Stomford students start fund

Students at Stanford University have launched a campaign to encourage the Board of Trustees to be more socially responsible with their endowment investments. Students have created a "Socially Responsible Investment Fund" and are circulating a petition and soliciting donations from their classmates.

"This campaign is about giving students and alumni a voice in the operation of the University that they support," said Brian Babcock, SRI Fund organizer.

The idea of responsible investing stemmed from Associated Students of Stanford University (ASSU) President and Vice-President Bill Shen and Nick Thompson, respectively, passing a resolution for socially responsible investment.

Students were concerned with the administration's handling of investments in companies that engage in practices such as the exploitation of illegal sweatshop labor and the environment.

"Petitions will be circulated and donations collected this week to document student support for socially responsible investing," said student Chritna Larson.

An administration group called the Special Committee on Investment Responsibility (SCIR) had rejected the resolution unanimously in November.

The SCIR has no student representation.

"The manner in which Stanford involves students in decisions is disgraceful," said ASSU President Bill Shen.

More often than not, students are forced to screen, shout, and strike to affect University policy," said Shen.

Petition organizers hope to express student discontent in the handling of student concerns and develop meaningful participation in the administration's decision making process, according to Shen.

Finally came the person that you actually came to hear, Former Professor William Hass. You should know him as the person that gave us the "Slave Ship," the tremendous sculpture in the library. Well, he gave a sweet and nice speech on how G-D had loved us and how his love was that of a Pendulum swinging to a sailboat, which is supposed to resemble our ability of free thought and relaxation, and then swinging to the other side of work—getting up early in the day and, for us students, thinking of studying and towards. And the adults getting up and dragging themselves to work. Though it seemed nice and made sense, it makes you think of why you are here in college. Is it to work or is it to party and have fun? In which the Pendulum of G-D was not just a symbol of it love but that of what our knowledge of reason and actual action are. Should we have fun or should we study? Our actions are what the Pendulum does and we have to decide whether we should go to the sailboat and have fun or go to work and study.

So finally, imagine yourself doing something different. Imagine yourself choosing to study or choosing to party. Finally, imagine yourself doing something to benefit yourself in your life and in your religion.
Language barriers

"Ebonics," a term first coined in 1973, has recently become a major concern in the eyes of educators in Oakland, California. It is a dialect associated with people of African-American decent, though the use of the ebonic language is often expanded to the people of a surrounding community who are not of African-American decent. Due to the grammar and structure rule in West African Languages, common English consonant combinations and verb conjugations are completely foreign to the adults and families who were never properly taught the correct method of English phoenix.

Being first or second immigrants in the US educational system has allowed for much misunderstanding of a student's capabilities. Having dialects from either their native land or their current home life in the US, makes it very difficult for the student to communicate with both teachers and peers. Programs such as English as a Second Language (ESL) in high schools and Teaching of English as a Second Language (TOEFL) in pre-college programs benefit many students.

Up until now, ebonics was seen as a dialect rather than as a language, hence making it difficult to programs for this for particular students. The Oakland School Board has adopted the stated goal of educating teachers in the district on how to speak ebonics so that they may be better able to differentiate ebonics from other dialectal irregularities, and communicate the proper English form of speech. Students would otherwise feel inadequate and unprepared when told that their interpretations differ completely from the rest of the classes' interpretations.

The thought behind recognizing ebonics is that the student will, in fact, begin receiving constructive criticism and explanations as to why things are the way they are in the English language, instead of dredging the role call because of negative feedback on seemingly simple English grammatical equations. In addition, the use of ebonics as vernacular in artistic written works serves as a great opportunity to familiarize the world with ebonics in a means of unrestricted media.

Hopefully, the Oakland School Board will be able to fully implement their plan to educate educators accordingly. Perhaps other school committees throughout the US will jointly consider doing the same. Recognizing and correcting the problem at hand before the students join the work force and are unable to break free of so-binding chains of a dialect seems to be the only choice in the matter.

What happened to Sleepers?

The Student Programming Board would like to apologize to the people who attended the second showing of the movie Sleepers on Sunday, February 9, at 9:15 p.m. We had to stop the movie due to a problem with the sound system about an hour into the movie.

What happened was that the electrician set up the system wrong by leaving the four wireless microphones on. During the second showing of the movie, the microphones picked up a signal that caused massive feedback into the system. This feedback caused the loud distorted sound which interfered with the showing of the movie. SPB does not have access to the sound equipment, which was why we could not turn off the sound or correct the problem when it occurred. The only people who have access to this system are the electricians and the Conference Office staff, all of whom are not available on weekends.

We have taken action to get keys made so we can access the sound system in the future. SPB plans to compensate the people who attended this movie by giving the students a free movie voucher, which will be valid at any one of the remaining movies this semester. For those students who purchased movie cards, you will receive a free pass to a SPB event (undecided at this time), we will be getting in touch with you.

This will not happen again because we will have access to the sound system and be trained in using it. Also, we will try to get the movie Sleepers again this semester. Once again, we are sorry for what happened, but it was completely out of our control. We have taken actions to see that this will not happen again. We still have a great line up of movies for the semester and hope to see you all at the movie Ransom this weekend. Any questions or concerns can be directed to SPB at 6118.

Moore's Law

Betsch D.,
Department of Science and Technology

Thank you to Glen Camp for this week's question, "Who is Gordon Moore and what is Moore's Law?"

In the year 1954, Archbishop James Usher of Trinity College in Dublin proclaimed that the moment of creation of the universe had been October 26, 4004 BC, at 9 a.m. His bold prediction made him famous among his contemporaries and modern historians.

In a New York Times story, featured February 4 in the Science Times section, William Broad offered a glimpse of another visionary in his brief description of the history of transistor technology and current developments in the microprocessor industry.

Semiconductors can be used as amplifiers, wherein a small current applied to one pole of a transistor allows the flow of a greater current across two other poles. This application is useful in transistorized devices such as radios and CD players. Semiconductors can also be used as on/off switches, "0" or "1" in binary language, wherein a small applied current excites an invariant flow of electrons, which completely shuts off when the applied current stops. This application is the basis for microprocessors and the computer industry.

