A Final Farewell to "0"

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Staff Writer

The Bryant Community turned out last night to honor our intercollegiate sports hero of the last four years, Mark Shareef. The ceremony, organized by the basketball team and Bryant Athletics, was attended by players, fans, and anyone who knew Shareef a chance to say good-bye.

In addition, Reilly read a letter from Brian Casey, Shareef's friend from Long Island Lutheran High School.

With the season over and Bryant's Memorial Scholarship events coming to a close, it was shared that Shareef's love for basketball would continue.

Freshmen Program Provides Avenues to Success

Julia Arocchon
Archway Staff Writer

The concept of the ASC program is to help freshmen make the transition to college life for incoming freshmen. The ASC program is a pilot program sponsored by the Learning Center.

Nancy as Freshmen 101, Avenues was included in the name to represent the different paths of college life.

Throughout our college lives students are faced with many different avenues and paths to choose from. The concept of the ASC program is to help freshmen choose the right path for them.

The program also grew out of a need to work on preventing students from dropping out of college within the first couple of weeks. In fact, national research shows students who drop out of college do so within the first six weeks.

In college, students learn life skills, which can be applied to their careers and everyday life.

Even though freshmen earn no credit for coming to the program, Avolio thinks the students see the advantages.

The freshmen know in the long run the program will be better off because they attended the program, said Avolio.
To a Young Man We Took For Granted

Dear Editor:

On August 3rd, Bryant lost a very valuable member of its community. David Provost a young man at age 37,21 years of which he spent an employee of Bryant, died suddenly in his sleep.

Dave "The Pro", as he was affectionately known, was the head man for the grounds crew for the past 10 years. His immediate supervisor, Mr. Bob Lawton, relied heavily on Dave's leadership and "know how" as to how and when the varsity fields, flag football, club rugby, club lacrosse, field hockey, and Special Olympics were to be lined and ready for use. I could always depend on first class results from Dave and his crew. Representatives from other colleges have complimented us on the condition of our fields on numerous occasions.

A person of Mr. Provost's dedication and pride in his work, will be difficult to replace, and Bryant College has been fortunate for the past two decades to have had such a hard working individual on its staff.

As a memorial to Dave Provost, the Physical Plant is having a tree planted in his name in the Sutton Farm area near the varsity softball field. The ceremony will take place at a time and date to be announced. All students, faculty, and staff are invited to attend.

Sincerely,
Robert Reall

Bryant College is currently undergoing a "re-engineering" process due to the deficit incurred in the 1993-94 fiscal year. Operating budgets have been slashed substantially and over $850 suggestions to cut costs and enhance revenue have poured in. Forums are being held to gather input and suggestions from the community. All this in an effort to preserve Bryant's future.

Yet, these community forums lack input from a major aspect of the community—the students. At yesterday's Community Forum only a handful of students turned out. Perhaps if the students knew how deeply the future of the College and their education depends on this forum there would have been a better turnout.

This opportunity for the student body to speak out should not be passed up in this crucial "re-engineering" of the college. If students don't demand to be heard loud and clear through representation on the Resource Allocation Advisory Committee (RAAC) they will simply go unnoticed. Currently, RAAC has no representation from the student body.

Ultimately, it is the students who are going to be affected by RAAC's proposals. Doesn't it make sense to include input from student representatives if these recommendations will eventually affect students?

Students cannot afford to wait to take action. If the students don't do something, someone else will make the decisions for them. When the MAC cannot remain open until midnight, organizational budgets are cut to the bare bones and the computers in Koffler turn into dinosaurs, each and every student will bear the brunt of the process.

"Re-engineering" is a necessary evil, but it is more beneficial to work with the process than to fight it. Good things can come as a result of change, but only if students help shape these changes.

Think of how easy "re-engineering" would be if the students continue to sit back quietly and accept cutbacks and changes. Don't fall into the administration's trap—stand up and voice your opinions. Become a part of the process. Take the initiative now or forever suffer with the consequences. Afterall, without students there would be no need for Bryant College to exist.
Changes At Residence Life

Erica Handy
Archway Staff Writer

The Bryant College residence life department has three new resident directors for the academic year 1994-1995. They reside in residence halls 14, 15, and 16.

Lori Harrison, who hails from Coventry, Rhode Island, is the new director in Freshman hall 15. Lori is a graduate of Rhode Island College where she was a communications major and a resident assistant for three years. Lori served as the community volunteers director for the American Diabetes Association. She coordinated various other activities in the state of Rhode Island including youth services, public awareness, and minority initiative in Providence. Lori says she is very excited about Bryant's Convocation theme community service and corporate social responsibility.

In Lori's free time she enjoys going to the theater and volunteering at the Providence Performing Arts Center. She also enjoys hiking, walking, and listening to music.

In the other freshman hall, Kevin Hearn is the new resident director. Kevin, a whoball from Syracuse, New York is a graduate of Lehigh University where he was a pre-law major.

