President Trueheart will Lead the College into the Future

Julia Arachneh and David Masting
Archway Staff Writers

While Chairman of the Board of Trustees Dr. Gregory T. Parkos was on campus this past Friday for a scheduled Board of trustees meeting, The Archway had an opportunity to interview him.

Parkos graduated from Bryant in 1950, and received an honorary degree in 1968. He has served as Chairman of the Board of Trustees since August 1992.

The Archway: What is the relationship of the Board of Trustees to the campus?

Parkos: It's difficult to define the differences between managing the college and acting as a member of the board of trustees.

Essentially, management of the college is the responsibility of the administration. The role of the Board of Trustees is to ensure that the management is running the institution well and fulfilling its mission.

Q: How does the Board of Trustees stay informed?

Parkos: Obviously, we read any publications. The trustees receive The Archway, as well as other magazines, columns, financial reports, and studies done. I find The Archway interesting because I'm interested in editorial comments and critical letters. Because I live in Los Angeles, I'm not on campus except maybe half a dozen times a year. While here on campus, I meet with alumni, students, faculty, and administration. Part of my way of life is to ask people how things are going. I'm not just trying to do a job, I really care and sometimes that means I get a lot of complaints.

Q: What concerns you most when you read The Archway?

Parkos: The Public Safety Beat concerns me. The trustees are responsible for the community, because we become the care givers for the students while they are here. I find it upsetting that a person at a college would commit vandalism or abuse another person. Why aren't students angry over this? We need to solve this problem, not by adding more Public Safety officers, but by peer pressure. However, I do not think there is too much cause for concern.

Q: What do you think is the driving force behind an anonymous letter, such as last week's letter to the editor?

Parkos: Whoever wrote the letter had a reason to write it. I wish they had been more explicit so we could deal with it better. Someone may think if they put an ugly letter in The Archway it will get some professors fired. But that is not what we do. That's not our way. We are sensitive to problems and keep our ear to the ground.

There was a difficult situation a couple of years ago. Faculty were upset, there was a lot of articles in The Archway. Nobody got fired, nobody got reorganized out. Everybody improved.

The trustees are here to be sensitive to problems, council and advise. The minute we become sensitive to problems, everybody becomes sensitive to them. We are in this boat together. We're not going to get anywhere beating up on each other.

Q: There seems to be some growing discontent among the students and faculty; even administration is leaving. How does this affect morale?

Parkos: Yes, I am aware that there is a morale problem. I know there is a concern in the administration on down to the staff and students, about turnover and morale. I think each administrator leaving has a unique story. Only they can best tell why they are leaving. I think there is no common reason for their departure. But, are the trustees aware that there is a morale problem? Yes, the trustees are aware.

Q: What may be causing this discontent?

Parkos: These are difficult times. Everyone is going through things...
2. THE ARCHWAY

Will History Repeat Itself?

Jurying by the looks of the first several pages of this issue, momentum appears to be picking up. We see it and we feel it.

The community is speaking up, especially the students, and change seems to be on the horizon.

But why are we facing these problems now? Six months ago we were supposedly at a high point after achieving AACSB accreditation. Change, however, occurs rapidly.

This past summer, re-engineering started and since then, several administrators have left the College.

Next week, The Archway received an anonymous letter from a Bryant administrator who called for immediate action to change the leadership of the College. We are disappointed we are unable to print the letter, but it is against our policy.

The administrator stated they were unable to sign their name out of fear of losing their job. What does this say about the environment we are now living, working, and growing in?

Perhaps, we do need new leadership to enter the next stage of the College’s development and growth. We are not claiming the old leadership was not effective, because achieving accreditation was an essential step, but now the College is turning corners and opening new doors. Our current leadership is no longer appropriate for the future direction of the school.

So, what’s going to happen next?

We look back at history, maybe we can find some answers. In 1975, students, faculty members, and maintenance workers went on strike. The students demanded the removal of the President and the Vice-President of Academic Affairs, and called for a formation of a committee to review the budget.

Believe a strike is not something to be taken lightly and we are in no way encouraging one (yet). However, we do not want students, faculty, staff, or the administration to underestimate the power of unity. Even though nearly twenty years has elapsed, and the student body of 1975 may differ from that of 1994, the goal is similar and the same results might occur.

OPINION

Students Will Go Away, Not the Problems

To the Editor:

I just finished reading the column in last week’s paper entitled, “Talking About a Revolution.” After reading it I found myself asking this question: Why is it that now The Archway is encouraging people to voice their opinions and to take a stand, when in the past the members of The Archway staff attacked such people?

I am referring to last year when an underground newspaper called, The Straight Depot, was passed around this campus. I remember that the article contained gripes about the campus, administration, and The Archway.

I also remember that when The Archway came out that week there were quite a few letters from staff writers and other people attacking the writer of The Straight Depot, especially because the writer remained anonymous. After reading your newspaper that week I thought that “Is it any wonder that people want to remain unnamed if they are going to be attacked for voicing their opinions?”

Now it seems the paper has changed for the better. Hopefully the school will soon follow suit, but probably not until after I’ve graduated.

One point to Brian Epp: the administration is ignoring the feelings of the students, because I believe that is what they ignore it long enough the complaining will go away. Only problem is that I don’t think they understand that the students will go away, not the problems.

Sincerely,

DAVID CROSBY

Dear Brian Epp:

I am writing to say I fully support your column, “Pointless Ramblings.” A lot of things that you write are true; a lot of people aren’t satisfied at this school. Other students read your column and think it’s funny. They think it’s funny because they can relate to everything you write.

If the administrators have a problem with what you write, then they also have a problem with the constitution and free speech.

At a school like Bryant College, you will find a very well known number of students that will speak out for what they believe in.

Sincerely

AANNA BRENNER

Gay Student Speaks Out

To the Editor:

I am writing this article for all the other gay, lesbian, and bisexual students here at Bryant. I am writing to make you aware that being gay, etc. at Bryant does not have to be a totally miserable experience, even though I know it can be.

As many of you have seen, Bryant has a student group which meets once a week. I know you have thought of going a million times, but you are worried about someone finding out or having your confidence violated. I have thought of going, and I soon found out my fears were totally unwarranted and I was sorry I waited so long to go.

