Bryant Employees To Vote On Unionization

Due to circumstances between the administration and the student body, an unrepresented group of employees at Bryant College, including the student body, has decided to implement a concerned group at the College.

As related by Mary (Mickey) Finn, a former employee of the College, the prime cause for union representation is the lack of legal means to bargain on wages and benefits for the administration. In recent months an Advisory Committee was formed to facilitate a means of communication between employees of the College and the administration through the Advisory Committee, the secretaries, clerical workers, and supervisors asked if they could discuss the potential for increase of the College’s growth. To try and explain why a greater increase was necessary, they were told that they would not have a bearing on the College. The fact that the "employees made efforts to resolve things through the administration." Yet, it might not be possible on how to improve the conditions of the workers and ineffective in dealing with the administration.

Other reasons for unionization pertain to the fulfillment of the duties required for proper functioning of the College. Ms. Finn explained that "with the change of administration we look forward to a more organized and cooperative school in writing. We used to get more work done in the time we worked. We get more work done in the lockers at night when we worked at night for the sale of books." It was the "same in every way with the board of directors." We used to receive a lot of complaints from students who had to work five hours at a stretch. We then receive our shares.

Also cited as cause for unionization is the feeling of insecurity among several employees because of the unstable administration. Ms. Finn, referring back to the Advisory Committee, commented, "During a meeting of the Advisory Committee, a question came up as to whether or not there was some way to meet and discuss the administration’s concerns."

The employees are discontent with the administration because of its inability to solve the problems. When the decisions were made effective that affected their employment. They feel that they have no representation at the College due to the lack of a "unionized" campus.

Looking at the other unionized groups on campus, (The Student Senate, the unionized cottages, and the workers) realized that there are groups that had legitimate representation to obtain better wages and benefits. The secretaries and clerical workers realized that they were non-unionized because of the administration’s refusal to make the College legally bound to bargain for wages and benefits.

On June 22, 1974, Service Employees International Union Local 134, sent a letter to Mr. Everett Hutker, President of the College, expressing their desire to unionize. The letter was written with the purpose of organizing all student workers, including the student body, into a bargaining unit.

Senate-Student Affairs Dispute

On September 11, 1974, the Student Senate, at the start of the semester, sent a letter to Ms. Carmen Jordan concerning the controversial requests by the Student Affairs Office that were made at the start of the semester. Ms. Jordan, President of the Senate, requested an explanation from the Student Affairs Office and offered to meet with the students to discuss the situation. Ms. Jordan emphasized the need for more student representation and the importance of student involvement in decision-making processes.

The letter recognized the need for organization and representation among all student groups; however, it stated that the Student Senate had a better understanding of the situation and that the information was being disseminated. The letter also stated that the Student Senate was ready to assist in the situation and that it would be willing to meet with the administration to discuss the matter.

In a letter to the Student Senate, the Student Affairs Office claimed that the requests were made in the best interest of the students and that they were necessary to maintain the proper functioning of the college. The letter also stated that the Student Affairs Office had been working on the requests for some time and that they had been in contact with the Student Senate.

Dr. Barry Fullerton, Vice President for Student Affairs, requested to meet with the Student Senate to discuss the situation. The meeting was scheduled for September 12, 1974, and the Student Senate agreed to meet with the administration.

Noma Burke and the Candy Store

Noma Burke was born and educated in Rhode Island. In 1948, after her marriage, she moved to Providence. She worked as a sales clerk in a local store and was later promoted to a management position. She decided to open her own store, the Candy Store, which she ran successfully for over 20 years. She retired in 1974 and passed away in 1980.

The Candy Store was located in downtown Providence and was a favorite spot for students and locals alike. It became a cultural landmark and a symbol of the neighborhood.

The store was known for its wide selection of candies, chocolates, and other sweet treats. It also offered a variety of snacks, such as chips and soda, and was a popular gathering spot for students.

Noma Burke was a beloved figure in the community and was known for her kindness and generosity. She was involved in many local organizations and was a frequent fixture at Providence College events.

The Candy Store was closed in 1980, but its legacy lives on. It continues to be a beloved institution in the community and is highly respected for its history and contributions.

Some of Noma Burke's biggest achievements were her involvement in community service, her love for Providence College, and her commitment to her employees. She was a tireless worker and always put the needs of others first.

