Senate Supports BRYCOL
Octoberfest to go as planned

Julia Arachon
Archway Staff Writer

Student Senate unanimously voted to support BRYCOL's Octoberfest at yesterday's meeting. Plans for this Saturday's Octoberfest faced opposition because drinking would be taking place outside of the Country Comfort.

"BRYCOL is very pleased to gain the support of Student Senate," said Chairman of the Board of Directors of BRYCOL James Zahansky.

When last week's Octoberfest appeared in The Archway, it was called to the attention of Vice President of Student Affairs El Talley, who then contacted Zahansky. This Tuesday, a meeting between BRYCOL and Talley was held.

According to Zahansky, Talley issued a "grave concern" about this image event portrayed to the Bryant Community and expressed concern because BRYCOL had not gone to Student Affairs for approval.

"I think Dean Talley would have liked for us to go through Student Affairs, but BRYCOL is an organization not governed by any constitution recognized by the Student Senate," said Zahansky.

In the past, BRYCOL has included the Student Affairs Office in planning certain events, but this had not occurred in recent years. "Both parties were cooperative, and in the future we hope to work with Student Affairs to plan events such as Octoberfest," said Zahansky.

BRYCOL has an existing agreement with the College dating back to 1990, which states that if BRYCOL wants to do something which requires the use of regular business hours they must coordinate it with the Department of Public Safety.

When Octoberfest was planned back in September of this year, BRYCOL went through all the necessary procedures of getting approval from both Public Safety and the Fire and Safety Coordinator.

In the meeting with Talley, Zahansky reiterated BRYCOL's concern for safety while planning the event. BRYCOL hired two Public Safety officers as well as obtained a one day liquor license from the state of Smithfield signed by the police chief and the Town Clerk.

"We think Public Safety can handle all their work in coordinating this event," said Zahansky.

At BRYCOL, a Board of Trustees meeting on Tuesday, Zahansky had been fully authorized by the Board to take whatever action necessary to ensure Octoberfest would go as planned. The board consists of eight members including a mix of alumni, faculty, administrators and Bryant undergraduates.

Student Senate President Rob Fontanella, who was asked to sit in on the meeting between BRYCOL and Talley, brought BRYCOL to the Student Senate floor. Senate declared full fledged support for the event by giving it nodest approval. "Senate needs to represent and support student interests in all campus activities. We believed BRYCOL took all the necessary precautions for a safe event," said Fontanella.

In addition to the Internet, officers in both New York City and Boston provide Amnesty with information about various problems around the world, including people unjustly imprisoned and in need of help. Members then write dozens of letters to authorities and ask for the release of "Prisoners of Conscience." Also, Amnesty is often called upon to respond to Urgent Action Appeals. These letters are sent to members who, when there is an immediate danger of dying or torture that must be stopped. Members begin work immediately to flood dictator's offices with letters telling them to "stop the killing."

Professor Camfield added, "With the exception of cases of execution or torture, chapters do not work in their own country. Instead, they work for activists in other countries so as not to get involved with their own political authorities. It is a means of protecting members."

The Regional Office in Boston notifies Amnesty members when a prisoner gets released as the result of their letters. According to member Josh Tudryn, "It is good to hear that our hard work pays off."

"We're hoping to get more new members and build up the club again so that we can help even more people."

The next meeting of Amnesty International will be November 1 at 4:00 p.m. and new members are strongly encouraged to attend. Activities planned for the near future include Dr. Haas speaking on Human Rights.

Massie Moves On

Maria Tica Lena
Archway Staff Writer

Have you ever seen Bryant faculty and administrators featured in the national media? How about Dr. Judy Barrett Litoff on the Today show, Rowena D' guy in Eaton Home Journal or Dr. Sun Mirrineri with Dr. Tim Massie on a panel of students? Tim Massie, the talent behind the arrangements of these famous Bryant appearances is departing Bryant this Friday.

Massie, the man responsible for the features Bryant has made in the news both regionally and nationally, has accepted a position as Chief College Relations Officer at Manhattan College in Poughkeepsie, New York.

Jim Zahansky, Chairman of BRYCOL, worked with Tim to put BRYCOL in the media spotlight. "Since day one Tim has always been concerned not only with BRYCOL, but with every student. He is concerned about the community as a whole." Zahansky then adds a funny story of when Massie was on vacation. "He was in New York City and he was wearing a lot and see-shirt with the Bryant logo and asked Nelson Mandella a question on the Today show. He went out of his way on his vacation!" Zahansky stressed, "He didn't just do what his job description said, he went above and beyond and he always found creative ways to put Bryant in the media."

Remember to set your clocks back one hour on Saturday.

Massie, who has helped Bryant excel internationally with health care management and the economics of health care, comes to the College with a new role.

"Tim has helped me a great deal. He has always been very receptive to new ideas and he made sure that Bryant expertise was in the forefront of the media."

Massie will be starting his new executive level position at Mardist College on November 1.

Dr. Sun Mirrineri publishes articles pertaining to health care management and the economics of health care.

"Tim has helped me a great deal. He has always been very receptive to new ideas and he made sure that Bryant expertise was in the forefront of the media."

