CALENDAR COMMITTEE PROPOSALS FOR 1971-1972

The Calendar Committee is in the process of preparing the 1971-1972 College Calendar, and before any final decision can be made, a questionnaire will be sent to each member of the Bryant community to receive their views. While dormitory facilities at the Smithfield Campus will be available for occupancy prior to September 15, the classroom facilities will not be finished until October 4th at the earliest. This fact, related with many other problems makes the creation of the new calendar extremely difficult. The committee will be circulating the following alternatives to each of the students, faculty and administration.

PLAN I
1. Classes begin on September 7th with all classes being held on our present campus, and all living facilities located in Smithfield on the new campus.
2. Entire first semester would operate in this manner, with hourly shuttle bus service between the two campuses.
3. A calendar similar to this year's would be implemented; with no classes scheduled during January, and finals prior to Christmas vacation.

PLAN II
1. Classes resume September 7th with all living facilities in Smithfield and all classes in Providence.
2. On October 4th, or as soon as the Smithfield classrooms, College, and dormitories are completed, classes would be transferred; thereby, permitting all college activities to take place on the Smithfield campus. Moving would take place over a weekend with no loss of class time.
3. A schedule similar to the one used this year would be used. Finals would be before Christmas, thereby permitting the month of January to be used as a vacation period.

PLAN III
1. Class would resume October 2nd (the anticipated completion date for the classroom facilities at Smithfield). All College activities would take place in Smithfield.
2. If the classrooms are not completed as of October 2nd, classes would resume as of that date in Providence with shuttle bus service provided between the two campuses. Classes would be transferred to Smithfield as soon as the classrooms are completed.
3. To permit the required number of class meetings, a calendar commencing on October 2nd would entail the scheduling of classes through January 28th. An additional vacation would be scheduled between semesters.

Before you make your decision as to which plan you like best, you should take into account the following information:
1. Hourly shuttle busses would be provided between the two campuses. Since the cost of bussing is high, the best program would be one that requires as little bussing as possible.
2. Bryant can lease the classrooms, library, activities building, and the gym from Brown University during the first semester. However, the dorms and dining hall would be the property of Brown, and not under the control of Bryant College.
3. Noontime luncheons for resident students would be provided in the gym and included in the cost of room and board. Morning and evening meals would be served on the Smithfield campus.
4. There already exists a serious parking problem on the campus. If we have the dormitory students, in addition to the commuting students, driving in from Smithfield, the problem could be aggravated further.
5. Next year's enrollment is expected to be approximately 2500 students. This means that there would be approximately 250 additional students should we remain on this campus. While it is possible to accommodate this increase in enrollment utilizing our present facilities, there is bound to be a limited amount of inconvenience caused by the larger student population.

WINTER INTERSESSION 1971
January 4 - January 22 - 8:30 - 11:30 A.M. Daily
 Fees: Course — $60.00
 Room — $45.00
 Board — Dining facilities available on a cash basis.

Courses Offered:
A.1A Ec.1 L.8
A.1 Ec.7 L.9 M.8
A.7 Ec.11 L.1 M.1 K.1 S.2
A.13 Ec.14 L.2 M.7 S.21
A.16 E.1 L.4 M.3 O.1 S.6

See next week's Archway for Registration details.

6. While a period of two or three days is sufficient to permit moving college files and office equipment, a period of 2-4 weeks is necessary to move the library. This means that any plan calling for a transfer during the semester from Providence to Smithfield would create a 4-5 week period during which complete library facilities would not be available.
7. The incoming freshman class for next fall is being recruited with the understanding that they will be living and studying entirely on Bryant's new facilities. They have no indication of the problem concerning completion of the classrooms. Consideration should therefore be given to this problem when deciding upon the starting date for classes and whether or not to instigate bussing during September, or for the entire semester.
8. Lounge facilities would be provided in the gym and activities building for students wishing to remain in Providence before classes rather than return by shuttle bus to Smithfield.

