorse candidates for any office. Now, after careful analysis of our current political crisis, we can no longer sit quietly and ignore the dictates of our conscience.

When today's seniors entered college, we had just elected a President who had a secret plan to end the Vietnam war. Now, four years later, he is still President, and we are still fighting in Southeast Asia. He had a plan to bring the U.S. economy to new height. We now have a wage freeze, but not a profit freeze. He spoke of full employment, and we are now experiencing the highest unemployment rate in twenty years. He spoke honest, open government; and now we find the Democratic Headquarters were bugged by members of the Committee to Reelect the President. Can we afford to support this man and allow him to run our country for more than four years? We think not.

It is essential now that everyone goes out and supports those candidates who speak out against the policies of the Nixon/Kissinger Administration. And so, we, the undersigned, endorse and support the presidential campaign of George McGovern.

In the Senatorial contest, the ARCHWAY has decided to endorse the re-election campaign of Senator Claiborne Pell. Senator Pell has consistently been a proponent of Federal aid to education and environmental protection.

His opponent, John Chafee, was a member of Nixon's cabinet as Secretary of the Navy. It was in this capacity that he recommended the mining of North Vietnamese ports. How can he now state he is against the war?

The Political Touchdown

As our paper goes to print, word is coming over our UPI wire to the effect that a peaceful settlement may be reached between the United States and the North Viet Namese government; thusly, we are seeing the touchdown of a President who is directly responsible for the needless continual killing. As determined by the UPI, our students who watched the war grow since childhood, allow a President who, in this paper's opinion, has no political football. Gratified to know that the conflict half around the world may soon be over, we will praise the man who will bring peace.

An Alarming Situation

Dear Editor,

I have a small grievance about the fire alarm system in the Dorms. The subject of this letter concerns the loudness of the fire alarms. I realize that most of the students would rather not hear the alarms because they ring so frequently, but in a case of a real fire, these alarms can not be heard in the suites that do not have alarm horns. If your suite door is closed and your bedroom door is closed it is difficult to hear the alarm, and if you have a stereo on, you might as well forget it. I have talked to many students who have slept right through fire alarms and were surprised to hear of the alarm going off the next morning. The alarms are badly located and two alarms to one floor just isn't enough. If the architects wanted to use only two alarms, they should have placed them in the halls or between the fire-doors where both suites could hear them. I have an alarm in my suite and have no problem hearing it, but when the alarm system went off last week in my dorm, we had to go next door to wake up the guys who live there. Also it is the school's policy to evacuate the Dorms after the alarm goes off. If the students would try to understand this policy and leave on their own accord, it would be a great deal easier on the RA's and security personnel who must check each room before they are allowed to leave the building.

I am writing to the Archway in the hopes that this letter would get published and the problems concerning the alarm system could be brought to the attention of the administration.

Name withheld by request.

Concerts At Bryant

To whom it may concern (namely, the Student Senate, Fantasma Productions, and a number of other people):

It is unfortunate that there will be no more concerts at Bryant. But it is even more unfortunate that there are people who fail to realize the true reason for this disaster. If Fantasma, the Greeks, and Robert "Skip" Chernow would stop bringing so many second rate groups to this campus, maybe there would be some concerts that could be called successes! Seriously, we do not think that anyone could argue the fact that almost all of the concerts at Bryant have consisted of either partially or totally unheard of groups, or those which are in a state of rest after their momentary popularity has withered away.

How can you expect to attract even a small crowd with such well known (?) groups as McKendree Spring, Elf, and NRBPQ? Do you really think anyone would risk four dollars (keep in mind, we're poor) to see these groups when we can see Chicago at U.R.I. or the James Gang at the Palace Theater for five dollars? Come on, wake up!

The "three nights of music" sponsored by Phi Epsilon Pi proved to be the best concert of the semester. "Yes" was very impressive, but unfortunately, everything has been downhill since their performance. The Spring Weekend definitely lacked the names which would draw a good crowd, and again, many people left dissatisfied and disappointed. Do you really think the bill for the Fall Weekend could psyche these same people up enough to make them want to return to Bryant? We all know that the answer is "Forget it!"

So, to all of you concert promoters who blame your financial disasters on "lack of student participation," just remember that you can blame yourselves for "LACK OF STUDENT INTEREST!"

Sincerely,

THE DIGUSTED MAJORITY

P.S. The Fabulous Rhinestones?
You've got to be kidding!!!
Hartz Speaks At Delta Omega Dinner

Kathy Grimes, Paul Hartz, and Dr. Harry Evarts
On Tuesday evening, October 17, the Delta Omega Professional Society sponsored its first dinner of the year. Approximately 85 people attended this event, which was held at the Admiral Inn in Carmel. It was a successful event that was enjoyed by all, especially the large number of freshmen that attended. The guest speaker, Paul Hartz, who is president of Fram Corporation, gave a very informative talk. The question and answer period that followed was enlightening. Delta Omega has another dinner scheduled for early December. They are also planning to raffle a basket of cheer, which will be drawn just before Christmas. Any board member will be happy to answer questions pertaining to these two events.

Evarts Named Director Of Peoples Bank

Dr. Harry F. Evarts, president of Bryant College, has been named to the board of trustees of The Peoples Savings Bank. He fills a seat on the board left vacant by the resignation of James N. Byers Sr. because of business and personal commitments.

President Evarts earned his Bachelor's degree at Ohio University in 1951, and his Master of Science degree at the same institution the following year. He took his doctorate at Harvard University's Graduate School of Business Administration in 1959, majoring in Production Management.

A methods and standard engineer in the Packard Electric Division of General Motors Corporation for three years, he was an industrial engineer with the Gardner Board and Carton Company of Middletown, Ohio, for two years. His military service includes two years in the United States Army Field Artillery, with fifteen months spent in Korea.