Noma Burke's legacy is one of hard work, dedication, and community involvement. She leaves behind a store that is a testament to her character and a legacy that will be remembered for generations to come.
Dear Editor,

When problems are few and boredom's got you down, just stop in at your friendly, nearby college and have some fun! That guy in the dorm who always seems to leave you laughing like hell!

When you start off on your day of fun, stop in at one of the new, plush, lavishly-decorated townhouse apartments (the fact that a college built them was no less; would put such cheap efforts for furniture in what was supposed to be the Ritz of the Dorm Village will surely force at least a second look at our school and see some of the other adult things going on. For example, for those of you who didn't participate in Sophomore Orientation, I hope all of you realize that there is a new edition here at Bryant (oops, I mean at this nearby, friendly college) for you who else has been brought back up from UL to UK to tell us about it if they want it. If you get here ten less time, you can see it; yes, you've tried scrubbing it out and talking it out (and you've tried throwing them out of the book store in order to make them go away), but you can see the damage done TO THE COLLEGE!

If you're lucky and have enough on a day that classes have been cancelled, like the (Italian) holiday, Columbus Day (which NO1 students ever petitioned for), you can see many wonderful sights. It's as if the world had stood still though, that classes aren't cancelled on the birthdays of other famous men like, Martin King, Saint Patrick, and let's not forget that famous Jewish man, Mr. Roosevelt. And I've got it right at the next year we will have John Smith's birthday off.

When on the upper level of this marvelous mass of man-made glory, you may relax and let the office of the man who can make or break the school! The former editor of the former free press of the school. The only one who can manage the contract administration, get a full-time job at the school, go to part time and still get the school free and still earn a $3,000.00 a year. It is up to $1,000.00 a year. Let's not forget that famous Jewish man, Mr. Roosevelt. And I've got it right at the next year we will have John Smith's birthday off.

With the help of these two men of magnitude, working diligently (getting financial compensation from the school), these free-thinking students have been set straight. We must realize that this is a prison; not a playground. Or at least that's what this dramatic duo would have us believe. Who else would forget to knock and burst in on students who would be so bold as to play cards, stand in hallways during parties, or just try to enjoy themselves in their own suites. God forbid if a student should break a rule! They must be good, 'cause thats how we are. The school's the dropping eyes: of those adults trying to plant flowers in what was used to be known as the student room (or at least by them it was) you'll be overwhelmed with high-spirited feelings of love and happiness. Be warned— for if you should see Greek letters, make sure you duck and cover—everyone knows, they all sick perverts with strange ideas like brotherhood and sisterhood and as well as weekends of varied activities and intramural sports.

If anyone has any (for the (let's not forget woman's lib.), can get through this without seeing how hideously this piece is misunderstood and not end up in hysteric's, we'll eat our ARA dinners (that is, if we have our birth certificates and drivers licenses as well as letters of permission from our parents.)

The preceding is a work of fiction. Any similarities between actual places and persons is strictly coincidental or a matter of convenience.

Dear Madame Lovonda,

Boy, these classrooms are really getting bad. I know the College is very plush with wall-to-wall carpeting; but really, Madame Lovonda, walk-in-sole students? Isn't there something about the teacher/student ratio that can save us from this overpopulation?

A. Kredit Ting

Dear A. Kredit Ting,

Usually reliable sources have informed me that this problem will be corrected in the near future (definitively within five years). Christmas isn't always happy, but Bryant surely has its first La-El. Happiness, the holidays will bring more teaching positions and a lightening up on the academic scene should bring the ratio right into line. In the meantime, less teachers and more students sure helps the financial picture—and just think—all those bodies might be the solution to the College's heating and ventilation system this winter!

Unnaturality yours,
Madame Lovonda

Dear Madame Lovonda,

I received the bad news Friday when the Jewish High Holy Days were not granted off. Didn't last year's Calendar Committee include the Jewish Holy Days while thinking about the constraints of the Accreditation Association?

Maiza Bals

Dear Maiza Bals,

You must remember that committees recommend! After all, someone has to make final decisions (of course, if those go wrong, they blame the recommendations). Last year there were no problems with responses to the Calendar Committee from the High Holy Days. One thing there were none! But better yet, this year's problems will reach a new, all-time low—because there isn't any Calendar Committee!

