Gertrude M. Hochberg
Appointed Vice President of Public Affairs

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees held on Friday, September 12, 1975, Mrs. Gertrude M. Hochberg, longtime Director of Public Relations, was elected as Vice President for Public Affairs effective on October 1, 1975.

Gertrude Hochberg was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania as a journalism major and began her career as a reporter on the Wilkes-Barre TIMES-LEADER, her hometown newspaper. After working as a copywriter in New York, she became an advertising executive in Providence, Rhode Island, where she was elected President of the R.I. Advertising Club and an officer of the American Federation of Advertisers (AFA). At this time, she also taught school at the Rhode Island School of Design and later at Bryant College. In 1964, she was named "Advertising Woman of the Year."

Mrs. Hochberg viewed her appointment as Vice President of Public Affairs as an opportunity to achieve the goals she has set for Bryant College. One of her goals is to increase the recognition of the serious and purposeful Bryant student body. Mrs. Hochberg plans to promote the excellent skills of the faculty in preparing students for life as well as a livelihood. Her unique appointment (the only woman Vice President in the state) will demonstrate to the community at large the commitment of Bryant College to the advancement of the status of women.

Congratulations from the community to a woman who has dedicated her life to the betterment of Bryant College.

Appointed Director of Public Relations at Bryant College in 1950, she helped to set up the organization and growth and development of this institution which resulted in the expansion and relocation of this 112-year-old institution. In 1971, the College was moved and all new buildings constructed in Smithfield, RI. It was the publicity for the dedication of this modern campus that earned her the coveted "Award For Excellence In News Information" at the joint conference of the New England and Middle Atlantic combined AAC & ACPR conference in New York in 1973. In 1975 she received the Ernie Pyle Award for "Outstanding Contributions of Higher Education."

GUY DAVIS

by Paul Demers

It could be the end of October before Guy Davis will know if he still has a job here at Bryant. The time factor depends on the arbitrator who met with Mr. Davis, Dr. Smith and their respective lawyers last Thursday on the issue of the Davis contract renewal. The disagreement came about when the Rank and Appointment Committee approved the reappointment of Guy Davis, but Dr. Smith did not.

The normal procedure for the reappointment of a teacher is that the chairman of each department recommends to the Rank and Appointment Committee, all the teachers without tenure who should be reappointed. Since Guy Davis was the Chairman of the Math Department and did not have tenure, his name was included on the list of those recommended. Next, the Rank and Appointment Committee makes a decision on those recommended and sends their choices to Dr. Smith for his approval. The Committee all agreed that Guy Davis should be reappointed, but Dr. Smith disagreed. When a contract is not accepted, the teacher may go through grievance procedures, where a Review Committee will examine the contract. Guy Davis followed this procedure and the Review Committee voted in favor of a reappointment. When Dr. Smith did not concur with their decision, they agreed on binding arbitration.

On Thursday, September eleventh, Professor Teste of the American Arbitration Association heard Dr. Smith and Guy Davis present their cases in a session that lasted almost eight hours. The lawyers representing Dr. Smith and Guy Davis have three weeks to submit their statements; after which, Professor Teste will have up to 30 days to make his decision. Guy Davis feels confident the decision will be in his favor and said the real reason his contract was not approved was "due to union activity." According to Mr. Davis, the Director of Physical Plant, numerous renovations have been made both inside and out. First of all the area in front of the bar has been enlarged. To accomplish this, the two walls which enclosed the pinball machines were torn down. The next major change was the removal of the unused powder room next to the bar. The two existing rest rooms were also improved. Overall changes include the installation of vinyl floor covering, wood paneling, painted ceiling, new light fixtures, new windows, and a new wood finish on the outside of the building. Mr. Testor will once again manage the Rathskeller, and the hours and prices are expected to be kept the same.

Student Center

by Valerie A. Breuckman

The Student Center Building Committee met again Thursday, September 18, at 3:30 p.m. After much controversy surrounding the activities of the committee, it was decided to compromise and reach an alternative.

The committee generally agreed that the original Student Center project was no longer feasible. Because of new developments, the financial stability of the 1.9 million dollar project is uncertain. Mr. Dick Towne, Director of Development, who has headed the Student Center Fund Raising Project has resigned (see page 2). Also, the Kresge Foundation grant for one-half million dollars has not come through, as expected.

There is a time factor to be considered. The original Center would be constructed in Smithfield, RI. It was the publicity for the dedication of this modern campus that earned her the coveted "Award For Excellence In News Information" at the joint conference of the New England and Middle Atlantic combined AAC & ACPR conference in New York in 1973. In 1975 she received the Ernie Pyle Award for "Outstanding Contributions of Higher Education."

