Write On- With A Little Help From A Friend

by Michael Moon

So once in awhile you get to enroll in a course you really enjoy. Because you really enjoy this course, you may even learn something. Hopefully, there are enough people out there in Byzantine Studies who are interested in writing to make our new journalism course an educational good time.

Mary Lyons is the teacher and she believes she can help students to refine their writing techniques and perhaps introduce them to some new ones. She has done some work in the library to make the course more interesting. She has also limited the enrollment to 25 or less. You can count on a little individual attention if you need it.

The course, offered at 8 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, is 10 credits. It is presently a liberal arts elective. Ms. Lyons stressed to me that it is primarily a "student-oriented" course and it was added to the curriculum at the request of a number of students.

Writing an essay, which was to be covered are editorializing, reporting, feature stories—what else can you think of? There will be occasional outside speakers.

Kolane Present

Kolane, Bryant's new Jewish Student organization, cordially invites you to attend its first official program on Thursday, November 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the Faculty Dining Room. We are featuring Rabbi Ira A. Koff, spiritual leader of Temple Beth El. Kolane's purpose is to make Jewish existence "Inside the U.N. and the State Department." A question and answer period will follow a short opening statement, with everyone invited to participate.

Rabbi Koff is the son of an internationally known rabbinic family with a tradition of 74 generations. He was granted the Juris Doctor degree from Brooklyn School of Law.

Nordin Authors "Rich Harvest"

Bryant College News Bureau "Rich Harvest: A History of Rhode Island, 1867-1967" by Dr. Dennis S. Nordin, assistant professor of history at Bryant, was recently published by the University of Rhode Island Press. Rich Harvest represents the first scholarly work devoted to the history of the state. Actually, this book represents a revision of his doctoral thesis. It was ten years in the making.

The Grange, an agrarian brotherhood, began with Oliver Hudson Holcomb's "Order of Patrons of Husbandry." Oliver Holcomb considered the political and ignorance were the greatest rural problems confronting the nation and that something could be done to eliminate them. It is this philosophy that was given in "Rich Harvest" to the Grange's.

Department of Agriculture, to help eliminate the shortcomings of rural life and advance its quality.

Ms. Nordin, native of Chicago, was reared amid tales of Swedish farm life by immigrant parents, and has always been interested in agricultural life enhanced by visions of a favorite uncle's dairy farm. He spent his early years collecting everything obtainable on dairying and cattle.

These interests led to his decision to attend Lincoln Memorial University, a small college nestled in the Cumberland mountains of Tennessee, where he pursued his study of the agrarian movements that led to the development of the Grange.

Miami University, has always felt a deep admiration for its tradition and its rich resources for study of agricultural problems. He is currently setting up for a study and presentation of Dr. O. V. Scott, professor of marketing, who was under him that work was begun on a major revision of the Grange's history. The academic career followed, with stops at Georgia College and the Southwestern College and College of the Holy Cross. As an Assistant Professor, Nordin lives in Providence, Rhode Island.

In 1985, Professor Nordin had the honor of serving as a visiting lecturer in Sweden. In the future, Nordin hopes to complete his book. Dr. Nordin is a Democrat, New Deal Democrat Mrs. Mitchell, and good friend of the Grange. In the Twenty-First Century, Al present, Nordin lives in Providence, Rhode Island.

Chairman of Common Cause in Rhode Island to Speak Here

James Farrell McAleny, Attorney and Chairman of Common Cause in Rhode Island, will speak on Tuesday, November 19, at 10 a.m. in room 242. Mr. McAleny will discuss Public Interest Lobbying: "The View from 37th Street." Common Cause is committed to seeking an end to secrecy and the special power of monied interest. Specifically: to open meetings of legislative committees which discuss public interests, to record the votes of legislators on the floor, to provide for public financing of election campaigns, to require disclosure at lobbyist's funds, and to limit participation of legislators and other government officials in affairs in which they are interested.