Gordon Moore was a co-founder of the Intel Corporation, the famous makers of Pentium chips. In 1965, he made the bold prediction that the number of transistors that designers could pack onto a single chip would double every 18 months. This was somewhat akin to a prediction that Bryant will double in enrollment every four years, how could it happen?

Well, Usher was wrong. Was Moore any better? Data released from Intel show that the density of processor chips has doubled about once every 26 months. Memory chips, which are apparently easier to manufacture, have doubled at a faster rate than predicted. The average of the two is just about what Moore predicted.

Moore's Law

Over such a long time, Moore's Law predicted an increase in chip density of about 1,000,000-fold for remarkable advances in manufacturing technology have been necessary to accomplish this result. The competition continues, with designers imagining ever-smaller sized components with the power of contemporary PCs and laptop chips that can be programmed to do amazing things (Blinking) new house is designed so that very little of the electronic chips wear programmed chips will show their choices of artwork on wall screens or hear their favorite music as they stroll through the galleries, for example. The desire for implantable processors that convey hearing to the deaf and sight to the blind is a certainty in our lifetimes.

How long can Moore's Law remain valid? Obviously, exponential functions must reach a limit in the real world (if there is such a thing). Present transistors are about 300 nanometers in size and, therefore, pack with a density of about three per micron. Only three doublings smaller at 50 nanometers, about four years away, are the sizes of neurons. Nature's own very clever microprocessors that enabled the human world chess champion to outplay the computer champ in their most recent match (a computer barely: next time, I think the computer will win). Another four doublings after that, about three months and six years later, transistors would reach the size of DNA, the naturally occurring information storage system. Finally, after another three doublings, transistors would reach the size of individual atoms. It's hard to imagine that transistors could become smaller than atoms, but if we consider that individual electrons are about 100,000 times smaller than whole atoms, maybe it's possible.

I predict that Moore's Law will fall in the year 2012. On October 19, at 3:55 p.m., Eastern Time, but no one will notice. Computers will be doing all the thinking by then.

First Annual Interfaith Prayer Breakfast was a great success!

Rev. Philip Deves
Protestant Chaplain

If you were not in Salmannson Dining Hall at 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday, February 5, you missed a wonderful opportunity to experience the spiritual life at Bryant. Braving the pouring rain, on average five hundred people came to Bryant to pray, eat breakfast, and listen to the Bryant Singers, Dr. McCleary, and the inspirational words of Dr. William H. Haas.

Haas, professor of business, spoke eloquently about God's love and our response as a fixed point on the horizon. Swaysing like a pendulum, our response to God is an existential reality of God's love in every moment of our lives. By our existence, we give thanks and praise. At that moment in which Dr. Haas was making his point, a flock of Canada geese flew in from "V" formation from the misty fields and over the roof of the Unistructure, further enhancing his point. What a wonderful sight! As we discussed with Mrs. Kari Mushley, I wish to thank Dr. William Haas, Dr. Walter Tillinghast; Campus Ministry chaplains; student readers, Charlene Davis and Hila Horovitz; the Bryant Singers: Cameron Classical Quartet; ARAMAK; College Reunion; and Physical Plant personnel. President Ronald Mushley; Mrs. Kit Mushley; Dr. F. J. Talley, Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students; Charlene Davis; and Maureen Dubuske deserve special recognition. Thank you all!

Another reminder: it is getting close to the deadline for scholarship applications to be turned in: if you are interested, contact SFC Stobb at 232-6275 or stop by the office located in the Unistructure, room 370. Good luck to all the people who are competing for a scholarship. The scholarship applicant physical fitness test is coming up on February 19, 0000 in the M.C. Some events to look forward to this semester are the Rock-A-Thon March scheduled for February 22, and the Military Ball on April 19. The ROTC Department is accepting sponsors for next weekend's long time Rock-A-Thon Road March. The proceeds will go to support a local charity, as well as help fund upcoming ROTC events. If you are willing to donate a small chunk of change to the ROTC program, drop it off to SFC Stobb in the Unistructure.

As you already know, Cadet Jen MacDonald and I will be participating in some highly motivational cold weather training in Norwich, VT. Be sure that you give Cadet Jen MacDonald your full support. One quick note, if any-body in the ROTC Program who is not drilling on the weekends would like the opportunity to drill with the 1-103 Field Artil-lery Brigade, you can give me a call at 232-8076. I'll answer any questions you may have.

This is a great opportunity to get some on-the-job training experience and to get paid while doing it. There are great jobs available and lots of experience to be had.

Well, that is all I have for this week. If anybody has anything for me, drop it on my box located in the Unistructure, room 370. I will see you all at the nearest Rally Point. Let's keep up with the intensity through spring training. Physical Training and stay motivated. Army ROTC, The Smartest College Course You Can Take.

Wanna Catcha Movie...or Something?

Once more, I come to you with humble suggestions on movie's in particular, and entertainment in general. You don't have to heed my suggestions, but before you turn the page let me tell you about some people who didn't heed my 'suggestions.' On May 12th of last year, I suggested a particular movie, Mrs. Jenny Kims, of Cranston, RI read me.. I've never heard of her, but on her way to watch this other 'catcha' movie, she was pulled over by a police officer. Why? She was driving fatigently. When asked to step out of her vehicle, she was up to excessive speeding but given a ticket. Rather than getting a ticket, she now finds herself doing the current state trooper this side of New York! She's beendblnd, a troublemaker, of no fixed address, was contemplating robbing a bank to support her habit and his craving for deep fried foods. Just before he set off to perpetrate this heinous crime, a friend handed him a copy of 'The Archway' and he read my column. Deciding against following through with the grand plan, he chose instead to watch a movie I had suggested in my article. At the movie theater, he hooked up with a suddenly single, independ­ enly wealthy woman, who had a healthy artery drive, a deep fat fryer and somewhat heavy thighs. The facts don't lie! The follow­ ing suggestions are not only will you be entertained, you just might find yourself living your fantasy.