Eugene McCarthy to Visit Bryant

Former Senator Eugene McCarthy, one of the U.S.'s first and strongest critics of the Vietnam War, is coming to Bryant College on Monday to promote the candidacy of Sen. Claiborne Pell, who is seeking a third term. McCarthy will be in the Rotunda from 9 to 10 o'clock Monday morning, meeting and talking to Bryant Students.

McCarthy, a two-term democratic senator from Minnesota, was one of the few senators to speak out against the war policies of the Johnson administration. He's the man who in 1968 defeated Lyndon Johnson's chance for a second term, when he defeated Johnson's hand-picked favorite sons in several state primaries, such as New Hampshire and Nebraska. McCarthy is said to have been a man strong enough to challenge and topple from office, the biggest man who was at the height of his power.

McCarthy, because of his views on the war and his fight for change, has become increasingly popular with the young people of this country. In 1970, McCarthy retired from political office to become more involved, and better able to continue his fight for his beliefs.

Ecology Note

Give Us Your Tired...

Give Us Your Poor...

Give Us Your GARBAGE...

We don't really want your poor and your tired, but we sure do want your GARBAGE! This Saturday, the Ecology Action Committee will start the pick-up of recyclable goods (garbage). The areas selected for the initial test are the lounges in Dorms 7 and 4. Each dorm will have five boxes, each for a different type of recyclable good. The goods we can recycle are listed below.

1. Paper: All paper will go in one box. Any paper is welcome as long as it is relatively flat.
2. Glass: There will be three boxes for glass: one for clear, one for green, and one for brown.
3. Aluminum cans: All aluminum cans will go in one box. Aluminum cans are the ones with no bottom or side seams.

These boxes will all be marked clearly to show you which item goes in which box. This pick-up is experimental in nature, and when it proves itself we will spread to more dorms.

So, if you're just walking by Dorm 4 or 7 and you just finished reading a paper (literary type), or you're carrying an empty beer can or you're carrying a broken bottle around to fight off some muggers with, just walk in and drop off your junk in the boxes. Don't waste good trash. Give it to us and we'll use it again and again and again.

If you're interested in finding out how you can help, just come on down to our meeting this and every Thursday in Room 359.

NOTICE TO CLUB OFFICERS - As we are now in the final stages of completing the 1973 Bryant Ledger, we would appreciate your submitting a 100 word write-up concerning your club's activities and events of interest. If your organization is to appear in the Ledger, the write-up should be sent to J. Hunt, Box 2136, no later than next Friday.

NOTICE Due to the Marathon Dance, the Folk-Rock Mass will be held in the Faculty-Staff Dining Room, just off the Rotunda on the second level, Sunday 12:00 noon.

THE ALMANAC

by United Press International

Today is Friday, October 27th, the 301st day of 1972 with 65 to follow.

The Moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Saturn, and Mars.

The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter. Those born on this date are under the sign of Scorpio. Theodore Roosevelt, 26th President of the United States, was born on October 27, 1858.

For draft eligibility the lottery number is 98.

ON THIS DAY IN HISTORY:

In 1871, the political chief of New York's Tammany Hall—Boss Tweed—was arrested on charges of defrauding the city.

In 1964, the first practical subway began operating in New York City—from the Brooklyn Bridge to 145th Street in Manhattan.

In 1917, concert violinist Jascha Heifetz made his debut at Carnegie Hall at the age of 16.

In 1961, the United Nations adopted a resolution protesting Russian explosion of a 50-megaton atomic bomb.
Please, heed our warning. Second and how he was warned. alone. Once outside, I away, be honest in all your dealings, for that is what life is all you.

Unearthly nature, but we can stop you from damming yourself.

I stood motionless, as one started to speak. My blood ran cold as my eyes utter disbelief and desperation; but no one replied. "Eera, Eera, we have summoned you for the purpose of telling a tale. We cannot harm you, for we are of an unearthly nature, but we can stop you from damming yourself."

"Take off your masks, reveal yourselves," I screamed in utter disbelief and desperation; but no one replied. "Eera, Eera, we are the people you left behind in your plight to succeed in life. We played street games together, played cops and robbers, and you ate at our houses as we did yours. The figures you see before you are your friends. We were summoned much like yourself for the purpose of warning you. Your factories pollute the sea and air. You have not been honest in your dealings with your business associates. Please, heed our warning. We wear these masks to prove a point. You see, things do not always show their true colors. You have been false. You have worn a mask; toss your mask away, be honest in all your dealings, for that is what life is all about."

With those words, the room lost its occupants. I stood alone, outside, I walked what seemed to be miles to a spa. All I could recall was a story I had read about Scrooge, and how he was warned. Was it my good fortune to have a second chance? I could only hope it were the case.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

by Phil Frank

"Why do you suppose those hippies keep staring at that girl's back?"

Campaign Special

by United Press International

Sizing up the 1972 election campaign. In today's campaign special report, UPI Political Analyst George J. Marder sizes up the outlook for the House.

The old order changes, and in the U.S. House of Representatives, the changes come more from attrition than from reform or elections.

Attrition—that is, retirement, resignation, death and defeat in primaries—will remove one out of every seven members elected to the House two years ago.

It guarantees that the House in the next Congress will be much younger and have some more blacks.

Whether it will be more Republican than Democrat, or more liberal than conservative, will be decided on election day.

But regardless of the way it goes November 7, '72 members elected to the 92nd Congress, which is just going out of business, will not be in their seats when the 92nd Congress convenes next January.

That number is somewhat higher than the norm for attrition in recent years. Two years ago, the comparable figure was 49.

The increase can be traced to three developments:

- Redistricting on the basis of the 1970 census;
- Granting of the vote to 18-year-olds;
- The attractive pensions now available to ex-members—it could run as high as $34,000 a year.