He enjoys the outdoors, skiing, hiking and all sports. Kevin has been in residence life at three other liberal arts schools before coming to Bryant. When asked what his view on Bryant is, Kevin responded, "The educational focus is different and the social development aspect is different and I'm really excited to be apart of that."

The new resident director in hall 16 is Shelly Masson. Shelly is a graduate of Keene State College in Keene, N.H. where she was a management major. When asked what she would like to contribute to the Bryant community, Shelly responded "I am really looking forward to helping build a sense of community and appreciation for diversity as well as promoting respect for others in her free time, Shelly enjoys\hiking, biking, and especially reading.

Electronic Classroom Up and Running

Katrina Pfunnekuch
Archway Staff Writer

For those students wondering what all the banging and clanging from area rooms was last semester, the verdict is out. Bryant College has implemented a 40 station electronic classroom located on the second floor of the unrestricted designed for teaching computer related applications and to enhance the effectiveness and efficiency of the learning and teaching process.

The computers are capable of handling DOS, Windows operations, and Macintosh applications, as well as functioning as a part of the information super highway. Multi media capabilities add to the facilities of the room. Students have more choice with text and graphics combined.

Each station is equipped with a monitor, keyboard, and mouse, and is set up in a series of long tables. The tables are ergonomic to simulate a desk reading atmosphere and can serve as both a lecture and hands on lab in one. This way teachers can see the students while helping them with the computer and vice versa.

Only high density disks are allowed for use in the room, and disks must be kept there over night.

This room was made possible by two professors that put their own money in buying the equipment, a small grant donated by the Davis Foundation, and a grant donated by the Public Safety Department.

The room is open 9 to 3 on Saturdays. A room number is given based on first come, first serve, but if a professor is using the room, then the room is left open for students to use.

The computers at Bryan, donated approximately at $7,000 dollars, are just one addition to a hardware program called Classnet.

This program enables a teacher and the students to do things never before possible here at Bryant. All the computers are linked together and have video transfer that enables students to project their screen to any or all monitors, view any students screen on their own, the teacher is able to scan all students screens from one station, and the student and teacher are able to communicate privately. The additional cost of the lab, approximately at $2,100, 20,000, to make the room complete.

Right now the room is available only to students that have class held in those rooms. This includes two of 1-years Written Communications classes and a Articles for Publications class in addition to those in Accounting Information classes, two are undergraduate. At this time the lab is concentrating on accommodating the students that need to use the lab for class daily because access by the whole school would take away too much operating time from the only 40 stations.

The school is looking to adapt Koeffler to the same format within the next year so that all students can use the facilities.

"Our next goal is to try and establish the link with other campuses and share what is going on in class through the satellite. It is possible to hook up all around the world and students can work with those from other countries," commented Koffler. "It's a good start and I would like to see the same happen at Bryant look like this..."
Fire Inspections Announced

John Rattigan
Fire & Safety Coordinator

John Rattigan, Fire & Safety Coordinator will begin fire and safety inspection for all Residence Halls and Townhouses on Tuesday, September 29. Rattigan will be looking for illegal appliances, extension cords, extra furniture or anything else in violation of the fire and safety codes cited in the student handbook.

Any violation will be cited and a follow-up inspection will take place later in the week to ensure that the violation has been taken care of. Illegal appliances and/or extension cords will be confiscated on the spot. Students will receive a receipt that will allow them to pick up the item prior to going home. Any resident of room in violation after the second time will face disciplinary action. Additional unannounced inspection will be conducted randomly throughout the academic year.

"Fire and Safety violations of college policy endangers the lives of everyone," Cooperation in this matter is importance to ensure the safety of all.

The fire safety inspection schedule is listed below:

- Tues., September 27: Resident Halls 13, 12, 11, 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.
- Wed., September 28: Resident Hall 1, 2, 3, 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.
- Thur., September 29: Resident Hall 10, 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.
- Tues. October 4: Resident Hall 14, 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.
- Wed. October 5: Resident Hall 15, 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.
- Thur. October 6: Resident Hall 4, 5, 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.
- Tues. October 12: Townhouse Village 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.
- Wed. October 13: Senior Apartments 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.
- Fridays will also be used for inspections that are not completed on the normal day assigned. Also rechecks for violation found on the initial inspections will be done on this day.

Bryant One Card Update

William Baker
Director of Purchasing

The new Card Value Centers (CVC's) have been installed and are awaiting the software which will interface with the CBORD Dining Service Access System. Danyl, the equipment manufacturer, has advised in the software will be shipped approximately September 30. Allowing for transportation and installation we plan to have the CVC's on line by October 7, 1994.

To obtain or activate the One Card, stop by Public Safety between the hours of 9:00 am - 1:00 pm and 2:00 pm - 3:30 p.m. Monday - Friday beginning September 28. There will be no charge for the One Card. However, you will be required to exchange your current ID card for the new one.