Massie moves on to help meet the demands of Bryant's increasing international interests.
Talking About A Revolution

In the past, many editorials have dealt with the apathy and lack of motivation displayed by students on this campus. We are happy to say, however, that we are beginning to see some change.

Finally, the student body is standing up for what they believe in. This past week, the Student Senate unanimously voted to support BRYCOL's Octoberfest. BRYCOL refused to be pushed around by the administration and decided to run Octoberfest as planned, and SPB stood up for their rights when faced with attempts by the administration to censor movie ads. We support these organizations fully and are proud of them for taking a stand.

However, we are concerned over a letter which was slipped under our door this week (see letter to the editor). The author of the letter said they did not want to sign it for "fear of repercussion".

Perhaps they feel pressure from other members of the Bryant Community and want to avoid conflict with friends and colleagues.

Some administrators are even choosing to move on — and it is not because of re-engineering.

This past semester we have been working hard to present issues and encourage students to take action by publishing controversial editorials, photo editorials and a new opinion column all in the hopes that others will take notice and eventually join the crusade. But we had seen little response to our call until recently.

The signs we see are encouraging. But the appearance of an anonymous letter signals much more needs to be done to eliminate existing fears.

We do not want people to be afraid of voicing their opinions and concerns. We believe if enough people come out on a limb, it may just snap. Remember, the discussions of dissatisfaction we only share with friends behind closed doors will go unnoticed unless more of us choose to go out on this limb.

Perhaps, we are on the verge of a major shake-up and a new beginning for the College.

Anonymous Letter Calls For Contacting Trustees

To the Bryant Community,

We think it's a time for action. There are a lot of problems at Bryant and the trustees don't seem to know about it. Tell them what you think.

Signed,

Answer To Last Week's MSU Question?

Q: Who was the first woman ordained a priest in the Protestant Episcopal Church?

A: The first woman ordained a priest in the Protestant Episcopal Church was: The Rev. Li Tim Moi. She was ordained in China in 1945. However, the first American woman ordained a priest in the Protestant Episcopal Church was: The Rev. Pauli Murray who was ordained in the United States in January (Feb, 1977). The first female Anglican (Protestant Episcopal Church) bishop in the world, consecrated a suffragan bishop for the Diocese of Massachusetts is: Bishop Barbara Harris Bishop Harris was consecrated on February 12, 1989 and as a woman was elected to this post previously held by men only dating back to Saint Peter. This was a most unusual move for the church and raised quite a controversy. Bishop Harris was ordained to the priest-hood in 1980.

MSU Question Of The Week

Who set up the first blood bank in England?

MSU will provide the answer in next week's issue of The Archway.

South Dining Hall. Stacy Dougherty, president of Big Sisters of Bryant, said "At the end of the day the little sisters went home with picnic bags, and the big sisters went home with a rewarding feeling of accomplishment."

Thousands of people help other people's children each year through the Big Sisters of America program. For many years Big Sisters has been pairing up less fortunate girls, with mostly single and childhood adults. Many children all over America are currently teamed up with an adult. The remaining girls who participate in this organization are on waiting lists which on average run about eighteen months. Since its founding, about 2.5 million young girls in the United States have been involved in the program, according to Colleen Watson, director of marketing of Big Sisters of America.

This organization got only 9% of its revenue from government funding, the rest of its $5 million-a-year operating budget is funded through private donations. The Big Sisters program is now active in over 500 US cities, and has spread to other nations, including Canada, Japan, Korea, and Russia.

An dent on this campus. The suppan of students ripping out two flag poles that were mounted in the ground. One of the persons then put the flag in their car and drove away. The people in the car are assumed to be students to do the fact that the person spotted a Bryant College sticker on the car. The person asked that DPS be on the lookout for these flags. One described as red, white and blue with the word "Open" printed on it. The other is blue with a brown basket of apples embroidered on the front. If anyone has any information pertaining to these items, please contact DPS at 232-6001.

Fire Alarm-False
October 19, 1994: An officer was dispatched to Townhouse A-Block for a fire alarm. It appeared that the fire was started by steam from the shower. The panel was then reset.

Disorderly Conduct/Disturbance
October 19, 1994: An officer saw four students in the Hall 1 circle throwing punches, shoving and pushing each other. Abusive language was also exchanged. After the officer broke up the fight, the students started again. All students involved were seen cavorting in the room and being loud. The victims of the-abuse were not cooperative. The students involved were disciplined.

Fire Alarm-False
October 19, 1994: A fire alarm occurred in Hall 15. When an officer arrived there, no signs of fire could be seen. The alarm was reset and all units were clear.

Fire Alarm-False
October 20, 1994: Two officers were dispatched to the Townhouse A-Block for a fire alarm. A student who lived on the second floor, claimed that the alarm was set off for no reason and that the key to the alarm was missing. The system was then reset and all units were clear.