Movie: Dante's Peak

Nature mother is being a really bad girl. A hot a disaster movie in the way that started with the question, "Do you think thy thyths are too fat?" and in the same way as the following home barefoot, covered from head to stockinged feet in popcorn with an enough to say, he didn't get to see the movie. These are not the only examples of this trend. This is a suggestion, just a few negative ones. As for positive examples, they abound. Take for example, the story ofLori Jenson of Bangor, Maine, who was visiting a friend in Prov­ ence. On a neat of January, she heard on the radio show that I was going to be on the air, she got over a portion of my radio show. I immediately decided to allow her to follow my suggestions and headed for the closest Major Video store to rent a "Time to Kill." On the way there, she was stopped for excessive speeding but given a ticket. Rather than getting a ticket, she now finds herself doing the current state trooper this side of New York! ANNOUNCEMENTS

Be A Witness To The ACCIDENT At Brown!
The ACCIDENT, a play by Carol K. Mack, will be presented by Brown University Theatre, Wednesday through Sunday for one week, February 19-23 at 8 p.m. in Leeds Theatre.
The ACCIDENT is a contemporary play that deals with Bevssie, a woman who has had an accident and isn't quite sure who she is. Complicating matters are a man who claims to be her husband, a mute boy who is supposedly her son, a sister-in-law, and a psychiatrist.
Tickets are available at the Leeds Theatre Box Office, 77 Waterman Street, Providence. Ticket prices are $12 general admission, $8 for senior citizens, $5 and over, and Brown faculty/staff, and $5 for students. Phone reservations are accepted with VISA/MASTERCARD. Box Office hours are Monday through Friday 11-5 p.m. and one hour before curtain on the evenings of performance. For more information or to make reservations, call 863-2838.

Alumni Association seeks Involved Students for Scholarship Award
Members of the Bryant College Alumni Association, RI Chapter, are accepting applications for a community-service based scholarship to be awarded to an upperclassman for the fall of 1997. Criteria are as follows:

* must be a current undergraduate full or part-time student in good academic standing;
* must display a current commitment to community service, either through involvement in the Bryant community or through local, regional or national charitable organizations.

To apply, submit your typed essay describing your community service involvement, and the benefits to the community and to you. Indicate any plans for future involvement in this and other organizations.

Include two signed letters of recommendation from community members who can attest to your involvement and contribution.

Address your essay to: Alumni Association Scholarship Committee, Box 12, Bryant College, Smithfield, RI 02917. All applications must be received by March 15, 1997; selection will be announced April 30, 1997.

This award will be made without regard to race, creed, gender, or declared financial need and will be in addition to any existing financial aid awards.

Bryant's 1997 Community Service Award
The Council of Administrators invites all faculty, staff, and students to nominate any individual employee of the College for the Annual Bryant Community Spirit Award.
This award is given yearly to individual employees of the Physical Plant, Public Safety, Clerical/Secretarial, or Administrative staff who have demonstrated work above and beyond their general job responsibilities, such as participating on college committees, volunteering for student activities, etc.

The recipient's name and photograph will be added to the Community Spirit Award plaque in the front lobby of the Unionstructure. The 1996 recipient for the Community Spirit Award was Charlotte Rodericks.

Nominations forms are available at the circulation desk in the Library and the Bryant Center Information Desk. The deadlines for submitting nominations to Human Resources is Friday, March 14, 1997.

COMMITEE
To: Members of the Bryant College community.
We, the F.I.A.G committee would like to give you some brief information about our proposal geared to understanding the President Mackaley at Bryant. Our idea is to contribute and align the College with the new slogan "Expanding the World of Opportunities." The proposal suggests a display of international flags on campus that we believe would represent all of the 55 countries (incl. USA) of the Bryant community. We believe that the flags would complement both the new logo and the international theme. This would also serve as the first building block into the 21st century for Bryant aligning our competitive position in the global arena, where we need to be as an educational institute to face other competing organizations. We have asked ourselves what this means to us and would also like to hear from the entire Bryant College in as to what might you have concerning this proposal. Any replies are more than welcome, so please consult the following resources for further questions.

1. Here are some of the things that you might ask yourself!
   What benefits would a representation of international flags on campus mean to you as well as others around you?
   What role does this play for Bryant looking at its future prospects?
   What would this project position Bryant well in the international arena?

2. For further information, please feel free to contact us or consult the following resources for your Visit our web-page, (http://acad.bryant.edu/-flag), where we will continuously update the written proposal

Cross Cultural Internship: CANON USA, INC.

As the number of overseas corporations expanding to the US continues to grow, so does the professional opportunities available to qualified individuals. However, many may be hesitant to accept a position in a foreign country due to a lack of cross cultural experience. Why not bridge this gap with an internship at a global company which is respected and recognized throughout the world? The company I am referring to is CANON USA, Inc., a fully integrated corporation providing the utmost in products, service, and professionalism.

CANON USA, Inc. is headquartered in Lake Success, NY, and is currently recruiting on the Bryant campus for positions in its summer internship program. This is a structured program which offers qualified students the opportunity to experience first hand the corporate setting and culture of a Japanese corporation. Students who participate in the program work side by side with their assigned division, as well as attend a wide range of professional building events. The events are comprised of a luncheon with the President and CEO of CANON USA, Inc., business seminars with Executive Vice Presidents, and cultural luncheon with the International Affairs Department, as well as a formal invitation to activities such as the Greater Hartford Open PGA Golf Tournament, sponsored by Canon.

Members of the program are treated with the same level of respect and professionalism as full-time employees and are expected to perform as such. This translates into an assurance for the absence of doing any busy work. Throughout the internship, students will find themselves participating in problem solving as well as implementation of solution framework for many emerging issues in their division. These are the types of issues you can expect to encounter upon entrance into the so-called "real world."

This is an excellent opportunity to test and prove your ability to be successful in the new global Corporate America and should be taken full advantage of.

Students interested in the Canon USA Summer Internship Program should call Philip Lamariana at 232-8070.

Free Psychic Reading

Here's a chance for you and your friends to get a free Psychic Reading! Beginning Thursday, February 6, 1997, from 1-2 p.m., Mari Gueaur began hosting a radio show on 990 AM, WALE—Renegade Radio. Mari is one of the foremost local Psychics and, in addition to discussing the following topics, will be taking calls and giving free readings. Here is a brief synopsis of the remaining shows.

February 20, Becoming Psychic: Developing Your Own Psychic Intuition. Using your own psychic talents in relationships and at work. Stories of how professional psychics first knew they were psychic and how they "developed." Call in readings.