But it isn't so much the numbers as the character of the turnover already in store for the House which is generating change. The 60 who will not be there represent cumulatively more than five centuries of service in the House and include some of the most powerful veterans—the Bulls, as they are not-so-kindly called.

Among those leaving, either voluntarily or otherwise, are six Democratic Committee Chairmen. Their names may not be nationally known, but their power was great and recognized by any who had to deal with Congress. They are:

Wayne Aspinall of Colorado, 76 years old; John McMillan, of South Carolina, 74; Emmanuel Celler of New York, 82; Edward Garmatz of Maryland, 69. Aspinall, McMillan, Celler and Miller clung to their seats of power until forced into retirement by primary voters who chose younger candidates. Colmer and Garmatz decided the time had come to step aside.

To the list of retirees can be added nine Republicans with potential power equal to the Democrats. All nine had top seniority on key House committees and would have become chairmen next year, if the Republicans won control of the House.

To win control, the Republicans have to make a net gain of 39 seats.

Democrats are confident the G.O.P. will not make it. Republicans are hoping that a Nixon landslide will carry over into the Congressional elections and bring them in too.

It is a hope more than an expectation. Because one, the same polls which point to a Nixon landslide put Democrats ahead of Republicans in the battle for control of Congress; two, the Nixon re-election strategy limits the drive for Democrats to support of the National Ticket only; and three, Nixon coattails have no life.

The Republican hope, however, is matched by Democratic anxiety that despite the polls, a big landslide for the Republican National Ticket could bury marginal Democratic candidates. And so some Democrats are running for cover, educating the voters in the complications of ticket splitting, to divorce their chances from the head of the ticket. It is survival politics such as showed among Republicans in 1964 when Barry Goldwater was headed for a debacle.

The Democrats believe the real battleground for House control will come in 87 contests out of 435 seats to be filled. Even if there is a Nixon landslide, the Democratic professionals figure they can hold their losses to a net of 15 and retain control of the House.

Republican campaign managers are in general agreement with that slant, seeing a possibility to pick up 18 to perhaps 25 House seats; but still short of control.

But whichever party wins control, the faces will be changed much more than usual. After the elections two years ago, only 87 newcomers came to the House. Four years ago, the figure was 39. This year it's going to be 65 plus those who don't make it on November 7.
Sprint Starts New Career

by United Press International

The tumult and buzzas for Mark Spitz have subsided. An estimated five million dollars in movie, television, and recording offers await him. He calculates almost 500 requests for interviews, endorsements, and book publications have been tendered his agents and press representatives. And through it all, Spitz has kept his cool. And except for an appearance on Bob Hope's television show, he's been invisible.

He'll be coming up shortly on the Bill Cosby Show but he isn't sure he'll do any more TV appearances. Spitz says he hasn't been in a swimming pool since the Olympics and he's no hurry to get back to the water.

The Olympic swimming star is at his most articulate and speaks slowly in well-modulated tones. His eyes are quickly intelligent, slightly brooding. His manner is contemplative except when he flashes a brilliant white grin.

The greatest swimmer in history also is acutely aware of saying the wrong thing or giving an erroneous impression. He may think a question through for a half-minute before framing an answer.

He says he's just taking things from day to day—hasn't accepted anything definite. But it's fair to say he'd rather appear in a movie than in something like Mark Spitz's aquacade.

The Great Wall

by United Press International

UPI's Charles Smith reports from Peking, China, that if he were doing a feasibility study for the big hotel chains, he'd advise them to build there—if they could.

They cannot, of course. The Communist Chinese are not ready for Hilton Hotels or Holiday Inns.

Peking is a tiny village, 25 miles North of Peking, where the Great Wall is closest to the Chinese capital.

Everyone knows that the Great Wall is one of the world's greatest tourist attractions. The Chinese make sure most visitors to Peking get to see it. But they are not promoting it in the sense that other countries are their most scenic spots.

This is the spot where President Nixon observed that the imposing gray granite structure was "quite a great wall." (The President's remark still is quoted by foreign residents in Peking for light.)

It's also the place where Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka visited. While strolling along the top of the wall, Tanaka compared it as an engineering feat with the Grand Canyon and the Chinese make sure most visitors to Peking get to see it. But they are not promoting it in the sense that other countries are their most scenic spots.

What today is the Great Wall originally was a series of walls built long before the birth of Christ to keep barbarian Hun tribes from the North at bay. The Wall was completed about 211 B.C.

Buried in the clay fill of the structure are the bones of tens of thousands of impressed laborers, some put there to alay the superstitious fears of the emperor.

The Great Wall varies in height from 15 to 50 feet. It ranges from 15 to 35 feet at the base, tapering to 12 feet in some places. The signal towers are spaced about 120 feet apart on the top of the wall.

As at most such scenic spots around the world, graffiti mars the wall. Initials and other memorials are scratched on the wall in Chinese, Russian, Japanese, Polish, and other languages, including one in English which says, "Silvio Way Was Here.

Spitz has kept his cool.
Valachi Papers

by United Press International

In show business... a review of THE VALACHI PAPERS by Lawrence Falk of U-P-I in Chicago:

It's kind of a shame that THE VALACHI PAPERS comes to the screen some months after THE GODFATHER made such a smash hit. There will be a natural tendency for many to view it as "just another new-wave gangster movie." It certainly isn't.

For the record, producer Dino DeLaurentis and director Terrance Young say the book by mobster-turned-stoolie Joe Valachi was purchased and written into a movie script long before the advent of THE GODFATHER. But, various legal complications arose and production was held up for years... until some of the principle characters died... in prison.

Well, that's really no matter--because THE VALACHI PAPERS is an excellent film. And, it is the kind of motion picture which is difficult to do because the facts are, after all, the facts... and there are many, many people who now think the Mafia... or La Cosa Nostra... or whatever you want to call it. But, various legal complications arose and production was held up for years... until some of the principle characters died... in prison.