Simple Assault-Physical
October 21, 1994: A student went to a residence hall in order to talk to one of their friends. In the room the student was confronted by two other male students. The suite mates asked the student to leave. The reply to that was only until they were told that that the student was not going to happen. At this point, one of the suspects grabbed the student and was then pushed against the wall. A short time later there were some words exchanged, the victim left the hall. When DPS talked to the students, they stated that the individual just walked into their suite and wouldn't leave. One of the students then admitted to kicking the victim at this time. After the fact, the victim seemed extremely intoxicated. One of the students admitted to being intoxicated. The other student was in fact sober. No criminal charges were filed, but the victim wants the suspects prosecuted internally. Charges filed.

Harassing Phone Calls
October 21, 1994: A student contacted the DPS because they have been receiving phone calls saying they are going to kill them. The calls are both either hang-ups or from the harasser hangs up. Also, the student found a rather unpleasant note slipped under their door. The student was issued a phone log and was advised of the escort policy here at Bryant.

Fire Alarm-False
October 21, 1994: DPS officers were dispatched to Hall 11 third floor for a fire alarm and after searching the rooms, they found a blocked heating vent. The alarm was reset. It just so happened that in the same room, a kitten was found. The student stated that he was just taking care of it for the weekend. The student was advised of the pet policy and was told the cat had to go.

Vandalism
October 22, 1994: A student reported that someone threw a rock and broke the outside window. About two minutes before the incident, the student heard from the window a group of people shouting and insisting that they have the combination to get into the hall. A work order was made out and an investigation in under way.

Vandalism
October 22, 1994: In Hall 14 on the second floor, there was a toilet and a toilet stall door that had been ripped away. There were no witnesses to the event. Total amount damages were $388.00.

Vandalism
October 22, 1994: An officer was dispatched to one of the townhouses because of someone the panes of glass leading into their room had been broken. The screen was also damaged from the broken glass. The victim found no articles missing from the townhouse.

Alcohol Violation
October 22, 1994: While on mobile patrol, an officer observed a vehicle Hall 14. The driver appeared nervous as if they were hiding something. The officer saw the student remove alcohol from the vehicle. Two cases of beer were confiscated and destroyed. Charges were filed.

Burglary
October 12, 1994: A student from Hall 15 reported that their jacket was stolen. After making sure the door was secured, the student left the room for approximately one hour. Upon returning, the jacket was gone and the door was wide open. No witnesses were seen and no forced entry was noticed. A further investigation in under way.

Alcohol Violation
October 22, 1994: While working at the ESC, a student noticed that the trunk of a certain vehicle that was proceeding as a fast rate was very low as well as hearing a loud "bang" coming from the trunk. In the back seat were three cases of beer. Also, after admitting that there was something in the trunk, the student then opened the trunk. One keg of beer was removed. Since the student was of age, they were able to keep one case of beer and the other two, along the keg, was destroyed. The student was very cooperative. ChargesFiled.

Your Silence is not Golden
I guess it is fortunate that it is never as hard as I think to find a topic to write concerning the Bryant community. Every week I think maybe I’ll do a piece about something having to do with this place, but every week something else is brought to my attention, and I eagerly bring it to years. Well, this time I really thought I was going to get away with not writing about Bryant, but I guess that’s just not going to happen.

Pointless Ramblings
Brian Eger
Arrowsmith Staff Writer

A topic I have touched on before is Bryant’s utter refusal to admit any problems even exist. I still feel this way, and I was amazed to learn from one of my friends who works in an administrative office that, when she expressed support for my columns, the words were said because she “wants to see Bryant grow.” It is fortunate that Bryant should be seen as a college with “conflict of interest.” Astounding. Concentration on a campus campus? By the way, did everyone enjoy 9/11? I’ll bet a lot more of you would have seen it if you knew it was being shown. Bryant asked SBP to pull some of the advertising so families attending the Open House on Sunday wouldn’t know we were allowed to watch movies with sex in them. (What’s sex? That’s not how they make babies, is it?)

I want it understood by the administrators that my columns represent the feelings of many students on this campus. The support I receive from students is stronger as the weeks progress. We should take the silence of the administration as a slap in the face, for it is an insult of the worst kind, as our opinions are being discounted by those who think they know better.

I directly and openly challenge the administration, and especially President Trueheart, to answer any issues I have raised in my columns. We have allowed you to fail us with your silence for long enough. You are accountable to us. Start doing your jobs and give us some answers. Now.
Halloween's-A-Coming

It seems almost unbelievable, but this semester is practically half over. Where does the time go? I'm sure you remember when you arrived at Bryant to start a new academic year. Here it is, the end of October!

One cannot help but notice the incredible transformation in nature, during this time of the year. The trees—with their bright yellow, orange, and red hues—evens make driving Route 295 a joy. Of course, I could also mention the sudden appearance of hot cocoa, pumpkins aplenty, and lots of homemade squash and apple pies.

Soon the streets will be filled with witches, ghosts, and goblins searching out households for sweet treats and other goodies. When I was a kid, I'd stand up with cousin, Bob, who was an expert at maximizing the Halloween experience. With an older cousin at my side, I'd end up with twice the amount of candy than had I made the night-marish journey alone. Bob seemed to know all the "good spots" to hit, those houses that gave great, copious amounts and a few coins too.

With our homemade costumes, we’d stand not-to-toe with any other trick-or-treater who’d cross our path. Of course, the moment of truth came when, in our great delight, we’d count our booby to see who’d collected more of those sweet delicacies: Hershey's, Baby Ruth’s, and Milky Duds, to name but a few. Ah, the joys of Halloweens past!

