It was learned yesterday that Anderson Kurtz, Dean of Student Life, is leaving Bryant College. He has accepted a position of Assistant Dean of Student Affairs at Brown University.

Dean Kurtz has been associated with Bryant College for two years. During his sojourn here he has developed a rapport with students and has given the student body a youthful identity with the Administration.

His one regret about Bryant was his inability to increase the number of blacks at Bryant including faculty, students, and administrators.

Dr. Barry A. Fullerton, 37, a native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, was elected Vice-President for Student Affairs by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees at Bryant College, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Harry Evarts, President.

Dr. Fullerton earned his undergraduate degree at Michigan State University, his master's and doctor's degrees at the Pennsylvania State University. He served three years with the United States Marine Corps, retiring with the rank of Captain. A teacher and coach for 16 years, he also signed a professional contract with the Philadelphia Phillies baseball organization where he played for one year before returning to the field of education.

After serving as Assistant to the Dean of Men at Penn State University, he became Dean of Student Affairs in 1966 at Dean Junior College in Franklin, Mass., from which institution he comes to Bryant College.

Dr. Fullerton taught psychology and conducted seminars on adolescent behaviour modification, and drug abuse during his career at Dean. He also served as co-chairman of the Franklin, Mass. Bay United Fund Drive and on the Board of Governors of the Franklin Youth Athletic Fund. He was a Sunday School Teacher at the Franklin United Methodist Church.

Elected the first president of the New England Junior College Student Personnel Association, he was also selected as a member of the visiting evaluation team for the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Mr. Fullerton has conducted several Student Personnel Institutes for Junior College organizations and is a member of the American Personnel and Guidance Association and the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators.

The object of a three-month search, the Vice-Presidential Committee consisted of an administrator, two faculty members and two students. John P. Hanson, Director of Library Services, served as Chairman assisted by Professors Mary Jane Pelkey and Frederick W. Reinhardt, and students Kathleen A. Grimes of Pawtucket and Ronald F. Janey of Providence. Dr. Fullerton was one of more than 400 applicants screened for this position.

Dr. Fullerton is married to the former Helen Howard of Pittsburgh and lives with his wife and two children, Holly Leigh, 5 years and Kurt Alan, 3 years, in Franklin, Mass.
Country Comfort opens its season this weekend with live, entertainment both Friday and Saturday night. The Coffee House will feature "Collete," a folk jazz trio on Friday night at 8:30; Saturday night at 8:30. Valentine Gil Hugger will perform. Everyone is welcome to drop in, kick off their shoes and mellow out to some of the best music the coffee house has ever presented. If you mellow out too much, we guarantee you'll wake up by the following weekend when Brilliant Corners will perform September 15 and 16 at 8:30.

If the sight of concrete, glass and steel starts to wear on your mind, take a trip to the coffee house for a little country living.

This year at the coffee house should prove to be very entertaining, not to mention economical. The admission charge is only 25 cents for an evening of entertainment. For this small fee, you will see top dollar groups. How can we do it? It's not easy! We even considered charging 25 cents to get in and $2.00 to get out, but we're not capitalists. We connected the administration out of a good budget (thank you, Administration).

Friday night, you can drop in to see some good music and refreshments; and if you like the atmosphere, want to lend a hand, we need people to help out. The stuff of the coffee house welcomes you to another year at Bryant and Country Comfort and wishes you the best of luck because you're going to need it.

Signing up for Army ROTC in college is no big deal. No major commitment. All we'd like you to do is give it a try. Take the Basic Course during your freshman and sophomore years. See what it's all about. You'll find that it's only a few hours a week.

That's not going to get in the way of classes, study, sports or other activities. At the end of your sophomore year you'll know for sure.

If you decide to go on with the ROTC Advanced Course you'll be paid $100 a month during your last two years of school.

You'll also be earning your degree and commission at the same time. It's even possible for you to go on to graduate school. Then serve as an officer later. Check out ROTC now.