February 27, What is a Good Psychic Reading, What is a Bad Psychic Reading: How to tell if you are getting a "real" psychic reading. How to use the information so that it actually helps you. The truth about Fre Will vs. Destiny. Call in readings.

March 6, The Truth About The New Age: Are We Really Responsible For Creating The Life We Lead? The controversy about positive thinking and New Age techniques. Does it help or is it just an excuse to "blame the victim" and our lives when life presents challenges and tragedies? Call in readings.

Tune in to The Morning Star Psychic Show—psychic information for everyday people. Additional topics to be announced. Suggestions and requests for topics are welcome! Please listen to 990 AM every Thursday at 1 p.m. Thanks!

Cross Cultural Internship: CANON USA, INC.

As the number of overseas corporations expanding to the US continues to grow, so does the professional opportunities available to qualified individuals. However, many may be hesitant to accept a position in a foreign company due to a lack of cross cultural experience. Why not bridge this gap with an internship at a global company which is respected and recognized throughout the world? The company I am referring to is CANON USA, Inc., a fully integrated corporation providing the utmost in products, service, and professionalism.

CANON USA, Inc. is headquartered in Lake Success, NY, and is currently recruiting on the Bryant campus for positions in its summer internship program. This is a structured program which offers qualified students the opportunity to experience first hand the corporate setting and culture of a Japanese corporation. Students who participate in the program work side by side with their assigned division, as well as attend a wide range of professional building events. The events are comprised of a luncheon with the President and CEO of CANON USA, Inc., business seminars with Executive Vice Presidents, and cultural luncheon with the International Affairs Department, as well as a formal invitation to activities such as the Greater Hartford Open PGA Golf Tournament, sponsored by Canon.

Members of the program are treated with the same level of respect and professionalism as full-time employees and are expected to perform as such. This translates into an assurance for the absence of doing any busy work. Throughout the internship, students will find themselves participating in problem solving as well as implementation of solution framework for many emerging issues in their division. These are the types of issues you can expect to encounter upon entrance into the so-called "real world."

This is an excellent opportunity to test and prove your ability to be successful in the new global Corporate America and should be taken full advantage of.

Students interested in the Canon USA Summer Internship Program should call Phillip Lamariana at 232-8070.

Free Psychic Reading

Here’s a chance for you and your friends to get a free Psychic Reading! Beginning Thursday, February 6, 1997, from 1-2 p.m., Mari Gueaur began hosting a radio show on 990 AM, WALE—Renegade Radio. Mari is one of the foremost local Psychics and, in addition to discussing the following topics, will be taking calls and giving free readings. Here is a brief synopsis of the remaining shows.

February 20, Becoming Psychic: Developing Your Own Psychic Intuition. Using your own psychic talents in relationships and at work. Stories of how professional psychics first knew they were psychic and how they "developed." Call in readings.

February 27, What is a Good Psychic Reading, What is a Bad Psychic Reading: How to tell if you are getting a "real" psychic reading. How to use the information so that it actually helps you. The truth about Fre Will vs. Destiny. Call in readings.

March 6, The Truth About The New Age: Are We Really Responsible For Creating The Life We Lead? The controversy about positive thinking and New Age techniques. Does it help or is it just an excuse to "blame the victim" and our lives when life presents challenges and tragedies? Call in readings.

Tune in to The Morning Star Psychic Show—psychic information for everyday people. Additional topics to be announced. Suggestions and requests for topics are welcome! Please listen to 990 AM every Thursday at 1 p.m. Thanks!
MSU Celebrates Black History Month 1997 at Bryant College

Professor Jann-Douglass Bell
Director, Multicultural Student Services

Black History Month, the month of February, celebrates 71 years of existence this year. Have you ever wondered why the month of February? In 1926, scholar and lecturer, Carter G. Woodson decided that the nation needed to salute the achievements and positive strides that Blacks had made in America. Black History Month began with a one week celebration, the second week of February. That week was chosen particularly because it is the birthdays of two great men connected with the Black movement, Abraham Lincoln, who was credited with the freeing of the slaves, and Frederick Douglass, the great orator and abolitionist. Dr. Woodson felt that having such a holiday would foster a greater sense of pride in the Black community as well as to increase the knowledge of Black achievements for the white community. We continue throughout the month of February to enthusiastically publicize a number of events during the month of February to promote the victories of Black Americans despite insurmountable odds. The President of the United States reminded us last year that in order for diversity, in its truest form, to go forward that America's children needed to know and appreciate ALL of the heroes in American history. Because we here at Bryant espouse and are proponents of DIVERSITY, we, likewise, offer to the entire student body and yes, the entire campus, Administration, Faculty, Staff, and Students, a glorious array of events centered around historic events and people in the Black community. We urge everyone to join in the celebration of Black history and enrich yourselves, learn about those of us who stand next to you, study with you, and party with you. We are a part of the quilt that makes America wonderful, that makes America the most diverse country on the planet.

Dear Bryant College Community,

Happy Black History Month!!! I hope that you have enjoyed MSU's Black History Month events thus far.

Let me start by saying thank you to those who attended and supported Gospel Jubilee '97. The turnout was excellent and it's was only a stepping stone for the rest of the month year. I would personally like to thank Francis Doehner and Molly Devaney for representing the Student Senate that night. We raised over $100.00 to benefit the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

For those of you who missed the spiritual sounds of Gina Merlino, you missed a treat. The sweet singing voice of Mrs. Merlino attracted a huge crowd, thus "packin" The Junction. Thanks goes out to Mrs. Merlino and her family, and the entire Junction staff for making that night possible.

I hoped you enjoyed Unity Day yesterday. Unity Day is truly a campus wide event - just like Diversity, it is for all. There is strength in solidarity and Unity Day speaks to that strength. Huge thanks goes out to MSU Vice-President Bwanda Albert and MSU Secretary Sharona Moorer for the work they did.

Some upcoming events for the month of February are on the cover of this issue of Cultural Flavor. MSU encourages the support of everybody at Bryant - on or off campus. The theme of Black History Month is "Diversity for All." Everyone is invited to the events planned for Black History Month. Hope to see you there!!!

