Write On-With A Little Help From A Friend

by Michael Moon

So once in awhile you get to enroll in a course you really enjoy. Because you really enjoy the subject, you may even learn something. Hopefully, there are enough people out there in Bryant who are interested in writing to make our new journalism course an educational good time.

Mary Lyons is the teacher and she believes her students will feel free to refine their writing techniques and perhaps introduce them in some new ones. She has done some work in the library to make the course more interesting. She has also limited the enrollment to 25 or less. You can count on a little individual attention if you need it.

This course, offered at 8 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, is an elective. It is presently a liberal arts elective. Ms. Lyons assured me that it is primarily a "student-oriented" course and it was added to the curriculum at the request of a number of students.

One of the important things about writing to be covered are: editing, reporting, feature stories--what else can you think of? There will be occasional outside speakers.

Kolaneu Presents

Kolaneu, Bryant's new Jwewish Student organization, cordially invites you to attend its first official program on Thursday, November 21, at 7:30 p.m., in the Faculty Dining Room.

We are featuring Rabbi Ita A. Koff, spiritual leader of Temple Beth Am. The program will consist of an informal discussion on Judaism, and we are told thatkosher refreshments will be served.

Kolaneu is a new organization and is hoped for the future.

Nordin Authors "Rich Harvest"

BRYANT COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU--"Rich Harvest: A History of the Grand Valley 1867-1950" by Dr. Dennis S. Nordin, assistant professor of history at Bryant, was recently published by the University of Nebraska Press.

"Rich Harvest" represents the first scholarly work devoted to the history of the Grand Valley. Actually, this book represents a revision of his doctoral thesis. It was ten years in the making.

The Grand, an agrarian brotherhood, began with Oliver Hudson Kellogg's "Order of Patrons of Husbandry," Oliver Kellogg concluded that public ignorance were the greatest problems confronting the nation and that something could be done to eliminate them. It is this effort that is given in "Rich Harvest" to the Grand's, and not its economic and political aspects.

Department book trays the creation of this national farm organization, its work through its subordinate chapters, and with the Department of Agriculture, to help eliminate the shortcomings of rural life and advance its quality.

Nordin is native of Chicago, was reared amid tales of Swedish farm life by immigrant parents, and was drawn into agricultural life enhanced by visits to a favorite uncle's dairy farm. He spent his early years collecting everything obtainable on dairy and cattle.

These interest led to his decision to attend Lincoln State University, a small college nestled in the Cumbrian area of England, where he pursued his study of the agrarian movements that led to today's modern farming methods.

Mississippi State University, was selected as it represented the tradition and its rich resources for study of agricultural problems setting for simulation and Roy V. Scott, offered an exceptional opportunity for this method. It was under him that work was begun on a major revision of the Grand's history. "Rich Harvest," an academic career followed, with stops at Georgia State University, and Bryant, and or John V. Scott's splendid work.

Nordin lives in Georgia. In 1969, at the age of 20, Rabbi Koff was called to the pulpit of the Vilna Congregation, Boston's oldest remaining Jewish House of Worship, Rabbi Koff is presently 24 years of age.

Nordin was born and brought up in the Outstanding Young Men of America in 1972, he is a member of the National Alliance of America, the New England Vard Brothers, and the Vard Hall of Massachusetts.

Mr. And Ms. Personality

Last weekend KT, APK, and BETA sponsored Personality Weekend. Thursday night was the opening of "The Faculty Dinner Room." Personality of Bryant College.

The contestants represented most of the faculties and organizations on campus and were judged on appearance, personality, and ability to answer questions and situations posed to them.

On Friday night at the Elk Lodge, Melanie Reel and Tom Krenn, representing TE, were crowned Mr. and Ms. Personality. Looking back at the weekend, Melanie and Tom said they were surprised and very happy.

Melanie Ree is a third semester Legal Secretarial major from Chemis, Connecticut. She is a good student in her social work and disabled after graduating from Bryant. Melanie enjoys Law School, and he is also a graduate of The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy with degrees in international law and regulations, and a specialization in the peaceful settlement of international disputes. Rabbi Koff has done research for Dr. Henry Kissinger, Secretary of State.

At the age of 20, Rabbi Koff was called to the pulpit of the Vilna Congregation.