I.D.'S WILL BE REQUIRED

Phi Kappa Tau To Present Fall Weekend
Friday, November 20, 1970, Phi Kappa Tau will host one of the biggest weekends on the Bryant College Social Calendar — Fall Weekend.

The weekend will begin with a kick-off party in the gym from 8-12 p.m. Music will be provided by the Freeway, a large group from New York City. PKT will be raffling off a stereo tape deck at the dance. The admission price will include a ticket towards the raffle.

Saturday at 1:00 p.m. PKT will feature its annual pig chase. All the Greeks and the Dorns are invited to participate in this (fairly or the least) event. Later that evening a semi-formal dance will be held at the old Grist Mill with music again by the Freeway.

Every attempt will be made to ensure that this weekend is as many Greeks and Independent as possible at all the events and hopes everyone will have a good time.

Editors Attend Convention
Bryant College was represented by Stew Cohen and Bill Holden at the 46th annual convention of the Associated Collegiate Press. The convention was held in Minneapolis, Minnesota on November 5, 6, & 7.

Colleges and universities from all over the country sent representatives to the convention. Conferences were held from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The topics of the conference varied from storytelling, movie features, editorial leadership through social awareness, and information on typography. After the conclusion of the scheduled meetings on any given day, PKT had time in the evenings to discuss newspaper problems that were held in many of the hotel suites.

Attention: to comment on the convention, Messrs. Cohen and Holden stated that the convention was beneficial learning experience. Most of the newspaper and student problems being discussed at PKT are typical of the problems (Continued on Page 4)

Career Vacations Abroad

Randal Gort is not typical of the thousands of American students who drifted back to campuses this fall after summers of laboring, or studying or work. Randy Gort is typical of only a few hundred students whose vacations put them one jump ahead in the coming job scramble. He enjoyed a working vacation abroad, courtesy of a foreign employer and a little-known organization called IAESTE.

"It was a great summer," he says, "what a blast!" Randy is an electrical engineering student at the University of Minnesota. He worked on a study of microwave telecommunications with the European Space Technology Center in Nordwick, the Netherlands. His companion at the Center, Terry Hasterline of the University of Wisconsin, was working on a payload assembly team for sounding rockets. Terry's work even "seems to agree with me."" Now looking for a job "foreign service-whatever-it is," Randy and Terry, or for the electrons, to observe a launch.

Launched in Amsterdam in 1948, American participation in IAESTE dates back to 1950 when students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology thought the idea was too good to pass up. IAESTE/US now operates as a non-profit, educational organization with students from all over the world working in foreign countries. The U.S. office screens applicants and matches them with job offers. They will see that all the necessary visas, working permits, and other "red tape" are taken care of. Assistance is offered in locating lodgings, securing low-cost health and accident insurance, and arranging transportation.

Application Procedure Simple

The student who is interested in the IAESTE experience will find that the application procedure is a simple one. The basic requirements are basic: current enrollment in good standing at a 4-year degree granting college or university; major study in a field of engineering, agriculture, or the sciences; and achievement of at least the sophomore year (through graduate study) the trainee must be a full-time student.

Applications must receive an "academic" endorsement from the student's college or university. The trainee must be on the student's campus. No one may apply. The IAESTE trainee, of course, has more than the usual sightseeing trip overseas and as the former international of the Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. Klaus Wynnogen of Germany, points out, "The U.S. office screens trainee work abroad brings to his eventual job added insight into foreign work practices and techniques in his own profession."

Honorariums To Radicals List

Breaks Restraining Order

Editor's Note-The following information was taken up in INSIGHTS in the October 22 issue of the Editors' Board. It is being repeated fully what occurred and what has taken place since the time of that report.

WASHINGTON (CPS) - A controversial report listing honorariums paid to 65 alleged radical campus speakers has been filed with the U.S. district court order banning its official publication. The report, based on information provided by students at all over the nation's higher education institutions, could turn up honorariums to all the nation's higher education institutions, could turn up honorariums to all the nation's higher education institutions, could turn up honorariums to all the nation's higher education institutions, could turn up honorariums to all the nation's higher education institutions, could turn up honorariums to all the nation's higher education institutions.