I had spent so much time pondering “Can I be the only one?” Not in a million years. Not here at Bryant, anyway.

Coming from a family with two gay sisters and over five gay cousins, I soon learned that there are more gay people around than I could have ever imagined. One of my sisters lives in San Francisco and gay life is very visible there. The problem here in New England is that it is not so visible. You have to do a little detective work, but the people are here.

The group is one way to meet people; nothing more, just a way to talk to other people and realize we all share a common bond. The meetings are informal and very confidential. No one is interested in exposing you or someone else’s only interest is getting to know you. We have even discussed the possibility of meeting off campus.

You should also know that we are a member of RINGS, the Rhode Island Network of Gay Students which is a collaborative of Rhode Island colleges and universities including Johnson and Wales, Brown University, CCRI, Rhode Island College, URI and a few others.

Our main goal is to create a network of support for Lesbian Gay students around the state. We meet in Providence weekly and it is a blast! It really is fun to meet other students since we all generally meet at the same clubs. Since joining the group at Bryant and RINGS, I have made many friends at Bryant and from other colleges as well.

The hotline line is that everyone deserves happiness. I believe Bryant isn’t particularly a place where you can be openly gay; so at least be out to yourself. There are plenty of people you can connect to find out more, their names are listed in the October 28 issue of The Archway, as well as on various pink triangle flyers you see hanging everywhere (but hope no one sees you looking!) This year we have had numerous inquiries about the group and if you are one of those people, do yourself a favor and stop by Judy McDonnell’s office; she is supportive and is the faculty facilitator of our group.

Sincerely

BRIAN EPP

The student also informed DPS about an earlier occurrence where a truck backed into the same bike.

Larceny
October 28, 1994 - A student stated that the tailgate of their truck was missing. A report was filed with both DPS and Smithfield police.

A follow-up investigation is underway.

Burglary
October 28, 1994 - A burglary occurred in a townhouse in which compact discs and a leather jacket were stolen. The townhouse was vacant for approximately five minutes prior to the report being filed. The student will give a list of the CD titles when they know which ones were stolen. An investigation is underway.

Possible Possession of Stolen Property
October 28, 1994 - If you recall from last week, two flags were stolen off campus. Someone, who wishes to remain anonymous, stated that they saw these flags hanging from a window in a particular hall. The situation was investigated by DPS. An officer also observed both Donald's flag and two funnels as well as the red and white flag spotted in the window. Local McDonald's was called in to order if they were missing a flag, but no one stated they were. The person who reported the other flag stolen stated that it was the same design, but not the same flag that was stolen because it looked tooled. Both flags were returned, but the two funnels were destroyed.

Drug Confiscation
October 28, 1994 - A DPS officer on mobile patrol approached a car which had the smell of marijuana coming from it. Two students tried to conceal the marijuana from him in the glove compartment. Smithfield Police was requested and confiscated the drugs. Both students were then read their Miranda Rights. In one of the student's room, approximately 24 small marijuana plants were found along with another bag of marijuana. One of the students was charged with a felony of cultivating and possession of marijuana and the other student wasn't charged by Smithfield Police.

On-campus charges have been filed. As well as charges in court.

Vandalism
October 29, 1994 - A student approached thanked the faculty and students who were trying to get into the townhouse and upon returning found all of the remaining CD's stolen. Although the back door was locked, the front door wasn't. The student stated that a large gathering of people who they didn't know were outside the townhouse. Fifteen compact discs were stolen as well as a wall-mounted tape player. Total value was estimated at $385.00.

Burglary
October 23, 1994 - A burglary occurred in which fifteen CD's, a wallet containing over $600.00, a walkman, and a lap top computer were stolen. Students stated that people had stopped in to see the community who was not there. The room was left in a disorderly fashion and there were no signs of an obvious search, the victim stated that someone they knew had been in the room before. Three of the students were able to identify a person by a particular individual seen coming out of the townhouse the same day.

A warrant was provided to DPS in order to search through the suspect's room. Only a Sony walkman was found, which was turned over freely by the suspect, but cannot be determined whether it was the one which was stolen. Serial numbers are being sent to the complaint. The items stolen are estimated to be around $2000.00.

Harassment/Vandalism
October 28, 1994 - A student called DPS due to the fact that several males were trying to get into their townhouse. When the officers arrived, no one could be found. Approximately fifteen minutes later, DPS was called back to the scene. A location screen had been torn off and broken. The student stated that a particular suspect, whom had name is unknown, became out of control last week and was removed by DPS. This suspect might have something to do with the vandalism. An investigation is underway to find more information on the suspect.

Vandalism
October 28, 1994 - A student reported that their motorcycle had been vandalized after being removed from a particular lot and then was resting against a nearby car. A rather unpleasant noise was left by the person who hit the bike.

Alcohol Violation
October 29, 1994 - A DPS officer officer approached a student who had a bag of alcohol. The student refused to leave because he was using alcohol and was咨询ed by a driver's license. Finally, an officer took the student home. The student refused to leave the area. When asked to show his ID, he showed DPS a driver's license. After being very hostile, he was subsequently restrained by his own mate. Charges have been filed for all violations.

Vandalism
October 30, 1994 - A student heard the sound of glass breaking at approximately 3:30 am. After looking out the window, the student didn't see anything and therefore, went back to sleep. When the student later approached his car, he found his tail light broken.

The Public Safety Brief is sponsored by the DPS and Student's For A Safer Campus in order to comply with the Federal Student's Right-To-Know and Campus Security Act. The director of Public Safety, Mr. George Corzano, is available every Wednesday, 12:00am-1:00am, in the Bryant Center Conference Room #1 to discuss any issue with students.

To the Editor:
This past week the college welcomed three serious blowouts. The students, staff, and faculty lost three talented individuals: Steve Frazier, Barbara Gregory and Tim Massie. All three were advocates for students and supported the true mission of the college. Now it is time we ask why they and all the others before them have left.

Could it be that they all left to grow professionally? They might have left Bryant to go to another institution because they support their creativity. They might have moved on to institutions that were stronger financially. The real reason they left was due to a lack of leadership here at Bryant.