The following day, before eating any of those sweet nothings, I remember my folks telling me Mass; it was (and still is) the Feast of All Saints. Halloween means "All Hallows' Eve," the Vigil of All Saints. Back in medieval days, people would dress up in terrifying costumes in order to vanquish the Evil One from their midst. In this way, they prepared to celebrate the great feast by recalling their salvation and need for holiness.

I remind you that All Saints Day is a holy day of obligation. Mass will be celebrated on Tuesday, November 1, at 12 Noon in the chapel in the Bryant Center. So after you make your Halloweens rounds, be sure to stop by for Mass, as we recall together the saints of the church and our call to be members of their company.

Mass is also celebrated every Sunday evening at 8 p.m. in the Bryant Center, Rooms 2A&B. Everyone is very welcome to attend. Please join us at the Lord’s Table. We have set a place for YOU.

Sources for Monthly Statistical Data

Colleen Anderson
Reference Librarian

Locating monthly statistics for developing an economic forecast can be a tedious task if one is not familiar with the primary statistical gathering organizations. The United States government is the major provider of business statistics, with 3 agencies supplying the most used data in the nation: the Bureau of the Census, the Bureau of Economic Analysis within the Department of Commerce, and the Bureau of Labor Statistics. (e.g. "Tapping the Government Graphs" by Judith Schick Robinson, Chapter 12, "Statistics" KEF/2125 Z7.R603 1990)

The Bureau of Economic Analysis publishes the monthly Survey of Current Business (revised behind the Circulation Desk). Until April of 1994, this publication included one of the best sources for monthly figures on a commodity or product, a blue section entitled "Current Business Statistics." This series has been discontinued; however, the April 1994 issue provides addresses and phone numbers of primary sources to contact to get the monthly figures. Historical monthly data is found in Business Statistics (REF HC101 A13), the cumulative volumes of the Survey of Current Business. The library shelves the 3 most current volumes in the main level reference stacks behind the reference desk; earlier volumes dating back to 1957 are shelved in lower level reference. We have set a place for YOU.

Why Science?

Thanks for this week’s question to countless students I've met or overheard since I arrived at Bryant. “Why do we have to take science at a business school?”

a) It gives the science faculty jobs, thereby reducing unemployment in the northeast.
b) Occasional students like science but, since we don’t know who they are ahead of time, we should test everyone.
c) Science training improves students’ ability to cope with our highly technical society.
d) Science skills help business students find jobs and perform better at those jobs.
e) All of the above.

Those crazy guys and gals of the science department have not only missed the point (that science courses are a downer to student morale) but they’ve even the audacity to offer a new program - Science Minors! That’s right...you can augment your business concentration with a minor in Biotechnology or Environmental Science (coincidentally, two areas of tremendous business activity in which the USA leads the world technically and which need business personnel with training in science and technology).

Do they really think that Bryant students can handle the math and concepts necessary to really understand science? That Bryant wants career as leaders in emerging industries that require highly trained individuals? That they are willing to spend their electives on difficult subject matter rather than trying to boost their cumulative grade averages with easier courses? As they say in the Midwest...”you betcha!” They’re throwing a party to disseminate information about the programs, Thursday, October 27, from 4 - 6 p.m. in room 344. Since you’re likely reading this after the fact, check with me (#6096), Gayla (46145) or Doug (45432) for information (and leftovers pizza).

Remember, you don’t need a low lottery number to get a prime spot in most of our great science courses!

Enigma is a weekly column in which our science faculty tackle the technological riddles of life. Loyal Archway readers who submit topics that we feature in the column will be eligible for a monthly drawing worth $250. Submit questions to Dave Betsh, C233 and look for the answers right here in the coming weeks.

Alcoholism: the Disease of Denial

No one chooses to be an alcoholic. Alcoholism is a disease. In their hearts, most alcoholics know they are in the grips of a powerful addiction, yet they feel helpless to combat it. This inability to control the disease often leads to denial that the disease exists—only on the part of the alcoholic, but by those who care for the alcoholic most.

Self Denial

Although alcoholism is now known to be a disease, many people still hold a negative view that it is a behavioral problem. This widespread misconception may cause the alcoholic to feel guilt and embarrassment about their problem, which can contribute to self denial. Many persons who suffer from alcoholism exhibit similar behaviors—concealing the amount they drink, hiding bottles, drinking alone, and so on. Yet, when confronted with their drinking “problem” they are apt to deny it altogether or make excuses for their behavior. While they deny their problems to everyone, their very actions indicate their own awareness of their actions.

“Co-Denial”

Clergy, doctors, lawyers, social workers, family and friends are valuable resources for the alcoholic. Yet, in some cases these people unwittingly assist the alcoholic by covering up for him and denying that he must correct his own mistakes. When people make excuses for the alcoholic, the alcoholic is conditioned in believing there will always be a “protector” who will come to his or her rescue.

Picture this: It’s a crisp, cold Thursday morning. You’re sleeping after a tough night of studying for your first giant test in a subject that you have no interest in. All of a sudden someone is shouting, “FIRE!” down the hall. This is definitely no dream. It’s more like your worst nightmare.

