Bryant Internships - Valuable Education or Political Football?

Bryant currently participates in a number of internship activities—the experience and the actual field work directly tied to a structured educational program—which gives the students that participate valuable experience and which promotes Bryant's name in the process.

One such intern, Jeffrey P. Treiber, was asked by the Rhode Island State Government Internship Program to participate in its advanced level seminar. As there are only a very few students in this advanced program out of all the colleges and universities in the state and because it was the first time anyone from Bryant had participated, it would have seemed that the Office of Academic Affairs would be honored to have one of its students selected.

The processes necessary to recognize this situation, which was new to Bryant, began late in the fall of 1975. This was a unique occurrence, and the direction, methods, and implications of handling this process were and are still questions.

February 6, 1976: The faculty sponsor for the internship program, Dr. Elizabeth Palmer, received a memo from the head of the Social Sciences Department (Jim Ingraham) stating that apparently there is a student who wishes to take SS471 for a second time for credit. (This is the course number for the primary level R.I.S.G. internship program.)

"The only way a student can get credit for a second internship participation is by signing up for the Public Administration Internship, which is available only to Public Administration majors." "It is possible that this student in question could become a Public Administration major?" Jeff Treiber is a Law Enforcement major and did not wish to change his major in his tenth semester.

February 9: A request was made by the head of the department for a syllabus for the internship program. There already had been a syllabus as Bryant had participated in the program for several years.

February 13: This request for the syllabus was fulfilled. Dr. Victor Proffit, Academic Director of the program and a professor at Rhode Island College, submitted a course syllabus and reading list for the advanced internship.

February 18: Lowell Smith, Vice President for Academic Affairs, stated that he was "unable to approve the advanced internship for credit" and that "Mr. Treiber will have to take the program for no credit if he stays enrolled."

Jeff Treiber did stay enrolled in the program as an intern for the President Justice on Superior Court in Providence, an experience he felt was valuable, and he was pleased with his goals and major. He pursued the matter further because he could not see the reasoning of Bryant's action.

"Something does not seem right somewhere," talking on his own to collect opinions and discover the cause of the process discrepancies, Jeff Treiber spoke to the head of the Curriculum Committee, Dr. Lowell Smith and Acting President, Dr. Ben Guttman.

May 4, 1976: In his conversation with Dr. Smith, Jeff recognized the advanced internship, certain points were established with the Vice President by the statements:

"I understand that this course is significantly different from the other course and that the same course taken over again is a problem with procedure."

"I have no problem with the advanced internship if it tolerated."

At their regularly scheduled meeting on March 9, 1977, the Student Senate approved an allocation of $55,000 to help the student with their vacation to accomplish the renovation. Mike Hammer, BRYCOL's President, commented, "The Senate's support further proves their interest and concern for the student body. This allocation caps a ten-day fund raising campaign that Carol Kerr and I conducted. We are grateful that there is once again a Student Senate that acts in responsive manner." Carol Kerr, BRYCOL's Vice President, commented, "This allocation ensured the project's completion within ten days—The Country Comfort will have to be seen to be believed."

Editor's Desk

One of the biggest decisions I've had to make since coming to Bryant was deciding whether or not to accept the job of editor when it was offered to me. I was occupied from 8 A.M. to 6 P.M. for three days in a row. Let me take the case of the Letters to the Editor. Every week student hands in letters unseen and expect them to be printed. If you believe in something, then why would you name an article written on the subject? I'll be the first to ask if you think Deans are needed. I don't know, too. I'm a student, too. If you want to talk, stop up the office. It's an emergency, give me a call. No problem. Otherwise, give me a break.

The last thing I will talk about this week is the fact that my employer, the Archway runs in cycles. Looking through old Archways, there can be found searching for people to work on the paper. One editor expressed it that he had no idea who his successor would be. I know how he felt.

The other day, just for laughs, I crossed off the names of those on the top ten list of student things that I wanted to do before I graduate. I found The Archway was left with roughly a dozen people. Well, I guess that won't be too bad. There's only about a half a dozen writing the whole paper the entire semester. Of course, this does almost all of the entire sport section. And yet, everybody needs an article written for them or complain when they only get the scores of their intramural games published instead of a story about the game. And I'm sure that everyone forgets that the staff is made up of students. They have to go to school. By the way, have tests just like everyone else. No contracts are given or pay received for work done.
The Archway is trying to expand, but it is difficult to work when the staff is limited. I've learned a lot since my decision several months ago. But the sad fact is, what I hear is not always appealing. Such is life.