What, you say, we have President Trueheart and his cabinet. We have several vice presidents, associate vice presidents and a board of trustees. How could there be no leadership here? It could be that Bryant's "leaders" have no goals for the future. They have no vision.

Without vision, how can Bryant grow, or even survive? The answer is we can't. Any creative people that work for the college are budgeted during times of "financial difficulty." (Summer of 1992 - Over 20 Bryant staff members let go - all of whom had disagreed with President Trueheart on issues.) Now the college is entering another time of "re-engineering." We have to ask who the next is. It seems that anyone that couldn't 'scare into leaving gets escorted off campus by Public Safety. (Regina Ryan, Associate Vice President for College Relations) We as students must demand that President Trueheart take the role of a leader, or leave so someone else can.

We ask that all Bryant students take the time to send a postcard or a note to the chairman of the board of trustees to let him know that we care. Ask Gregory Parsons for Rick's Leadership. If Bryant staff members stand up they will be the next people to go especially in this time of "re-engineering." It is our college, we have to fight to save it.

Epro Is Not Alone

To Brian Ero:
I just read your article, "Your Science Is Not Golden," and I am impressed. Trust me, you are not a lost student. I agree with you 100%. There are some cool things about Bryant that make me wonder why I am still here. If it weren't for my friends, I'd be out of here in a heartbeat.

First of all, halfway through the summer I got a letter saying I won't be getting any financial aid. (I'm ashamed). Well, obviously it was a little too late to apply for admission to another college, or to apply for a scholarship. When my father told Bryant that I might not be able to return to school next year, he was told that it was "our problem." and they weren't concerned about whether or not I returned. How's that for making a student feel wanted? In many colleges, there are so many students that you are not recognized by your name, but by a number. Well, at Bryant, honestly I feel they really recognize not just names, but as dollar signs. Bryant College will deceive us anyway they can just to here in and steal our money.

The reason I'm writing is because I've been unhappy with the way Bryant is run. I never said anything because I thought I was the only one, but now I know I'm not. I didn't think that the administration refuses to respond because they don't think problems exist, it's because they don't care!

Sincerely,
Jenny Bromwell

P.S. The clown was quite a hit and provided great entertainment for all. Looking around the room, it appeared the Bryant employees enjoyed themselves just as much as the audience did. Attending to the party games, it was non-stop excitement for the children.

From the undesignated, plus many others I talked to, it was really nice and well appreciated.

Concerned Yellowmen

To the Editor:

There are many people who do not know what is going on in this campus. The administration of Bryant College is thinking about replacing the custodial staff (yellowmen) with an outside cleaning company. Of all the students spoken to, there has been a great deal of comment about this. An article was published in the Woonsocket Call newspaper stating that the jobs were going to be lost, 40 custodial jobs and 20 in computer services. Of the students spoken to, not one believed that they could actually do this.

The Physical Plant staff does much more than just clean, repair, or paint. If someone needs directions, we give them. If you need something moved, we move it. If something needs to be set up for special functions, we do that too.

Sincerely,
Mell M. Mann

Another "Satisfied" Student Speaks Out

To the Editor,

The purpose of this letter is to support Brian Epro and his column, "Pointless Ramblings." In my opinion, the notion that many members of my fellow student body, there are many problems with this school, has been overstated, to this point, refuses to admit.

The qualities that attracted me to this school are no longer present, and unless some major restructuring occurs, the enrollment of this college will consist of Bryant's rejections. If the administration wants enrollment increases, it must listen to the students and have the courage to answer the questions raised by "Pointless Ramblings."

Sincerely,
Marco Figueroa '94

Octoberfest '94 a Success

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who showed up to make Octoberfest '94 a success. This includes students, faculty and staff. I know it was a little chilly out, but once Curbside Prospects started to play, people began to warm up.

Jim Zahnansky, Chairman of BRYCOL, gave a short speech thanking all those who helped make the event a success. John McKeene and Bob O'Neill provided secondary entertainment and Drew Johnston exercised his freedom of speech rights. On a more serious note, many thanks go out to Public Safety, Student Senate and Physical Plant, for their support. Further, I would like to thank all my employees for their help in making this event what it was. I also wish to thank those Truscott help staying and sold tickets all day.

With this success behind us, we hope to have another such event in the future. If you have any questions or comments about Octoberfest please contact us at the BRYCOL house Monday through Friday.

Sincerely,
Paul M. Roselli

through a lot of turmoil. There is a lot of economic pressure on the institution. Many students are at Bryant on financial aid. It is almost impossible to make ends meet through college without some help. Families have been affected by the economic situation of the last several years.

Q: What are your thoughts on re-engineering?

Parkos: Don't like the term re-engineering. It is just a catchword. We have several options open to us. We can do the easy way out and say we are going to take the first 800 students who apply, but if we do that we are cheating the students by lowering our standards and we are not acceptable. The other alternative is to be aggressive about enrollment.

We have a hard time running the college like a business and we have to live within tuition. To keep the organization running "in the black" we must continue to make adjustments for the level of income.

Q: You mentioned that Bryant is a business. Does this sound running the institution as a business can harm education?

Parkos: It can't harm it because business is the education. Are the students the customer or are they the product? Maybe the customer is society and the product is the student. The product is the student graduating from the institution.

Students are both the customer and the product. The customer is society who pays the student to go on and spend their lives.

Q: Have you had an opportunity to see the "book" in the library?

Parkos: I have looked at the book and I hope the administration is taking this suggestion seriously. Those ideas will help as part of the re-engineering. Re-engineering, by whatever word you may want to call it, is a necessary function. Is it going to remove services? Is it going to remove staffing? Will good, good management wouldn't allow this to happen.

Q: What is your response to Bryant once again being rated the third best business special school?

Parkos: Sure I am disappointed we are there three. I've lived my life wanting to be number one. I think the administration was sensitive to what areas they evaluated to make us number three rather than number one. However, we are still at the top.

Babson and Bentley are the same as Bryant. These three institutions are all excellent institutions and in the same league with Babson. If Bryant is going to do anything else, it's going to be a monumental slip. We are number one, number two, number three. If we move down one or two places, we could be alarmed if that is the case.