As you read that scenario you were probably thinking, “That’ll never happen.” But you’re wrong - it could happen. In fact, it did happen.

On Thursday morning, October 6, there was a fire in Resident Hall 14. Although this action may have been considered a prank, it has developed into a case of arson.

The Rhode Island State Criminal Laws state Arson - First Degree - Any person who knowingly causes procures, aids, counsel or creates by means of fire or explosion, a substantial risk of serious physical harm to any person, shall upon conviction be sentenced to imprisonment for not less than five (5) years and may be imprisoned for life. Bryan College offers a reward of $1,000.00 for information leading to the conviction of a person(s) involved in this incident. Any students with information can contact Public Safety X6001. A PLACE TO BE YOURSELF

CONFIDENTIAL

Denying Dependence

Although the disease progresses, the need to deny dependence becomes greater. The alcoholic may refuse to acknowledge that anyone has helped him. He may deny that his behavior is causing family trouble. The real problem is that the alcoholic is well aware of the truth. The sense of guilt and remorse often becomes intolerable and the alcoholic’s helplessness in controlling his disease may be embarrassing to him.

Initiating Recovery

If someone you care for has a drinking problem, seek counseling immediately. A professional who treats alcoholics and their families can help all of you - the alcoholic and his or her loved ones - to help yourselves.

Amnesty

by Lisa Westgate

Why should you join Amnesty International? Here are ten good reasons to join:

10) Because human beings should be treated like human beings
9) Because torture is horrible
8) Because the U.S. is guilty of torture
7) Because the death penalty isn’t a punishment, it’s a crime
6) Because most of us are truly free unless we are free
5) Because an eye for an eye leaves everyone blind
4) Because you could be arrested for what you are doing right now
3) For the children, women, and men who have been victims of human rights violations
2) “Write a letter, save a life”
1) All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights.

They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood.

It’s kind of an extraordinary thought to think that somebody, a young 16 year old poet, can be imprisoned for having a poem about what Sting and myself do every day, which is just our opinion and effect on the world a d becomes an international problem.

—Bonzo U2 during the Amnesty International Conspiracy of Smoothness Tour

(“It can be fun to write letters to people who lead authoritarian or representational type governments around the world as a pen-pal, and be a complete nuisance to him by sending them these letters.”)

Amnesty International is growing fast all over. It is at schools such as Tufts, Harvard, University of Chicago, Brigham, UMass of Dartmouth, UMass of Boston so why shouldn’t it be just as important at Bryant College?

Come to our next meeting on November 10th at 6:00 p.m. in the Bryant Center at 400 p.m. and make a difference. Amnesty is all about students protecting students!

BACCHUS

by Yoie Chang and Scott Lynch

Hello everybody. We would like to start off by thanking those members who took the time from their busy schedule to help out at the Clinton Prevention Fair and at Open House. We appreciate your help.

Also, for those of you who missed our last meeting, dues should be given to Chris A.S.A.P. especially for the people who are interested in receiving a membership card.

Our next meeting will be on Tuesday, November 1st at 7 p.m. in Room 111. We are looking forward to seeing you. This will be a very important meeting and we encourage all members to attend. We would like to give you a statement and we appreciate any input from our members on what our goals should be for the future. We hope you can attend this meeting. We will see you there.

Beta Theta Pi

by David Tenefly

I am happy to say that Ragio, Dracoon, Crone, Flips, Lark, Abaco, Floyd, bumace, Money, Att, Cobb, Darwin, and Oscar are all doing fine.

Alumni weekend was great. We are all under the new direction of Otter since Wessel is now a slave.

This Week: Mitt Romney stopped by; all of the boys are gone; Chorpe is gone; me; Board; Treant; Vomis; Oikis got caught; Fudd and Mack went on a date with my girlfriend, the townhouse; the government is inheriting a new movie; Treat lost something; Dude should become a professor; and Ike hasn’t lost his magic touch.

Quote of the week: “To hell with the world.”

The Bowling Club

by Jon Hester

This weekend the club traveled to State College, PA for the Nittany Lion Invitational Classic. Where do they get those comey names? Anyway we finished 6th. I guess everyone is entitled to a bad week. As far as I know, the lefties left the kudos this week. Great bowling, Jason and Dave.

The team also made it an annual trip to Hess’s Steak and Seafood in Sandy, PA. We’d like to thank you for allowing us to build a road better than ever had. Good luck on Penn State. Dave is the new hiring champion. For the second consecutive tournament, Tom gets the Sadowski award. Tom, Richer said he’d sell you that ball for $50 or $100 and you might want to take him up on it.

I’d like to congratulate myself on the glorious reign of Saturdays night, and personally say hello to all of the people that stopped by our hotel and said hello. We had no clue who any of you were, but we enjoyed your company anyway.

The club’s next action is Wallington, NJ for Conference Match #2. Then it’s on to the National Team Match Games in St. Louis, MO. The home match is December 3 so come and watch us as we try to be the best bowling and most successful teams.