Once the CVC's are operational, and your One Card has been activated in Public Safety, anyone having a One Card will be able to transfer points from the $8" magnetic stripe to the 1/2" debit/credit stripe. Cardholders can then activate the laundry equipment by inserting their One Card into the reader. The card readers for the Coca Cola machines should be installed the week of October 7.

Both Automatic Laundry and Coca Cola have made significant investments to allow the use of the One Card in their equipment.

Therefore, in the event of damage to the laundry or vending equipment, repair or replacement costs will be charged against the Residence Hall damage deposit.

Please note: Notify the ARA office immediately if you lose your One Card. The replacement cost for a lost card is $10.00.

Change In The Salamanon Dining Hall Smoking Policy

by Paula Hogan

Currently, there is federal legislation under consideration which would require building owners to implement a smoking ban for public facilities that are regularly entered by 10 or more people. It would permit smoking only in separately ventilated rooms to insure the air from the area is exhausted outside. In light of this legislation, the College is reevaluating the smoking policy on campus.

With the recent renovations in the Salamanon Dining Hall, there is no longer a separate area that can be designated as a smoking area. Due to the dangers of secondhand smoke, a decision has been made to implement a no smoking policy in Salamanon Dining Hall effective with the re-opening of the facility.

What’s Happening At BRYCOL?

by Jennifer Barrie

There are some changes at Brycol this semester. The employees smile a little more. The general managers walk a little prouder. The office runs a little smoother. The board is even more approachable. All of this is part of the important changes we have made in the structure and other areas of Brycol Student Services, Inc. The following is an update on the divisions of Brycol.

Brycol, Inc.—Correctly-stated office manager, Parma is available at the house Monday-Friday, 3-5 p.m. to answer questions about Brycol or any of its entities. Number is 231-1220.

By restructuring the Board more people were added into the organization. The chairperson, CEO is James Zulansky. Our vice-president, COO is Christopher Candido. The treasurer, CFO is Jennifer Lorne. Serving as secretary is Jean Mistall. The Board of Directors are pruned to their new positions as members of the Board of Trustees. The position of director still exists, but is no re-developed. The new position allows individuals the chance to get involved with Brycol without having all the responsibility of a Trustee.

Celebrations—The on-campus delivery schedule begins to serve all your special occasion needs. We have balloons, cakes, flowers, etc. If you need food delivered from Toppers or the Comfort accommodations can be made. We deliver Monday-Friday to residence halls, townhouses and offices.

Comfort—The new interim general manager for the Comfort is Paul Rolf. Most of the Comfort nights were booked last week at the Lottery for all campus clubs and organizations. Call the Brycol house if you have questions concerning Comfort nights. New specials are coming out every week so just check our flyers hanging on townhouses or in the Union.

Toppers—a new layout was designed at Toppers to cut down the time it takes to service customers. Toppers will also continue to carry paints. Questions or suggestions can be directed to General Manager Doug DeBlasio.

Vending—Thanks to an exclusive contract with Coca-Cola we are happy to present our new soda vending machines equipped with 12 drinkers. When the new Bryant ID card comes out, sodas can be purchased using the card. These machines are located in all the residence halls and will also take cash. In the past, there was a lot of vandalism to our machines. This will not be tolerated. Repeat damage to any machine will result in termination of the machines from the building.

Informant—The Informant is the ultimate in student’s guide on numbers to know, teacher’s offices, sport schedules, and all your friend’s number and addresses. This year’s Informant team is headed by Kathy Kreason, who assures us The Informant will be out Parent’s Weekend, Oct. 14-16. Look for change slips coming out soon if you need to change any information regarding your address and phone numbers.

Any questions, comments, etc. can be directed to Brycol Student Services, Inc. Box 9, 231-1220.

Spiritual Offerings at Bryant College

The chaplains who serve the Bryant Community are eager to inform you of spiritual and social events available to all members of the College family.

What about OJ's DNA?

Like the fingerprints that came into use by detectives and police labs during the 1930's, each person has a unique set of DNA fingerprints. Unlike conventional fingerprints, DNA fingerprints can be determined for any cell, organ, or tissue in the body and cannot be altered. Although used in hundreds of cases since 1986, involving such notorious as Mike Tyson and Sylvester Stallone, DNA fingerprints have become favorite only with the ongoing murder trial of Mr. O.J. Simpson.

Imagine cover stories in Time and Newweek and frequent stories in The Providence Journal and other newspapers about Dr. DNA's favorite subject! Deoxyribonucleic Acids in the public spotlight, delightfully! Simply put, DNA fingerprinting (sometimes also called DNA profiling) is a quick look at the sequence of nucleotides from a particular stretch of a person's DNA.

For those who avoided SCI 251 or SCI 356, nucleotides are the units that compose a DNA chain, abbreviated A, C, G, and T. It takes over 3 billion A's, C's, G's, and T's to specify the genetics of one human, and are many regions of DNA whose sequence is unique to that one single person.