Your suggestions are appreciated, and can be sent to Box 4508, or given to Vice President Bwanda Albert at the meetings. I am looking forward to working with all of you. See you at the meetings Wednesday at 4:00 PM., Bryant Center Meeting Room 2A.

If the Earth
- author unknown

If the earth were only a few feet in diameter, floating a few feet above a field somewhere, people would come from everywhere to marvel at it.

People would walk around it, gaze at its big pools of water,
the bumps on it, and the holes in it, and be amazed at the very thin layer of gas surrounding it and the water suspended in the gas.

The people would cherish all the creatures walking around the surface of the ball, and creatures in the water.

The people would declare it precious because it was the only one,
and they would protect it so that it would not be hurt.

The ball would be the greatest wonder known,
and people would come to behold it,
to be healed,
to gain knowledge,
to know beauty
and to wonder how it could be.

People would love it, and defend it with their lives,
because they would somehow know that their lives,
their own roundness,
could be nothing without it.

If the Earth were only a few feet in diameter.

Southern New England to get "First Breath of Spring"

Winter still has a way to go, but New Englanders are about to enjoy a sneak preview of springtime thanks to the fourth annual Rhode Island Spring Flower & Garden Show, coming to the Rhode Island Convention Center in Providence February 20 through 23, 1997.

The Flower Show, which features the Gardens of Southern New England, has blossomed into one of the region's most popular and anticipated events, with 45,000 visitors expected. Over four hundred floral exhibits, fully landscaped gardens, and retail displays make up three acres of indoor color, beauty, and tranquility. And to make visitors' thumbs a little greener, leading horticulturists are on hand with seminars and demonstrations throughout a long weekend of earthy activities.

This year's garden area deployment - the focal point of the Flower Show - promises to be one of the best ever, with exciting designs from the region's top botanical artists. Highlights include a scale reproduction of Roger Williams Park complete with a miniature replica of the turn-of-the-century Broad Street Trolley, and oriental water garden with six-foot waterfall, an alpine rock garden with 30 tons of weathered granite boulders, and interactive children's activity garden, a medieval medicinal herb garden, and a magnificent re-creation of Thomas Jefferson's garden at Monticello.

The Rhode Island Spring Flower & Garden Show, the Northeast's first flower show each spring, is organized by the Outdoor Group, a division of Down East Enterprises of Camden, Maine. Show hours are 10 a.m. - 9 p.m., Thursday through Saturday, February 20 - 22, and 10 a.m. - 7 p.m., Sunday, February 23.

Tickets are available at the Rhode Island Convention Center first floor box office for $9 each, or in advance at Citizen's Bank locations for $8. Seniors are $8, children aged 6 - 12 are $3, and children under six are free. Group tickets (20 or more) may be purchased for $7 each by calling The Outdoor Group at 401-421-7811. Participants in the Providence Journal's "Press Pass" program will receive a $2 general admission discount when presenting their "Press Pass" card at the door.

ANNOUNCEMENTS
BACCHUS
Leanna Mansour

Welcome back! I hope everyone had a great Thanksgiving break. Before we left, a new e-board joined together. The new President is Becky Thayer; Vice President - Kylyn Laramie; Vice President of Public Relations - Leanna Mansour; Treasurer - Chris LegouHon’. Congratulations to all! We are hoping to begin new and exciting activities soon, so come check us out! If you didn’t already know, December is 3-D month (Drinking and Drugged Driving), so please be safe, especially around the holidays. Save a life by not drinking drunk!

Beta Theta Pi
David Koestner

We are in the middle of our annual candle sale. Don’t hesitate to purchase one of these hot new items from Yankee Candle’s spring catalog. This coming weekend is the Newport road race, which sponsors the leukemia society. We will be contributing to help make the race and the day run well.

This week also came up. Thanks for everything, Rubble, Mac, and brother of the year, Fudd. Gaspur had something in his drink. Thanks Soccer and Rugby for a great weekend. Gannar met Chan’s neighbor. Moate was behaving badly at Parent’s. Affl turned the bar into a waterfall. B-League was victorious for the first time of the season. We are going all the way this year. Veto was a regular James Brown on Sunday. Smithers can fly from TEP’s window. Ragoos was getting on Lark’s nerves Monday night. And, sorry Mort, but you’re still fancy.

Quote of the week: “I tend to daydream a lot, however, I look at him and he is way out there.”

Commuter Connection
Sheiri-Ann Penta

Hello commuters! Thanks to all who attended our last meeting. Meetings will now be held every three weeks, on the third floor of the Bryant Center. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, March 5. Be sure to stop by, important planning for Commuter Week will be discussed. So if you have any ideas or would like to help out, please try to attend. If you would like to help but are unable to be at the meeting, just speak to any of the e-board members and we will help you out.

Stop by and play cards with us! This favorite commuter activity is still going strong. You can always find a game to join in on. New members are always welcome, both in the card games and the organization, so hope to see everyone soon.

Delta Chi
Joel Gardosik

It has been a very busy week, so onto the double dose of the news.

Tri-Sig was a good time last Friday. Angela, hope your tongue is better, while Ivy learned never to walk into Dutch’s room without knocking. Thanks to Phi-Sig for Saturday afternoon. Samson will never be the same. Remember to hide your apple juice at all times. Thanks to all who attended Heaven and Hell. Unfortunately, the president of the tool shed, Commander, left this past week.

The presidency has been handed down to Gatt for hooking up with Miss 1956. Congratulations to Sam on becoming the new “F”… now it’s the satanic ritual. Slath is a traitor - he’s playing GDI ball. Hockey is going well. We are third in the league. Tryouts for the basketball team begin next week. We could use a center, forwards, and a couple of guards… comeback Stilly. To Broadway, from Wolf: “I got a haircut.”

Thanks to Pony, Walker, Swanson, Beak, and Spanky for coming up this past weekend. WILK HOOKED UP LAST WEEK?!?! @#%#? Rumor has it that the floor has been cleaned. Thanks to Goose and Ego for all of the woodwork they did over the past week. Shatter painted the walls of the Unstructure Friday morning. Knuckles (#2). Don’t worry, I won’t rank on you for breaking your hand. I can sympathize with you - you’ve been there done that. Lambda project - Build a house. Cora. Schlegel left a present for everyone on the stairs of half-dance, floor two. Congratulations to Newms for finishing… Scrapper, you’re next.