Kolaneu has recently been awarded the Outstanding Young Men of America in 1972, he is a member of the National Alliance of America, the New England Vard Brothers, and the Vard Hall of Massachusetts.

Ngwa and Estey to Team Teach

During the wave of social consciousness that swept the nation, blacks began to try to understand blacks. Now that the wave has hit the beach and subsided into the shore, blacks are trying to do well to abandon social consciousness as a goal and strive for understanding.

To achieve an understanding of peoples' courses are offered here at Bryant that cover most of the classes. Next semester, SS356, History of Modern Africa, is being offered, utilizing the expertise of Dr. Collins Ngwa. Dr. James Estey is at work on the manuscript. He is returning from a trip to Africa, holding meetings with African holding clear convictions which are his own and do not reflect any particular group. His academic experiences are unique, having studied with the wealth of African knowledge and experience exemplified by Dr. Ngwa. A native of Mannington, Cameroon, at 1973, Dr. Ngwa traveled to Cameroon for the "Shortage" of Dr. Ngwa and his academic career followed, with stops at Georgia State University, and Bryant, and or John V. Chairman of Common Cause in Rhode Island to Speak Here

James Farrell McAlere, Attorney and Chairman of Common Cause in Rhode Island, will speak on Tuesday, November 19, at 10 a.m. in room 242. Mr. McAlere will discuss Public Interest Lobbying: "The View from Inside." Common Cause is committed to seeking an end to secrecy and the special power of moneyed interest: Specifically: to open a meeting of legislative committees which discuss public interests, to record the votes of legislators on the floor, to provide for public financing of election campaigns, to require disclosure at lobbyists' funds, and to limit participation of legislators and other government officials in affairs in which they are interested.

Come to Room 242 and find out about issues you don't find on the front pages. For further information contact Elizabeth Peter Room 221 Social Science Hall, or John Lombard, 731-5832.
Support the Marathon

Dear Editor,

We would like to take this time out to thank all those people who supported us throughout our 26 hours of the Dana Marathon. Without you people behind us we may have gone half as far as we did once again, thank you, brothers of Phi Eta Sigma, SIB, Social Pledges, Freshmen, friends and Tony for your help after.

Academic Appeal Process

Dear Editor,

I think it is important for the students of Bryant College to be aware of the academic appeal process. Any student(s) who is not satisfied with his/her academic evaluation by an instructor has a specific course of action he/she can take to discuss the matter with the instructor.

1. If still dissatisfied; discuss the matter with the chairman of the department involved.

2. If still dissatisfied; discuss the matter with the Dean of Academic Instruction, Clarissa Patterson.

In the event that the student is still not satisfied he/she has one more channel of expression, the Student Academic Grievance Committee. It is a college committee whose membership is appointed by the President of the college. Its charge reads:

The Student Academic Grievance Committee shall hold hearings to insure that academic students rights have not been violated. The committee shall meet only when the student has not been able to resolve his problem through the appeal process.

In every student who, after having pursued the appeal process, is still not satisfied, to contact any of the committee’s members. They are:

Administration (1); Richard Alberg

Faculty (5); Mary Lyons, Steven Haggard, Charles Piscat.

Students (5); Richard Formica, Chairman; Ann Hubbard; Ann Marie Vigna; Daniel Landerin; Tina Melleur.

Respectfully,

Richard P. Formica

Don’t Overlook Wintersession!

Dear Editor,

I would like to remind the student body as a whole, that the Freshmen and Transfer students in particular of registration for Wintersession. Wintersession is held from January 6 through 24. Classes are in session Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. There is a break from 10 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Students take just one course for three (3) credits at a cost of $50.

There are several advantages to taking a winter intersession course. First, you can accelerate your program. By taking and winter and summer session courses, you can finish your degree program in three years. That means you can save as much as one full year’s tuition and find a job one full year earlier than your classmates. Second, you can lighten your load for second semester, something you may find helpful if you have a difficult schedule or are planning to work. Third, students failing a course could make it up during winter intersession to enable them to graduate as originally planned.

Wintersession ’75 offers a wide selection of courses—both required and elective. I urge you to look through the course listings that will be available as hand-outs beginning today and will also be available during pre-registration. I have been told that this listing will be published in next week’s Archway.