Easy...since we leave trails of it everywhere we go, within the roots of loose hairs and shed skin cells. Blood is a gold mine of DNA, from the white blood cells of course! In OJ's case, both hair roots and blood were recovered at the crime scene. Blood is a gold mine of DNA, as a comparison between samples. Forensic labs have tested samples of Mr. Simpson's hair and blood, taken after he was in custody, and the evidentiary hair and blood samples taken from the crime scene (if you must know, the preliminary tests were made in The Providence Journal, OJ, page 6.
Ahh, the start of another year of college. I especially look forward to the first few days, when you can rekindle friendships that have waned over the summer, prepare myself for hard work pursuant to my education after several months of wretched excess, and eat three square meals a day, and L. S. A. M., the library dining hall. Naturally, I was very interested in seeing what they'd done with the place over the summer after reading the article in the Archway. I had no idea there were plans to redecorate, and I must say I was pleasantly shocked as I descended the refurbished staircase for the first time.

At first, I thought the place looked great. It was nice, and there seemed to be an agreeable atmosphere to the place. First impressions can be deceiving, though, and I found that out soon enough. A combination of incredibility, noise, and smell about 95% management quickly scoured my favorable reaction to the setup of the kitchen area. I had to realize that it had taken a mere six minutes from the time of opening for the food to start coming up to the top of the staircase.

As I made my way through the aisles of the crowded and busy area, I noticed the lack of space. What was once a pleasant and airy eating area is now crowded and uncomfortable. The aisles between the tables are ridiculously narrow, thus making it difficult for two people carrying trays to pass each other without one turning sideways and holding their tray over the head of whomever is seated at the end of the table. After eating, I went to put my tray away only to discover the old conveyor belt had been removed, and there now was some sort of tray removal system, the likes of which could probably be seen by watching any old episode of the Jetsons.

I think the lesson I can state is that of crowd management. It seems as if the designers were simply aiming for spice, and not thinking about the multitudes of people who would be eating in the cafeteria. Also, after questioning a member of the ARA staff, I was told that we no longer had a setup either, and for long for the days when we all waited in a relatively short line, and we didn't have to walk in our "Grill" line and then the "Deli" line in order to be able to get a ham and cheese with fries. One viable option I feel I can realize the overburdened have it the time would be to reopen the South Dining Hall for meal plans, and not just have it at points, as it does at lunch. I really liked the simplicity of the old system, and question why it was necessary for this expensive change. It is as the adage goes, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." Or perhaps it is as my friend put it. She thought they should have spent the money on better food.

dece Journal-Bulletin, September 16, 1994, pi. 2). Two methods were employed, a quick simple method known as PCR and a more sensitive but exacting method known as RFLP. What’s the difference? PCR fingerprinting consists of adding one small variable segment of DNA over a million times, then checking its sequence with something called a probe. The typical PCR method in current use takes about one day and can separate humans into one of 21 different categories. Consequently, it can prove that two samples are from different humans (if they don’t match) but gives absolutely no probability of identity if they do match, insufficient for proof “beyond a shadow of a doubt.” Usually, PCR is done first, then check for a match before continuing to RFLP.

RFLP is a more elaborate procedure, requiring several days to complete. If done properly, it offers the advantage of declaring a match between DNA samples with greater than 99.99% accuracy. RFLP involves cutting all of the DNA into smaller pieces and analyzing all of the pieces with probes. While PCR examines one small stretch of DNA sequence, an RFLP procedure requires a much larger sample of hair or blood than does PCR.

Most of the arguments during trials in which DNA profiling has been used surround the issues of accuracy (truth) and precision (repeatability). Chief O’Halloran’s lawyers’ statements in court and to the press and you’ll see what I mean. Although the test itself is extremely reliable, the technicians and scientists performing it are subject to the usual human frailties; therefore, if it’s broken, don’t fix it. Or perhaps it is as my friend put it. She thought they should have spent the money on better food.

Looking for something different to do this WEEKEND!

Join The Craze

by John D. Laurence

What do the following words mean to you? The Earthquake. Hitchhiker. Down and Dirty. Walt. The Line. Clog and the Push. Chances are you don’t have a single idea what they mean when used in a dance context. Well, now’s your chance to learn.

Country Line Dancing is the latest craze to hit our area and it offers something different to do on a night out. You may say you hate country music, but have you listened to it lately? It is no longer a bunch of twangy songs about losing pickup trucks. Now it is about love and parties and having a good time. Many songs are also crossing barriers into different music genres.

Ask yourself these questions. Do you want to just go out by yourself and have a great time? Do you want to get your exercise done without joining a club or even realize you are exercising? If you answered yes, well keep reading.

I am in the process of forming a line dance class on campus free of charge. Right now I am thinking of offering a total of five classes on Saturday afternoons in October. After these classes, you could walk into any club and know exactly what to do. This will save you some embarrassment as you try to learn the dances. If you are interested or want more information write to me at Box C-106 or call 726-5966. Keep looking for more information.