Schlegel made friends with one of JobBu’s hand-me-downs this weekend. To Wolf, from Knockles - thanks for the computer virus. To Goose, new friend at Burger King Saturday night, while GQ was out to cause trouble. Trig - This is no longer a vacation; it’s a quest for fun, from Broadway. Hey guys, what’s the next line?- (Kappa class Friday Night). To Trig from Schlegel, sorry about Aliens. Scrapper - get a room. There was a fight in the toolshed Thursday night. Grandpa - if you want to pick up girls, it would be a wise idea not to headbutt them. JobBu, washed through his mis mori. But hey, there are other fish in the sea, and maybe it’s better to leave them there next time! And, sadly, we had to say our goodbyes to a well-loved goldfish, Melvin. Thanx A LOT. Bubble. Meetings will now be held every second week.

Prediction of the week: The A basketball team won’t lose more than one game this week.

Delta Zeta
Sandra DiGiovannitiro

Hello everyone! Congrats to the sisters who did outstanding last semester. We are all very proud! Sigma Chi - contributing to help make the race still going strong. You can always find a game to join in on. New members are always welcome, both in the card games and the organization, so hope to see everyone soon.

Lot of the week: See scoop of the week.

Society for Human Resource Management
Jessica Burns

Hello everyone! Just wanted to remind you that Attorney Tom Brown of Roco and Brown will be joining us on Monday, February 17, at 4 p.m. in Room 2A in the Bryant Center. Mr. Brown will be talking to us about the legal ramifications of Sexual Harassment in the workplace. Free pizza and soda will be served. All majors are welcome.

Would you like to gain practical business experience while still in college?

Join The Archway as an advertising sales representative!

- Network and communicate with people one-on-one.
- Work with fellow Bryant students.
- Gain personal selling skills.
- Great resume builder
- Any classes and majors apply
- Have opportunity to earn “Ad sales rep. of the semester” award.

Training will be provided
If interested or have any questions, please call Eileen at The Archway at 232-6028.
The Hunger Coalition
Shane Sachdev

Once again, I would like to remind you all that Easter is coming and we need YOUR HELP.

The current Hunger Coalition is an on-campus club with meetings in the lobby of Dorm 16. The purpose of this group is to help the hungry and the homeless of Rhode Island. To do so, we volunteer at soup kitchens in Providence every Monday and Thursday. But why read about it when you can do it yourself?

New things coming up in the next few weeks include our Informational Session about an annual fundraiser for local food banks. Another important event is the SPB Pie Auction, which will be held in the Union on February 19. For more information about the Coalition, call Brian at x300 or Shawn at x4138.

Our next meeting is Wed. Feb. 26, in the LOBBY of 16.

All are welcome, so go for it!

Here’s five new reasons to come to the next meeting:

1. If you are looking to get involved in something that is REAL and not just have occasional bright ideas.

2. It’s only fifteen minutes for the whole meeting.

3. Many exciting events that will give you that edge on life.

4. Better than FREE BEER: free fly-er for everybody!

ISO
Eunjoo Lee

ISO is going to have an election of a new E-Board on Monday, March 3. It will be held during our meeting. The preliminary election is on Monday, February 24. The application and description of each position is going to be in your PO Box soon. Every application is due back by Thursday, February 20. You can bring it next Monday meeting or send it to President Shirley Brakenwagen, whose PO Box number is 4084. If you have any problem coming to the meeting to vote, let us know. We will help you.

The ski trip is coming soon. It is going to be $42.00 per day. If you are interested in going skiing, contact our Vice President, Joyce, whose PO Box number is 1255. Also, we plan to go to NYC on Saturday, April 15. It costs $20.00 for members and $30.00 for non-members. Bring your friends with you!

World Beat Dance Party is on Friday, March 21. Tickets will be available sooner or later. Check it out at our meeting and invite your friends. ISO invites all the Bryant community.

The Valentine’s Night went very well. Thanks for helping and sponsoring. ISO appreciates members who helped to sell and make packages.

ISO is always happy with its members. Because you are with ISO, we can plan many events and make ISO bigger and bigger. Bring your ideas or any kind of comment. We will be glad to hear your opinion. Thank you and see you at the meeting!

Robert P. Kurikto

To all the members who attended last week’s meeting, I am sorry that I could not be there. I was making last minute corrections to our business plan for Northwestern Mutual Life.

There are a few items of interest that I wanted to inform you of, the first of which is the Chapter Performance Award from the American Marketing Association. We were recognized as one of the “most proficient collegiate chapters in the nation.” Thank you to all the members.

I also want to make mention of the “Make a Wish Foundation.” Contributions for this effort can be sent to me at PO Box 2064. Most of you have already contributed, and I want to thank you for your contribution.

Also, all members interested in going to New Orleans in April, please see me. I am in the process of getting a speaker for our next meeting.

Look to your e-mail and signs in the Rotunda for more details.

How’s everyone doing? I hope everyone is doing great.

To begin, I’d like to thank everyone who helped out at Gina Merino last Friday. MSU appreciates it. As you know this is a very busy month for MSU. If anyone wishes to join our organization, we meet every Wednesday at 4 p.m. in Bryant Center rm. 2A.

Black History Month is still underway and we hope to see you all at our upcoming events. Some upcoming MSU events are: MSU’s “SingsOut” on Friday, February 14, at 7 p.m. in the Rotunda (FREE!!), co-sponsored with SPB; the movie “America’s Dream” is playing on Sunday, February 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the MRC Lecture Hall (FREE!!), “What’s On Everyone’s Minds Speakers Series: How to Love a Black Man” will be on Tuesday, February 18, in Papitto at 7:30 p.m. (FREE!!) and the MSU Field Trip to Rhode Island Black Heritage Society will be leaving from the Bryant Center at 3 p.m. and returning at approximately 5 p.m. (a $2 donation is asked of attendees). Please see you all there!