Lox of Lush
Madame Lovonda

Dear Madame Lovonda,

I've heard that the Business Office is withholding the new student allocation of $15 per student that we voted to give to the Student Senate to be returned in activities and services. What are they doing, Madame Lovonda?

Howdy Doody

Dear Howdy Doody,

You know how offices are moving around the College these days (probably so student leaders can't find anyone)—well, it seems that their shifting haze has also struck rights, powers and responsibilities of—you guessed it—the students. But then, of course, you all know about legal responsibilities and delegated authority and the old bureaucratic mind game gone “Hoppity-Scootch.” But I wouldn't worry much though, because even though it's Howdy Doody time at Bryant College, people who break the rules never win; and some new program is in store since most of the students are tired of getting the same old reruns.

Captain Kangaroo, Madame Lovonda

Dear Madame Lovonda,

The rugs are being pulled out from all sides—and you should see the things that have been swept under! I read last week that the Student Affairs Office is usurping the Student Senate's power of recognition, registration, and funding, no less. The article said the Student Senate has received $500 to fund the organizations on campus, so why don't they have the first right of recognition?

Dirk Tator

Dear Dirk Tator,

What are you talking about? There are no organizations on campus, save for THE ARCHWAY, LEDGER, and Radio Station. Captain Kangaroo didn't envisage them all! That's what "Former and Prospective Student Organizations" means, isn't it? Yes, students, one of the College's administrators, who is supposed here to help students, has dissolved all but three of Bryant's organizations—but that's only because she already has them under her authority. If you want to know why Ms. Jordan has pulled this quixotic act on us, I suggest you go and ask her. That is if you are truly an interested student.

Maddeningly,
Madame Lovonda

Brant College Announces The New Management Development Club

A new club has been formed at Bryant College to promote the ideas and interests of Management students. This is the Management Development Club—a club designed—and built, around the students. The club thrives on uniqueness and variation. Among the varied events in the club are breakfast meetings, lectures, field trips, and dinner functions. But this club continues where other clubs stop. The word DEVELOPMENT is the key to its continuation. The members help each other with problems such as the preparation of resumes and job-hunting. We will have connections with various firms and alumni organizations in and around Rhode Island in regards to job offerings. Aside from this the major purpose of the club is to provide an outlet for anyone interested in Management or a related field. This club is open to anyone—whether they be Systems, Institutional, or Organizational Management majors—they can even be Accounting or Secretarial majors.

The club was contrived and formed in May, 1974, when a student asked the question, “Is there a Management club on campus for Management majors?” At that time, there was no such club, so he decided to form one. There were Marketing and Accounting clubs and there was even Delta Omega—but there was no Management club. He then started to promote “interest in such a club, found an advisor, and wrote a constitution. President John Ziegler was elected to be the advisor to the club and helped to write up the constitution. The people of the club off the ground in the beginning are Martin Silverman and Bob Levy. The constitution was handed to the Student Senate in June and was accepted.

THE MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT CLUB OF BRYANT COLLEGE BECAME A REALITY!

And in September we had our first organizational meeting. The attendance was amazing, for we had over 30 people at this first meeting. Elections were held and the officers were elected. They are: Martin Silverman, President; Tom Dillreit, Vice President; Karen Zarozny, Secretary; Pat Touliotis, Treasurer; and Bob Fiucetti, Public Relations.

The club promises to be a tremendous success but we need more members. If you are interested in joining the Management Development Club, we meet every Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. in Room 250. If you cannot make the next meeting, leave your name, address, and telephone number in mailbox 1957 and we will contact you.

We believe that the Management Development Club is the most important club to be formed in 1974 for there is no other like it on the Bryant College campus.

This song keeps haunting me. A remembrance of how I loved you and you sang it to me long ago watching the sea breezes carry the notes far above us to meet our dreams. I have not seen you yet but this song, our song keeps you constantly on my mind.
David Farrington

I have chosen to run for the Student Senate as a voice of the Freshman class, your voice. A voice, not only of your wants and needs, but also of your thoughts and ideas. As your representative I can serve as a link between the Freshman class and the other aspects of Bryant life. I will not make any benevolent promises in my bid for election. I have no way of telling what the next few weeks will bring. I can only promise that I will serve the interests of the Freshman class to the best of my abilities.