Renovated Rathskeller To Open

By: Steve Pascaurila

A familiar friend has been missing from the Bryant College campus since the renovation of the school began. The Rathskeller, or more fondly called the "Rat," is in the process of being renovated. Although the renovations were to be completed by the beginning of the school year, it seems as though the "Rat" will not open until September 29.

Tom Scott, Vice President of Business Affairs, stated that the Rathskeller project was placed on hold until the fall and then attended to by a full work force. The Rathskeller will have a new look this semester. Dr. Smith would not comment on what the arbitration decision might be.

"receiving top priority and...a full work force."
Play Ball!!!

In 1972 Congress passed a law prohibiting discrimination by sex in any educational program that receives federal funds. It took three years to work out the regulations for enforcing the law, and on July 1 of this year, these laws went into effect.

All the nation's public school districts and approximately 2,700 colleges and universities are affected by the new statutes and new policies will be open to females and more money will be spent on them.

For the first time, Bryant now has a Women's Sports program under the very able direction of Ms. Holly Norton and for once schools must provide the funds necessary to insure equal opportunity for women who want to participate in sports, not necessarily on a dollar-for-dollar basis, but separate teams must be provided in all sports where one team will not accommodate all who are interested in competition.

This is an excellent opportunity for Bryant women to assert their athletic abilities and improve on our physical as well as our mental health. Strong competition and a healthy team spirit can only help to bring the students at Bryant and the entire Bryant community closer in a aura of fairness and equality.

Sincerely, Frank Clemente

The Locker Caper

Dear Editor,

It's nice to know that even in the "new" Bryant College the old run around for students still exists. This fact has quite recently been brought home through an incident concerning the new locker system. In order to be more precise, the old locker procedure. I arrived back at Bryant this semester to discover that a locker I had had for the preceding year had been totally elevated of about $50 worth of books. This was done with absolutely no notice to students and even more absurdly only one week after the classes resumed. Upon discovering this, I nonchalantly headed down to the office of Frank Clemente to authenticate my property. Naturally, they knew only that maintenance had been given charge of the property appropriated from said lockers but not who was in charge of the moving, why it was moved, or anything else concerning the matter. I took a quick jaunt over to library maintenance and discovered that the books were stored and to my dismay I discovered that my property was under repair and the same thing was being put the "going on the cake" I wasn't even obtain my quarter.

After a brief discussion with the individual guarding the books (to make sure they were returned to the correct people) I was informed that Ray Quinlin maine ated the entire locker system in operation, so I headed up to his office. Ray immediately latched to the conclusion that I was interested in renting a locker for $5 a year. (An interesting idea in itself, as the heavy bucks when one considers how many lockers are here and how much interest on this amount will be earned off this principle alone.) I returned for repair, so that this initial figure will never be depleted, interesting how policy changes for the administration when it's to their advantage but never when it's the other way around.

But anyway, I told Ray I'd appreciate the return of my property and he said he only did what Student Affairs had demanded of him. I'll let you decide for yourself. I tracked over to Student Affairs and received the same answer from Mr. Barry, Pete, and Carmen all at the same time and had it itself. After poising the same problem to these three, I was informed that they had to call broken lockers fixed and new locks installed in place of broken or lost locks. Apparently Ray had made up his mind about this and wouldn't guarantee any money that he wanted to himself to strip down all the lockers. They in turn suggested that I return to Ray which I did. Unfortunately, Ray's best guess is that the key was out to lunch and wouldn't return for a few hours (long lunches, huh?)

I took this opportunity to consult with a lawyer and find out the students at the outset the proper condition of the AC's? Why not, I don't know.

Sincerely, Frank Clemente

Good-bye...

Dear Editor,

I have recently submitted my resignation as Director of Development at Bryant College and will be leaving for a new position at the end of this month.

At this time I'd like to express the gratitude and appreciation of the Board of Trustees and the students, faculty and staff with whom I have enjoyed cordial relations during my more than four years of service at Bryant. In particular I want to say thanks to all the students who pitched in so generously to our recent Senior Class Gift Program.

I am of the highest regard to all at Bryant, and "ill meet you again."

How To Enjoy The Rest Of Your Life

By Cindy Machado

While in Florida, Dr. DeTarnowski was actively involved in community development. He has worked with various citizen groups to develop a sense of the community and has also worked with civic leaders in developing a community system of priorities in the area of social services.

As a professor of the Approaches to Politics class, Dr. DeTarnowski was asked if he has any personal philosophies on teaching. He responded by saying that he would like to get students to think for themselves. He would like to make them more aware of the political system and, as a result, help to make them better citizens.