Hello! Everyone had a good week. We’ll start this week by welcoming back Futos; we missed you. Christy would like to thank everyone who helped her through this hard time. She really appreciates it. Good luck to Brandy with her interview with State Street, and good luck to Karlo also for her interview with Pusam Investments. Thanks to Jen McC for a great ’97 days till graduation. You did an excellent job organizing and speaking. Some sisters would like to thank Delta Chi for Saturday. Once again, we had fun dining at Salamanco. "You can put this all on my tab," I told te any one? Make sure next time you go to Burger King that they don’t drive. Luka, you are too big to play on the playground.

A few sisters took a random trip to Providence Saturday night, courtesy of Wood. Hey Screech, watch out for the shopping carts. Hey Webster, does that look like tinsel to you? Thank you top of four for a good time on Saturday night. To Sig and Cora, what was that final score? Spirit is keeping her fingers crossed that she won the bet with Streaker Belle. I had a great time Thursday night. Thank you, Chico. Thanks to Delta and K&T for coming up to Dance Party ISA on Saturday night. Hey Duff, watch out for those red lights. Welcome to Sue and Sandy’s orbit-quick turn out the lights. Lush, try the hills. Kamro, Divine says give me a bite; that bet is all mine. Tigger would like to thank Sprite for the night in Tricia’s room. I’m glad we had that talk, Tigs. I love you, PS. Oxco, can you handle the cup and the reward button? Hailey and Sina. It seems that the Phi TIP movie night has become Dmitri/Phi Sig movie night. Hey Dmitri, how did you first get into politics? Happy Valentine’s Day to all! Till next week!

What's up, brothers? Congratulations to Steve, Matt, Jeff, Ben, Tom, Michael, and Adam. Sorry there hasn't been an article in a while, but Las has been overwhelmed with that five day weekend and Roes has been... well, we all know what Roes's been doing.

Bill, stay out of my room, B.A., watermelon is out of season, isn't it? Friday, Bart's sister and her friend from Florida were here so we had quite enough that I think I'm looking forward to seeing and he then brings up the subject of girls and Western. Guy, girl, who has more notches in his belt than the off-suite has furniture, that's her.

Saturday morning was quite eventful. Sprite, we have three hundred Halls backs when you checked out, thanks to all ten of us who came up Saturday. Later on, because the bathroom was so disgusting, Roes and Azzy found somewhere else to relieve themselves. Big Guap will always be fat, and we'd like him for bringing up Fudd; Woody really appreciated it.

Hello everyone! Happy Valentine's Day! I hope it's a good one. We got a great addition to the floor; come see! Thanks Mr. Lambias! Alison, hope your 21st was terrific! We all owe you, watch out. Last weekend was a good time. Thursday started out as crazy as usual. I hope that all you guys who can make it to the party please choose to hang out with us have a great time; we definitely can't wait to do it again this weekend. Hopefully this week I won't fall as much, though. NO more grand entrances into TEP, darling. I'm not going to catch me! I'm running! I wish you all if they're out there. Sometimes, it fell out of my pocket and broke!

Thanks Sig Ep for a great Friday party. I can't wait to see you Saturday night! Count to 18! Stigs, sorry for the harrassment, but I just couldn't pass up the chance. How about the late night dance party to Dave Matthew's Band? Thanks Fusco! Jill was MIA. Heidi, where were you? Mel, we won our first game! Mel, it's always us! Chey, Mel, Shil, and Dave, green team; we came out a winner Saturday was cool: thanks to all who came and visited! Sorry about the mess in our room. Joanie has the box; she threw it to Gina, who threw it to Mel, who threw it to Chey in Chey's room, it threw to Shil. Shil, did you get the box? One up, one down. Yes, I am! Pink Floyd and the Wizard of Oz. Where is the Munchkin? Wake up, Mel!

Michelle, off to the bar cave. Ann, Christine, try not to break your nose! Jill, I think your vision was impaired; even the shoes were awful! Michelle, you never comeback; you promised! Christie, Jackie Chan-style. Ericka, I hope!sweet takes us an hour to eat an apple again! Tim, sorry I beat you up at TEP—Jen. Ann, shhh! it's Christmas season. My real name in Shil, I swear! Jen had an interesting conversation with Nugget Friday night. Ericka and I went on a late night mission to Sig Ep. Jolie and Nikki, mission accomplished! Gini apologizes for the late night classic episode. Sigs and Cors, you need to make us more frequent. We put both of you to bed in a matter of three days. Maureen, I think nine games and nine sets is record-breaking. Can I have yours? Shil, need to tell me? I already noticed. I have radar, remember? Mo, you're a pain in the ass! Nothing like a penis grin!

Well, I hope you all have another great week! Happy Valentine's Day, Jamie! Have a good one! Rock on! Check ya later! Ivy May

I must first congratulate Mr. Bill Parcells. The Fat Tuna, or whatever his name is, has been hired as the "consultant" to the General Manager of WJMF. Hey, power per­ ceived is power achieved. Well, if you can't say anything nice, then say big of it. Big news in concerts this week for all of you U.S fans. The band will be doing a summer stadium tour that is rumored to be their biggest ever. You know, huge video screens, smoke machines, and laser lights; Bono and his ego needing two different tages. The tour is being spon­ sored by America On-Line. Tickets will take 46 hours to get, but you can use them all you want for a month. Sometimes my subletty is about as light as Courtney Love jumping on top of you. I've decided to focus on one par­ ticular CD this week. "The Lost Highway" movie soundtrack. This is the wet dream of Nine Inch Nails fans everywhere. It features "The Perfect Drug", NIN's new song, as well as new tracks from Marilyn Manson, David Bowie, and the Smashing Pumpkins. Trent Reznor produced the album, which auto­ matically makes it a gloomy affair. If you like that kind of music, then drop the Pop Turis and get it on Thursday, February 18. The album is now in full rotation, so call X6150 to request it. Quick reminder—Pitchman not be ordered from this number.

The next general meeting will be on Tuesday, February 25—nomin­ ations for E-Board will be held so all staff DJ's must attend. All new sacrifices are also welcome. Happy Valentine's Day—I'll be the short guy wearing all black in protest. Passing Thought—"A first sign of the beginning of understanding is the wish to die."—Franz Kafka. Hey, have a good weekend.

Bryant Hockey takes over First

Tim McCracken

Bryant hockey extended their winning streak to five games with wins over Franklin Pierce College, URI, and Johnson & Wales University this week.