Fullerton Speaks Out

RW - I am sure that by now you have had a chance to tour the dormitory village and see the dormitory damage. In your opinion, what can be done and what will be done to deter students from damaging school property?

BF - Probably the best thing that we can do is make it an undesirable situation for anybody that presents us with that kind of problem. In other words, if a person feels it in the pocketbook for the damage that he's done and if he is disciplined appropriately, then I think, and I'm not suggesting this hasn't been in the past, I really don't know if it's been done in the past or not, but my philosophy is one of having only absolutely necessary rules but enforcing as completely as possible these necessary rules so if somebody is wantonly destroying a dorm, if the residence hall staff, I think they should be very carefully screened. I think they should be the best people around. These are very sensitive jobs. Counseling, and I know that I'm going to be taken to task for this statement; but counseling is not the principle responsibility of these people. Counseling is for professional counselors, psychologists, psychiatrists, etc. I think one of the things that as I look around Bryant right now that I'm concerned with is the operation of an actual counseling center, and I would say that one of my objectives is to push for and hopefully get approval for the development of a counseling center where actual clinical counseling can be taken care of, but as far as possible these necessary rules so if somebody is wantonly destroying a dorm, if degree of expertise because many of their thesis was in the area of residence hall staff, performance, evaluation, and so forth. I'm not saying that I'm an expert of residence hall staff and the kinds of things that they should be doing. I view the residence hall program by the way, as probably one of the most important programs on the entire campus, I know that the commuters have been short-changed and I don't think we should short change them anymore. In fact, I am something that we should be encouraging encouraging him to become involved in the school and the person I am bringing in to replace Dean Dehner will be devoting considerable time to the commuting student program here at the Smithfield campus and probably that is one of the most important programs, if I say, of the students are not happy with their living situation if their personal and quality of residential life, we are losing an awful lot and I don't think we should lose it. So we are going to put in an awful lot of thought and time and effort in the whole area of residence halls and try and make them something less than, I heard a guy give a speech once and he said that the residence halls as unprivileged homes where people were thrown aside with no stimulation, no nothing and boy, if we want to try and avoid at all costs. I want it to be a good living experience for everybody. School is the direction that we want to go. Necessary problems brought on by the administration. It was more or less problems brought on by the residence. Let me give you an example, if a student is living with a roommate and one of a group of other students let's say this one does not agree with that other student, in the past there was little way which the other student could contact and talk to someone because it seems that the person was not interested, felt as if he had been turned school and the student had acted just a little bit different from everyone else and many times we have problems they wouldn't even come out and talk about them.

BF - Well, I think I agree with you on all points. I was eluding to is that we have to create an environment in which people will feel free to talk and to take some action as John Lindsay said several years ago, just give a damn, that's what it amounts to. I think that if everybody gives a damn then we are in good shape.

RW - In the past, motorized vehicles have been allowed up on the campus dorm village green in order that students will be able to get around any more. This was a problem, there is no problem near their dorm, but this has been the reaction of the kids to the green. Will they be any change in the existing policy?

BF - Most definitely, there have been sitting here looking out over my shoulder at fairly expensive landscaping and outside maintenance projects going on right now and I think that this is part of the reason that we are continually engaged in filling up tire ruts and all this sort of stuff because the substance of my answer is no, they will not be permitted one any more and those that choose to do it in violation of this policy will undoubtedly wish that they hadn't done this also. It's unnecessary and it helps in creating some incoherences but for example, I'm sitting here looking at the trees, not everybody can. To have to carry something all the way up to the top of the last one, 5, 6, and 4, something like that, that's a long haul, but that doesn't give you any special privilege to drive over the grass and knock down the stone walls and test the seeding and so forth, it's unnecessary so and we believe that we can effectively put an end it without offending anybody hoping to get the cooperation of everybody involved making their real that the destruction they are causing the expense that they are causing the school that you can't blacktop the whole area and go and live in an asphalt jungle so we are going to try everything as hard as we can to keep them off in a fair and hopefully a humane way.