Q: Is President Trueheart an appropriate leader for what you discussed as the future direction of the college?

Parkos: Absolutely. I think he is a very appropriate leader. He loves this institution. He is almost emotional about his love for this institution. This has been a very important issue for him. He is a smart person, and he holds firmly to his beliefs.

I think he is appropriate and I can't assume moral problems, discontent and turnover can be solved by just eliminating people. That reaction is just as foolish as saying that running the college is to cut labor. We are going to destroy this institution if we take anything away from the quality of our product.

The product is the students and we shouldn't tinkering with the quality of this product.
A quick look at the Letters to the Editor page of the week. Anarchy will make one thing absolutely clear: it was Bryan students and not the administration, who broke the silence. This is nothing we all should be proud of. The only way we can bring about change for the better is to band together and present a unified front to the administration. As I have said in past columns, I believe the administration’s refusal to acknowledge the fact that I am not a lone disgruntled student should be taken as a slap in the face. Well, this week, by starting to band together and prove them wrong, we have finally removed the slap, and their faces are red.

From what I have been hearing through “the grapevine,” the administration would like me to be less vague and present them specific problems. This is proof enough that they really are out of touch. What have I been writing about in the past six columns? If they had been paying any attention whatsoever, they would see that in each column I presented at least one aspect of the school which I had written in protest. While I admit that some weeks I sacrificed specifics for humor, I still believe I have captured some of the general air of discontent that permeates this campus.

Nevertheless, I will happily reminisce for the administration what I feel is wrong with this college in an attempt to see things improve, but only on one condition. I will ask specific questions, and I demand specific answers. I will not allow you to replace your weekly silence with weekly requests for specifics. If you do not listen, and insist there are members of the Rhode Island media who will, I do not mean this as a threat, but merely want to notify the administration that if they will not pay attention to the concerns of the students on this campus, others will.

As much of us know, due to the “re-engineering” process, each department head was ordered by President Trueheart to undertake a program of drastic cost-cutting so as to save money. In these tough times for colleges, this would seem like a prudent move, yet there is one glaring inconsistency. From faculty sources who shall remain anonymous, I was informed of the fact that President Trueheart’s office is the only one that has made no attempt to cut costs, and has actually expanded, with additional positions being installed. With all the help he has, what does President Trueheart do all day? Really, does anybody know?

Alright! Let’s continue with the specifics. How’s this for specificity? I want the name of whoever the individual was who gave the order to censor the advertising for and showing of 9 1/2 Weeks. Don’t even mention whether this one, because the thought of censorship turns my stomach. Give me a specific name so I can sit down with that person and explain to them that here in America, we have this wacky document called the Constitution, and if they look at Amendment One very closely they will see their attempt at censorship was highly unorthodox, and may be regarded as illegal. The person(s) who gave this order owns all of us a public apology. This is their chance to right a terrible wrong, and we will accept nothing less. Isn’t freedom of speech great! Thankfully, here in America, it’s guaranteed!

Also, I’d like to know how an $8.00 meal at Sal’s is only worth $3.85 at South Dining Hall. How can this be? Isn’t the same food? Oh, and how about this redesign of dining halls? Here we are, in the midst of dire financial straits, and Bryant can afford to perform an unnecessary and expensive (almost $1,000,000) renovation of Sal’s whose end result was to make it highly inefficient and created an uncomfortable and unappealing eating atmosphere.

I would also like specific answers as to why the class sizes at Bryant are so large. Why were over thirty classes cut from last semester’s offerings, and why was an explanation never offered to the student? Also, why are so many capable and well-liked administrators leaving Bryant, and why have several administrative positions been filled over three times in the past year? Where is everyone going? We’ve all heard the names. Now we’d like some definitive answers.

I hope I have been specific enough. As always, the administration remained silent. Then they claimed I did not name any specific grievances. Well here are a few small examples. I look forward to seeing how they duck the questions this time. Personally, I am shocked that so many students, staff, faculty, and administrators on this campus are afraid to voice their opinions or point out what they feel are problems with this college. I want them understood that if you have information you feel should be publicized but are afraid of making changes in the uppermost levels of Bryant’s leadership, we, the students of Bryan College, will no longer accept a silent response from an administration that has in the past been allowed to get away with whatever it wanted. These days are over. We will bring change to Bryan College regardless of whether or not we have the administration’s cooperation. At last, we stand together prepared to take charge of our futures.

Thoughts and Reflections

by Jason W. Madson

Hi, my name is Jason and I'm a senior here at Bryant. I'm finding that as I'm approaching my graduation I'm thinking some powerful thoughts and coming to some deep revelations. I am writing this column to try and encourage some different modes of thinking in the student body here at Bryant. If anyone who reads this and feels that they need to respond please address responses or thoughts to me at Box 2156.

This is a poem written by one of my fraternity brothers. It says a lot about the world we live in and how we got to where we are now. Jeremy Carr is the author of "Warsong. Perhaps someday you will read some more of his work. Just read this and think about it. It is all I can ask.

-Warsong

In the beginning the peaceful were the rulers of our world
Mercy ruled on high with the guidance Of Love and Wisdom
But then the Devils sailed on burning ships across the mysterious, wondrous sea
To rape and steal the beautiful lands
Not caring about the millions or the blood upon their hands

A culture is born of ill-fate and evil
Hypocrisy and bigotry become the basis of a newly discovered truth
Murder, slavery and the destruction of a people build the foundation for a set of beliefs
That infects the world like a strange blackened virus

Free your soul from the binding hate
That keeps us from attaining our ultimate goal
I am afraid that our own ignorance
Will bring upon the death of all our souls

The colorless man is stinking through the darkness
Holding the key to our salvation in the palm of his colorless hand
Slowly, fluidly he is wandering silently, unnoticed through our world
This man carries Peace like an ordinary weapon
As we continue our traditions of genocide

-PDC

The great masses of the people will more easily fall victims to a big lie than to a small one.
Adolph Hitler

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.
First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States

It is my belief that there are absolutes in our Bill of Rights, and that they were put there on purpose by men who knew what words meant and meant their prohibitions to be absolute.
-Hugo LaFayette Black

Here on the pulse of this new day
You may have the grace to look up and out
And into your sister's eyes,
And into your brother's face.
Your country.
And say simply
Very simply
With hope.
Good morning.

from 'On The Pulse of Morning,' the Inaugural Poem by Maya Angelou
What do you think the future direction of Bryant should be?