Judge Richard H. Ichord (D-Mo.) filed the report of his House Committee on International Relations and released the copies to the press, even though a U.S. District Court judge had enjoined government printers and the committee staff from distributing the report. Judge Gerhard R. Gesell, who set the restraining order barring publication of the report on grounds that publication of the list of speakers had no legislative purpose, would violate the speakers' First Amendment rights. He said an appeal hearing later this month on a suit filed by the American Civil Liberties Union, the ACLU, and a number of the organizations included in the list, such as the Congress for Cultural Freedom, International League for Human Rights, and the Socialist Workers Party. The participants in the lawsuit are affiliated with the Socialist Workers Party, the Student for a Democratic Society, or the Socialist Party. History of Vaults or Save It For The End

Since the dawn of time, safeguarding measures—ranging from burying treasures to mammoth electronic security devices—have been used by man to protect his valued possessions from fire, flood and the menace of thieves.

From the first axe handle hidden under a rock to an iron vault door, the world’s largest—manufactured by Diebold, Incorpor­ated—for the First Na­tional Bank of Chicago, man has continuously sought and seen better means of protecting what is his. The “under a rock” approach, ancient Egyptians, over 4,000 years ago, perfected the first lock. Using a pin ar­rangement and a wooden key so large that it had to be carried over the shoulder, caches and pyramids gave first evidence of what is today the safety deposit vault. Treasures of ancient days—the riches of kings and apathetic to the idea of fire-proof vaults in these days where people. The Chicago fire in 1871 proved to be a turning point when it was learned that 497 of Karl Diebold’s safety devices survived the holocaust. At this time, the Diebold Safe and Lock Company was only thirteen years old.

In the year of 1871, at the time of the Chicago fire, there were exactly six safe deposit vaults in the United States. As the public grew to recognize the value of the vault of the time, the number of safe deposit companies grew to fifty in the next four years alone.

Friday the 13th — Throughout the Ages

All throughout the ages, people have atributed the unaccountable to supernatural intervention. All throughout the ages at least in the United States. Bryant College, witnessing students afraid to take exams on Friday the 13th. Will, fellow students here we are on that ominous, back door to the building. The vaults are just a couple of historical anecdotes, secrets, and day symbols, back through the years.

It appears that the reason attributing bad luck to this day are two-fold. First, the common day Fri­day is considered an ominous day for all who dared to venture forth into the world. There were only six vaults in the United States.

The public, however, was apathetic to the idea of fire-proof vaults in those days where people. The Chicago fire in 1871 proved to be a turning point when it was discovered that 497 of Karl Diebold’s safety devices survived the holocaust. At this time, the Diebold Safe and Lock Company was only thirteen years old.

The public grew to recognize the value of the vault of the time, the number of safe deposit companies grew to fifty in the next four years alone.

By the year of 1876, Diebold had constructed what was then the largest vault in the world for the San Francisco Safe Deposit Company. The main door had five locks for extra security. The vault contained 4,600 safe deposit boxes. It took 47 freight cars to transport the vault from the Canton, Ohio, home of Diebold to San Francisco.

Today, nearly 100 years since the Chicago fire, experience and experiment have paved the way for great strides in vault tech­nology. The 87½ ton double-leaf design vault door at The First National Bank of Chicago featuring the latest in scientific elec­tronic security devices, is massive evidence of the strides man has made during the past 4,000 years to protect what is his.

er all normal student-type living expenses for the duration of the training period. The trainee must foot the bill for international transportation, free-time vacation travel and personal expenses such as insur­ance, souvenirs, lavish en­tertainment or the like. The normal trainee going to Europe for the summer, working for eight to ten weeks and doing some vaca­tion travelling will spend about $400-600 for the works. Students who prefer to go to other areas of the world should expect somewhat higher expenses, since the international travel will not have been covered.