RW - The policy of the use of drugs on this campus was set down by Doctor Evarts. It called for strict regulation and punishment when deemed necessary. However, in the past, those who were turned in by resident assistants were merely given a slap on the wrist and were sent on their way. Will there be any change?

BF - It's very difficult to generalize how you would deal with this particular incident, but I would say that any person who violates these laws or college regulation be they drug regulations or other kinds of regulations be they are going to have to answer for these and as I said before I am not a believer in having a three thousand page volume of rules and regulations most of which you can't enforce so if we have a rule on the books, it will be enforced, and that applies to every area drugs included.

RW - Let me set an example for you, a hypothetical case. Let's say a student is found with a needle bag of marijuana in his room and the resident

My best friend is going to prison in five days. We don't know exactly when he'll go, but he'll be back in six months--180 days. And nights. We don't know what he'll be doing; what he'll be remembering or forgetting; if he will be permitted to read. We don't know what kind of work he'll have. We do know that he'll be separated from his wife and family, the few people he cares about, his job and his education.

And why? Because he refused to step forward. Or because he stepped forward.

After being denied conscientious objector deferment, he was drafted. On induction day, he refused to step over that invisible line that indicates one's willingness to go into the armed forces. Instead, he stepped forward and said he would rather serve his country in another manner.

No he's going to prison.

At his sentencing two days ago, he stood before the judge in the routine Monday morning courtroom appearance. There were bigger things to adjudicate than the problems of a routine resister, and his sentencing took only a few short minutes. But the judge—one of the more liberal ones—made himself perfectly clear as he handed out the "standard" sentence: "You are hereby sentenced to six months in a federal institution and to 18 additional months on probation."

I've thought a lot about that since Monday. I don't know what "serving one's country" means anymore.

I have seen quadraplegics—paralyzed from the neck down—who wear the living scars forever to remember how they "served their country." I have seen pictures of corpses of men who had "served their country." And I have seen men making decisions concerning the sincerity of others—judges, probation officers, members of draft boards—who are drafting their country.

My friend doesn't fit the stereotype of draft resistor. He would never think of leaving the country, because he likes this country. He wants to serve this country—but in a way in which he can feel comfortable. Until he goes off to prison, he'll continue to be an active public service position helping blind people. So he has been serving his country, but in the way he's turned into a country he can serve his country in prison.

It all seemed so illogical. My friend is mild and gentle and sincere. Old military men have written letters to draft boards attaching to this. "Father—Military educator—has voted for his son's sincerity. He has good credentials. But he broke the law."

At the sentencing, he was given one week to "get things in order." Perhaps the judge should have given this country some time to "get things in order." Like priorities. I can't help but question the legitimacy of a country that puts men on trial to test their pacifism, their sincerity, their degree of opposition to a war. They did this to my friend. And he lost. I can't help wondering if there's a difference between serving our country and servicing our country. Why must someone's personal convictions lead to convictions?

I guess I'm thinking about all this now because I just talked to him on the phone. He's at work now, finishing up some final projects. He's delighted that they've promised to give him his job back when he returns. But a strange thing has happened to him; he's turned into a marty. Not in his own eyes, but in the eyes of people he rarely talks to who've suddenly dropped over, invited him for dinner and turned his six-month sentence into cheap radical chic, with my friend in the role of foldover, invited him for dinner and turned his six-month sentence into cheap radical chic, with my friend in the role of folk hero. They are treating him with the same indignity and personality that the judge did.

I don't know what any of this means. But I keep thinking of the letter my friend wrote to his parents, who live in Italy. "By the time you read this, I'll be in prison."

By the time you read this, my friend will be in prison. Where will we be?
assistant finds it and he reports to your office that he has made the find what steps would be taken on the order of disciplinary action against that student?