You remember Valachi, of course. He was the Mafia hoo who turned stool pigeon before the McClellan Committee and gave the world its first real inside look at the Mafia... or La Cosa Nostra... or whatever you want to call it. THE VALACHI PAPERS starts with Valachi in prison, and, by effective use of flashbacks, traces his history with the mob.

And its all there, too. The Apalacia meeting... the Albert Anastasia barbershop "hit"... the "Mattress War"... and many more details.

Yes, and details. Director Young--who's chatted up another excellent film to his credit... went so far as to find out the brand of wine which was on the table when Joe "The Boss" Masseria was "hit" in a Coney Island restaurant in 1943... and exactly how the Mafia "induction" ceremony is performed.

Indeed, it would be hard to praise Young enough. He has undertaken the extremely difficult job of re-creating historical facts in a way which will inform... entertain... and chill the viewer at the same time. That he has meshed all of that together is a magnificent achievement... and one which should bring him further honors.

There's A Difference Between Campus Cops And Regular Cops, You Know

Buffalo, New York (CPS)--The "Campus Cops" aren't cops at all, a New York judge has determined.

Judge William Ostrowski made the distinction between "peace officers" and "security officers" recently when he dismissed charges of disorderly conduct, third degree assault and resisting arrest against a student at the State University of New York at Buffalo.

The judge cited a recent ruling by the SUNY Board of Trustees which declared that security officers employed by the university are not authorized to arrest an individual.

According to Ostrowski, security officers can only "issue and serve a simplified traffic information and appearance ticket."

Because arrest can only be made by "those deemed peace officers," Judge Ostrowski ruled that Jim Britt, the SUNY security officer in question, was not employed to place the defendant, L. C. Smith, under arrest or charge him with resisting arrest.

The conflict between AS and the administration began last spring when AS claimed complete control of the co-operative bookstore and all of its assets, including the bookstore reserve fund. The AS board of directors dissolved the bookstore board and picked their own. The administration told the bookstore manager to disregard the instructions of the new board and to follow the existing board.

The AS created a negotiating team to come to an agreement with the administration and other matters concerning a revamping of that student government. The administration maintained that the administration had nothing to do with the incorporation of the AS. As they claimed, was incorporated in the same manner as the Boy Scouts, the YMCA, or any other non-profit organization.

The negotiations came to an impasse in June when the suit was filed.
Californians Vote On Pot: History In The Making

Los Angeles, CA (CP) About four and a half million votes are needed to legalize use of marijuana in the state of California this November.

Nine million registered voters are expected to either narrowly approve or defeat Proposition 19 to "decriminalize" production, possession and use of marijuana.

Proposition 19 has an excellent position on the ballot—wedged between a number of referenda expected to return positive replies.

Acceptance of the proposition by California could have far reaching effects within the United States, and around the world in countries which have repressed marijuana under American pressure.

Latest state-wide polls show 33 percent in favor of the proposition, but surveys in the cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco show favor running as high as 67 percent.

The California Marijuana Initiative (CMI) is described by Los Angeles County co-coordinator Lawrence Skinner as "one of the most ideal solutions for one of the greatest problems in recent times."

The proposition does not affect present laws governing selling of marijuana. It does not deal with the complexities of trafficking marijuana, and avoids the problem feared by many people that marijuana will be eventually advertised as being sexy, or something similar.

Some supporters believe that approval of the referendum will give police a mandate to concentrate on trafficking of marijuana and narcotics.

Of a total of six marijuana initiatives in the U.S. this year, only the California initiative achieved a position on the ballot. Attempts failed in Washington, Oregon, Arizona, and Florida, but the Michigan initiative may be able to collect sufficient signatures for a place in the 1970 state referendum.

CMI has not only achieved what many regarded as "impossible" with the actual initiative. In the drive to register voters, they trained 411 deputy registrants, and registered more than 20,200 voters.

At first, early this year, people were "paranoid, and thought they would be arrested," says Skinner. But working within the law this time has avoided any bother with the police.

A sign on the steps up to the CMI office pleads with visitors to "leave your stash outside" and the only plants in the building are those supplied by one of the group's officers.

Support has come not only from underground by Philip West media, but also from two television stations—KNBC in Los Angeles, a network affiliate, and KPIX in San Francisco—which have broadcast editorials condoning tolerance of marijuana.

And Skinner predicts that a number of police officers may also support the proposition by attesting through a judge that they can retain their anonymity.

The initiative has already received support from the Police Officers for Justice and the San Francisco Deputy Sheriff's Coalition.

The campaign has spent a total of $80,000 on the initiative, and plans the same expenditure during the last two weeks on a final burst which will include radio spots.

Most of this has been raised through small private donations, and an additional grant of $15,000 from Amorpha, the marijuana foundation. The remainder should be covered from the showing of the film REEFER MADNESS by the PLAYBOY-backed MORMAL organization.

But the private donations still count—a leather bag hangs in a corner of the Los Angeles office collecting Blue Chip trading and postage stamps.

Kissinger Greeted

By LAMPOON'S

Centerfold

by United Press International

The photo appeared atop the left side of page one of the "Great People" daily newspaper and was captioned, "Kissinger has no more secrets."

Earlier in the day... the Vietnam edition of the U.S. Army daily newspaper—STARS AND STRIPES—also appeared with a giant centerfold blowup of the LAMPOON composite.

Another Saigon newspaper publisher said, "I'm very tempted to print Kissinger's picture in my paper today with the title 'Kissinger Comes To Saigon All Nude.' But I am afraid it would be confiscated. People here do not have this kind of humor."

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said he did not know whether Kissinger had seen the photo. UPI 10/19

All Freshmen and Independents Welcome
Will Nixon Debate As He Said Four Years Ago?

If President Nixon accepted Senator George McGovern’s offer for face-to-face debates, his campaign would be more surprising than George McGovern.