I speak, by the way, from experience. By taking advantage of Bryant’s winter and summer offerings, I am myself graduating one calendar year early!

Sincerely,

Shelley M. Weinstein, ’74

This week, The Archway would like to congratulate Mr. Thomas Scott, Vice President for Business Affairs, for again disregarding the interests of the students of Bryant College.

On Monday of this week, Mr. Scott left the campus for a few days to attend an auction in New Hampshire. We all know the expression, "while the cat’s away, the mice will play." Well, Mr. Scott came up with a solution to this problem: Send the mice on vacation or take them with you! That’s right, Mr. Scott took Mr. Quinlin, his designee when he’s away, to New Hampshire with him. Not only did Mr. Scott obviously forget that Peter Reck, Townhouse Dispatcher, who was vacationing, he also forgot to put anyone in charge for the period he was away.

No one in the Business Office knew who was in charge of their affair, never mind the Townhouses. Finally, one that Mr. Quinlin was going to call in and solve any problems by telephone. Can you let someone who is locked out of a townhouse in over the phone? Can leaks or broken pipes in townhouses be mended over the telephone? We think not.

Again, thank you, Mr. Scott, for making life at Bryant so much more difficult for us all.

Phi Ep News
The Halloween season brought Phi Ep out to the community for a trick or treat event at the University Hospital. The brothers and some of their friends collected about 50 to 60 dollars of candy for the hospital. Earlier that night Phi Ep had taken first place in ARA's Pumpkin Carving Contest.

As Personality Weekend neared, Phi Ep's Panhellenic and Sigma Delta Epsilon's Donor Lahindia did a great job of showing off our true personality as two doltis. At the weekend event, Greg Hett and Nancey McHafft came in third place in the Dance Marathon, after dudling down.

Phi Ep's football team has done quite well through the second half of this season. Our record over the half season was three wins, two ties. The overall record for the team through 10 games was 4-3-3. With our record and our efforts to our credit, it put us in second place and in the playoffs. The brothers of Phi Ep very much would like to thank all the people who supported us through the season.

Phi Sigma Nu

Phi Sigma Nu extends its congratulations to this year's Mr. and Mrs. Personality and the two spirited winners of the Dance Marathon.

Several brothers attended the Ecology College's Varsity Volleyball team last week. The Varsity Team involved itself in the first game with an 11-0 win, and led the immortal seniors of the A-Phi seniors with a game of "Big George." The second and third games lasted 59 minutes and Phi Sig barely pulled out the 15-13 and 15-13 victories over the seniors. This hard-fought struggle was followed by Phi Sigma Nu's contribution of a check from the fraternity to the Varsity Team to help cover the cost of their uniforms, which they have financed themselves. We wish the girls good luck in their second season as they move on.

On Thursday, November 7, in a bowling game with Kappa Tau and SG there was a hard-fought battle between the teams. With six minutes to go in the game, "Flapper" Funkus Davis threw a 45-yard pass from mid-field to the Phi Ep receiver, who made a miraculous catch in the back of the end zone. With the pressure on for the extra point, "Golden Toe" Bob Perry made the score 7-6. Phi Sig settled down to play a tough defense that completely walled up the Kappa defense. This game was one of the best we've had this season. It was played at the Bryant College and both teams are looking forward to the play-offs.

The end of regular season play was well attended. We won 10 wins, no losses, and no ties. It is the second year in a row that Phi Sig, in regular season play, has gone undefeated (last year 8-0-0). A record that the whole fraternity and team is proud of.

Blood Cards
Please stop in the GLC Office and pick up your blood donor 10 cards.

Delta Sigma Phi
Delta Sigma Phi's football season was not quite as successful as last year's. Nevertheless, we proved to show that our good spirit and strength in the ten-game schedule. Our team suffered a great loss at the beginning of the season when our number one-quarter, Rich Gordon, was injured and was unable to play for the rest of the season. The team, however, showed tremendous comeback and came out fighting every game. During our season, which ended in a 4-6 record, we experienced many closely-fought battles. The big game of our season was when we upset Kappa Tau, 10-6. The team played as one unit with great determination displayed by every player. The highlight of the game occurred with less than two minutes left. Quarterback Bob Tallant threw a bomb to end Mike Collins, who made the catch in the end zone. This score proved to be the winning margin.