"The College should expand their programs and offer more courses in all majors."
-Natasha Lanco '95

"The school should boost school spirit for athletics as well as get students more involved in whatever is going on on campus."
-Dana Collechi '95

"The school should be more responsible to students' needs, academically and socially."
-Anthony Anzellotti '95

"They should offer more classes concentrated in your major vs. a lot of lower division requirements. Maybe only a year of core classes."
-Katrina Gathers '97

"The school should refer to alumni for suggestions and increase alumni satisfaction."
-Julie Cook '97

"The College should increase enrollment and be more concerned about the students needs."
-Tom Decker '95

"The school should be more involved in entrepreneurship, even have a degree in it to compete with Babson."
-Joe Hardy '96

"The school should stress liberal arts more and relate it to business."
-Eric Czech '97

Congratulations to Tracey Young, the winner of the October Enigma! The answers were: 18, 25 (Tracey, I need your SS# to credit your account). There are no unanswered questions in the “in” box today, but why should that stop me?

Tuesday’s Providence Journal carried an editorial about “The Bell Curve.” “Stupid findings” for stupid people,” said the editorial. “Worse, no one asked about the apparent social and economic success. Proponents of the fable about people average, Asian folks are smarter and those with out lack of social responsibility, lack of commitment of the educational profession, and students showing disrespect for the freedom given to them at college. If you prefer talking with someone in private, then please contact Doris Horwitz at ext. 6723 or stop by the Office of Health Services.

The committee continues to look for your help because they want your recommendations to help change policies so that Bullet trains even better. Please come forward; they are looking for you.

Going Global - The Wonders It Can do for Bryant

by Nehlau Rana

During the past weeks there has been a great debate raging on what the college should do to cut costs and increase revenue. To add to the debate a recent Wall Street Journal Report released its rankings of American Colleges. Once again, Bryant was ranked third - a distant third. This led to a spate of articles in The Archway and other Bryant publications. Most of these articles dwelt upon the fact that Bryant was placed third. However, there were a few which called for drastic measures in order to improve that standing. I refer you to the articles of last week’s issue of The Archway.

Enigma is a weekly column in which our science faculty tackle the technological riddles of life. Loyal Archway readers who submit topics that we feature in the column will be eligible for a monthly drawing worth 25 points. Submit questions to Dave Batch, C223 and look for the answers right here in the coming weeks.

What is Your Level of Satisfaction?

Have you always wanted to express your concerns or feelings about student life at Bryant. Well, you have the opportunity. The Quality of Student Life Committee will have an Information table in the forum on November 15 and 16, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Quality of Student Life committee consists of four faculty members, six students and 13 administrators who want to come forward and discuss the problems you see at Bryant. They are also looking for those students who are able to see a problem and offer solutions. As of today, the problems identified to the committee are as follows:

- Lower alcohol abuse and cultural norms, lack of cultural awareness,
- A larger commitment of the educational profession, showing disrespect for the freedom given to them at college.

Amnesty
by Lisa Westgate

Hello against! Once again I would like to thank all those who attended the last Amnesty meeting on Oct 18. I would also like to thank all those who volunteered to participate at our table. All the officers would like to apologize for the confusion!

BACCHUS
by Yoke Chang and Scott Lynch

Hello everybody. We would like to start off by reminding anyone who is not paid dues or hand in the money for hats, please do it soon. Also, Alcohol Jeopardy will be in Hall 13 on Wednesday, November 9 at 7 p.m. Any one interested in seeing what it is all about, come on down. It should be fun.

Well, that is about it for this week, so we will see you all next week. Also, our next meeting will be on Tuesday, November 15 at 7 p.m. in Room 1 in the Bryant Center.

Thanks to all from all the brothers that went to WhatThe Hock, and to Tri Sig from everyone who went to the Comfort. Thanks also to Tri Sig for Saturday night, the few who stayed had a great time.

This Week: Floyd was spotted at the townhouses; Lewis lost his big brother; no one knows how to ponder correctly; G4 has been rather aggressive this year; Funder has completed his requirements and has been changed to AII; pneumonia has hit us hard; Hatch made a mistake; we want the couch back; Clum is a Thursday night kind of guy; T2 is much better than F1; Dobber is recovering; Finch turned it around; and Frank is coming up in a couple of weeks.

Quote of the Week: "You're not off, you're done."

Beta Theta Pi
by David Tenofsky

The Beta A football team has finished the season at 2-2-2 with a loss to Sig Ep on Monday. This is our best record in at least five years and secures us a spot in the playoffs.

BSC has been idle for quite some time now but will probably make the playoffs too.

Thanks to Theta all the brothers that went to WhatThe Hock, and to Tri Sig from everyone who went to the Comfort. Thanks also to Tri Sig for Saturday night, the few who stayed had a great time.

Bryant Advertising Association
by Helen Lau

For those of us who love advertising, this new organization on campus, the Bryant Advertising Association (BAA), is like a glass of ice-cold lemonade on a hot, sunny day - refreshing, stimulating, and good right down to the toes!

We've just had our first fall meeting, presided over by Christopher Gilmore. Before he graduated last spring, Gilmore pursued the approval of BAA's constitution and bylaw with the help of Student Senate.

Gilmore is now an account manager with National Car Rental, gave an upbeat account of how members could engage in job prospecting.

At the meeting, Dr. Joseph Bromick, the association's advisor, explained BAA's functions and how it will help develop the individual abilities of its members. BAA is affiliated with the Washington-based Academic Division of the American Advertising Federation.

The following officers were elected for the 1994/95 Board of Directors: Helen Lau, President; Amy Lasker, First Vice President; Greg Chavez, Second Vice President; Jay Bolen, recording secretary; Robin Dierler, corresponding secretary; Stephen Forest, treasurer; and Celeste Tomas, social campaign manager.