Accounting Association

We would like to express our appreciation to Jan Smith, Mike Filippelli, and Micky Perlow for speaking at our meeting held on Monday, September 15th.

We were very encouraged by the overwhelming attendance, which was in excess of 100. We have aspirations that this show of interest will continue throughout the year.

“Gorilla” by James Taylor

James Taylor's new album, "Gorilla," serves largely as an old vehicle for new material. The old vehicle being the soft melodic style characterizing his music even since his hit single, "You've Got a Friend," catapulted him into the mainstream of popular music, the new material expressed in the lyrics he writes.

In contrast to much of the music on today's market, "Gorilla" has placed more emphasis on the written word than the medium in which it has been delivered; to put it plainly, Taylor is more of a poet than a musician who fills voids with monotonous riffs. The listener will probably find that the lyrics will be attracting more of his attention than the accompaniment: Not that the album is lacking musically either; with helping hands from Graham Nash, David Crosby, and Carly Simon, the musical portions of the album can hardly be called lackluster.

Although the style is recognized immediately as that of James Taylor, there is nothing on "Gorilla" that is readily traced as being a remake of another cut on a former album, a common pitfall among today's artists. That, in and of itself, ably demonstrates Taylor's talent.

For those whose only familiarity with "Gorilla" is the pop single, "How Sweet it Is," be forewarned that the rest of the album does not flow in the same vein. That particular song is a remake of a mid-sixties hit, and the beat is hardly reminiscent of the Mod song sound of that period. However, the interpretation is quite pleasant, adding a subtle contrasting element to the rest of the album.

The purchase of a new James Taylor album might be likened to that of buying a new collection of a favorite writer's works. In either case, the purchaser knows fairly well what it is he is getting, albeit new. The most significant difference could well be that while Taylor has provided his own musical accompaniment, the reader of the written must supply his own. Rating: * on a four-star basis.

ALBUM REVIEW

Roy A. Nelson

Named Dean

Of Admissions

Roy A. Nelson was named Dean of Admissions at Bryant College, announced by Dr. Nelson J. Goulke, Acting President.

Nelson, who is also Foreign Student Advisor and Dean of Student Affairs and Bowling Team, has been a member of the Evening Division faculty.

There will be a short meeting for all students interested in joining Young Guidance on Monday, September 22, at 11:30 am in the Commuter Lounge. All new and former members are invited to attend and hear all the plans for the year.

For those who aren't familiar with the program, it is a big brother/little sister program. Each participating student has a little brother/sister from a poverty area. The children come up to Bryant one afternoon a week. We are planning to have parties at Half A Dozen Donuts, one day of the week, along with trips to a farm and to a zoo. If possible, we will go on a day trip to the zoo. We are thinking of having activities on weekends. Not only will we order a meal for the children, but it will be a heart-warming experience to know that you have helped the children.

You may also want to consider joining the faculty liaison committee. This committee will meet once a week on Thursday at 11 am and will consist of students and faculty. The committee will hear any complaints from students and feed them on to the faculty. The committee will also help the faculty in any way possible.

Youth Guidance

by Craig Perry

The motto of Bryant College is "Education for Business Leadership". In reading the proposed alternative for the Student Center Building, I must ask if students are being "educated" on being led by decision makers, or are we getting "educated" on decision making while being "led"? I believe that the alternative of the original 1.9 million dollar Student Center Building is the best bet for the students by the Board of Trustees last May. (Was this proposal considered by an adult passerby?)

Was the alternative proposed for the sake of a budget or the sake of the students? Should proposals be made with money as the main consideration, then it seems that the alternative is the best bet.

Consider the decision to reconstruct the snack bar. First, since almost one-half of the student body here is comprised of commuters, these students should have a place they can eat without leaving the University. The alternative calls for the present snack bar and converting it into a 25 or so faculty offices. In talking to some faculty members, they expressed their discontent at destroying the commuters meeting place. Their conversion plan for the snack bar was also discussed at the Federation meeting this week, and once again teachers expressed their disfavor for the move. If these offices are not for present faculty members, but for new faculty, where will these new professors teach? I believe that over 80% of classroom space is used every hour. My "alternative" to the alternative is to convert the commuter lounge. If offices are really needed, the other half of the commuter lounge could be used.

How would this community feel about walking in the cold rain and snow to eat? (Remember we are almost always late. You might want to drive your car over to the new center. Fine, but is there parking space for this new plan?) In essence, I am saying that the entire college community should be consulted before the decision is made.