Tamer Ahmed

Greetings to all my fellow members of the class of 1998. My name is Tamer Ahmed and I would like to represent your ideas in the Student Senate. To understand what the Senate is all about, one must first understand the Student Senate's purpose. The Senate governs the student body and makes crucial decisions in appropriating funds to the various student organizations that we participate in at Bryant College.

Although some of us did serve in student government in high school, I feel those experiences will only partially prepare us for what lies ahead in terms of reining your ideas to the other members of the Senate. The difference between my high school student government and the one here is substantial.

One thing that I would like to get accomplished is to put dollar changes in the laundry rooms of Hall 14 & 15. The most important thing that I have to say is that if given the chance to be your student senator, my door is always open and you can approach me at any time. I am here for you.

So, from 26 & 27 remember to vote SEAN FOR SENATE. You won't regret it! Thank you.

Sean Kenney

Hello my name is SEAN KENNY from Pearl River, New York. I am running for Student Senate class of '98 position. I feel that I am able to do a great job due to past experience in school government.

In the past I have had many positions in various different organizations. There has been the presidency of the school wide student government, vice presidency of the class, management in a local supermarket, and captain of the varsity basketball team. As shown through past experience I have the determination and the personality to represent the class of '98 as one of your student senators.

One thing that I would like to get accomplished is to put dollar changes in the laundry rooms of Hall 14 & 15. The most important thing that I have to say is that if given the chance to be your student senator, my door is always open and you can approach me at any time. I am here for you.

So, from 26 & 27 remember to vote SEAN FOR SENATE. You won't regret it! Thank you.

Jason Ranillo

Hello class of 1998! My name is Jason Ranillo and I am running for Student Senate. I am a graduate of Bishop Hendricken High School which is located in Warwick, Rhode Island. At Bishop Hendricken, I participated in many activities, such as track and field and peer ministry.

I am from Johnston, Rhode Island and currently make in freshman hall 14. In my eighteen years of living in Johnston, I helped the community in many ways. I was Vice-Chairman of the Young Democrats of Johnston and a religious education teacher.

If I am elected to senate, I promise to give 100% effort at all times. I want to help make the Bryant community the very best place it could be. A vote for Jay Ranillo will insure a strong voice in the Student Senate for every freshman. Remember, vote for me, Jay Ranillo, the voice we need.

Joseph Santoro

For those of you who do not know me, my name is Jose Santoro and I am running for Student Senate. First let me begin by telling you a little bit about myself. I graduated from Belchertown High School, in Belchertown, Massachusetts. Belchertown High is a small school with a total of 450 students. During my tenure at Belchertown, I was class president for all four years along with being captain of the varsity soccer team. As class president, I raised on average $6,000 each year for a total $24,000, the highest amount of money raised at Belchertown.

Not only was I class president but I also was a delegate for the Western Massachusetts Student Association of Student Councils. This position put me on the Executive Board for all Student Councils in Western Massachusetts. Other organizations that I was involved with throughout high school are as follows: Rainbow Action Committee, SSDP, Student Council, Adams Society, Model Congress, Model United Nations, Newspaper, and Student Advisory Council.

It elected as one of your Student Senate Representatives, my most important goal will be to do all I can to make the transition into college as easy as possible for everyone. I am very aware of the diversity amongst our classmates, and the importance of planning and goal setting when planning programs and social events. I would do all I can to satisfy everyone.

If elected, I would be your student representative. As your student representative, I am here for you. If you have an idea or problem, whether it be personal or social, you can come to me at any time. As the class of 98, we must learn to work together. Because it's only by working together that we make our decisions and get through the most stressful years here at Bryant College.

I would now like to take this opportunity to wish all the other candidates good luck. Remember vote for Jose Santoro as your Student Senate Representative.

Stacy Keegan

Welcome class of 1998!!! My name is Stacy Keegan and I'm from Everett, MA. I'd like to take this opportunity to tell you a little about myself and the experience that I have with student government and other leadership positions.

During my four years at Everett High I have been Vice-president of my class, student advisor for all four grades, and an advisor to the mayor. As a senior along with many various clubs I was chosen Editor-in-Chief of the yearbook, I just recently helped Channel 5 and A World of Difference, by campaigning against racism. I worked to promote unity of all races by hosting a TV special and different seminars for all students around MA.

If elected my goal is to get to know everyone and listen to what ideas and concerns you may have about Bryant. As Freshman we are all new here and have a lot of learning and growing to do. I hope that the first year at Bryant will be the most fun and successful and I believe I can help make that happen.

I can't promise any drastic changes because I am new here, but I can say that if elected the class of '98 will be well represented.

Adam Novak

Hello, my name is Adam Novak and I am running for Bryant College Student Senate. I would like to tell you why I feel I deserve to represent the class of 1998.