Bryant Karate
by Mark Tread

Pit Sew! Attraction all Bryant Karate Club members: The only test worth practicing or studying for is coming up - belt advancement tests. If there is the remote chance you have any other up and coming antipong tests, good luck!

Welcome back to Mister Eric Zine who has been missing in action for most of the semester.

Sunday night was another one of the club's movie nights. This time the movie was Brandon Lee's The Crow. Several of the advanced belts expressed a desire to learn some of Brandon's moves by the time they reach their black belt.

Entrepreneurship Club
by Kim Brunton and Christine KJeldberg

Hello Bryant! We would first like to say thank you to all who participated in our Entrepreneurship Day.

At our last meeting, we discussed JP wanna play catch? Also keep your ears open for the announcement about a Sunday Football game at the beach. Well, that's all for now! See you in the Dole!

Finance Association

by Sandy Connors
Hi everyone! First we would like to apologize for the cancellation of Tuesday's meeting with Matthew Springer '94 of Digital Equipment.

We also would like to thank so many people for coming out to the Career in Finance/Economics events this past Monday. The three speakers, Dan Murphy, Michael Verna, and Tim Coggin were wonderful.

We also want to thank the 17 people who volunteered at the A. Levy Elementary School in Burrillville this past Monday. It is nice to know that there are students at Bryant College who want to give to the local community.

In a few days you should be receiving a memo asking what type of events you would like the Finance Association to organize next semester. Please take a few minutes to write a few comments or suggestions. If you do not receive one by next Wednesday, please call Jen at x8159.

Coming on Thursday, November 17, there will be one speaker. He is William Vanoch, V.P. of Investments of Cowens & Company in Boston. This will be held in Papinot at 6:30 p.m.

On Monday, November 21 we have Comfort Night from 9 p.m. - 1 a.m., $2 cover charge. Any questions can be directed to the Finance Association at Box 5.

HISC

by Rebecca Boker
The History and International Studies Club had an interesting meeting this past Tuesday, November 10 on Chinese culture. We would like to thank Professor Graves for coming to speak with us.

If you could not attend this meeting, we announced the time of our first Dance-Out Event. We are planning to go to a Chinese Restaurant on Wednesday, November 9 and will leave at 5 p.m. HISC members, as well as their friends are welcome to attend. If you are interested in attending and would like more information, please call one of the E-Board members: Joanna at 706-6616, Kasey at 2562, and Rebecca at 8157. We look forward to seeing you there.

The Learning Center

by Chris Bruno
A new policy enacted last year allows students to consider withdrawing from a class without penalty. A "WP" on a grade report indicates just this. Students have the option to withdraw from a class and not be penalized up to and including the tenth week of classes. The last day to drop a class under this policy is November 18. If you are in such a predicament and are considering dropping a class, the Learning Center staff would like you to consider the option of becoming involved with the Learning Center before making a final decision.

The staff is ready to assist you between the hours of 11:00 a.m. - 10:00 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 11:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. Saturday, and 1:00 p.m.-10:00 p.m. Sunday. Come and visit the Learning Center called 222-6746 for further information about tutoring services. For tutoring appointments, it is important to contact us in advance. Remember, the Learning Center is a valuable resource here on campus that is working for you!

Men's Rugby

by Josh Herrot
The Min's Rugby Team closed out the season with a hard fought battle against one of the top teams in New England: St. Michael's. The ruggers played close in the first half and had a 7-5 lead at one point, but could not sustain it. In the game, Reed Beard scored his first try, and 'Tank' added another to lead total.

The game marked the last for one of our senior, Marty, who graduates this semester. Marty, it is about time for you to be out of here!

Ruggers, mark your calendars! The final is coming up on Saturday December 2. So get out your checkbooks and pay N.S.A.S.P. Speaking of N.S.A.S.P., he's back on his rehabilitation and that loan, mean, tri-scoring machine is expected off the sidelines and ready for some action in the Spring.

Orders for hats and scarves should be given to me soon. Place orders by calling 4640.

Now for some kudos. Congratulations are due Dale Murawski for being re-elected to the Senate. Interestingly, two ruggers, Jeff Holloway and Josh Herrot, made the Dean's list. Our advisor is pleased that two appeared on the list, but thinks four is better.

We want to invite all of you that are interested in rugby to contact Tank or Nus at 4037. Our advisor thinks there are only three prerequisites: a desire to do damage, the ability to accept damage, and the ability to post ball for a fellow rugger. Give a call if you find the experience intriguing.

Hello everyone! I hope everyone had a great week and a Happy Halloween! Great job Amy on putting together the Halloween party for the kids. All the kids seemed to have a great time!

To the fans, you are all doing fine. Keep those chains in! The sisters are very excited to see our alumni this weekend! We miss them all and can't wait for the weekend!

Thanks to Phi Kap for the great time all the sisters had on Friday afternoon. Dr. Stin and we can get together again soon! The Halloween extravaganza with Sig Ep was a great time! Everyone's costumes were definitely very original! The sisters would also like to thank the brothers who helped us pass out flyers for Patrick Kocle.

Congratulations to all our sisters doing really well in their classes — Ken, Karen K., Bison, Tammy and anyone else I might have left out! Keep up those grades sisters, you are all doing awesome! And, good luck to Stacey on her interview with JC Penney.

Hey Bebe, be careful of your red skirt! Wily, what's up with the bathroom? By the way, do you know how those young Hommes? Senior S's nice costumes! Once again, the squint gun man is out of control! Run away horror boy - Stixs has had "a rough" of you! Where was the fire truck at the fire drill at 10 o'clock in the morning? Radke, are you home sick? (Jodles, Pop! That's all for this week! Have a fun-filled weekend! We'll see you next week!

Hello everyone! I'll start out by saying that we're still 12 strong, and it's great to still see us all. We all had a great time on Friday night, thanks to all those people who came. We've finally gotten Linda under control from her birthday celebration. "Kristen, sit over there so he won't know we're together!" - good idea Koro.

I love our beautiful, woody campus. Take a walk around this place sometime and realize how lucky we are to have such a natural campus! Alli, Mo, Kasey, and I certainly enjoyed the environment, but who broke the railing? That's just plain rude and destructive to nature!