At this time, Delta Sigma Phi would like to thank all those who supported us this year. Also, we would like to show our appreciation and alumnus for their support. Our team participated in the annual Banquet and the sisters of New York were given a wonderful time. We would like to show our appreciation and thanks to all those who supported us this year. Also, we would like to show our appreciation and thanks to all those who supported us this year.

Sigma Nu

As Phi Ep comes to an end, it's time to look back on the past year. Our senior members have worked hard this past year and we are proud of all their accomplishments.

Beta Sigma Chi

Sigma Iota Chi
A job well done to Karen and Paula for the excellent performance in Personality Weekend. Congratulations to Paul and Menudey from Sigma Iota Chi for taking second place in the contest. Congratulations to Melinda and Tom for third place for TE, and to Terry and Linda for taking third place for T32. Thank you, Beta Chi and SIG for a great weekend.

This Halloween Happy Hour was a great success. There was beer, games and prizes. We had a great turnout. Thanks to all for coming. Hope you had a great time.

Conratulations to A team for defeating ISO last weekend in a dramatic victory. This weekend SIG-A was defeated by the Panthers, the first-place team in our division. Again, we would like to thank the team that you are behind you all the way! Keep Stalling!

Alpha Delta Omega

As musing moves along, the persuasive pledges for ADO are looking good.

Things at the frat house are going well and an open house is expected in the next couple of weeks.

On November 7, one of our alumni had a Halloween party and a large number of brothers and alum were there together and united again since last year. A good time was had by all.

Every week from now on there will be an announcement of the winners of the weekly test. This week's winner is Tim Ergler, who answered all the questions in the game of who are you? The brothers answered the question, "Doe Legue have an ace up his sleeve or what?"

Beta Sigma Chi

Congratulations to Tom and Menudey, the new Mr. and Mrs. Personality. Congratulations also to SIG Chi and SIG Epsilon for their good weekend.

It really got into Halloween this year. We had a costume party on October 30, and all the ghosts and witches came out to greet us. The sisters certainly outdid themselves for creative costumes this year. Some of the outstanding ones were a holy divers, dresses, costumes, and a Raggedy Ann and Andy set.

The sisters have recently gone on a hayride at Steppingstone State. All of us who could had a Fabulous time. By the way, did anyone finally get all the hay out of the barn? Everyone participated actively or passively in the hay fight led by Sister Edna. After the hay fight, we warmed up in front of a campfire and sipped hot cocoa and coffee.

BSI has also held its annual Spaghetti Dinner recently. Everyone who could make it out was there. Sisters and prospects all had a great time sharing the spaghetti and conversation.

Last but not least we had a wonderful end to Halloween. Regular Monday meeting this week.

This year's sister Robin Porter, a recent alumna was the lucky girl. Congratulations and best of luck, Robin and lick!

Trithe

You could see him slowly go over the edge. He looked over the edge on his hands and knees. He stood up. He breathed deep of the mountain air. He watched from the ledge the eagle. He wished to soar, to live and expand his awareness these men would kill each other. No predator would stalk man like another man. Cooperation, when it meant something, was the only way for man and his brain. His great brain.

Happiness

Today was like yesterday. Yesterday had been like the day before. Tomorrow will be like today. Nothing will change. There is nothing to be done. I know it is fashionable sometimes logical, too, to find fault with "the system." What good does it do to disagree with those who obviously know much more than I, I, have food to eat, a place to sleep, and people with whom to argue. I never like to talk too much though—everyone knows that people who talk too much are boring. I am not boring, and I know that to say I am just like I did today life will go on. Don't rock the boat. Don't be too unhappy either. I am happy. I never rock the boat. I like this. This is the world. It's not the best one I can imagine, but I certainly wouldn't want my boss to know that I think that. I must really remember what the right things are to say. If I say the wrong things, people get upset. It is not good to upset people. I never say wrong things. Sometimes I see people who are not happy. I try not to see them. They make me think about sadness. I don't like sadness. I am happy. The system makes this happy life possible. I am a part of the system. I have read about those who are not in the system. The magazines say that they are all hicks. I don't care, but I think the people they right. They say here is the system we can have our freedom? Freedom just makes people think and be upset so I say get rid of it, lose it, and I don't have any and I am happy. My boss says he has high blood pressure, and is on the verge of a nervous breakdown. He is happy. The system has helped him to get where he is today. He wants it to go on after his death, he wants it to be immortal. He says it is like God. I believe him because he is the boss, and he obviously knows more than I. I am happy.