The Bryant Karate Club

by Mark Twye

Pit Sol! Hopefully everyone is practicing the moves that will be here soon enough. Keep practicing your forms and one step.

Don’t forget to look at your definitions, they may come in handy on test day. Phil says keep your hands up.

Well for all of you who made it to the Karate Townhouse on Friday, November 1st attendance was high. This was a very important meeting and we appreciate all members that attended. We would like to give you a statement and we appreciate any input from our members on what our goals should be for the future. We hope you can attend this meeting. We will see you there.

The Bryant Players

by Donald Walden

Greetings everyone! This week is the first day for Bryant Players. Fundraising is our main thing right now. Between candy, T-shirts, and more we’re hoping that funds can be raised to pay towards our Spring Musical. However, there is some fun planned for this Thursday night, a.k.a. Halloween! The Bryant Players are sponsoring a Halloween bash at the Country Comfort for all of you trick-or-treater out there! It’s only $2 at the door and begins at 9 p.m. Monday night. A live DJ will also be there to liven up the festivities. So join us on your best costume and come enjoy a great night of spooky fun! We’ll see you there!

Delphi Kappa Epsilon

Another week went by and all the brothers are still alive. We had a visit from Datedfor ‘Bearing House’ Beauilieu this weekend and it was just like old times. We also had a visit from Nate, the weekend before, where was Greg I think we should all agree with Flanca, “From now on only brothers who graduated can visit, except Dan.”

Well Remi might be a little cold at night for the next few weeks, but once he’s finished with his paper he won’t be feeling much anyway. Gregory is building a house with sixteen inch legs. Hey Bakes, those cupcakes were great thanks.

The brothers love coming from pledging this year, Macaro’s favorite rug group is Salt-A-Pepa. Tabby’s, your badges should still look more. Dyer told his girlfriend, “head back!” “Lil’B, Lil’B, that’s it.”

Hoochie sees you next Tuesday, Rippa, you’re fired! Ask Griswold if Nipples Lippo is paid. Weary was like, “I’m going to let you live, except for the fact that I’m going to have to pay you $2,958, I think.”

We have a nice trip to Vermont, Clarky. And then everyone came in next thing the big thank you to DZ, Joia, If I have to go on one more road trip, Kixqbb!!! “Is this Ronni?” It’s the Handy Road Quarter, “Rich, go home now!” Remi’s window cracked. Hey boys this is the last Shabbat, DEBKe best.

Delta Zeta

by Emily Thomas

Hey, we’re back. Two weeks in a row! Well, on to this week. We have a new turtle. Her name is Carlton McGovern, she was born on October 24, Founder’s Day. She weighed in at 6 lbs, 14 oz. and appeared her best self. We are not taking donations to buy her a bike of her own. Navy is still looking for her keys. Savannah and Violet were unable to ride the bus with us, how will we get to our API meeting? They tour every Thursday night, weather permitting, at 9 p.m.

We would like to share that after their Apple Pie with us on Friday Duzzy borrowed a T-shirt, would you like your next? Please keep to Simon&Bill because she never had one when she was little.

Saturday proved to be an interesting day. We had a visit from Travis, who is an incredible Hilk before our eyes. Pi Kappa check your mail, there will be something arriving saying “Amount Due.”

We would like to thank Delta Theta for inviting Krantz Husch and our Founder’s Day. The roses and carnations are beautiful. Also, thank you to Public Safety for letting us sell candy in your office. For anyone who wishes to store them, please purchase a candy bar for 50 cents. The proceeds go to the Kristen Hatch Memorial Scholarship.

On the quo to of the week from Ellis-“U-banks are the wave of the future!” Have a good one. See ya.

Finance Association

by Sandy Conners and Ali Lane

Hello everyone. The Learning Center

by Chris Bronan

The workshop programs held at The Learning Center have been a great success this fall. Information for exams, The Learning Center has held a Humanities Work-Shop, a Business Work-Shop, and an Accounting Workshop with attendance of 93 students. These workshops were presented by professionals who are assisted by qualified students. With such figures, students can find another advantage of this opportunity.

The Learning Center also holds other workshops in a number of different disciplines. For further information about workshops of specific disciplines, please contact your professor who instructs the class in which you would like to attend participation.

Do not forget that The Learning Center also provides tutoring service for those who are interested in meeting during the hours of 11:00
Phi Kappa Sigma

by Jason W. Madison

I know everyone had a great week. If you didn’t have as great a week as you would’ve liked, don’t worry. There’s always someone around that loves you. Remember, don’t ever waste a chance to help someone you love; it could change their whole day.

I would like to apologize to everyone who attended the annual Phi Kapp bun ride on Thursday. It didn’t really start as having a good time. I still got to see the horses and watch Tracy ride side saddle in her native state of Massachusetts.

We are still looking forward to Ambush in a few weeks. This is a chance for anyone who is interested in playing paint bullet wars to go out into the woods and shoot your friends. Relax, it’s safe and it’s a lot of fun.

Coming up on November 17, Phi Kappa Sigma brothers will be spending a night outside to raise our scholarship fund. We’ll be asking people of Rhode Island. The Gamma Rho chapter here in Bryant was the first chapter of Phi Kapp to hold what we call cardboard city. The brothers build shelters out of cardboard boxes and sleep outside all night while asking for donations from students and faculty. All the money we receive will be donated to the McAuley House in Providence. Please, let us have a place to call home here, there are none that don’t. Your generosity will be greatly appreciated.