One last IMPORTANT point. Students who are interested in a “career vaca­tion” should bear in mind that it involves a bit more than securing a job waiting on tables in a resort. It takes time. Therefore, the deadline for applying is DECEMBER 15. To get more information, and an application form contact:

Death Statistics

Total American deaths from the Indochinese War have climbed to 52,480, according to the most recent death count from the U.S. Depart­ment of Defense. This figure includes 4,859 deaths “resulting from action from hostile forces,” and 8,659 from “other causes,” which include aircraft accidents and “incidents.”

118,772 troops in the South Vietnamese army have been killed, along with 4,110 men in the armies of American allies like Aus­tralia and South Korea. The Defense Department claims that 675,597 North Viet­namese and NLF soldiers have lost their lives, bringing the death total for the war to 849,289, a figure which does not include any civilians or any troops fighting on either side in Laos or Cambodia.

is a recorded case history in 581 of the sailings of two Atlantic liners which were postponed from Friday to one minute after midnight, following the protests of supersitious passengers. Secondly, the number Thir­teeen has remained an infamous history.

The old belief that if thirteen people gather in one room, one of them will die before the year is out, is still prevalent. It is almost impossible to find a house or room in a hotel in Europe numbered thirteen. Put the two of these ill­fated crowds together and you have Friday the thir­teenth, that dreaded day. students who prefer to go to other areas of the world should expect somewhat higher expenses, since the international travel will not have been covered.

NATIONALISM AND THE HEBREW NATION

Almost 6000 years ago God (assuming that God Exsists) originally offered to all the tribes of the world the responsibilities of carrying out his laws. No tribe was willing to accept upon themselves the additional liabilities, and therefore turned down the offer made by God. After much hesitation the tribes of Israel rejected and preserved the hopes of another nation. In return God blessed the tribes of Israel the land of Canaan (milk and honey). The tribes of Israel chose and were not chosen to follow his way. (written and oral Jewish laws as interpreted throughout history) one finds that Jewish history never considered Jewish people the chosen people of God. The effective rape of history to suit another advancement, such as while America's interpretation of history as a steady dehumanization process of the Black Man to the point where the Black man started to believe he was inferior to Whites, is the situation many Jews find themselves in. The teaching of history to make Jew and non-Jew people understand that way is a chosen people of God, is, in effect, the perversion of truth perpetrated to continue a myth that is, to help nurture anti-Semitism in the world today.

The Jews have been slaves unto many—empires, nations, and masters that have throughout history continuously and relentlessly tried to destroy them. (In ten generations a Jewish division, the most numinous Jewish body merely becomes a senseless illusion that should fool no one.) The "final solution" for the Jewish people of the world is articulated: from Czarism to the Spanish Inquisition, the Nazi Holocaust, Russian Dictatorship, and Nuclear Armament, and anti-Semitism, and anti-Semitism by the Arab Nations to throw "the Jew into the Sea." Anti-Semitism historically appears to be a non-Jewish problem, for it is the Non-Jew that concerns himself with the destruction of the Jews—not the Jewish themselves.

What has been the major "outside" force that has contributed to the continuous existence of the Jewish people, notwithstanding the probability of genocide that has been prevalent throughout their history? The question is answered by God's fulfilling his part of the agreement with the tribes of Israel. That being the promise of the land of Milk and Honey. It is this dream of "the land of Milk and Honey" (territory if you prefer) that put the tribes of Israel in the unique position that they are in today. I leave it to you to compare what is an "outside" position, (their position). Unlike most species of animals (let us not forget that man too is an animal) the Jewish people have never been the individual of our human species; the Jew as a traveler, (it is not in the context of this article to argue if the necessity of territory, or what substitute man in his need for territory, was or is natural to man, or if it is positive or negative. The reality of the situation is that man has divided himself into groups, and each group has defined boundaries to cherish and to protect. It has been this dream of territory that has been the main "outside" motivation for the Jewish people for the past 5700 years. The year 5700 is used because that was the year Israel joined the ranks of statehood and made the dream of "the land of Milk and Honey" a reality. (Once again it is not in the context of this article to argue if the statehood of Israel was fair or unfair, right or wrong, just or unjust. The fact is that the state of Israel is.