Now, let us consider the transformation of the Rathskeller into a counseling center. Since the "flats" are being refurbished, why spend money on it to convert it into a counseling center. If the "flats" was allowed to remain in its present state we could use it for small parties.

The questionnaires which I filled out should have been more specific. I should have listed an alternative, thus enabling true student input. When the questionnaire and snack bar, I was thinking of just one snack bar not just one snack bar but a choice of a few.

Remember, to have a good questionnaire, you must first define what you are asking about.
I would like to thank you for nominating me for the Freshman Student Senate. If I am elected to the Student Senate, I will do my utmost to make sure that you feel need be accomplished. If ever you feel something needs to be done, I am an Armand Luzi, I am running for Freshman Senator. I believe that many freshmen students have problems or are dissatisfied with some aspects of our school. With the ideas and suggestions of the students, I am going to try to set up and meet the challenge of forming those ideas into action. This requires cooperation between the freshmen. We have to be together. Therefore, I am running to try to get ourselves together to work toward that goal. If elected, I want the campus to know that I am_mead and tell me their problems and suggest what could be better, because I am representing you. We can make Bryant better.

My name is Maribeth Hyer, and I am running for Student Senate because I want to do my best to make things better, to improve our school. I am a questioning student, and I am running for the Freshman Senate. I am asking for your vote. I hope to work with the people in my class to make our school a part of us. I am by no means afraid to speak out for an issue or cause I feel is right. Although I have only attended this school for a short time, I have learned more about the needs of our school and our class. I am, and I always be open to suggestions. The only way we can get things done is to work together.

I am running for a position in the Student Senate. I feel I have the ability to put across the needs of the freshmen as a member of the student senate. I am from Woodbridge, Connecticut, and my major is Law Enforcement. In high school, I was involved with student council for three years, and was the vice-president of my class as a senior. Because of this past involvement, I would like to be involved also at Bryant. I also want to be on the Student Senate, so I would like more about Bryant, both as a college and a community. It would be useless for me to state my ideas and suggestions for the forthcoming year if I am new to Bryant as you are. All I will ask is that you will give me the chance to represent you and if I am elected, I will work to the best of my ability, which I feel is the only way.

My name is William Campbell and within your aid support I would like enjoy being your representative in the Student Senate. However, before you give me your vote, I think it would only be fair that I tell you my qualifications. Having been involved in the student government in high school, I managed to be an active member in various committees, added to this is my experience on the Senior Class Executive Board, member of the Financial Committee, which has given me a broad background in the intra-student relations. Granted my high school environment different from this one, however, the experience and knowledge gained will be applicable to Bryant.

I am Armand Luzi, and I am running for Freshman Senator. I believe that many freshmen students have problems or are dissatisfied with some aspects of our school. With the ideas and suggestions of the students, I am going to try to set up and meet the challenge of forming those ideas into action. This requires cooperation between the freshmen. We have to be together. Therefore, I am running to try to get ourselves together to work toward that goal. If elected, I want the campus to know that I am_mead and tell me their problems and suggest what could be better, because I am representing you. We can make Bryant better.

My name is Sharon Shaw and I am a candidate for the position of Freshman Student Senator.

I am asking for the chance to represent you because I believe that getting involved in some of the student government of Bryant, it has only been a few weeks since we all arrived on campus, but already many of us have seen things we would like changed. Your Freshman Senator should be someone to bring your suggestions to, and will provide you with the opportunity to air your gripes. I like the chance to be one of those six Senators.

So, I am asking for your vote. Voting next Friday. I am Robin Pirolo, would like to ask your support of my candidacy for the position of Freshman Student Senator.

My name is Jim Dunn, and I am running for the Sophomore Senate as a representative of the freshman class. I attended East Longmeadow High School in East Longmeadow, Massachusetts. There, I was involved with various student activities and was also elected captain of the football and track teams.

The position to be filled in the Student Senate demands people with the knowledge and ability to act as a Senator effectively. I feel that my experience in high school has given me the qualifications to be a student leader that you can count on. It is for this reason that I ask for your vote for me to be a Senator. If elected, I will do my best to make things better, to improve our school. I am a questioning student, and I am running for the Freshman Senate because I want to do my best to make things better, to improve our school. Anyone who reads this opinion will probably wonder why it is written in such a subjective manner with so little concern over the objectivity of the subject. It is just very hard for me to write rationally about the irrational Vice President of Business Affairs that we have at Bryant College. This man is of course the infamous Tom Scott who had the audacity last week to "profoundly" propose a counter proposal to the future building of the Student Center.