Ever since I could remember, I have been a leader. From organiz-
Careers in ... Public or Private Accounting

If you are undecided between public or private accounting or are interested in exploring the differences between them, attend the upcoming "Careers in ... Private Accounting" on Monday, September 26, 1994 at 3:30 p.m. in the Bryant Center, Room 20. Each participant will outline his/her respective job, allowing future accountants to decide which may be right for their particular needs, interests and abilities. Speakers will include:
- David Caprio, '91, Accounting Supervisor, Memorial Hospital of Rhode Island
- Michael Laliberte, '91, Field Auditor, Liberty Mutual Insurance
- Cheryl Crowley, '92, Fund Accountant, Paramus Investments

BACCHUS
by Yolie Chung & Scott Lynch
Welcome back everybody! Hope you all had a great summer. We had our first meeting of the year on Tuesday and discussed many different programming ideas. The next Dine-out will be opening again this Friday, September 23 at 8:00 pm. We also discussed the possibility of a fund-raiser to be held in a few weeks, as well as information on the national pageant, which runs from November 11 to the 13.

We have started something new this year. The Dine-out Discount Cards. For a price of $3, students can buy the card and use it for discounts at many area restaurants. Dine-outs involved in the program are Gold's Gym, McDonald's, Red Indian, and more.

If you were unable to attend this past meeting, don't worry. Our next meeting will be on October 4 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 1 in the Bryant Center. See you there!

Beta Theta Pi
by David Tengfisky
I would like first to welcome everyone back. Our main freshmen members this year are Mack, Burgen, Debber, Clum, Hitz, Imus, Tret, Fisch, Koskos, Bruno, Mike, Lewis, Spier, Bridge, and Greg. Unfortunately, we lost Otto for the semester, and even though Duck got a 4.0 he won't be coming back anytime soon. We believe him and Gita are married and have a child on the way.

Our Freshman football team is looking like it could be a contender this year. Even though Mack is a little disorganized, our specialty positions are looking very good. Anybody? About a week ago, we went to couple of tailgates and we can sign up in the pit of Hall 2 in suites 110 or 120.

Bowling Club
by Jon Hester
On behalf of the bowling club I would like to welcome everyone back. I would like to thank everyone involved, especially everyone, for coming out. Despite the pain.

Ripper is back and making friends with the lighting fixtures. Babbo is back and finding new ways to enjoy life. Some students just want to stick with him, and he'll do his best. We'd like to welcome Tom Curley, Jason S TAX, Shaster, Joey Nersa, and Dan Fairman to the club this year. Competitions begin in two weeks at Allentown, Pa., and the conference begins Columbus Day Weekend.

Lastly everyone wanted to congratulate those who have successfully finished their first day of work in John's shop. Off the counter, onto the table, into the spinner, one more next day. Grip it and rip it.

Bryant Karate Club
by Mark Towe
Welcome back everyone. Members Bryant Karate has been alive and kicking during the summer months. We have participated in several tournaments. Unfortunately, the tournament season is coming to an end. However, we will have a few more classes that just began and there was an excellent turnout for the informational meeting. There were many more people who chose to help make posters, hang flyers, and recruiting. Thank you all for the efforts that helped out and went to the gathering last weekend.

For all the older karate members the Dolo has moved into the studio's exercise room and the times have changed to. Wre are back at 6:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday. There is also a 6:00 p.m. class Tuesdays to accommodate those who cannot make it to some of the night classes. The night classes several black belts will be present to help Sifu. Appearances by Senni Dobbs, Senni Paul, and Senni Richard will benefit all that attend. All the white belts may be a little jittery now. Don't give up. Well, until next time, BKKAA.

College Republicans
by Paul V. Liss
Hello Everyone! The recent primaries here in the state of Rhode Island have been won by the Republican party. Lincoln Almond won a decisive victory, and who will be the next Governor of the state.

All of those out there who are interested in getting involved in the campaign should feel free to contact Mike Walsh. Mike has also announced that he will be working on the campaign within the next couple of weeks. Of coarse this meeting will be open to everyone, especially new members. Before I say goodbye for the week, is there anyone out there who would like to tell me why George Bush would have any of these problems in Haiti? I don't think so! See you next week.

Delta Chi
by Frank L. Milazzo
This is the first official Archway of the Fall Semester here at Bryant so I'd like to take this time to well everyone. Welcome back to Delta Chi. This year was a great year. I hope you all had a great year. We will be Thursday and Friday afternoons at varying locations. It is advisable to make at least one of these informational practices every week. If anyone needs new equipment, Coach John Holmes runs the pro shop. There is a great selection there. Just ask him, and he'll do his best. We'd like to welcome Tom Curley, Jason S TAX, Shaster, Joey Nersa, and Dan Fairman to the club this year. Competitions begin in two weeks at Allentown, Pa., and the conference begins Columbus Day Weekend.