Editor's Note: Over the last couple of weeks, there has been much controversy over the Greek vs. Independent situation that has flared up on this campus. A time we stop for a second and review the scene, otherwise the situation could spin out of control. It has been appearing weekly could continue forever. We try to keep our opinions up the basis. Just because you're in a Frat or Sorority does not mean that you are a part. Also, just because you are a member of a Greek organization, it does not mean that you are a part. Therefore, everyone is on the same footing.

I address my remarks to the Independents. Consider for a second the function of the Greeks. Many of these play an important role in the daily life of Bryant College. Mr. Carlacchi's letter brings up an interesting point about joining Greek organizations to overcome insecurities or to make friends. What do you usually join a group for? Are there not a lot of little cliques of independents that could also be considered snobby or exclusive? There is no hassle of them while combined they don't provide even half the services that the Greeks do. So what's wrong with having groups, Greek or Independent? For me, I have no idea. As far as I can see, NOTHING!

I now address my remarks to the Greeks. While some say that people are looking at Greek organizations all the time, first answer this question: Have you given them a reason? The only damper that I can see on Greek organizations is pledging. Are some things really necessary? Pledging may be needed as a way of selection, but perhaps techniques should be reviewed. Sometimes might be fine and done in fun, but could you honestly go home and discuss these pledges with your family? Should any be given to these "traditions". And perhaps a little more conscience should be had by those who are not involved in the festivities.

So after all this hot air from me, what are we left with? Perhaps, we're all just a little like Mr. Carlacchi. Do we care anymore? You shouldn't have anything to gripe about as long as you, the Greeks don't provide a reason. And vice versa. Whenever there are groups in contact, there will be rivalries. We can never completely end rivalry, but can't they at least take on a friendlier tone?

Townhouse Rates Stabilize
But Occupancy is Cut

By Peter Paulusky

Though the price of living in a townhouse will remain stable this year, townhouse occupancy will end with the dorms at the end of May, instead of remaining open till the end of June.

According to Mr. Peter Barlow, the student has been remained for this purpose. Instead, students have been encouraged to make Townhouse reservations for the summer.
If you want a menu suited to the Godfather and a price pleasing to Scrooge, than Pa Brillo's is the place. With two locations in West Warwick and Seekonk, Pa Brillo's offers old style dining atmosphere at a modest price. The Seekonk restaurant is located on route 114 off route 195 east.

Every day they have a list of specials which is posted on the blackboard in the center of the room. The menu does have chicken, fish, and steak cooked mouth watering Italian style. They do have fish and chips and steak "a natural." For the less hungry appetite they have pizza and grinders.

The interior has small tables covered with red and white checked table cloths. There are some booths in the center of the room but they are usually reserved for a party of six. There are no peanut shells on the floor which seems to go hand in hand with red and white table cloths in the Rhode Island area. In fact I never even saw any peanuts!

Many restaurants attempt to revive the good old day's by gluing a page of newspaper to the wall and waiting for it to yellow. Brillo's has professional antiques decorating their walls. This gives class to the old day's revival.

Although there is usually a waiting line at Brillo's, the restaurant is large and the lines are fast moving. You can make reservations before or upon arrival depending on which is the most convenient. The average wait I have been told is ten minutes compared with thirty minute waits at other restaurants.

There is a choice of wine types; not brands. I tried the rose and found it very good. They also have pitchers of beer and mixed drinks. My overall rating is very good food and efficient service.

The average wait at Brillo's, the restaurant is located on route 114 off route 195 east.

Private Camps - Good Summer Jobs

An estimated 12,000 summer job opportunities at summer camps will be available for college students for the summer of 1977. There are numerous camps for children of all ages located throughout the entire nation. The heaviest concentration of summer camps are in mountainous and recreational areas.

Summer job opportunities include counselors, swimming instructors, riding instructors, cooks and campers and general maintenance. In most opportunities these jobs include board and room. In many cases summer camp employment for college students will also provide additional credits.

Student job seekers are encouraged to apply early. Over 30,000 additional job opportunities for summer employment exist in national parks, guest resorts and recreational areas. Why? Students do not know of the foundation or foundations or how to go about obtaining these funds." The Bureau offers its services of desiring students by supplying names of foundations and guidance as to how to go about obtaining funds from same.

Preceptorship Readiness

The Preceptorship Announcement for the two 1977 Summer Sessions and the Fall Semester, and the Spring Semester, is here. By planning in advance, you can optimize your learning and work effectively.

Changes in Procedures

Beginning with the Fall Semester, new changes will modify enrollment and payment for the Preceptorship Programs.

First, all graduate students will be required to enroll for credit. Second, students will pay a prepayment fee of $15, which will be applied toward tuition.