"Somehow it isn't only what you don't say, isn't it?"—Harry Nilsson

ISO Presents

Mr. DeTarr

Scandinavian Night

by Denise Caragot

The ISO had its second speaker for the year, Tuesday, November 12 at 3 p.m. Mr. Francis DeTarr is a diplomatic Residence over at Providence College. His topic was African Diplomacy but he also talked about the birth of diplomacy, changes in diplomacy and how you can get into the diplomat corps! Mr. DeTarr was a relaxed speaker. His speech was mixed with jokes, quotes, and life's little experience. This plus pleasant manner and topic made him a very enjoyable speaker. One of the aids of the question the students asked them self's learned about the different views America held on foreign policies and general diplomatic problems. Francis DeTarr will be traveling around Rhode Island giving lectures. He plans to be at Brown and URI in the near future.

ISO proudly announces that this Semester's Ethnic Night is Scandinavian Night. It will be held December 9th at 8:00 p.m. at the International House in Providence. Tickets are now on sale.

Remember our meetings are held every Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in 0-351.

Everyone is welcome to come.

Spring Semester, 1975

Prelregnization

The Graduate School is conducting a preregistration for the Spring Semester. The instructions and cards were mailed out on Wednesday and Thursday. The completed cards should be returned to the Graduate Office by November 23.

The preregistration will enable the Graduate Office to forecast more accurately the potential class enrollment for the Spring Semester. It will guarantee students a seat in courses of their choice unless the course has to be canceled because of low enrollment. It will also make it possible for Veterans to receive their checks by the time classes begin in the Spring Semester.

Registration

The final registration period will be December 9 through December 20.

The brothers of Beta Sigma Chi would like to thank everyone involved in making Personality Weekend '74 a huge success. It was a special thanks to the brothers of Kappa Tau and the group, "Down to Earth Kappa." Thanks to each and every one of you.

H.R. is sincerely hoped that all of the student body, faculty members, administrative staff, friends, and families enjoyed the weekend; because, without your support, Personality Weekend would not be possible.

High noon, Thursday, November 7th started the festive activities. The Unstructure ceiling became one mass of colored balloons. Personality Weekend '74 was officially underway.

The Judging Thursday night received such fantastic support people were standing in the auditorium lobby to watch the proceedings. A special mention should be made to those individuals who went upon stage and strived to obtain the title of Mr. & Miss Personality 1974.

Friday's Coronation Ball at the Elks Club was also well supported by the student body. Happy to see that many alumni could be back for the weekend. The group, "G stub," was full of popular tunes played throughout the night. The crowning of Mr. & Miss Personality topped off the events activities. congratulations to Tom Bourne & Melanie Riscotti.

The Dance Marathon began at 8:30 Saturday evening. The contestants started the marathon, with each couple dancing on toward the $200 first prize. The strenuous activity proved too much for some couples to handle. With the dawn of a new day, the contestants had dwindled down to a small handful. Again, the going was tough and a few more couples dropped out during the day. By evening, four couples were left. It appeared that Tommy Robbins and Patty Briggs, Wayne Richard and Ellen Hennsey, Gary Zienowicz and Valerie Braukman, and Greg Hoobs and Nancy McGough were going to dance till the finish. Unfortunately, the physical strain was too much!! Two of the four remaining couples had to admit to defeat. The struggle was now between Wayne Richard and Ellen Hennsey and Gary Zienowicz and Valerie Braukman. Once again, the tedious task was too great!!!

The winners of the fifth annual Dance Marathon were Wayne Richard and Ellen Hennsey. Their reward, a $100 check each. Their time... 10 hours and 45 minutes.

A silver morning left at my door so that I may carry it inside to light up my home. i am to love it and sing to it and use it as if it were my last. But there is something missing from this day. Something empty. for I am the only one enjoying a day meant for many. . . .

snow clouds hung high over me as I walked alone across the winter field the wind stung my cheeks and the cold made me long for you. I don't know why but I do. if you ever think about me let me know so I can keep those warm thoughts for my winter fields. . . .

green leaves brush against the stained glass reality was again known and faith took its place on the shelf. inspiration is the thought of an angel carried on a spring breeze to the lonely poet in the field of time...