Does anyone know where Kasey's Halo, wings, wand, and sparkly spray are? Adam and Randall, thanks for making me the happiest clown around! Octoberfest was a great time and the class of '95 is the best! John S. - the KB Kings, you're the best!

How are your backs and legs from Sullivan? Thank you so much for the pumpkin, Delta Chi! Quote of the Week: "Did you girls say - No, we said "Follow your Mason,"? Oh, Ok, go ahead then girls!" Till next week: Peace and love!

by Sandy Conners

Hi everyone. For those of you who would like to have a say in planning the events for the rest of the Fall and Spring semesters, we are still in need of someone to be our Concerts & Mixers chairperson. Applications are available in the SPB office on the 3rd floor of the Bryant Center, or at any of our general meetings.

Our next movie, "The Flintstones," will be shown on Sunday, November 6. There will be shows at 3:15, 6:30 and 9:15 in Janikies Auditorium. Remember to bring your popcorn buckets back so get free popcorn.

On Tuesday, November 8 SPB brings back the ever-popular Virtual Reality. It will be held in the Bryant Center Commons from 10 to 4.

We have also planned a trip to New York City on Saturday, November 12. The bus leaves Bryant at 7 a.m., and will leave NYC at 8 p.m. Tickets are $15, and are available at the Info Desk.

For those of you looking to go away for Spring Break, SPB is planning trips to Jamaica and Cancun. There will be an informational meeting on Wednesday, November 16. Deposits are due by December 15. Watch for more details.

The College Bowl is coming on Tuesday and Thursday, November 15 and 17. Come out and challenge the SPB team that is now forming. Our next meeting will be at 4:30 on Monday November 7 in the Papitto Dining Room of the Bryant Center.

Hey Everyone! We'll have an easy, fun, laid back weekend for us, but we survived. What the Heck? I was a blip, come now, can't we all just get along?

Does anyone want anymore rice? Pepe also made an appearance. We would also like to thank Phi Kap for Saturday night, it was about time; only Culver could get away with that hat.

This past week, I've noticed that Air Supply is making it's long awaited come back. Also, Japen has a very bad day and 42 years of bad luck. "I don't want to have to fight you." Klima, look out for speed bumps, you devil. "We can go as each other!"

Looking to the future, many of us can't wait for Phish on Thursday, it should be a lot of fun, if we can get a ride. The motto for the week: short but sweet. Lata, Theta!

Men’s Soccer Ousted From Conference Playoffs

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The men’s soccer team was able to back into the post-season playoffs, only to be knocked out in the first round.

The Bulldogs traveled to Manchester, N.H., on Tuesday and were defeated 1-0. The lone goal came in the first half when Chris Cummins took a pass from Brendan Sullivan and put it into the net at 14:58. Bryan was unable to sneak a goal by the Saint Anselm keeper in the remaining time. The loss dropped Bryant’s record to 5-11-1.

Prior to the Saint Anselm’s game, the Bulldogs traveled to Assumption and came away with a 5-3 victory. The win, coupled with a loss by Saint Michael’s, advanced the team to the playoffs. Jarrad Dewey and Mark Sokolus each scored twice for the Bulldogs in route to the victory. Dewey also added an assist.

Dewey finished the season as the leading scorer for the Bulldogs, he collected nine goals and two assists. Next on the list was CJ Johns with four goals and four assists. He is followed by Steve Bigler with four goals, Mark Sokolus with two goals, Rich Emerman one goal and two assists. Randy Leete four assists, Craig Arling one goal and one assist.

All the goal keeping duties were performed by Mike Pavone. In 1625 minutes, Pavone only allowed 39 goals (2.16 GAA) and stopped 124 shots.

Bryan’s season came to an end with the loss to Saint Anselm, and they will now focus on replacing the five graduating seniors (Steve Bigler, Sahino Boccazi, Damon DeMonte, Randy Lette, and Mike Pavone). However, they still have a young team, and the younger players will be asked to fill the shoes of the people who are leaving.

The men’s soccer team was eliminated from post-season play with a loss to Saint Anselm last Saturday.

Men’s Cross Country Heads to NCAAs

The men’s cross country team had a disappointing sixth place finish in the NE-10 Championships last weekend at Saint Anselm’s. "I was very pleased with the team, but the competition was too good," said head coach Harry Smith.

The Bulldogs were off by Jack Allen who finished in 23rd place with a time of 28:20 for five miles. The Bulldog’s time was 1:40.28. The line was 58 and Shane Nassaney finishing in 29th place with a time of 28:28. The Bulldogs are 154th with a team of 28:33. Mike Walsh crossed the line first in 37th place with a time of 28:53.

Coach Smith was impressed with his team. "They all did great times and were only 20 seconds off the last all-conference runner."

Rounding out the finishers for the Bulldogs were Darrel Golden, 47th place; with a time of 29:51; Darrel Cook, 67th, with a time of 30:51; and Steve Michaud, 71st, with a time of 31:02.

"Everyone had excellent times, and knowing I have them back next year is a player 3. However, I was disappointed with the sixth place finish."

This was the youngest team, in fact, they are only one senior and one junior on the team. Steve Michaud and Peter Les. The rest of the squad are sophomores and freshmen. This should give some of the other NE-10 schools something to worry about next season.

The team will wind down the 1994 season this weekend as they travel to the NCAAs Regionals in Kentuck, PA this Saturday.

Coach Smith says he has only one goal for this race; "To finish in the top 20. We are very strong in our conference. I know that is where we should be."

Bryant Hockey is Back

Jason Crozier
Archway Staff Writer

The Bryant Hockey Team started their 1994-95 season with an exciting 9-0 victory against Johnson & Wales University. The game took place last Saturday night at Bryant College’s home rink, the West Warwick Civic Center. Johnson & Wales came out strong and scored after only one minute of play. The quick goal took Bryant by surprise, but the home team responded quickly. Just two minutes later, junior John Dube netted his first goal of the night. His effort inspired the game and initiated a scoring spree for Bryant College. Sophomore Paul Dube, freshman Karlton Lough, and sophomore Rich Botham collected an even spread of goals when they each scored during the remainder of the first period.