Wednesday night, Bryant traveled to New Hampshire to do battle with defending league champions Franklin Pierce. The Bulldogs came out flying and took an early 4-0 lead in the first period with goals by Paul Dube (2 goals) (assisted by Seth Anderson, Shawn Tyler, Ryan Griffin), Steve Delaney (Kevin Gill), and Dave Zielinski (Rich Botham, Delaney) that humbled the jam-packed Franklin Pierce Memorial Auditorium. Franklin Pierce scored once in both the second and the third periods, which cut Bryant’s lead to two goals. Then senior co-captain Eric Toussaint took matters into his own hands and launched a blistering slap shot, beating the Franklin Pierce tender like a rented goalie. Pete Somers stopped 33 pucks in a 5-2 victory.

Friday night, Bryant played host to URI. This victory was especially sweet for the Bulldogs because URI is moving up to Division I hockey next year. Bryant slapped the URI hockey program like a child going for the cookie jar. Delaney and Zielinski led the offensive charge with two goals each. An injured Jack Edwards played an inspiring game tallying three assists. Other assists went to Anderson, Zielinski, Delaney, Toussaint, and budding young star Jason Thibodeau. Pete Somers recorded 50 saves in the 4-3 victory, and later commented, “Yeah, there were a lot of shots tonight, but we just weren’t gonna lose.”

Sunday night, Bryant battled Johnson & Wales, with the winner to take sole possession of first place in the conference. The two teams simply just do not like each other, Johnson & Wales shocked Bryant early, taking a 2-0 lead. Bryant answered back with goals from Tyler and Edwards to even the game at two. J&W came right back with a goal at the end of the second. The Bulldogs got a wake up call when freshman phenom Joe Pallotta took a cheap shot from a J&W goon which started a five minute altercation. Needless to say, the Bulldogs won the altercation, and J&W received a five minute major, of which Bryant took full advantage. Pallotta later added, “Sometimes when the chips are down, you just got to take one for the team.” [Editors note: spoken like a true champion.] The J&W goon was lucky that he was tossed, because senior Paul Dube put a bounty on the goon’s head. Bryant came out storming in the third period with goals by Delaney (Gill), Tim O’Brien (Tyler), Anderson, and two goals by Zielinski. Zielinski later commented, “They were the hardest two goals of my life.” Pete Somers turned away 30 J&W shots in the 7-4 victory. Coach Dino Brantolino later stated, “All year long we have been searching for a team that is strong in the third period, right now we have that.”

On behalf of the hockey team, I would like to say thank you to our very dedicated fans; you guys make the games a whole lot more interesting. The wins put Bryant in first place, and improved their overall record to 15-3-2.

Bryant Basketball: Week in Review

Bulldogs Sweep Quinnipiac; MacDonald Sets School Record For Three

Senior point guard Herman Thomas scored a game-high 22 points as Bryant defeated Quinnipiac, 70-51, in a NORTHEAST-10 contest. Bryant improves to 15-5, 9-4 in the NE-10. The win ties a school-record for conference wins in a season when the Bulldogs went 9-9 in 1993-94. QC drops to 5-15, 4-9.

Thomas has been amazing in the past three weeks, scoring 20 or more points in six of seven games. Bryant has posted a 5-2 mark in that span. After falling behind 2-0, the Bulldogs scored the next 22 points to take a lead they would never relinquish. The key stretch came with 8:34 remaining in the first half when Bryant went on a 17-3 run, buoyed by three straight three-pointers from Thomas. The Bulldogs led 42-27 at the break after shooting 63 percent for the half. Thomas topped in 13.

The Bulldogs extended the lead to 20 (61-41) when Noel Watson, The NE-10's leading scorer, hit his first field goal. Watson was hampered with injuries. Reserve center Steve Wieseck chipped in with 11 points on 5-7 shooting and sophomore forward Fred Wande recorded 13 points and six boards.

WOMEN: BRYANT 56 QUINNIPIAC 47

Freshman forward Jennifer MacDonald set a school-record with seven three-point field goals as Bryant downed Quinnipiac, 56-47. The Bulldogs, who have won four, improve to 7-13, 5-8 in the NE-10. The Braves fall to 4-16, 3-10.

Senior guard Mary Beth Feeley tied her single-season record for most three-pointers, nailing her 48th this afternoon. She will attempt to break it Tuesday against Stonehill.

Senior center Sus Patchett's 16 points paced a balanced Stonehill attack as the Lady Chieftains took a 67-42 win over Bryant in a NORTHEAST-10 contest. Stonehill improves to 19-3, 13-1 in the conference. The Bulldogs fall to 7-14, 5-9 in the conference.

Bryant Golf ranked 14th in NCAA Division II poll

John White

Sports Information Director

The Bryant men’s golf team is ranked 14th in the latest NCAA Division II Coaches’ Poll. Bryant opens its spring slate March 14-16, at the University of Miami-Ohio Invitational. The Bulldogs will be the only non-Division I team competing.

Last fall, the Bulldogs won their 14th Northeast-10 championship in sixteen years. Senior Ray Isler of Atchboro, MA, became the first golfer in conference history to win the Gordon McCullough Award as the NE-10’s best golfer for four consecutive seasons. Also, Archie Beuter, now in the 33rd season, was named NE-10 Coach of the Year for the second straight time.

Bryant finished 11th at the ECAC Golf Championship in October.

RAISE THE ROOF!!

Fraternities, Sororities, Clubs, Residence Halls, Athletic Teams...

Your organization could win up to $1,000 for showing their support at Bryant basketball games. President Mackety will award $100 to the most spirited campus group at each of the remaining home games. So, show your colors, paint your faces, or do whatever it takes to raise the roof!!

ONLY TWO HOME GAMES LEFT!!!

Do YOU want to win a New CAR?

There will be a chance to win up to three cars on Thursday, February 13, 1997! Get your Bulldog Card stamped at each game you attend. Once you receive 20 stamps, turn in your card for a chance to win one of three Dodge Neons. Two winners will have a chance to win a car, one during half-time of the women’s game and one during the men’s game on February 13. At the end of the men’s game, one random fan will be selected to win another Dodge Neon! So come out and support Bryant!