Nationalism—that one plague that has set brother against brother will be the one ingredient that has the potential of crushing the Hebrew Nation. No amount of anti-Semitism throughout history will be as devastating as that which the effect of Nationalism will have upon the Jewish people.

The one thing that has preserved Jewish civilization, that of the dream of a "homeland" will be responsible for the ultimate destruction of the Jewish people. If this dream of a "homeland" is not realized, as the realization of the Jewish dream will cause the destruction of the Jewish people, then it is time we woke up, took around, and stop reading the Book.
Fraternities

PHI EPSILON PI

Phi Epsilon Pi was first founded at Bryant College in 1987. Its presence has given Bryant students the opportunity to network with others, both locally and nationally. Phi Epsilon Pi provides a professional forum for the exchange of ideas, and a means of sharing knowledge and information. Phi Epsilon Pi is recognized by the National Panhellenic Conference and is a member of the Phi Delta Theta International Fraternity, which has been in existence since 1848.

PHI DELTA THETA

Phi Delta Theta was founded in 1848 at the University of Virginia. The Phi Delta Theta chapter at Bryant College was established in 1988. Phi Delta Theta is a national fraternity that offers its members a variety of opportunities. Phi Delta Theta promotes leadership, scholarship, and community service. Phi Delta Theta is a member of the National Panhellenic Conference and is recognized by the National Fraternity Council of the United States.

SIGMA IOTA BETA

Sigma Iota Beta Sorority was founded in 1932. It is a sorority for women in the United States. Sigma Iota Beta Sorority is a member of the National Panhellenic Conference and is recognized by the National Fraternity Council of the United States. Supreme Court To Focus On Major Draft Issues

WASHINGTON (CPS)—For the second year in a row, the Supreme Court can be expected to be the major source of reforms in the draft. Last term (October 1969-July, 1970) the court ruled on several cases that the Selective Service System was overstepping its legal authority in its day-to-day functions. The Court found that Selective Service Regulations, which are written and put into force by proclamation of the President, gave many powers to the system which were not provided for in the law as passed by the Congress.

The Drug Scene

THE DEPRESSANTS
The category of drugs that depress the functions of the brain.

"Downs"
street slang for depressants.

Alcohol
ethyl alcohol, a depressant because it slows the functions of the brain that control balance and coordination. In high doses it produces drowsiness and sleep. Alcohol is an addictive drug, since after prolonged or continued use, it can cause physical dependence (alcoholism), and when discontinued, causes withdrawal symptoms at least as serious as the other addictive drugs.

Barbiturates
drugs in the group called sedatives-medicines to make you sleepy. Barbiturates are taken in capsule or tablet form. They cause physical and psychological dependence (addiction) and if repeated use is excessive, physical withdrawal occurs. Among the common commercial names for barbiturates are:

Seconal or "red devils"
Nembutal or "yellow jackets"
Amobarbital or "blue heavens" or "blue devils"
Luminal or "purple hearts"
Turinal or "rainbows" or "double trouble"

Barbiturate Overdose
more people in the United States die as a result of an overdose of barbiturates (usually suicide) than of any other single substance.

Intoxication
sedative or tranquilizer intoxication is similar in its symptoms to alcohol intoxication. Driving while intoxicated can be extremely dangerous and is thought to cause at least 25,000 traffic fatalities a year.

Tranquilisers
drugs that calm tension and anxiety. These drugs do not cause deep sleep except in high doses. Tranquilizers are taken in capsule or tablet form. Some common commercial names for tranquilizers are: Equanil, Milontin, Librium, and Valium.

INHALANTS
Among substances which are inhaled and produced a high are: glue, gasoline, lighter fluid, and refrigerant. Continued inhaling has been reported to cause severe anemia, liver damage, brain damage, and death.

LOST
Clean, healthy air in the general vicinity of the United States. Finder may keep any cash, promotions or retirements realized through destruction of same. Please return immediately. No questions asked.