Bryan had captured a 4-1 advantage, but Johnson & Wales wouldn’t quit. After the start of the second period, the visitors immediately scored two consecutive goals to bring the game within one. The teams fought hard trading goals until the middle of the third period. Finally, Bryan secured their win when senior Mark Cummings and junior Robbie Woodcock scored back to back power play goals. (Woodcock, Lough, and John Dube contributed the scoring for Bryan during the second and third periods.

Coach Al Saccomaco was pleased with the outing. He commented, "Our team played hard and took advantage of the few opportunities. If we continue to do that, we should have a successful season."

Bryan will attempt to remain undefeated next Saturday November 5, when they face last season’s NECHA champion, Southern Connecticut. The 9:00 game will be played at the West Warwick Civic Center.

There will be a very important meeting for the men’s and women’s track teams on Wednesday November 9 at 4:30 P.M. in the Bulldog Room (formerly the men’s exercise room) on the second floor of the Gym.

Finally They Think Before They Act

On Deck

Angelo L. Corradino

A major controversy was avoided when the NBA became the first league to have some guts and think about the fans before they even turned to you with strike demands. "I am pleased to agree with the players in both the other strikes (MLB and the NFL), but enough is enough," said Jack Allen.

When the news first hit the wire there might be a strike in the NBA, I thought not again. Professional sports have become a huge aspect of the American way of life. With its New York Knicks batting the Houston Rockets in the NBA finals, or the Buffalo Bills and the Dallas Cowboys looking up to the Super Bowl, most of the country is tuned into to see the outcome.

However, when two of the major venues are on strike, it makes people wonder if all this is worth it. This year has been tough on sports fans, especially New York fans. First for those New York fans the Yankees were losing. Having winning seasons in quite some time however, they will not be able to claim their 23 World Titles. When we have the Rangers, after 44 years with a Stanley Cup, the Rangers finally won. Unfortunately, they will not be able to defend their title.

As for the rest of the sports fans, they are suffering and a baseball strike in America national pastime, and although keeping up with Michael Jordan’s in the NBA, and the Kentucky Derby has been fun, a true baseball fan needs more than that.

Bottom line, it is time for the owners and players to stop make weak attempts at solving their problems, they need to come up with a solution. For example, earlier this summer, the Long Island Railroad (LIRR) went on strike, and the situation was settled rather quickly. "How did they do this you ask?"

Prior to the normal owned by Ryan DeTucci, in 300 place, with a time of 28:33. Mike Walsh crossed the line last in 37th place with a time of 28:53.

Coach Smith was impressed with their times, "They all did great times and were only 20 seconds off the last all-conference runner."

Rounding out the finishers for the Bulldogs were Darrel Golden, 47th place; with a time of 29:51; Darrel Cook, 67th, with a time of 30:51; and Steve Michaud, 71st, with a time of 31:02.

"Everyone had excellent times, and knowing I have them back next year is a player 3. However, I was disappointed with the sixth place finish."

This was the youngest team, in fact, they are only one senior and one junior on the team. Steve Michaud and Peter Les. The rest of the squad are sophomores and freshmen. This should give some of the other NE-10 schools something to worry about next season.

The team will wind down the 1994 season this weekend as they travel to the NCAAs Regionals in Kentuck, PA this Saturday.

Coach Smith says he has only one goal for this race; "To finish in the top 20. We are very strong in our conference. I know that is where we should be."

They then halted the talks for about five hours to sleep. At six, clock the next morning, they were back in the room taking. Once again the talks went nowhere, and neither the LJR workers nor the owners of the LIRR spoke.

May be Major League Baseball can take a lesson from this situation; they should set up a meeting date, and not come out of the room until the strike is settled. Basically this will not happen until the owners stop being selfish and lazy and wake up. They are the major problem in this situation, they want total control, and we want to get the fans in the stands!" Marge Shortt I think not.

If you look at the success of a typical baseball player it only lasts about five years. For the superstars (Don Mattingly, Ken Griffey Jr, Joe Carter), etc., their careers lasted to be longer, 20 years if they are lucky. Now if you were in their situation, wouldn’t you want to make as much money as you can while you can?

The NFL is just as bad. They are all about eight hundred dollars a week and other stupid incidents which is, in the long run, is only going to hurt the game. They should also be locked in a room until they can settle this dispute.

Until then, all we have in basketball and football to watch. Hopefully they will not go out on strike too soon.

As for basketball, I have one prediction, a loss by the Boston Celtics in the first round of the New York Knicks, on Friday.

If you would like to enter the three point contest, just send your name, class, address, and phone number to the Greek President’s Council Box 3800.
Volleyball Emus Season on High Note, Head into Playoffs

Angelo L. Corradino
Archway Sports Writer

The women's volleyball team had a perfect week by winning six, and only losing one, to improve their record 26-10 on the season, 6-3 in the NE-10.

Last night was senior night, and a large crowd turned out to honor the graduating seniors Marta Bres and Kim Petrella. This was their final home match of their careers and the night truly belonged to the seniors as they each played a key role in the Bulldog victory over UMass Lowell.

In game one, Bryant came flying out of the gates, and jumped to an early lead. However, the River Hawks were able to stay close the entire game. Then Potrzebowski served a ball which was just too hot and pointed to the Bulldog victory.

The next game was much different, Lowell jumped out to an early 6-3 lead and seemed to be in control of the match. Mehan Dean then came through with the score to give an unanswered point to give Bryant an early lead.

Lowell was able to get the ball back, but they were not able to hold off the Bulldog surge and Bryant won 15-7 when Bres hit a kill down the line to end the game.

In the final game, Lowell put up a fight once again, but it was not enough. Once again Potrzebowski hit a ball which was called back into the antenna, Bryant won the game 15-10.

The seniors made their final night a memorable game. Bres had 16 kills and 16 digs, while Potrzebowski had 11 digs and nine service points.

"The seniors were great, it was great to get ready for the NE-10 titles this weekend," coach Karen Mendes said. "The team we will face this week-end all run similar offense to Lowell, tonight was a good warm-up."