If there is anyone who would like to go to the Roger Williams Zoo in Providence, please give me a call. I would really like to go while it is still nice out. Soon it’s going to get cold and outside will only be fun for those who are prepared for it.

Thank you for reading and caring. Remember the wild kingdom will reign forever, they were here first.

Hello everyone! I hope everyone has been having a great week but are looking forward to the weekend as much as I am! To the Eetas, you are all doing a great job! Keep it up! I hope everyone had a great week at Fall Harvest. Thanks to Rhonda for making the night a great success!

Our philanthropy Fall-N-Bail was heard from a regional representative for the national Kidney Foundation and a write-up will be in The Providence Journal. Thanks again to Michelle and the sisters for making the day a success also! Thanks, also to all the sisters who made donations to the Debaters Foundation.

Sisters, congratulations on all scholarship awards given at last week’s meeting. Keep up those grades!

On behalf of all the sisters we would like to wish muslim students who are running for councilman in E-

Hello, fellows! I’d like to start by wishing our oldest sister a Happy Birthday, even she’s one of the youngest in age! Happy B-Day Linda, you’re finally able to travel the Comfort with us!

Please don’t be alarmed and think that there is a ‘Tri-Sigma invasion of the library, we’ve just been boggling down with 20 page papers (pom, MO), midterms, and the like! Plus, we love keeping our pledges company.

“Where are there never any sisters around when Linda feels like being Superwoman? and ramping through the woods, and why do our Alumnae think that she’s insane?” She’s only changed a little.

by Sandy Conroy

Hi everyone. For those of you who would like to have a say in planning the events for the rest of the Fall and Spring semesters, you are still in need of someone to be our Concerts & Mixers chairman. Applications are available up to the SPB office on the 3rd floor of the Bryant Center, or at any of our general meetings.

Our next movie, “The Crown,” will be shown on Sunday, October 30. There will be showtimes at 3:15, 6:30 and 9:15 in Janikies Auditorium. Remember to bring your popcorn buckets back to get free popcorn.

The College Bowl is here. Sign up for October 31 from 5-7 p.m. at Salmons, November 1 from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. in the Rotunda and 5-7 p.m. at Salmons. November 2 from 5-7 p.m. at Salmons.

On Saturday, October 29 Kier -comedian and rock impressionist- will be here. It will be in South Dining Hall at 8 p.m and cost $1. Our next meeting will be at 9:40 p.m. on Monday October 31 in the Papillion Dining Room in the Bryant Center. This meeting will be a Haloween Party.

Student Senate

by Tary Bourgeois

Hello fellow students! Well,Parents’ Weekend is over and what a huge success! The Senate, however, has many other projects and commitments currently going on. The first matter of business is RAAC. If you have any comments or ideas concerning the Re-Engineering process, please let us know. You can either contact Josh Haskell, stop by the Senate office, or fill out a suggestion card right next to the info desk.

Special Olympics Director and Assistant Director applications are now available in the Senate office. They are due back by November 1. If you have any questions concerning S.O., please contact Denise Peterson.

If you are still having difficulties with your new phone system, Health center will be there on the 2nd floor of the Bryant Center. They will be there from Monday to Thursday.

FYI-Surveys will be sent out soon regarding South Dining Hall, Senate is working on new teacher evaluations as well as working to have them published. We are eager to hear any of your comments, so be sure to leave us your feedback.

We are going to a good Halloween weekend and in the infamous Catherine would say, “See ya later, pal...”

Theta Phi Alpha

by Jenna Erickson

Hey Thetas! Hi everyone. Well, last week we went again decided to fire up the spot in the paper, hopefully we can make up for it in this issue. Alright, I just had to vent. Anyway, we are all very psyched for What The Hell, and we are also looking forward to spending Halloween with Phi Kapp. Alumni has been making several appearances in the past week. Thanks to all of them who joined in the festivities! Fun was had by all, especially Ex-Streem.

And now on the lighter side of things... Spartan Happy Birthday!... You’re getting up there pal. Is the war finally over? 8-6-7-5-3-0-9 is the number for Jesus’ girl Yah? 89’s? If You Delta Chi is for the fabulously pumpkin, we love it. Elyspe got picked up by a trucker. “Deep thoughts with Carrie Linnenson... Beta, are you sure it’s Ogilvie Home Perf? Kianna - I have dish pan hands as I type, we definitely have a problem. Pixie, do you have a friend with a truck or do you want me to put on Beauty and the Ecat? Treat, you’re never getting them back. That’s all, Later Theta!

Playoff Hopes Dwindle

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The men's soccer team dropped a heartbreaker to St. Anselm yesterday, and are now clinging to narrow playoff hopes. The 1-0 loss dropped the Bulldogs conference record to 3-5, and placed them in seventh place with one game left to play.

The lone goal came 51:43 into the game when Jim Gray deflected a pass past Bryan keeper Mike Pavano.