Couldn't Mr. Scott see how badly even last inch of space and every last dollar is needed, in the original plan of the Student Center, before hacking it to pieces? This campus has an alcohol and drug problem, the atmosphere is boring; Bryant needs something like a Student Center very badly, not the puppet replica the Business Affairs Office has in mind. Tom Scott reminds me of the Mayor of Amity, in the movie Jaws, who kept trying to convince himself, and anyone blind enough to listen to him, that there is no problem with the sharks or at least.

The financial wizardry of the man just amazes me. Just think, he is saving us over a million dollars. Tom Scott should have been born forty-five years earlier so he could have worked with Herbert Hoover in causing the Great Depression; because if his "toy" counter proposal goes through, the depression on this campus will get greater. It appears that Mr. Scott's priorities are twisted and he feels that money is more important than the human beings that live at Bryant. I was under the impression that after last spring's strike, the Administration's attitude toward the welfare of the students had become more important than their sacred balance sheets. Maybe their attitude really has changed and maybe we threw the wrong man out of office.

Bryant Home in action.

In the second half, Bryant totally dominated the game, allowing the Worcester State "offense" just three shots on net. The Indians offensive-minded Homon, his second of the afternoon, was assailed by Arpin. "Arpo" stole the ball from an opposing fullback and passed it to Homon, who easily disposed of the ball. After pounding the State goal tender for 7 1/2 minutes (4:30) into the second half, sophomore Mike Kelly slipped home Bryant's fourth score. James Hubbard, a newcomer from Liberia, made the play possible with an accurate pass to the pursuing forward. With less than one minute left in the game, Pat Sullivan scored the final goal of the game. It was Sullivan's first varsity goal as the enthusiastic crowd responded for the final time.

Previously the visitors' fullbacks missed several opportunities to clear the ball from in front of the Worcester State goal. This play closed out the scoring at the end of the first half, leaving Bryant with a 2-0 advantage.

Bryant Vanquishes Worcester State by John Gahan

Bryant's Varsity Soccer squad blanked Worcester State 8-0, in the season opener for both teams last Saturday afternoon.

Under partly sunny skies, and aided by a slight cross wind, the Indians scored two goals in the first half. Kevin Homon, Bryant's top scorer in each of the last two years tallied the home team's initial goal after 21 1/2 minutes of play. Taking control of the ball at mid-field, Homon dribbled down the far side of the field before scoring from a bad angle; he had just about three feet in which to work with. The second goal for Bryant came about seven minutes later as Co-Captain Jeff Arpin drilled home Jeff Kuz's boot. Kuz was credited with the assist. Previously the visitors' fullbacks missed several opportunities to clear the ball from in front of the Worcester State goal. This play closed out the scoring at the end of the first half, leaving Bryant with a 2-0 advantage.

But undisturbed sets for Bryant posted his first assist of the young season. The game was not a true test for Bryant's superior retiminder. Talking to Coach Guay after the game, I asked him how he thought his squad performed. Guay said, "It is still early in the season, but I think we have a great deal of depth this year." He emphasized his point by mentioning that four different players scored the 8 goals. The Coach commented, "We had some sloppy passing today and should have scored more goals, but the team seems to be settling as a unit." Game stats proved Guay out as shots on goal were 40 to 8, overwhelmingly in favor of Bryant.

Bryant's next soccer match is scheduled for the Smithfield campus, tomorrow afternoon, September 26th. Due to a quick in this year's schedule it will be Bryant's final Saturday afternoon home game of the season. Bryant will oppose Roger Williams in its second encounter.

Bryant Skiers Prepare For '75-'76 Season

If your skiis are still in the cellar from last year-Get them out! Bryant College Ski Club is starting its second year of winter activity and has come back with new programs, ski packages, and great enthusiasm.

The Ski Club is bringing Bryant students the chance to get away for day or weekend excursions to such places as Bromley, Loon Mountain, Killington, and Mt. Snow. Also planned for this ski season is an eight day ski vacation in Canada during the semester break. Ski and party weekends being offered at the resorts, which include excellent skiing and nightlife activity, are for the enjoyment of the Bryant Ski and Non-ski Community. The trips also serve as an excellent means of meeting new people with the same interests in skiing and having good times.

The Club can offer the trips at reduced rates for students, along with professional instruction if desired. There is no membership fee to the Club and members may also be eligible for discounts at area ski shops.

The Ski Club will hold its first meeting on Sept. 21, in the Faculty Dining Room from 3-4 pm. At this time, Frank Merola, President, will explain the Club's function and plans for this ski season.

If you missed skiing last year, and don't want to miss this season, come to the Ski Club's first meeting. It's a chance to get out of your room to meet great people and have good times.