This will enable the Graduate School to plan for and control the interface with other graduate classes. The course offerings will be adjusted to reflect these changes.

The major advantage of this change is that students will be able to move more quickly through the program, saving time and money.

Area of Concentration in MBA Program

Students entering the MBA program will be required to take a prerequisite course in order to enroll. This course will provide an introduction to the basic principles of business and management.

Financial Aid Received by Students

About two-thirds of the students who receive financial aid are undergraduate students. The majority of these students receive loans, with the remainder receiving scholarships or grants.

Reasons For Joining MBA Program

The responses of the students show that they have joined the MBA program for several reasons.

1. The students are in the age group 20-29, and one-third of them are in the age group 30-39. About 8 percent of the students are over 40 years of age.

2. The MBA program is too tough:
   a. I think I need it for my promotion.
   b. I will have better chances for promotion with an MBA.
   c. In the near future I don't expect a promotion even after I get my MBA.
   d. I need an MBA to keep my job.
   e. I am satisfied with my education.
   f. I feel that the knowledge I acquire will be useful to me.
   g. The main reason I do MBA is to enhance my status and prestige.
   h. To make use of financial assistance available.
   i. To try for a better job.
   j. Other reasons

3. General Opinion About the MBA Program

Eight (8) students indicated that the requirements of our MBA program are too tough:

a. I have enough background to do well in the program.

b. I have the necessary background.

The requirements are too easy and one hundred and forty (160) indicated that the requirements are too easy.

1. notices you are a member of a Greek letter organization. He knows immediately you are a hard worker, because you have been willing to work to earn membership in that organization.

2.Grant, today in individualism, is bourgeois. But neither man nor woman will make it in this world alone. We each strive for our own goals and success, but we also rely on those goals by learning to work with others and by seeing what we each as an individual can offer society as a whole.

3. I believe it is not the Greek Letter Organizations that have caused the segregation of apan, or in the same sense on a Bryan's campus, but more the breakdown of those students who have taken the time to get involved in activities at Bryan.

4. The trees and benches occupy by different Greek Letter Organizations in the Rotunda serve a purpose. They are a common meeting ground for members, and a sure way to find or get a message to someone of another organization. Also, in case you haven't noticed, Greeks are not the only groups that have certain areas they dwell in. The Greek and the basketball team are two other good examples. Neither the Greeks nor the other groups "guard their precious trees from foreign invaders." They are public property to all, and any "hanging decorations," as common sense would have it figured out, are only notes and messages of meetings, etc.

5. As I stated before I do not see the need to extinguish the Greek Letter Organizations, the need is not ours. As for everyone to become a Greek Letter Organization, first of all I do not "join" you pledge, and secondly, everyone on the Bryan Campus has the opportunity to become a member of a Greek Letter Organization. All it takes is a little time, effort, interest, and hard work.

Yes. I too am proud to be a Greek.

Ed's Almanac

Ed's Almanac

By Ed Kasimask

As promised in last week's ARCHWAY, today's article is devoted to Spring vacation. Look below to find out what the weather will be like where you'll be staying.

Orlando, Tampa, St. Petersburg: The past week has been varied weather-wise, but the temps have ranged between 50-70. The days should be sunny all week with a chance of rain Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. Temperatures will be 55-70, so enjoy the sun and take along a light sweater in case it cools off a bit at night.

Miami Beach: Except for the possibility of rain Tuesday night and Wednesday, the weather will be great for sitting at the beach. The temps will be warmer the farther south you go. The mercury will range from 60 to 80 all week.

Bermuda: There will be a chance of an afternoon shower all week, but the rest of the time will be sunny and mild. Temperatures will be 60-85.

Penn. NJ, NY, LI: Sunny most of the week with a chance of rain Wednesday evening and early Thursday. No major storms, 45-55.

Southern New England: the weekend will start out sunny but cool with a gradual warming trend beginning late Sunday. Chance of showers Wednesday night into Thursday. The remainder of the week will be sunny, mild, 40-50.

Those present at the lecture were sure of one thing; that they had learned the facts of perhaps the strangest murder trial in history from the man most capable of informing them.

Vincent Bugliosi now practices law privately in California. The lecture was sponsored by the Student Programming Board.

approved as Recommendation 75-8, 8-7, 1977.

Dr. Smith: There is a question on whether a pass/fail or letter grade should be used upon successive completion of SS471 and SS472.

"There is not a significant course correlation between these courses." Dr. Smith: "I'd like to check on this matter."

Dr. Perlow: "I understand that you have the same basic philosophy you had when this course was approved. Let's settle this issue with the means we have."

Dr. Smith: "That's not the way it's done."