Comes to 414 and find out about issues you don't find in the Sunday paper. For further information contact Elizabeth Potter Room 221 Social Sciences Building (401) 526-5867.
Support the Marathon

Dear Editor,

We would like to take this time out to thank all those people who supported us with their kind thoughts and support for the Dana Marathon. Without you people behind us we may not have gone half as far as we did.

Once again, thank you, brothers of Phi Eta Sigma, SIB, Social Pledges, Freshmen, friends and family for your help.

Nancy McHugh

Don't Overlook Wintersession!

Dear Editor,

I would like to remind the student body as a whole to consider the Freshmen and Transfer students in particular of registration for Winter Intersession. Wintersession is held from January 6 through 24. Classes are in session Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. Students can take just one course for three (3) credits at a cost of $350.

There are several advantages to taking a winter intersession course. First, you can accelerate your program. By taking and winter and summer session courses, you can finish your degree program in three years. That means you can save as much as one full year’s tuition and find a job one full year earlier than your classmates. Second, you can lighten your load for second semester, something you may find helpful if you have a difficult schedule or are planning to work. Third, students failing a course could make it up during winter intersession to enable them to graduate as originally planned.

Wintersession ’75, offers a wide selection of courses—both required and elective. I urge you to look through the course listings that will be available as hand-outs beginning today and will also be available during pre-registration. I have been told that this listing will be published in next week’s Archway.

I speak by the way, from experience. By taking advantage of Bryant’s winter and summer offerings, I am myself graduating one calendar year early!

Sincerely,
Shelley M. Weins, ’74

This week, The Archway would like to congratulate Mr. Thomas Scott, Vice President for Business Affairs, for again disregarding the interests of the students of Bryant College.

On Monday of this week, Mr. Scott left the campus for a few days to attend an auction in New Hampshire. We all know the expression, "while the cat's away, the mice will play." Well, Mr. Scott came up with a solution to this problem: Send the mice on vacation or take them with you! That's right, Mr. Scott took Mr. Quinlin, his designate when he's away, to New Hampshire with him. Not only did Scott obviously forget that Peter Weinkopf, Bryant's Trustee, lives in New Hampshire, but also that the Trustee had offered to put anyone in charge of the campus in his absence.

No one in the Business Office knew who was in charge of that office, never mind the Townhouse. Finally, someone said that Mr. Quinlin was going to call in and solve any problems by telephone. Can you let someone who is locked out of a townhouse in over the phone? Can leaks or broken pipes in townhouses be mended over the telephone? We think not!

Again, thank you, Mr. Scott, for making life at Bryant so much more difficult for us all.
The first item of business was the acceptance of the previous week's minutes. It was announced by Margaret French, Executive Secretary, that the minutes would no longer be read aloud at the meetings since each Senator receives a copy during the latter part of the week and has plenty of time to read them before the meetings. As there were no corrections to be made, the minutes were accepted.

Mike Hammer, Speaker of the Council, reminded all Senators that Committee reports are due Friday, November 15. Reports from all the active committees are expected to be handed in on time.

Under old business, Kevin McCurry informed the Senators that he had received a letter from the J.O. (International Student Organization), requesting funds to aid in defraying the cost of attending the Model U.N. in the spring. Michael Lynch explained the circumstances under which the active and received financial support two years ago, but was turned down last year. After some discussion, the motion to approve the request was passed.

Under new business, the new R.S.A.G. (Resident Student Advisory Group) charges were presented to the Senators, and the amount charged ($5 per R.U.C., room, etc.) were specific enough and neither Peter Barlow nor Kevin McCurry were happy with the results. Rich McGrath, Senior Senator, and Chairman of the R.S.A.G., made a motion to table the matter until next week in order to give him, Sue Horn, Secretary/Treasurer of the R.S.A.G., and all the Senators time to examine the new charges. He also wanted to talk with Peter Barlow and ask the members of the R.S.A.G. their opinions and suggestions before a decision is made. The motion was unanimously approved.