ALBUM REVIEW
by Wally Semaschuk
"Nightmares"
The J. Geils Band

Mention the name J. Geils Band to most people and more than likely, you'll get a strong reaction. Few people have neutral feelings towards this group, a fact that is readily understandable once one has had the experience of listening to one of their recordings. The band typically comes on very strong and it's quite difficult to listen to them and not have an opinion. The band's music is unique; few are capable of imitating the lead vocals and harmonies work that characterizes the band's music.

As far as musical talent goes, the band is lacking. The band's vocalists sound as though they've got a personal case of laryngitis, and the percussion seems disturbingly unobtrusive. The only bright point is the keyboards. Work of both Boston. Fortunately, the band apparently recognizes its limits and doesn't try to exceed them.

The title of this album is Nightmares, and after listening to it, one can only wonder what the meaning really is. As might be expected, the style is typical of the J. Geils Band. There is some experimentation, but for the most part the album sounds so similar to the last one, "Bloodshot," that at times it's agonizing to resist the temptation to check the color of the record. It's reassuringly black, unlike the red transference of the former. The band is beginning to show more inclination towards "funk," a trend that actually started a while back. Musical evolution comes slowly with this band and with their style, that's probably best.

The J. Geils Band's main appeal lies in their live performances. The stage show is one of their stronger points, and it almost makes up for the lack of musical talent in the group. The music takes on a different flavor here, and it's easy to see that it was meant to be performed live. The J. Geils Band is one of the most popular "boogie" bands around. Like most other boogie bands, their music is meant for one purpose (have a fun time good time) and doesn't lend itself to be taken seriously. "Nightmares" is no exception. It's typical of J. Geils Band boogie, and if not taken seriously, it's even possible to enjoy it.

Expansion In Sports
by Rich Magee

The American Baseball League, the National Baseball League, the National Football League, the World Football League, the National Basketball Association, the National Hockey League, and the World Hockey Association, are the major professional sports leagues that sports fans recognize.

A fact is that three of these above mentioned leagues, (WFLA, ABA, and WFL) did not exist eight years ago. The five remaining leagues have expanded in great numbers during the past ten years. Major league baseball has 24 teams, the NFL 26, the NBA 18, and the NHL 18.

Expansion and the creation of these new leagues has lowered the quality of competition in pro sports. There are far too many mediocre teams. For example, when the Vancouver Canucks play the Minnesota North Stars, a style of minor league play is evident. Five years ago in the original NHL many of the Canucks and North Stars would never have made league; the same is applicable to basketball. When the Cleveland Cavaliers play the Phoenix Suns is equivalent to watching a college game. Baseball has been hurt in competition levels as a result of numerous average players. In 1969, when 16 teams existed, the best players made the teams. Now with eight additional clubs many minor league players are currently playing. It appears in baseball that each team has an equal amount of minor league performers. The quality of play, while innovative, a common draft, and good competition has not been hurt by expansion.

The new leagues in basketball and hockey are improving. The ABA's and WHA's have brought many great college stars to their league. Unfortunately, this seems to be the only method of building a new league in sports. The same is true of the NFL. Their own system of combining college players with a mixture of former NFL stars in preventing the teams to the fans. So far the venture has been a success.

The WHL has run into terrible financial problems. Many of their ideas to increase the offense are foolish, attendance has decreased every week and their season is far too long. (20 regular season games). Look for the World Football League to either merge with the National Football League or with the Canadian Football League or just fold starting next season.

Another thought is the idea of the fan paying major league prices to see minor league play in the major league ranks. Hockey prices are ridiculous. This season a full season ticket holder sees the Montreal Canadians only once at the Boston Garden. Many fans have turned in the game, won the match 15-0, 15-13, and 18-5. Coaches Eddy Taylor and Ross Schuff were proud of the teamwork exhibited and the opportunity was increased by the over average players. The team's name is Team, Thursday, November 21, at R.I.C. at 7:00 p.m. Everyone is urged to come and cheer them on.