At the next meeting of the Curriculum Committee, Dr. Perlow casually raised the issue, and a similar discussion on the Curriculum Committee. Dr. Smitty's final comments were: "If I've made a mistake, I'll live with it. I faculty course, I'll live with it. The next step, if you're not satisfied, is an academic dean."

January 31: An appointment was made with Jeff Treiber with Dr. William O'hara to discuss this situation. The appointment was made, during the day on January 31, a Monday, for 10 a.m. the next Wednesday morning. Jeff Treiber was granted an appointment, and he was waiting for his appointment Wednesday morning. Jeff Treiber's final comments were: "I'm not happy with this decision."

Dr. Smith's final comments were: "If I've made a mistake, I'll live with it. I faculty course, I'll live with it. The next step, if you're not satisfied, is an academic dean."

If you've heard the chant around Bryant College lately, it is the Paul Fiore fan club. Bryant's new assistant baseball coach has become one of the most popular members of the athletic department. His great sense of humor and way with words has made him very popular in the Bryant Community.

Coach Fiore does have a very serious attitude towards the Bryant College Baseball team, though. A pitcher for Boston College was named by the Washington Senators, Coach Fiore is very capable of handling the Indians pitchers. When asked about this year's hurriers, Fiore said: "We have some strong arms, but we'll need a lot of work and experience." He also feels the Senators had a good chance of having its first winning record in over 5 years. "Pitching is the key to the story, we have balance elsewhere."

When asked about Bryant's athletic dept., Fiore says: "I only have words of praise for Tom Follis, how to coach people." At Bryant, education is of most importance, and athletics is secondary, Fiore says. "No extreme pressure is put on the athletes to win. Today, this view is seen in very few colleges. World's Record

Broken

Last Monday night, Whimples, an amphibian discovered by Mr. Dorge Goolcy set a new world record when he consumed over 3 ounces of this creamy fluid every hour. It is a well-known fact that the average hamster can only drink about 4 ounces of this creamy fluid every hour. Whimples really destroyed the record with his performance.

When questioned about this feat, Mr. Goolcy only replied, "Oh, that's nothing. I've got this guppy at home that can drink like a fish." We await for more record breakers.

Bryant College's golf team begins an eight-day southern tour with May 15 when it takes part in the annual University of Miami Invitational Tournament at the Lejuene Country Club in Miami Florida.

The 72-hour U. of Miami Tournament will be the first of a two tournament appearance for the coach Archie Boelter's linkmen. On Saturday, March 18 and 19 they will compete in the 36-hole City of Miami's collegiate invitational tournament at the Miami Country Club.

After their tournament appearance they may play in the College of Charleston and the Cibad in a triangular match on March 22 and 23 in Charleston, South Carolina followed by a dual match with Coastal Carolina College in Myrtle Beach on March 23.

Heading the team once again will be bowler, Tom Sill of Westerly, R.I., Sill, has been one of Boelter's top men for the past three years. New England Conference

For the first time in Bryant's swimming history, the Indians, coached by Ted North, were no longer considered underdogs but tough rivals. Undermining teams such as Southern Mass. University, Holy Cross and Boston College, the Indians established themselves as one of the contenders in the Northeast.

This season the Indians destroyed six of their own records as follows:

The swimming ladies of Bryant College put up a tough race against their male counterparts and at times put them to defeat. This year, for the first time, they entered the New England Women's Swimming and Diving Association (NEWSDA) Championships held at URI. It is the first year that we will see a separate women's team. Bryant College will lose three of their swimmers next due to graduation. They are Tom Delaney, Scott Matty and Ed Reilly. Tom svam for Bryant for four years. He also won the 1000 yrfd. freestyle, the 500 yd. freestyle and the 400 yd. relay. He has been on the first year we will see a separate women's team.

He also won the 1000 yrfd. freestyle, the 500 yd. freestyle and the 400 yd. relay. He has been on the captain of the team for the past two years. Scott Matty is a three-year swimmer. Scott's events included the 200 butter fly and was used in various other events when needed. Scott was previously a diver at Boston College. Ed Reilly participated in his first and last year on the team this year. Ed's events included the 50 yd. freestyle, the 100 yrfd. backstroke and the 100 yd. butterfly relay. The loss of these three swimmers will be greatly noticed next year.

The swimming Indians worked hard day and night to come up with the best varsity record this season for Bryant College--6-2-1. With one tie recorded in AAI competition last year (1975-76). Bryant tied this year with top-ranked Lowell University, which shocked everyone. This proved that Bryant's swim team can compete with the best. They are swimming forward to an undefeated season next year.