The Bulldogs had one final chance to get the game back up when the ball glanced off the post into the hands of the Hawks keeper.

Ten seconds later, the whistle blew, and the game was over.

"It was an evenly played game," head coach Andy McMahon said. "We had our chances to win, but came up short."

On Saturday, the Bulldogs were able to pull out the upset when they defeated Stonehill 2-0. Steve Bigler headed a John DiPapa pass into the net to open the scoring at 43:12.

The insurance goal came with just 13:50 left in the game, when Craig Arling deflected a Mike Rondinelli pass by the Stonehill keeper.

"We played a great game throughout the season, but their attitude was great," McMahon said. "We have turned it around lastly, we beat Stonehill 2-0 on Saturday and played well today. Over the last four games, we have only lost one game." Coach McMahon also feels the team has been very "unlucky" this season.

"We have lost a few game on penalty kick, and by one goal," McMahon added. "[However] their attitude has been great all season."

Leading the scoring attack for the Bulldogs is Ershah McDonald with 14 goals, and one assist in 13 games.

Another key player for the Bulldogs is Wessley Reilly, who has collected seven goals and one assist.

Bulldogs top team goals, followed by R. I. DeNunzio with one goal and two assists.

Despite having three goals on the roster, Mike Pavano has been the only keeper for the Bulldogs. In 1350 minutes of play, Pavano has only given up four goals (2.27 GAA); he also stopped 145 shots, which is among the conference leaders.

Depending on the outcome of the remaining conference games, Bryant still has a very slim chance of making the post-season; however, they will need help from other teams.

"In this situation, they will play at the site of the number three seed going into the playoffs," McMahon said.

The team has one game remaining on the schedule, and it could be the last game for a talented group of seniors. Sabino Bocconeri, Steve Bigler, John Del Monte, Randy Lee, and Mike Pavano will all graduate in May, and will be missed.

Women Run In New York

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The women's cross country team traveled to the New York state capital for The Albany Invitational, last Saturday. The meet consisted of 38 teams and 195 runners.

Bryant finished 10th overall with 328 points.

Coming across the line first for the Bulldogs was Heather Cronie who ran the three mile course in 19:30, placing 17th place overall. Her townshouse-mate Karen Paujulats was the next finisher for Bryant, she finished 38th overall with a time of 20:32.

Rounding out the top five for Bryant were: Amanda Friedrich placed 76th overall with a time of 20:41; Karen Cadedon, 97th overall, 21:17, and Carrie Stigler, 112th overall, 21:41.

The final two finishers for the Bulldogs were: Jody Russo, 126th overall, 22:00 and Jess Duvall, 190th overall, 22:54.

The top ten teams were: Buffalo 85, SUNY Binghamton 122, Hamilton 140, Ithaca 140, Trenton State 143, Trinity 144, St. Lawrence 151, Middlebury 224, Albany 275, and Bryant 324.

Bryant still has their two toughest meets of the season.

They will be at the NE-10 Championships held at Saint Anselm this Saturday.

They will then travel to Nazareth, PA for the NCAA Regional Meet on November 5.

Volleyball Upsets Bentley

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The women's volleyball team had a 4-4 record last week, improving their record to 21-9 overall, 5-2 in the NE-10.

This past week, the team faced Merrimack and came away with a win in three games. Merrimack put up a fight in the first game, but stayed with Bryant for most of the game.

However, after Kim Potezobowski placed a serve into the heart of the Merrimack defense for an ace, Bryant went on to win 17-15. In game two, Bryant came flying out of the gates and came away with an easy 15-3 victory.

In the final game of the match, the Bulldogs rattled off 10 unanswered points to jump to an early lead. Merrimack was able to rally for five points of their own, however, they mishandled a serve by Bryant's Merribah Dean and lost the game 15-5. During the match, freshman setter E. M. Johnson had 17 assists, giving her more than 1,000 assists for the season.

Dean lead the attack for the Bulldogs with 15 kills and no errors, and Kim Potezobowski added nine kills of her own.

Bryant Athletics will hold the first Black and Gold Night on Thursday, November 10 to kick off the basketball season. Details to follow.

Cross Country Prepares For NE-10 Men Surprise Field

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The men's cross country team had an impressive showing at the Stonehill Invitational, last Saturday, and surprised many.

Overall, the team finished in second place just eight points behind, the host, Stonehill.

Leading the way for the Bulldogs was Shawn Nassaney who placed the 6 mile course in 27:45 for a seventh place overall finish, he was also named NE-10 Freshman of the Week for his accomplishments.

Right behind Nassaney, was Jeremy Adlemann, eighth overall, 27:51. Seven seconds later Bryan DeTucci came across the line, finishing in 10th place.

Athlete of the Week...

This week's Athlete of the Week is Maria Bras of the women's volleyball team. During a 4-2 week, she had her best match of the season against #22 New Haven, where she recorded 32 kills and 25 digs. The next day, she had 25 kills and 39 digs against Bentley and 16 kills in 254 attempts (.600 hitting percentage) 13 digs and two assists.

Bras also earned All-Tournament honors at the Bentley Invitational, NE-10 Player of the Week, and was named AVCA Division II Player of the Week.

Bras is a senior from Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico.