THE NEW DEITY

Under the leadership of Chief Justice Warren Burger—but usually over his strong objection—the Court found that a number of regulations in conflict with the intent or actual working of Congressional action, including regulations providing for prior induction of draft law violators, punitive reclassification of college students, prosecution of men who fail to register beyond their 23rd birthday (after the statute of limitations expired) and excluding non-religious objectors to all wars from conscientious objector status, were in conflict with the Congressional action.

Court to Focus on Two Draft Issues
This year the Court is being asked to focus on two draft issues: the right of registrants to be represented by a lawyer during dealings with their draft boards, and the right of selective conscientious objectors to object to a particular war.

Element III claims that the Court is being asked to overturn a finding by Judge Peck of the Northern District of California who dismissed an indictment against Weller for failure to report for induction. The District Court ruled in favor of Weller's claim when he found that a registrant may assume that he has any right which does not specifically deny registrants the privilege of legal counsel at their appearances before the local board, the system has traditionally held, both in regulations and formal documents, that the meeting between the local board and the individual registrant is not a formal, legal confrontation, and therefore specifically excludes legal counsel from representation in such meetings.

On one hand, some churches hold as a doctrine of faith that their members must decide for themselves whether a specific war is in keeping with their beliefs or not. These faiths hold that there are situations in which an individual mission is a justifiable means of resolving conflict, and that the individual is responsible to determine for himself and set in accordance with his determination as to the morality of a particular conflict.

The draft law specifically excludes from exemption these adherents to the just war doctrine, and has traditionally required opposition to all wars as a primary precondition for recognition. Presently, Selective Service officials oppose exemption of this exemption to select objectors because of difficulty in determining their "sincerity." They seem to feel that many opponents of the war in Vietnam might take advantage of this difficulty in sorting the "sincere" from the "insincere," and otherwise try to exit the system by claiming a right to escape service without meeting the rigorous requirements which are now applied to applicants for the exemption.

Draft counselors agree that an anti-system ruling in a case of this sort would greatly increase the number of COs. They feel, however, that the present regulations unjustly discriminate against registrants whose convictions prevent them from engaging in wars such as the one in Vietnam which violate deep moral scruples against such self-sacrificing wars, but who would fight in a war to defend their country against an aggressor or who would defend their faith from a similar incursion.

What will actually happen with these cases is up for serious question because of the uncertainty of newly appointed Justice Harry Blackmun's effect on the Court's outlook on draft cases. Although the Courts recent rulings against the system have generally been based on a margin of 5-3, it is entirely possible that Blackmun may be not only personally conservative on this issue, but also able to convince other justices to adopt a more conservative stance.

Little Fauss and Big Halsy

The premiere presentation of Hallmark Hall of Fame’s 20th Anniversary season, “Hamlet,” starring Richard Chamberlain, is now, in the words of producer George LeMaire, “completed and ready for broadcast.” The Shakespearean play will be presented on the NBC-TV network Tuesday, November 17, from 9 to 11 p.m. on the East and West Coasts and from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Mountain and Pacific time zones. “For this version of Hamlet, we chose the closest television concept,” LeMaire said. “It is pictorially broad in scope and its characterizations faithful to the author, but fully adapted to the intimacy of the closed circuit of TV. There is no more deeply personal story in literature. It shows as if Shakespeare had written for this medium and for this year.”

Hallmark’s decision to present Richard Chamberlain as Hamlet was influenced by the favorable reception he received in the role at England’s Birmingham Repertory Theatre and partly because the classic play has such a significant place in the history of the Hall of Fame. It was with Hamlet — in April 1953—that Hallmark sponsored the first two-hour drama on TV. It was the first full-scale Hamlet on television, and marked the TV debut of Maurice Evans.

LeMaire describes Chamberlain’s performance as “classical in concept, not veering toward the attempt to be different for difference’s sake. Hamlet was a sensitive man who faced an inner dilemma of staggering proportions. I feel Richard Chamberlain has lost none of Hamlet’s Shakespearean meaning. He has added to the TV role a sense of understanding and relevance that stamp it as personally as his stage version did.”