The matter of a warning situation that arose in the Senate was brought up by Arnie Silva. The Sophomore Senator asked what the Senate's position on the matter was. The motion to table the warning situation was passed by 17 for, 0 against, and 2 abstentions.

The motion to adjourn was seconded by Mike Hammer. The minutes were read and approved by Mr. Peter Barlow and Mrs. Arnie Silva. The motion to adjourn was passed by a vote of 17 for, 0 against, and 2 abstentions.

Regulations for Posters and Signs

1. All posters and signs displayed on Bryant College property must be approved by the Student Affairs Office.
2. All posters and signs must be displayed on bulletin boards. No posters or signs can be affixed to walls, doors, or windows.
3. Posters and signs must be neat and legible.
4. Posters and signs must be removed from bulletin boards within 24 hours after the event occurs.

Failure to abide by these guidelines will necessitate the following actions:
- the immediate removal of all unauthorized posters and signs;
- the withholding of approval until such time as the Student Affairs Office deems it appropriate to permit posting.
Phi Ep News

The Halloween season brought Phi Ep out to the community for a trick or treat event at Roger Williams Hospital. The brothers and some of their friends collected about 500 pounds of candy for the hospital. Earlier that night Phi Ep had taken first place in ARA's Pumpkin Decorating Contest.

As Personality Weekend came to an end, Phi Ep's Panhellenic and SIB's Donau Labadie did a great job of showing off our true personality. At the weekend's conclusion, Greg Heri and Nancy McPherson came in third place in the Dance Marathon, after dollars. Phi Ep's football team has done quite well through the second half of this season. Our record over the last half was three wins, two losses. The overall record now is 4-3-3. With this victory, we now have our credit to put in second place and in the playoffs. The brothers of Phi Ep would like to thank all the people who supported us through the season.

Phi Sigma Nu

Phi Sigma Nu extends its congratulations to this year's Mr. and Miss Personality and the two spirited winners of the Dance Marathon.

Several brothers attended the Faculty Collosal Ski Valley Weekend last week. The Varsity Team asserted itself in the first game with an 11-0 win, to set a new unbeatable record for this season. The second game was followed by Phi Sigma Nu's confirmation of a check from the fraternity to the Varsity Team to help cover the cost of the new uniforms, which they must finance themselves. We wish the girls good luck in their second annual season to come.

On Thursday, November 7, in a bowling game with Kappa Tau, Phi Sig emerged with a 7-6 victory. The first points were scored by the Kappa Tau first, and the Kappa Tau second, and the Kappa Tau third, and Phi Sig barely pulled out the 15-10 and 15-13 victories over the varsity. This last-bowling scrimmage was followed by Phi Sigma Nu's confirmation of a check from the fraternity to the Kappa Tau to help cover the cost of the new uniforms, which they must finance themselves. We wish the girls good luck in their second annual season to come.

Tan Kappa Epsilon

On October 29, 1974, TKE's Vice President, Dan Martin, made the trip up North to UC to present a keynote address at a national chapter meeting and celebration of TKE. This trip consisted of a tour of the area, a visit to Dr. A. T. DeWitt, National Chapter President, and a discussion of the many services and financial aid TKE has to offer.

TKE also is proud to welcome new social pledges to the fraternity. They are Mike Dalgis, Bill Edson, Brian Horne, Dwayne Gouding, Tom McGuinness, John McGlacken, Bill McNeese, and Mike Rebello.

TKE would like to announce its fourth division championship. This year was a very successful one for the team, with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, 3-0, in our last meeting. The team is off to a great start, and we would like to thank all the participants for their hard work.

Please stop in the GLC Office and pick up your blood donor ID Card.