Lastly everyone wanted to congratulate those who have successfully finished their first day of work in John's shop. Off the counter, onto the table, into the spinner, one more next day. Grip it and rip it.

Learning Center
by Chris Bruneau
The academic curriculum here at Bryant is a demanding one. The classes offered offer a lot of challenges into the hands of students. The Learning Center, located on the third floor of Hall 6, is here to help you with a wide variety of academic concerns.

The Learning Center offers tutoring services free of charge, workshops that focus on specific topics, and various computer programs.

Society for Advancement of Management welcomes all SAM members back to school. We are looking forward to a new year of wonderful experiences.

The Society for Advancement of Management is preparing for the first meeting of the year. Why should you attend the first meeting and become a SAM member? It is because SAM:

- gives you a personal introduction to practicing management in a local community.
- bases the transition from college to management.
- introduces you to fellow students who share your interests, problems, and career objectives.
- strengthens your resume with professional credentials.
- moves your career on a faster track.

Student Alumni Association
by Dawn Drunken
Hi Everyone! Welcome to the Student Alumni Association. We would like to thank everyone who attended last week's meeting. It was a great turnout. Once again, thanks to all who helped out with the Fund-raiser that was held last weekend.

The next meeting is October 4 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 2A on the second floor of the Bryant Center. So, come build your resume. Learn about what is out there for you, and how you can use your experience with your homework. Begin networking. The Executive Board looks forward to meeting the new faces of SAM and receiving new members.

Our people and communit
Welcome to all of Bryant’s new students. Hopefully, you already feel right at home!

The Bryant Players are gearing up for another fun and exciting year. As the drama club on campus, we pride ourselves in providing the Bryant community quality entertainment while having fun in the process. If you missed our first meeting, we met again on September 27 at 5:00 p.m. in Meeting Room 2A of the Bryant Center. All are invited and more than welcome to come and see what our organization is all about!

Don’t forget about our upcoming Parents’ Weekend production, the appropriately titled “Roomers.” Rehearsals start Monday! Thanks go out to all who auditioned. We appreciate your time and effort. That’s it for this week! Until next time.

 Theta Phi Alpha

by Janna Erickson

Hey Theta! Hello everyone, well it’s that time again. I would like to welcome everyone back and I would also like to welcome all of the freshmen. One week down and many more to go! Besides planning for formal rush, we’ve had some other interesting events.

First off we would like to thank NKU for Friday night and also give Mama complete recognition for his fabulous choice of music. We would also like to thank Phi Kappa. As for last evening, Monday night football was a blast, and we’d like to thank Delta for the festivities.

Before we end with some quotes of the week, we’d like to say that we hope everyone who signed up for formal rush has a great time and we look forward to meeting you all! And now for some quotes: “One singular sensation...”; “You’re a liar...”; “You look cleaner”; “M.C. Accad...break it down...”; To Dobber, just leave our shelf alone. Thanks for fixing our speakers; I can say is monks, wait till you see the pictures. Janna and Deb found something important that was once lost. ; Shannon—’He’s got sneaky hairs!’

Well I guess that’s all for now, until next week. Later Theta!

Women’s Rugby

by Sarah Dayte

Hey everyone! Welcome back, I hope everyone had a great summer. It is great to see everyone again.

Congratulations, to all the new member. Everyone is doing a great job at practice. Keep it up girls! I hope all the rookies and the Men’s Rugby team had fun hanging out with us last Thursday.

Anyone else who is interested in playing Rugby, practice is everyday at 3:30 in the fields down behind A.R.A. Our first game will be Saturday, September 24 against Bridgewater and we will be traveling there. Good Luck Ruggers!

We Will Never Forget You

Over the summer, the Bryant community suffered a great loss. Omar Shareef, a forward on the men’s basketball team, died as a result of injuries he suffered in a car accident in August. However, Bryant did not lose a basketball player, they also lost a friend.

Shareef, more affectionately known as ‘O’, was a constant spark off the bench, and an important part of the basketball program here at Bryant.

Most of the fans can remember his freshman year, when he was a Rhode Island College player with a virtually unknown player scoring over the crowd and slammed the ball through the rim. How about last year’s game against Bentley, when O came flying down court and blocked a shot into the next county. But, it doesn’t mean more to the man than just his basketball talent.

If you ever met O, you could not help but like him. He always had time to talk. Even if he didn’t know you, he would always stop you to say hi.

This is what made his memorial service even more special. As people got up to speak, you could feel the love they had for Omar. In fact, you could also feel the love Omar had for the people he knew.

As Jeremy O’Connor said, “He was a person people knew. Coach Ed Keily also had a lot of praise for the young man, ‘Everyone he touched, he made better. Everyone he touched, he moved.’

Team members also spoke about how much O meant to them. Herman Thomas wrote a poem for the ceremony, which made a few people misty-eyed.