A distinguished cast of British performers will appear with Mr. Chamberlain in the telecast, including two noted actors who have played Hamlet many times. Sir John Gielgud, who has played the title role all over the world, appears as the Ghost of Hamlet’s father. Sir Michael Redgrave this time stars as Polonius. Among the other eminent performers appearing are Margaret Leighton as Gertrude and Richard Johnson as Claudius.

Ciaran Madden, a blue-eyed, blonde beauty with extraordinary acting skills, whose career is sweeping England at this moment, will be seen as Ophelia in her American TV debut. The special, directed by Peter Wood and adapted for television by John Bartron, was a Chamberlain-LeMaire Production in association with Britain’s ATV (Associated Television) and Universal Television.

Also scheduled for the Hallmark Hall of Fame’s 20th season is a second telecast of the original musical version of Charles Tazewell’s touching story “The Littlest Angel,” starring Fred Gwynne and Johnnie Whitaker, during the Christmas season on Sunday, December 1.

Arthur Miller’s “The Price” will be seen on Wednesday, Feb. 3, with George C. Scott, Barry Sullivan, David Burns and Colleen Dewhurst. On Friday, March 26, Hallmark will present Paddy Chayefsky’s “Gideon,” co-starring Peter Ustinov and Jose Ferrer.

Film Festival to Aid New Film Makers

LINDEN, N. J., OCT. 15, ’70: A film festival along the lines of a new filmmaker has been organized by the International Experimental Film Society. The newly formed group will present its first annual festival of experimental films, with competition at Canisius College in Buffalo, New York, February 11th through the 13th.

In outlining the Society’s aims, Bruce Powers, President, stated, “The Festival’s award system is deliberately the first step toward the beginner filmmaker in order to encourage him, with as genuinely worthwhile prize money and equipment, to make films regularly.”

Bucking up these aims, the Society is offering a special award this year to the best of the films entered by filmmakers who are submitting their work for the first time. For this special award, the Society chose a Bell & Howell 16mm motion picture camera with a F-R type 50-120 lens, highly esteemed by experimental filmmakers and professionals alike.

The Society also hopes to benefit the filmmaker with a written evaluation of each film entered. A panel of commercial, institutional and independent filmmakers will judge the films.

Pro Football Forecast

By Steve Diamond

This past week was marked by some expected upsets due to field goals. We were marked with 5 wrong picks out of 13. Our prediction of the Giants over Dallas game at 24-21 was nearly perfect as the final score was 23-20. Congratulations go to the Philadelphia Eagles for their first victory.

This week we will attempt to pick the teams and the point spread. This week the fearless staff included Fred Wisbrun, John Duda, and Dave Tattar's one pick (once again Washington).

The games for the week of November 15, 1970

Atlanta over Pennsylvania 17-10
Boston over Buffalo 24-17
Chicago over Green Bay 27-20
Cleveland over Cincinnati 52-6
Minnesota over Detroit 31-20
Kansas City over Pittsburgh 24-14
New Orleans over Miami 28-10
Los Angeles over Jets 24-3
Oakland over Denver 17-14
Boston over San Diego 23-10
San Francisco over Houston 12-27
Giants over Washington 27-24
Dallas over St. Louis 52-27

Yes, bees really do dance to convey information to other bees, says the November SCIENCE DIGEST. The bee dance theory has been under attack recently, but new research indicates that bees tell other bees where distant food can be located by waving their bodies in a certain way within the hive. The angle of the run indicates the location of the food.

9. There is no assurance that the classroom facilities will be completed on October 4th. Any calendar that calls for classes commencing as of October 4th would be a definite gamble. There is always the possibility of strikes, material shortages, or other acts of God, that could cause construction delays.

Faculty members are asked to leave their replies with the receptionist in the Faculty House; administrators with Mrs. Denault in Dean Gulski's office; and students in either the Student Senate office or in the boxes located in the dining hall and union. All replies are requested within three days of the date the questionnaire is received.