Deltaphi Sigma Phi

Deltaphi Sigma Phi Fraternity's football season was not quite as successful as last year. Nevertheless, we are proud to show our great spirit and strength in the ten-game schedule. We want to thank the fans for their support and enthusiasm. On their first game, which ended in a 4-0 victory, we were able to come out fighting. Every game since then has been a success. We want to thank all those who supported us this year. The results are in and we have qualified for the second game, and we are looking forward to it with great enthusiasm.

Kappa Tau

Kappa Tau would like to thank all those who helped make Personality Weekend a success. Also, we would like to congratulate the winners of the Marathon. We would also like to congratulate Beta Kappa, Tau Kappa, and Xi Phi for their success.

Tan Epsilon

This weekend proved to be a very successful one for our Epsilon. It started off on Thursday afternoon when brother Vic Neuman was first place in the raffle sponsored by the Management Development Club. Thursday night we entered the Tour Tomb and Melanie Rucci as our candidates in the Personality contest. After a fine performance by both, they were rewarded for their efforts on Friday night. When they were presented with the first place trophy. This is the second first place trophy in a row that Tau Epsilon has taken this year. Also, at the weekend we capped off when the couple sponsored by Tau Epsilon finally won the Dance Marathon after 27 hours of dancing and 39 minutes. The brothers extended their gratitude and congratulations to both brothers for their fine effort. Expectations for the upcoming weekend are extremely high. On Friday night there will be parties to be held and events to be enjoyed. On Saturday night, Tau Epsilon will have its annual banquet. All of the brothers hope that you will join them in participating and enjoying these events.

Beta Sigma Chi

A job well done to Karen and Paul for the excellent performance in Personality Weekend. Congratulations to Bob and Maple for taking second place in the contest. Congratulations to Melvin and Terry for first place in the competition. For their efforts, Bob and Maple were presented with a trophy, and Terry and Melvin were presented with a plaque.

As rushing moves along, the pledge process for ADO are looking good.

Things at the frat house are going well and an opening for house is expected in the next couple of weeks.

On November 7, one of our alumni had a Halloween party and a large number of brothers and alumns were there together and united again since last year. A good time was had by all.

Every week from now on there will be an announcement of the winners of the week. This week's winner is Tim Lager, who donated a total of $100. The winners are to be drawn at the rush Banquet in the next weekend.

ISO Presents Mr. DeTarr Scandinavian Night by Denise Garagi

The ISO had its second speaker for the year, Tuesday, November 12 at 3 p.m. Mr. Francis DeTarr is a diplomat in Residence over at Providence College. His topic was American Diplomacy but he also talked about the birth of diplomacy, changes in diplomacy and how you can get into the diplomat corps. Mr. DeTarr was a relaxed speaker. His speech was mixed with jokes, quotes, and life’s little experience. This plus his pleasant manner and topic made him a very enjoyable speaker. The aid of the question the students asked they learned about the different views America held on foreign policies and general diplomatic problems.

FRANCIS DETARR will be traveling around Rhode Island giving lectures. He plans to be at Brown and URI in the near future.

ISO proudly announces that this Semester’s Ethnic Night is Scandinavian Night. It will be held December 12th at 8:00 p.m. at the International House in Providence. Tickets are now on sale.

Remember our meetings are held every Thursday at 11 O’clock in Room C-351. Everyone is welcome to come.

Marketing Club Visits Narragansett Brewery

by Byron Benton

Last Thursday, the Bryant College Marketing Club visited the Narragansett Brewery in Cranston, Rhode Island. Mr. John English, the official tour guide of the brewery, showed the Club and its guest an enjoyable tour. Mr. English is a very competent and enjoyable person; and as a tour guide he runs the 1890 Room, which is in the original brewery and where he starts the tour off with an enjoyable and entertaining lecture where he boasts of being world renowned and being the most knowledgeable person in the world on the subject of beer. By the end of the tour you believe him.

While touring the brewery he is constantly telling jokes and explaining the brewery process.

While on the tour, the club members were noticing that many of the employees were drinking beer on their breaks. When joking Mr. English about this he said that it was the brewery’s policy to let the employees drink all that they wanted, and he said for it too.