Upon arriving at Bryant we were told that the Freshman class was by far the largest of the four classes. A class of all its words, good representation, our interests must be served. I believe that I can serve these interests. Just give me a chance, let me be your voice.

Sincerely, David F. Farrington

Renee Thomas

Dear Freshmen,

My name is Renee Thomas and I am a candidate for Freshman class senator. I feel that it is not enough to want changes, you must reach out and strive to unite ourselves, and let it be known that we realize each other’s needs and want to create the necessary changes for a more compatible and satisfying life here at Bryant College.

Our student senate should give us, as well as every other student, a chance to work together as a “unit”, it should not govern the student. We also believe the members of student government should be mature enough to take the responsibilities expected of them and to govern themselves intelligently.

We have here at Bryant College, a student government, an organization that benefits the student body with social and academic innovations. I, holding the office of class secretary, will in high school realize the responsibilities that will be upon me if elected as your class senator. I have the determination to endure and the strength to carry your suggestions with me this year.

I will work hard for the student body, but I need your vote to get there. Respectfully yours, Renee Thomas

Ray Shideler

Hello Fellow Freshmen,

My name is Ray SHIDELER and I am running for the Student Senate. I believe I have something to contribute to this school. What it is I don’t know! Being serious now, I hope to contribute to the best of my ability. I hope to carry on a platform of great responsibility; so remember when you vote, think of all that this position means.

I hope to get out and vote. Sincerely yours, Robert Young

Karen B. Hewitt

I am currently a second semester freshman in study Finance. My home town is Shaftsbury, Vermont but I attended Mount Anthony Union High School in Bennington, Vermont.

Being a second semester freshman, I have seen more of the school than most freshman. From what I have seen I realize that we have a good student government that is working hard for the students.

I have not made any decisions on any issues at this point, but if I am elected, I hope that the class will decide to on any issues and any decision making that I have to do at my position.

I urge all freshman students to vote on Thursday, September 26, and I hope that you will give me this chance to represent you. I will try my best to continue the job that the student Senate has done in the past and try to make it even better in the future.

Karen B. Hewitt

Don Rosenberg

To the Freshman Student Body,

My name is Don Rosenberg and I am running for a seat in the Student Senate. My reasons for running are very simple, I'd like to get involved with the school in an area where I will be a help to my fellow students. So in other words, I'm running to help YOU! To have a strong freshman body you need a strong representative. I feel I'm capable of handling the responsibilities of the Student Government so that the freshman voice will be heard.

I've been involved in Student Government before, so I know that a strong representative means a strong voice. I'M THAT REPRESENTATIVE!

As you know the Student Senate takes a most active part in fulfilling the needs and desires of the student body. So if you want your desires to be reality, VOTE FOR ME, DON ROSENBERG, to represent you in the Student Senate. Thank you.

Bill Tatelman

Dear Freshmen,

I, Bill Tatelman, of Bloomfield, Connecticut wish to serve as one of your student senators. I realize that it is a difficult decision for the freshman class to elect representatives on the basis of a blind selection. As in most student elections, I've been associated with the candidates chosen on the basis of his or her popularity. I have never claimed to be a person with immense popularity. Instead, I appeal for your votes on the foundation of representing my classmates. If elected, I will utilize all powers within myself to correct any problems that you may have. I will devote my actions in the Student Senate towards the betterment of the freshmen class.

In conclusion, I would like to urge the Class of 78 to seriously consider each candidate and select the one who will function in the best interests of the freshman class. I appreciate your reading this article and sincerely hope that you will support me at the election.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Bill Tatelman

Nancy Weeks

To my Fellow Classmates:

Although you may not know each other yet, I'm sure we will know a great number in our class by the end of the year.

My name is Nancy Weeks, one of many freshman candidates running for Student Senate which is composed of 24 members, 8 from each class. Their purpose is to try to grant the wishes and wants of the student body, if possible.

In the past I was a member of a Student Council which is similar to the Student Senate in the respect that their major function is to represent and serve the students.

With your help I hope to change, in whatever way possible, the days, WEEKS and months ahead.

Thank you.

Nancy Weeks

Lee Schneider

Hello, I'd like to greet my fellow freshmen with thanks.

My name is LEE SCHNEIDER, and I'm running for a seat on the student senate.