There just aren’t going to be any more major debates, no matter what commitments Nixon made before he became President.

The McGovern headquarters dragged out television telecasts and magazine articles of and by Nixon four and eight years ago to show that he had agreed "unequivocally" to participate in presidential campaign debates.

Plenty of those Nixon quotations are around from former days:

"I would be willing to debate..."

"I will go into debates..."

"T.V. debates will serve the public interest..."

Those quotations and many more were played for newsmen at McGovern headquarters.

The only qualification Nixon made in the past was that he would not agree to a three-way debate. That was when George Wallace was running for president.

But somehow the debates never came off in 1968, and everyone knows that will not be held in 1972.

If there were the slightest chance of debates being held between Nixon and McGovern, congress would have paved the way with special legislation this year. If McGovern had made it available free network time for debates between Nixon and John Kennedy.

But the White House successfully blocked passage of such a bill this year, insisting that the president would not sign it unless it applied to congressional candidates.

The play was successful, just as the Johnson Administration was able to block the anti-war legislation in 1964 so that President Johnson would have an excuse not to debate Senator Barry Goldwater.

The fact is that regardless of the public interest in debates, few expect an incumbent president to meet his challenger face to face. Money, rather than seeking the Rockefellers Fund, is what frequent encounters of high-level officials usually promise.

The argument is made that an incumbent president should not indulge in free-for-all debate because he could be expected to "put up the fight to which you tongue which would seriously affect foreign relations.

But that isn’t the real reason for an incumbent president to avoid face-to-face political debates. After all, it could be just as risky for a president to answer questions at a news conference.

The real reason an incumbent president avoids facing challengers in face-to-face debates is political—the president has a political advantage over the opposition—he’s well-known and is usually the favorite...the challenger is the underdog and is trying to establish himself. Face-to-face debates are bound to help the challenger with any identity problem which may exist.

An interesting why does McGovern go to the trouble of challenging President Nixon to a debate at this late date, offering to foot the bill despite his shortage of campaign funds, and offering to exclude any sensitive subjects?

The first reason is to put the President on the spot...Public support of political debates has been overwhelming over the years...the people find debates much more interesting to hear than the paid political commercials.

And so the McGovern gamble is being tried to force the President into a flat refusal and show that he is ducking out on debates, despite the overwhelming public support for them.

But that isn’t the only reason. The debate challenge is part of the McGovern effort to show that Mr. Nixon’s word means little and that his commitments of four and eight years ago are forgotten when political fortunes change.

"A good love is like a good song
It grows on you 'til it's so strong
It never leaves you
It never goes wrong
You know a good love is like a good song."

Such are the sentiments of Casey Kelly who is currently making his solo LP debut on Elektra Records. The 23-year-old Kelly, a musician since almost the day he was born (piano at age four, to be exact), has brought two of the schools of experience and hard knocks that are necessary to turn a musician into a polished professional.

His credits include a stint as a member of an obscure rock band called "Fountains," who played in and around the Baton Rouge, Louisiana area. While with the "Fountains," Kelly decided to drop out of pre-med studies at LSU to devote his full-time attention to music. Once the "Fountains" broke up, Kelly split to New York where he did A & R and played sessions on various albums.

This was followed by the customary dues paying: Nashville, gigs around the country, and then in L.A. he got a job playing with Tom Rush. A year later, Casey was cut on his own again to write his music and perform it in the style he has evolved for himself.

Casey's new album, entitled, appropriately enough, "Casey Kelly," has been receiving a lot of airplay on the local FM stations. With "You Can't Get There From Here" being the favorite FM cut. Kelly's debut is a pleasant surprise and the album credits prove that Casey is well respected by his peers. Kelly benefited from the hands of Jim Messina, Jackson Browne, and John Sebastian to produce a really good album.

Be it his looseness and naturalness that show up so vividly, Casey Kelly projects a warmth and sincerity that makes the mind as mellow as his music. COMING UP: England's hard-rocking supergroup Jethro Tull, led by Ian Anderson, will be appearing at the Boston Garden on Wednesday, November 1. Following Tull into the home of the World Champion Boston Bruins will be Cat Stevens. Tickets for both events are hard to come by but they are still available on campus from CSC...Tomorrow night at Rhode Island Auditorium, Neil Cassidy will be in concert along with England Dan and John Fred Coley—Special guest star will be Casey Kelly.

The manufacturers of election campaign buttons are in a strange business. Election lobbyists like the losers' buttons as much as the winners...or even more.

The case of Senator Thomas Eagleton of Missouri is amusing. Despite his responsibility as senator George McGovern's running mate, he took off an immediate stampeding for scarce buttons and bumper stickers which carried his name along with that of McGovern.

A firm in Hernando, Mississippi, announced it would issue only 7,500 special "McGovern-Eagleton Commemoratives" to create an instant rarity.

One lucky collector in Charlotte, North Carolina, was able to get one thousand of the authentic double-name buttons before the supply was exhausted. In Covington, Kentucky, the McGovern-Eagleton buttons can be obtained by contributing two dollars to the McGovern-Shriver campaign.

Unfortunately, I lost the name of last week's winner.

Here are the answers:
1. What was the name of the two ghosts on TOPPER? George and Mandy Kelly.
3. Where did TOPPER's car die? - In a bank.
4. What was his wife's name? - Henrietta.
5. What was Neil's favorite drink? - Marini.
7. Who were the two UNCLE Agents? - Bllya Kuzlacin, Napoleon.
8. What broadcast channel did they communicate on? - 4.
9. How did they camouflage their communicator? - In a pen.
10. What was Leo G. Carroll's full name in the show? - Alexander Waverly.