ALBUM REVIEW
by Wally Semashuk

"Nightmares"
The J. Geils Band

Mention the name J. Geils Band to most people and more than likely, you'll get a strong reaction. Few people have neutral feelings towards this group, a fact that is readily understandable once one has had the experience of listening to one of their recordings. The band typically comes on very strong and it's quite difficult to listen to them and not have an opinion. The band's music is unique; few are capable of duplicating the lead vocals and harmonies work that characterizes the band's music.

As far as musical talent goes, the band is lacking. The band's vocalists sound as though they've got a perpetual case of laryngitis, and the percussion seems disturbingly unobservant. The only bright point is the keyboardist's work of both Boston. Fortunately, the band apparently recognizes its limits and doesn't try to exceed them.

The title of this album is Nightmares, and after listening to it, one can only wonder what the meaning really is. As might be expected, the style is typical of the J. Geils Band. There is some experimentation, but for the most part the album sounds similar to the last one, "Bloodshot," that at times is agonizing to resist the temptation to check the color of the record. It's reassuringly black, unlike the red transference of the former. The band is beginning to show more inclination towards "fun," a trend that actually started a while back. Musical evolution comes slowly with this band and with their style, that's probably best.

The J. Geils Band's main appeal lies in their live performances. The stage show is one of their stronger points, and it almost makes up for the lack of musical talent in the group. The music takes on a different flavor here, and it's easy to see that it was meant to be performed live. operation of the most popular "boogie" bands around. Like most other boogie bands, their music is meant for one purpose (have a fun time good time) and doesn't lend itself to be taken seriously. "Nightmares" is no exception. It's typical of J. Geils Band boogie, and if not taken seriously, it's even worse to enjoy it.

The American Baseball League, the National Basketball League, the National Football League, the World Football League, the National Basketball Association, the National Hockey League, the World Hockey Association, are the major professional sports leagues that sports fans recognize. A fact is that three of these above-mentioned leagues (WFL, ABA, and WFL) did not exist eight years ago. The five remaining leagues have expanded in great numbers during the past ten years. Major league baseball has 24 teams, the NFL 26, the NBA 18, and the NHL 18. Expansion and the creation of these new leagues has lowered the quality of competition in pro sports. There are far too many mediocre teams. For example, when the Vancouver Canucks play the Minnesota North Stars, a style of minor league play is evident. Five years ago, in the original NHL, many of the Canucks and North Stars would have never made this league, the game is applicable to basketball. When the Cleveland Cavaliers play the Phoenix Suns is equivalent to watching a college game. Basketball has been hurt in competition levels as a result of an excess of average players. In 1969, when 16 teams existed, the best players made the teams. Now with eight additional clubs many minor leaguers are currently playing. It appears in basketball that each team has an equal amount of minor league performers. The downside of the expansion, a common draft, and good competition has not been hurt by expansion. The new leagues in basketball and hockey are improving. The ABA's first year brought many great collegiate stars to their league. Unfortunately, this seems to be the only method of building a new league in sports. The same is true of the WFL. Their first year started by combining college players with a mixture of former minor league stars in preparing the teams to the fans. So far the venture has been a success.

The WFL has run into terrible financial problems. Many of their ideas to increase the offense are foolish, attendance decreases every week and their season is far too long (20 regular season games). Look for the World Football League to either merge with the National Football League or with the Canadian Football League or just fold starting next season.

Another thought is the idea of the fan paying major league prices to see minor league play in the major league ranks. Hockey prices are ridiculous. This season a full bachelor street ticket holder saw the Montreal Canadians only once at the Boston Garden. Many fans have turned in their interest in hockey due to high ticket prices. The only advantage to a season ticket in hockey and basketball is a guarantee of playoff tickets.

In summation, the competition of sports has greatly deteriorated. The quality of players is much lower than minor league ability and the seasons are much too long. You the fan are paying a great deal of money to see these minor league events.