BF - Well, I don't know what the system is here at the present time but systems that I am familiar with and the kind of system that I would like to have in effect here is that there will be some kind of a student faculty or simple student judicial system, a campus wide judicial system so that when the incident you're speaking of or any other incident if there is an obvious and known violation of the rule or regulation then it will be processed through this system which will be in accordance with accepted legal procedure and anybody would certainly have his day in court and will be entitled to due process and so forth. I'd rather not respond to a particular situation because then I'm putting myself in a box. I'm not evading the issue really, it might seem as though I'm evading the issue but I'd like to go back to my statement before that if there are rules and regulations they will be enforced, and this means that the person who violates these rules and regulations will be subject to either minor or major disciplinary action depending upon the incident. I do rather not respond specifically to your example because it would depend on the person involved, it would depend, I think, on our experience with this particular individual. I would think you would also have to consider any extenuating or mitigating circumstances that might be involved in this particular case so if you don't mind I'd rather not respond specifically to the example but simply go back again to the statement I made that we run a fairly tight ship in terms of the rules and regulations that we collectively agree that in the Bryant community should exist. To be continued.

Marijuana And Poppy Fields
To Be Detected By Satellite

(CPS)-Marijuana and opium poppy fields are soon to be detected by an earth resources satellite that is scheduled to be launched this spring, according to a recent Associated Press story.

The orbiting satellite, scheduled for launching in May or June, will be capable of detecting pot or poppy fields from 100 miles up, says AP.

Quoting Dr. Robert H. Miller of the Agriculture Department, which AP says is operating in the project, three large fields of marijuana will be grown for the test, simulating different soils and climates of the world. He said they would probably be located in exas, Arizona and warm, moist Florida.

The object of the one-year project, using $2 million AP says was allocated by the Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, is to determine the "signature" of the marijuana plant.

The signature is the pattern by which a plant reflects heat and light during various phases of growth and under different soil and climate conditions.

"Even with an established signature we won't be able to detect relatively small crops of marijuana," Miller said in the AP interview. "But we should be able to spot large growths," Miller also said the project MAY also involve signature determination of the opium poppy, the source of such drugs as morphine, cocaine, and heroin.

However, spokesmen for both the Department of Agriculture and the Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs deny the story's validity.

"We do not have any program to use satellites to spot marijuana, nor are we spending $2 million to detect marijuana," said a spokesman for the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs' Office of Scientific Support.

"Even without a remote sensing program to search for marijuana in the United States," Dr. Robert H. Miller, who AP claimed to be directly involved in the program, according to his office, "is in Arizona and cannot be reached by telephone."

95 and below who are classified 1-A or 1-A-0 and members of the 1972 First Priority Selection Group will receive at least 30 day's notice of their induction date. Conscientious objectors, classified 1-D, with RSN's of 95 and below will be selected for alternate service in civilian jobs at the same time. All eligible men with RSN's of 95 and below who become available for induction or alternate service after mid-November will be required during that period.

The inductions for the last three months of 1972 will bring the total of men inducted into the Army in 1972 to approximately 50,000; the number which Secretary Laird indicated would be required during 1972. More that 94,000 men were inducted during 1971; 163,500 in 1970.

Golf Team Starts Tenth Season

The Bryant College Golf Team will be starting its tenth year of competition with the hopes of improving on a 16 and 1 record from the Spring season. We have lost Captain Gary Ricker and our number one man, Dennis Read.

Returning veterans like Larry Ostrower who was undefeated in match play
(H-O), Paul Chouba, John
Williams, John Spagnolo,
John Sullivan, Gary Gibeault, Wayne Pacheco, "the old man", and Scott Goldenberg,
"the mighty one." This group gives Coach Boulet a strong nucleus to build another winning team.

Two newcomers who will help the team greatly are Steve Racine of Cumberland who is the RI Junior Champion and Al Martino who is a runner up.

The Bryant College
Golf Team has not had a bad season since its beginning in 1963. In order to improve on its Spring record we would have to give Bryant its first undefeated season in golf.
We face two of the toughest teams in New England—Central Connecticut, NE champs for the past two years, and Salem State, the NAIA champs.

The team will still play their home matches at the Rehoboth Country Club
as we have done for the past five years.