I could go into a big spiel about my personality and other aspects but this is not important to you. What is important is what I will do if I am chosen. I won't make any promises about what I will do until I find out what you want me to do. I'd simply like to say that I can honestly represent you, my freshman class, in the Student Senate. Please vote on Thursday, September 26, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the Rotunda. Thank you.

William Caherty

To The Freshman Class,

I could make promises on dreams, platforms on issues and stand on points of irritation but I haven't a month in the term. Concern for the feelings and desires of the learning body and for a Student Senate of the students, by the students and for the students is imperative. I want to devote time, not only at Senate meetings, but also with fellow Senators, Freshmen, Upperclassmen and the Administration, working at finding and moving down a road of progress to a better Bryant Community.

Sincerely yours,
William Caherty (Gar)

Marketing Strategies Get Into It

Crane, Trowbridge, Case & Basford, Inc.—A unique marketing course combining practical classroom methods with textbook theory is being offered at the New York University, according to Dr. James S. Gould, Chairman of the Marketing Department.

The course is designed to produce men, or improve, or devise the theory—whatever is appropriate in a certain man. Gould.

"With Mr. Johnson’s 15 years of marketing experience as a prime resource and his own, we hope to show the students how textbook theories are to be translated into practical applications of the same. An attempt is to be made to show the students the actual marketing situations they are likely to encounter in the field, and to give them the tools to solve the problems they will face in the real world."

Using information from college courses, the students will be able to translate the theories into practical applications. The course will be divided into five parts. Each will be taught by a professional with practical experience in marketing.

Mr. Johnson has been teaching at NYU for over 10 years. During this time, he has worked with many clients, helping them to develop effective marketing strategies.

In the past few years, there has been a growing interest in the part of college graduates to hold some of their special meetings and activities here at Bryant. Because of the large number of students involved in each of these functions, it was decided to open the position of Coordinator to the Public Affairs Office. In this position, Mr. DiPrete was hired for the job.

Mr. DiPrete was the obvious choice for this position. His responsibilities include serving as the link between the various college offices and departments, and the students and staff. He is responsible for the smooth operation of the Public Affairs Office, and for the successful completion of the various events.

In closing, Mr. DiPrete stressed the fact that he is not part of the university’s academic staff. Any student who would like to apply for a job in the Public Affairs Office or any of its departments should contact him directly.

The HIT'S (COUGH) JUST KEEP ON COMING

'Babe Ruth is a legendary hero, Hank Aaron is coming in. To her followers, Binnie Jean is a hero. And now, Evelyn Knisly is trying his darndest to be a hero. (Does the word "hero" sound like a bit repetitious?) Evelyn's case, however, is a little more interesting than the cases of the previously mentioned athletes.'

In retrospect, Evelyn's attempt to "swop" the Grand Canyon was marred by three alternatives: He could have succeeded, he could have failed but survived; or, he could have experienced the ultimate failure. If Knisly was successful, the impact of his not-so-jock-star feat would have diminished well before the Garman Book of World Records could have printed his name. (What can you say about a motorcycle daredevil who crosses the Canyon in a quad-spacehip equipped with a working safety precaution available?) If he failed completely, the name of "Evel Knisly" would probably become synonymous with the words, "NUT," "suicidal," and "pioneered."

Now we know that Evelyn attempted, failed, and survived. His course has been completed, or rather, one story line has just begun. Not only has his failure paved the way for future suspense, it has laid the foundation for a new "selling" of his image. It will be an image sponsored by the manufacturers of motorcycles, T-shirts, television, and Hollywood. (Tinsel Town has just got to give George Hamilton one more chance.) Unfortunately, American schools will have to construct the hero fabricated here.

The newspaper advertisement that got the crowd talking was a notice that said: "For the first time on campus, two Clubs have joined forces to provide a good time for all. So come to the field behind Dorms 3 and 6 next Friday afternoon. There will be enough beer and food to satisfy everyone. Be there...a splendid time will be had by all."

The Masquerade (Drama Club) are holding a meeting in the Auditorium on Wednesday, September 25 at 3:30 p.m. All students who are interested in this club are urged to attend.

The Bryant College Stage Band is meeting today at 3 p.m. in Room 386A. All students interested in this band are invited to attend the meeting.