Although I did not know Omar as much as others on campus, I was also moved by this speech. I remember back to the day when I received the phone call from Margaret Fleischer, telling me about Omar’s death. I just put the phone down and sat there staring into space. I could not believe Omar was dead. At first, I thought it was some kind of bad dream. ‘I will wake up, and everything will be okay,’ I said to myself.

Once I got over the shock of the news, my thoughts were with his fellow basketball players, and Omar’s family. Unfortunately, I could not make the funeral. However, I still wanted the family to know how much Omy would miss him. I just simply sent them a card from myself, and my fellow Archway staff members.

After the memorial service, however, I felt I needed to do more. As a result, I started writing this column. Although I have written columns about men who left a void when they passed on (like Jim Vallano and Arthur Ashe), this one was different. I knew O personally. He was more than just a basketball player, he was also a top student. He received awards for excellence in the National Science and Mathematical Olympiads.

He had a unique outlook on life, and loved to just be around people. Even with a busy schedule, Omar always had the time to talk to just about anyone.

If you wanted to talk about basketball, Omar was there. If you wanted to talk about life, Omar was there. No one was beneath him, he would talk to anyone.

Even if it was just a fan saying, “Great game Omar.” He would still stop to thank them. He never ignored anyone.

It is definitely going to be hard the first few games to realize, number 15 is not on the bench. Someone might step up to take his place on the court, but no one can fill his shoes.

Everyone will always remember Omar, he will always be one of the original Bryant Bulldogs.
Women's Volleyball Off To Good Start

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The women's volleyball team started their 1994 campaign by finishing second in The 11th Annual Bryant Invitational last weekend. The Bulldogs are currently 2-0 in the Northeast-10 (NE-10) Conference and are sitting in first place. Overall the team is 7-1.

"There is nothing negative, everything we are doing is positive," co-captain Maria Bras said. "(However) we still need to click as a team," Bras added.

On Tuesday night, the team traveled to Sacred Heart and came away with a win three games to one. In the first match of the Bryant Invitational, the Bulldogs defeated UMass Lowell in four games. In game one, Bryant started slow, but was able to bounce back to win 16-14. The Bulldogs won game two easily 15-4; however, Lowell was able to regroup and win 15-10. In the final game, Bryant was able to shut down their opponent and come away with a 15-7 win.

In the next match, they faced defending champion Dowling College from Long Island, New York. Dowling came ready to play, and forced Bryant to five games. In game one, Bryant edged out Dowling 17-15. Dowling then controlled some two winning 15-1. The Bulldogs bounced back to win game three 15-9. The see-saw match then continued with Dowling winning game four 8-15. In the final game, Bryant once again came away with a victory 15-12 (rally scoring)

This advanced Bryant into the semi-finals against NE-10 rival Quinnipiac College, from Hamden, Connecticut. In another five game marathon, Bryant outlasted a tough team. In game one, Bryant started slow and lost the game 7-15. Bryant then regrouped and won game two 15-4, and game three 15-6. Quinnipiac was able to win game four 15-13 to force a decisive game five.

The Bulldogs were once again able to outlast their opponent 15-11 (rally scoring).

In the finals, Bryant faced NE-10 rival Bentley and were forced to three games. In game one, Bryant was able to keep the game close; however, Bentley won 15-10. Bentley then won game two 15-8 and game three 15-10 to capture the tournament crown. Freshman Jen Carvalho, from East Providence, Rhode Island was the lone Bryant representative on the All-Tournament Team. For her efforts, she was also named NE-10 Freshman of the Week for the second straight week. Carvalho has collected the 164 assists in 17 games (9.65 per game), last week.

"The freshman are doing awesome, especially the ones who are starting," Maria Bras said. "Prior to the Tournament, the Bulldogs defeated Rhode Island College easily 3-0. "We have a lot of new bodies on the court. We haven't had a chance to put everything together and get used to everyone," Bras added.

As a team, Bryant is first in kills with 363 (12.16 per game); second in assists with 363 (12.96); and second in kill percentage with .251. When asked about the teams progress, Bras said, "It's too early in season. We have high expectations, but our matches have not been that competitive."

Individually, the team is also amongst the conference best. Bras is first in kills per game with 4.48, and Carvalho is fourth in assists per game with 9.03.

Junior Merrian Dean has been a big asset to the team this year. Last weekend, she was a force for the Bulldogs, with 66 digs and 60 kills. Currently, Dean is third in kills per game with 3.42, and fourth in kill percentage with .349.

The team will travel to East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania this weekend for a tournament. They will then travel to Bentley on Tuesday for an NE-10 contest starting at 7:00 p.m.

This week's Athlete of the Week is Jen Carvalho of the women's volleyball team. Last week, Carvalho was named NE-10 Freshman of the Week for the second consecutive time. She was named to the All-Tourney team at the Bryant Invitational last weekend, after she lead the Bulldogs to the finals with 164 assists in 17 games (9.65 pg). Her setting played a major role in Bryant's 4-1 overall record last week.

Carvalho is a freshman from East Providence, Rhode Island.