Steve Olson finished in ninth place with a time of 29 minutes even, Paul Buczk finished in twentieth position with a time of 29 minutes and 55 seconds, Richard Collard finished in twenty-second position with a time of 30 minutes and 14 seconds, John Johnston finished in fourteenth position with a time of 31.31. John Dorns finished in forty-first position with a time of 31 minutes and 36 seconds, Tim Banning finished in fifty-fourth position with a time of 31 minutes and 43 seconds, and Steve McLaughlin finished in sixty-second position with a time of 34 minutes and 29 seconds.

Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson, who broke color barriers in the major leagues in 1947 and went on to become one of baseball's brightest stars, died 10/24 at the age of 52 of an apparent heart attack. His brilliant 10-year career was capped by his election to the Hall of Fame in 1962. He's shown during one of his last public appearances in this 10/19/72 photo with Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn attending second game of 1972 World Series at which he was honored.

Thursday On The Mats
Wrestling At Bryant

by Roland "Ollie" Lizotte

Last Thursday, Bryant witnessed its first organized wrestling bout. The time:
3:00 p.m. The place: Dormitory 11, Suite 220.

The bout came in the form of a flyweight match between Howard "Killer" Solon at 115 pounds versus Dean "The Dream" Holper at 110 pounds. The bout consisted of three periods, each period lasting three minutes. The arena was full of excitement comparable to that of the Olympics. It couldn't have been better. Two blood-thirsty wrestlers yearning for that almighty pin. There was capacity attendance, each contender being cheered by his supporters. And all action regulated by an official referee and timer in the persons of David Chase and Pat Fraser. Calling the scores at the final whistle was Richard Gendon giving 12 points to Killer Solon and 7 points to Dean the Dream.

For those who know Killer Solon, (better known as Howie) the bout was something to behold. Mid-mannered, quiet Killer Solon let out all his might upon Dean the Dream. It was no contest. Pin after pin, Killer led the way.

Possibly somewhere on the Bryant campus there exists a formidable match for Killer. Until this person acknowledges a challenge, Killer Solon retains his title as the best flyweight wrestler on campus.

So, if you are in need of something to get you over the mid-week hump, join us next Thursday in Dormitory 11, Suite 220 at 3:00 p.m. sharp. Next week's attraction features a heavyweight bout. Vying for this title will be "Big" Jim (King Congo) Stave at 295 pounds and Charlie "Crusher" Kreiger at 250 pounds. Also, if you are interested in participating in a bout in your weight class, drop a line to Robert Finnegan, Box 1341.

Football Games Of The Week

TKE (23) Beta (0)
The powerful TKE offense has once again proved to be too powerful for their opponent.

In the first half TKE scored twice. The first play coming on a pass from "Mountain" Lyons to Greg McDonald. This first drive was also set up by an interception by Lyons.

After Beta's next drive was staled by an interception by "Ace King" the TKE offense started back and in the closing seconds of the first half scored on a center eligible pass to Sam "Fudge" Greco.

The second half proved to be more interesting with plenty of hard hitting by both lines. But only TKE managed to score on an end sweep by Q.B. Lyons for a touchdown and a safety by Sam Abdo.

Outstanding players for Beta were Bob Devanna and Bill Marshall each with interceptions. The final score TKE (23) and Beta (0).

KT (17) Delta Sig (7)

KT scored all of its points in the first half. The first touchdown came on a pass from Joe O'Lehir to Rick Leto in the first few minutes of play with the conversion attempt successful.

KT then got the ball back on a key interception by Steve "Rookie" Benn, the first of his two interceptions. Not able to score a touchdown they had to settle for a field goal by "Sydney" Wilcox of 35 yards.

KT's final score came on a 75 yard pass reception by Sal "Butterball" Calmaro as a deflected pass came into his hands. The point after was good and at the end of the first half the score was in KT's favor 17-0.

In the second half Delta Sig held KT scoreless and managed a touchdown for themselves from Bob Rhoads to Mike "Crucial" McGreggor.

The final score again was KT (17) and Delta Sig (7).

Dorn Five Halts Raiders

On Tuesday a three year winning streak was broken. Dorn Five beat the Raiders 3 to 0. A second half field goal by Jeff Doppelt was the only score in a defensive battle. Keith Hoffman keyed the Dorn Five pass rush and Doppelt intercepted two passes. Both teams employed mostly a ground attack with Dorn Five controlling the ball.

The loss was the first for the Raiders in three years and against five wins this season. Dorn Five remains undefeated and in first place.

Swim Team Trials Bring Out Best At Bryant

Two weeks ago, the Bryant College Swim Team held its first time trials of the season. The trials are designed to give a swim team coach information on the progress of his swimmers. Even though many members of the team were no previous for the trials, Mr. Susan did get a look at six of his swimmers. Mark Rafferty timed in best time for three out of four events, to lead all other Bryant swimmers.

Mark took first in the 204 yard free style with a time of 2:26.6. He registered a first in the 102 yard backstroke with a time of 1:26.0, and he took the 102 yard butterfly with a 1:22.4 clocking. The other first place finish of the day was by Charles Demar. Charles took the 204 breaststroke with a time of 3:01.0. Doug Emery also scored high in the trials with a second and third place performance. Doug covered the free style distance in 2:47.9 and he finished third in the backstroke with a time of 1:47.7.

The official schedule of this year’s swim season is designed to give a swim team coach information on the progress of his swimmers. The trials are designed to give a swim team coach information on the progress of his swimmers. HORSES RACING

Two thoroughbreds ponies were found lying one on top of the other in Philadelphia Sunday, apparently stoned to death by a group of vandals who broke into the stable during the night. Officer of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals call it the worst case of animal brutality they had ever seen. All 27 of the horses in the stabled in stable in the port Richmond section of Philadelphia had been stoned. Two horses were struck with large chunks of concrete slab and another horse had been beaten with a board that had nails protruding from it. S.P.C.A. officials said the two dead ponies apparently collapsed immediately during the rampage.

AUTO RACING

Jean-Pierre Beltoise of France held off a challenge by Brazilian Carlos Pare to win the John Player Formula One Auto Race at Brands Hatch, England. Bobby Allison drove his Chevrolet to a two-lap victory over Richard Petty, 24, in the NASCAR Stock Car Race at Rockingham, North Carolina. Allison, the leading money winner on the NASCAR circuit, picked up a check for more than seventeen thousand dollars for his win.

GOLDF

Don Masengale of Greenwich, Connecticut, has won the hundred thousand dollar PGA Club Professional Championship at Pinehurst Country Club in North Carolina. Masengale shot an 68 to finish with 286, two strokes better than Don Bruno.

HOCKEY

Vancouver Coach Vic Stasiuk is known around the National Hockey League for his unorthodox hockey strategy. In a contest with the Boston Bruins this past Sunday, Vic used five defensemen against Phil Esposito, to protect a Vancouver lead. Statikus has already pulled his goaltender in a previous game this season in the second period. The reason behind that move was this, there was only three seconds left in the period, and the faceoff was deep in their opponents ice. The only way their opponent could have scored was off the faceoff.

The undefeated Buffalo Sabres have three of the top six scoring leaders in the National Hockey League. Yesterday Sunday, Gilbert Perreault leads the league with 19 points. With teammate Rene Robert close behind with 15. Rick Martin is sixth in the league with 12 points.

The Swedish Hockey Association is concerned over the scouting of players by professional leagues in North America. The Association plans a supporting money fund in an effort to keep the Swedish players at home.

The President of the defending Stanley Cup Champion Boston Bruins, who denied a published report that his club was for sale, said Sunday, that his club's existence was secure.

Bill Daily, President of the Bruins, issued a statement in which he "absolutely denied" that the Bruins "have been or are presently up for sale." He said the club "is in for sale, nor are we presently entertaining any offers."
College Football

by Peter Lockettel

This past week was a major disaster for many of the nation's top ranked college football teams. Notre Dame, Air Force, Stanford, Tennessee and Oklahoma were all beaten in upriver fashion. The one team that was not affected by one of our ranked upset of events, was Southern California. The top ranked Trojans easily defeated a Washington team, that asked their acre quarterback Sonny Sixkiller on the sidelines. This Southern Cal is one on the top for the sixth straight week. Explaining the success in the second spot, is Bear Bryant's Alabama Crimson Tide. The Tide came back to defeat a high Tennessee team 17-10 last week at Nashville. Ohio State was an easy winner over Indiana 44-7, and they moved from 13th to 1st in the poll. The Buckeyes are heading for a real showdown with Michigan. Since both teams are presently undefeated, they could cost one team the Big Ten championship, a national ranking and an undefeated season. A high fichigan is currently ranked 5th in the nation, while Ohio State has a mark of (5-0).

Louisiana State are having a fine season with (6-0) record and still have a lot of work to do. Even though Kentucky was a suburb 10-0 loser last week, L.S.U. is certainly looking onward to their head to head meeting with Alabama. Colorado has moved back into national prominence with their incredible upset of Oklahoma. On the basis of their 0-14, Colorado now has a grasp on the number seven spot. the remaining three spots on the U.P.I. Top Ten list are Alabama (4-1) U.C.L.A. (6-1), and Penn State (5-1). Southern Cal have a real fight on their hands for the Pacific Eight Championship, if U.C.L.A. continued to improve. Here are this week's U.P.I. Board of Coaches Major College Football Top Ten Ratings:

Southern California (7-0)
Alabama (6-0)
Ohio State (5-0)
Nebraska (5-1)
Michigan (6-0)
Louisiana State (6-0)
Colorado (6-0)
Southern Cal (6-0)
Penn State (6-1)
Louisiana (5-1)

Last week's betting had to be disaster. Many of the favorites lost, including Notre Dame, Air Force, and Oklahoma. Also, many of the point spreads were just to tight to come up with the winners. The reason is many of the major college teams are experiencing key injuries andousy game conditions. For example, Notre Dame has lost its larinaro, Cornell will not be able to certain Yale to just a favored. Washington has lost their ace quarterback Sonny Sixkiller for the season. It all points to the fact that it is just to hard to tackle on defense Steve Niedhaus for the season, and Wähington has lost their ace quarterback Sonny Sixkiller for the season. The key to the Miami Hurricanes is that they use Mr. Staubach the most. Dartmouth-Harvard 7

Pennsylvania- Princeton 6

The Mystery Of
The Dallas Cowboys

The Dallas Cowboys championship of professional football are a mystery to myself and to many other people I know. Let me briefly explain the reason.

Here is a team, true, they are world champions with potential of being invincible even in the competitive NFC. Their two major defensive formations can confuse the greatest of minds. They have people on their offensive line which is the envy of the league such as Rayfield Wright, Blane Nye, Dave Manders and all pro John Niland and Ralph Neely. Their receiving core is also excellent with men such as Bob Hayes, Lance Alworth, Ron Sellers and Mike Ditka, their backfield of Calvin Hill and Walt Garrison are both better than average runners.

Their defense (the greatest doomsday machine) is definitely the best in the NFL. They have all pro linemen, linebackers, and all pro defensive backs. People like Bob Lilly and Chuck Howley are truly the greatest defensive backs. I have a real fight on their hands for the Pacific Eight Championship, if U.C.L.A. continued to improve. Here are this week's U.P.I. Board of Coaches Major College Football Top Ten Ratings:

Southern California (7-0)
Alabama (6-0)
Ohio State (5-0)
Nebraska (5-1)
Michigan (6-0)

Penn State (6-1)
Louisiana (5-1)

Last week's betting had to be disaster. Many of the favorites lost, including Notre Dame, Air Force, and Oklahoma. Also, many of the point spreads were just to tight to come up with the winners. The reason is many of the major college teams are experiencing key injuries andousy game conditions. For example, Notre Dame has lost its larinaro, Cornell will not be able to certain Yale to just a favored. Washington has lost their ace quarterback Sonny Sixkiller for the season. It all points to the fact that it is just to hard to tackle on defense Steve Niedhaus for the season, and Wähington has lost their ace quarterback Sonny Sixkiller for the season. The key to the Miami Hurricanes is that they use Mr. Staubach the most. Dartmouth-Harvard 7

The Mystery Of
The Dallas Cowboys

The Dallas Cowboys championship of professional football are a mystery to myself and to many other people I know. Let me briefly explain the reason.

Here is a team, true, they are world champions with potential of being invincible even in the competitive NFC. Their two major defensive formations can confuse the greatest of minds. They have people on their offensive line which is the envy of the league such as Rayfield Wright, Blane Nye, Dave Manders and all pro John Niland and Ralph Neely. Their receiving core is also excellent with men such as Bob Hayes, Lance Alworth, Ron Sellers and Mike Ditka, their backfield of Calvin Hill and Walt Garrison are both better than average runners.

Their defense (the greatest doomsday machine) is definitely the best in the NFL. They have all pro linemen, linebackers, and all pro defensive backs. People like Bob Lilly and Chuck Howley are truly the greatest defensive backs. I have a real fight on their hands for the Pacific Eight Championship, if U.C.L.A. continued to improve. Here are this week's U.P.I. Board of Coaches Major College Football Top Ten Ratings:

Southern California (7-0)

Nebraska (5-1)
Michigan (6-0)
Louisiana State (6-0)
Colorado (6-0)
Southern Cal (6-0)
Penn State (6-1)
Louisiana (5-1)
Bryant Hopes To Repeat As Conference Champs
Biggest & Best Team Of Recent Years

by Rolfe Schnur

The Bryant College basketball season officially opened on October 15th but this was only the formal beginning of what has been endless months of determination and practice for our returning ball players. All of the players worked hard and one special case should be cited. Glen Cantin, a 6'3" guard from Waterbury, Connecticut has been declared academically ineligible. Glen was the leading scorer on the ’70-’71 Freshmen team and received valuable varsity experience as a sophomore. Coach Folliaird showed great concern for Glen’s loss and said that Glen may well become the best shooter in Bryant history, but most sources feel that Glen will take care of his academic problem and be back on the Indian basketball team.

The front line of the team includes seven players with an average height of 6’6" ranging from Henry Gonzales at 6’7” to Charlie Armstrong at 6’1/2”. Among the returnees is guard Ned Bohan who fractured his right wrist five weeks ago. His cast should come off by October 25. This team is healthy and is looking forward to improving on its 13-10 record of last year. Here are the returning veterans:

Ray Depeltau:

Ray “Popeye” Depeltau is a 6’4” senior from Holyoke, Massachusetts. He and Bruce Stewart form possibly the best duo of forwards in New England small college basketball. Last year they were the team’s center and rebounder on the Bryant team. Besides making honorable-mention All New England, he was named to the holiday festival all-tourney team, and NEAC First team. ECAC team of the week three times, and the Rhode Island College division player of the year. Average 15.3 a game, doesn’t seem like a lot; but when you consider Ray’s unselfish style of ball playing, one can see that they could easily have averaged over twenty points a game. On defense, Ray takes command and makes sure everything works. You can look for good things from Ray Depeltau.

Bruce Stewart:

Bruce “Chip” Stewart is 6’4” and hails from Washington, D.C. He is the other half of our famous forwards. One of the main reasons for Bruce’s improved play is the fact he reported fifteen pounds lighter this season. He and Ray will be starting for their third season.

Ned “The Pearl” Bohan in action!

According to Coach Folliaird, Henry a sophomore, has made an excellent chance to start this year. Watch for Henry to retaliate on all enemy elbows and receive.

Frank McCormack

Frank “Hand cuffs” McCormack is in his second year as a Bryant College basketball player. He transferred from Becker Junior College where in two years he averaged over twenty points a game. He could be the best all-around player on the team largely because of his good offense and tremendous defense. His hands are extremely quick and “Hand cuffs” quite often steals the ball. At 5’10”, one would think that Frank would be too small to get rebounds; but size for size, he can really sky. If you want to enjoy warmups before a Bryant game, watch this jumping jack leap.

Ray Depeltau 1972 R.I. College player of the year through hard work this summer, he now is one of the top prospects for Bryant’s center position. With his improved shot, Bob can now put more emphasis on crashing the boards where he is one of the best rebounders. According to Henr y Gonzales, Bobby Moll’s elbows hurt the most.

Ray Depeltau 1971-72, MVP for last year, Rick saw only spot action; but provided the team with his tremendous enthusiasm and guts. Each year, Rick works harder and each year this year he will have paid off. Watch for Rick to come in and provide the needed spark to set the game on fire. Every ball club needs the attitude that Rick has. He’s always plugging with determination to be the best, and in my book he’s obtained that goal. When the Baby Bull is on the court, you know he’s going to get the ball at any expense.

Richard Lense:

Richard “Stretch” Lense played on high school basketball. He worked on his own trying to get his 6’6” frame together. He has achieved this at Bryant College. This is his fourth year in an Indian uniform, and each year he has significantly improved. Stretch is the best leaper on the team and blocks the most shots. His shot is better than ever this year and he is getting extremely aggressive. In past years, people have criticized Rick; but they can no longer do this because Rich Lense is now a good ball player. In pre-game warmups and during the game, watch for “Stretch’s” amazing jumping ability.

This is the best Bryant Basketball Team in a long time. They have the height they have lacked and they have the guards. This year, the team will be running a lot with a new, exciting offense. Coach Folliaird, I found him to be optimistic. He told me that there would be an inter-squad game open to the public in the near future. The team opens against Quinipiac, defend NAIA District Championship. That is the first step to a great season.

See you at the games!
